

STATE LABOR FEDERATION IN CONVENTION AT WINONA

Secretary McEwen Reports at Length on Work of Year.

Discusses Attacks on Organized Labor Through "Open Shop."

History and Cause of Duluth Building Trades Lockout.

Winona, Minn., June 8.—(Special to The Herald.)—The twenty-sixth convention of the Minnesota State Federation of Labor opened here this morning with 200 delegates in attendance. Vice President P. J. Warren of this city presided at the opening session and introduced Rev. James B. Brown, who offered prayer. Mayor E. S. Muir delivered an address of welcome, which was responded to by President George B. Howell. Papers were read by W. H. Williams, commissioner of labor; F. S. Murrell, state president of the American Society of Equity; and J. W. Roush of Roylston, chairman of the committee on labor in the state legislature. Addresses were also made by leading delegates.

The afternoon session was occupied in presenting the reports of the officers. President Howell gave a brief but interesting account of the work for the year. He was followed by Secretary-Treasurer W. D. McEwen of Duluth, who in a lengthy report covered the entire year's work of the federation during the past year. Mr. McEwen also reported for the executive council, after which Secretary G. W. Dusen of Minneapolis reported for the political committee of the federation.

A paper without reason. In his annual report, Secretary McEwen said there was much labor in the past year for the American labor movement. Just while our hopes were the highest, reverses began to set in, and we found ourselves completely surrounded and being attacked from all sides by our enemies. The money panic, resulting from a Wall Street conspiracy, and furthered with the purpose of attempting to induce the nation's chief executive to demand his investigation of the criminal

NARROW ESCAPE OF TUG OWNER

Miscreants Sink the Tom Dowling at Ashland, Wis.

Ashland, Wis., June 8.—(Special to The Herald.)—While Albert Ceal, owner of the tug Tom Dowling, was asleep on the tug at midnight last night, some unknown parties opened the hatch and the tug sank in twenty feet of water. After a terrible struggle, Ceal emerged from the wreck yesterday morning in a floating timber until his cries were heard and he was pulled ashore. He now is in a critical condition at a local hospital.

TO OPPOSE PROHIBITION

Brewers Will Make Strong Fight at Milwaukee Convention.

Say Many Misrepresentations Have Been Made to Public.

Milwaukee, June 8.—Brewers from throughout the country are arriving at Milwaukee on every train to attend the convention of the United States Brewers' convention, which opens this afternoon with a meeting of the board of trustees. The convention proper will open tomorrow. For the first time in the history of the association a public meeting will be held at one of the local theaters. The brewers say that they want publicity. They want the question of prohibition spread before the people in all its phases, believing as they do that misrepresentations have been made by the adherents of prohibition. At this open meeting will be presented the side taken by the brewers as well as arguments for prohibition. Arthur Brisbane of New York will talk on the "Relation of the Drink Problem to the Public," and E. J. Giddings of Cuthbert, Okla., will speak on "Prohibition: Experience of Prohibition." Henry Fink of Milwaukee will have as a theme "Inconsistencies of Prohibition."

Among those prominently connected with the association who are here are John Gardner of Philadelphia, August Lieber of Indianapolis and H. Schmidt of Philadelphia, all members of the board of trustees. President Julius Liebmann, chairman of the board of trustees, is expected on a special train today.

WILLIAM E. McEWEN, Secretary-Treasurer of Minnesota State Federation of Labor.

COW MOOSE LOSES LIFE AT CLOQUET

Lassoed While Swimming River, Animal Chokes and Drowns.

Cloquet, Minn., June 8.—(Special to The Herald.)—A large cow moose was killed yesterday morning in the river near the Northern Lumber company's machine shop, about 6:30 o'clock. The animal is said to have first visited Scanlon in the early dawn, and not being favorably impressed with the hospitality shown by the canine population of that place, came to Cloquet, where it roamed the streets. It was chased through the streets by dogs, and attempted to cross the river near the mill, but was stopped by logs, and it stayed in the center of the stream resting its head on a log for a long time. The mill hands secured a rope and after throwing it around the neck of the moose, tried to pull it ashore, but the animal choked, and drowned, and was hauled on to the bank dead.

No action has thus far been taken by the authorities in the case, but considering the fact that it was killed out of season, and a cow moose in addition, it is probable that there is trouble in store for those that had a hand in the capture.

BUTTERMAKERS TO PUT UP FIGHT

Will Protest Against Increased Freight on Milk and Cream.

Chicago, June 8.—Sixteen of the largest manufacturers of butter in the United States will open their fight against the proposed advance of freight rates on cream and milk before the interstate commerce commission next Wednesday. The average increase in freight is from 66 2/3 to 125 per cent. A butter famine is promised should their fight fail.

The butter manufacturers say they see no alternative other than to stop business. The margin of profit, they say is less than one half a cent per pound net. A disturbance of the rates that have been in effect for fifteen years, it is alleged, not only would imperil the millions invested in creamery plants and cream receiving stations in Kansas, Nebraska, Missouri, Iowa, Illinois, South Dakota, Wisconsin, Indiana and other states, but would cause an actual loss to them of more than $1,000,000 annually.

NO ADVANCE AT PRESENT

Freight Rates Will Not be Increased Right Away.

Proposed Decrease in Wages Will Not be Made Now.

Washington, June 8.—No general increase in freight rates is likely to be made by the railways of the country in the near future, if it be made at all. Certainly nothing will be done before next autumn, and it is unlikely now that anything approximating a general increase will be attempted then.

At a recent meeting of presidents and operating officials of important railroads held in New York it was the consensus of opinion that it would be undesirable, if not absolutely impracticable, to put into effect at this time an increase of freight rates. Opinion was generally inclined to the view that it would be bad policy and bad business, at this juncture to attempt an increase of rates.

It was pointed out that the proposed

STARVED RATHER THAN ASK FOR AID

Man Found Dying on the Streets of Minneapolis.

Minneapolis, June 8.—(Special to The Herald.)—Rather than ask for aid, Edward J. Jordan, aged 70, starved to death in Minneapolis. He was found lying on a sidewalk on Third street, between First and Second avenues north, last night, and died within an hour after being removed to the city hospital.

It was at first thought that his death was due to heart disease, but later developments showed that he was without money and was too proud to beg, as he was in poor health he was unable to work. Though he had lived in Minneapolis for a number of years and had many friends here, his last life is a mystery, as he did not talk after being rescued. He had relatives at Besenau lake, Canada. During the past five years he worked at intervals and always received plenty of money, but when his clothing was searched after he was taken to the hospital, but one cent was found on him. The body has been removed to the morgue, where it is being held while the authorities are endeavoring to locate Jordan's Canadian relatives.

The car was running at a high rate of speed when it struck a sharp curve.

The car was filled with passengers, half of them women and children, returning from picnics at the lake. Many women were taken from the wreck unconscious and bleeding. One child's throat was cut from ear to ear, supposedly by flying glass.

CREDIT IS FIRST CLASS

St. Louis County Disposes of Its Bonds at a Premium.

County Auditor Sells Entire Issue to Chicago Firm.

St. Louis county's credit is first class. Today County Auditor Halden sold $600,000 worth of bonds to provide funds for the completion of the new courthouse at the premium of $9,780, the purchaser being the Thomas J. Bolger company of Chicago, Ill. The bonds run for ten years at 4 1/2 per cent interest. The premium paid by the purchasers practically cuts the interest to 4 1/4 per cent. The bond sale is made under the provisions of the special law passed by the last legislature permitting the sale of certificates of indebtedness to raise funds for the construction of courthouses in counties of certain population, and of certain assessed valuation. The sale of the bonds was authorized by the county board about a month ago. The bonds were issued in the denomination of $1,000 each to mature May 1, 1918.

There were seven proposals for the bonds, only one of which was for a fractional part of the entire issue. The second highest bidder for the whole issue was Devitt, Bramble & Co. of Chicago. The firm offered to take the bonds at a premium of $5,150. E. H. Ralling & Sons of Chicago offered a premium of $1,020; the Canadian Investment company offered $200 above par; the First National bank of Duluth offered to take fifty of the bonds at a premium of $51; the Commercial Investment company and N. J. Upham & Co. offered to take the entire issue at par.

The sale of the bonds is regarded as highly satisfactory by the county authorities. The sale will provide funds that are needed almost immediately to replenish the building fund of the new courthouse as the general contractors will start work on the excavations for the foundation within a few days.

The bond issue is made in accordance to the provisions of Chapter 130 of the General Laws of Minnesota for 1907.

LION WORSTED BY HIS TAMER

With Her Bare Hands Forced Back Enraged Beast.

Paris, June 8.—The former idol of the Parisians, the famous dancer, La Goulue, who is now a lion tamer, is the heroine of the day after having captured a full-grown lion with her bare hands when it was about to kill her 12-year-old son. La Goulue's menagerie was on show at a fair in Paris and the courageous woman had sent for a photographer to photograph her and her boy in the lion's cage. Just as they were posing, the lion made a leap for the boy and buried its teeth in his left arm and side. La Goulue rushed at the brute and, forgetting all about her whip, beat it on with her bare hands, forcing the enraged beast back against the bars of the cage until she and her son succeeded in making their escape.

When the boy's wounds had been bandaged she once more entered the cage and administered an unmerciful thrashing to the lion, which, thoroughly subdued, slunk away and crouched in a corner.

TICKET MEN AT WASHINGTON. Washington, June 8.—One hundred and fifty delegates to the International Association of Ticket Agents, who arrived here last night enroute to their annual convention, were held at Atlantic City, June 11 to the 13, spent today in sightseeing, which included a visit to Mount Vernon and reception by the president at the White House. L. C. Boyle of Viroqua, Wis., president of the association, is in charge of the party.

Taft Men Not in Favor of Compromise on Delegates.

Chicago, June 8.—The national committee met shortly after 10 o'clock today to continue its hearing of contests for seats on the temporary roll call. The first case taken up was that of the Third Florida district, the only contest from that state which was unfinished when the hearing adjourned on Saturday.

Following this the three districts from the state of Georgia, which were passed on Saturday, were to be taken up, and next on the list were four districts from Kentucky. This, it was thought, would comprise all the work the committee would be able to handle today, but there were some members of the committee who believed that it would be possible to take up the contests from Louisiana, which include

BEEF SUPPLY VERY SCARCE

Another Sharp Rise in Meat in New York and Vicinity.

New York, June 8.—Beef packers throughout the United States and especially in this section of the country are becoming alarmed over the great shortage in the beef supply. Since last week the price has risen from 1 to 2 cents on the 100 pounds, and the price is now around one-third greater than it was the first part of June.

As a matter of fact the export of beef from New York is practically nil, and packers are not able to fill their contracts even with half the amount of beef they have engaged to ship. It is known that a number of the packers are letting their contracts go entirely by the board and are paying their freight rate contracts with the various shippers, companies and keeping such meat as they have in this country, preferring to lose the price. The freight and the cost of loss the freight, together with being compelled to sell the meat in England at a much less sum than they pay for it on this side.

NO REGRET FOR HER ACT

Woman Who Killed New York Doctor Justifies Deed.

Jury Will Have Chance to Pass on "Unwritten Law."

New York, June 8.—Sarah Koton, the young trained nurse who lured Dr. Martin W. Auspitz to a house in Harlem last night by a false telephone call, and shot him to death after she had lain in wait for him for many hours, declared today that she had no regret for her act. "I shot him, but I did not murder him," she said in a cell in the police station, as she awaited the summons to appear in court.

"I killed him because he had wronged me and then refused to help me. I tried to punish him in the court, but found myself powerless. My father and mother are dead, so I had to protect my honor myself."

There seems little doubt that when the case against the girl goes to trial a jury once she has had an opportunity to pass upon "unwritten law," or the justification of murder under certain circumstances. She presented a most dejected appearance when she was arraigned in police court, far different from the defiant young woman who surrendered herself to the police last night. She was weeping when she entered the room in charge of a court officer, and sobbed incessantly as she stood on the bridge. She was remanded to the coroner, who will hold an inquest.

REPUBLICAN PLATFORM

Will be That Presented at Ohio With Tariff Enlargement.

Washington, June 8.—Bringing with him the completed draft of the platform which it is proposed to present to the committee on resolutions of the national republican convention at Chicago, Wade Ellis, attorney general of Ohio, returned here today from Virginia Beach and went directly to the conference with Secretary Taft for some time.

Both Secretary Taft and Mr. Ellis were averse to making any statement regarding the platform, but it nevertheless was definitely ascertained that aside from the enlargement of the tariff plank of the Ohio platform so as to declare the maximum and minimum schedules, and for a revision of the tariff at an extra session of congress immediately following the inauguration, the platform to be presented at Chicago will be substantially the Ohio document.

Having fulfilled his mission to Washington, Mr. Ellis expects to leave here today for Chicago, where he will at once get in touch with the Taft leaders.

NELSON TRIAL IS FINISHED

Action for Alleged Timber Land Swindle in Jury's Hands.

County Attorney J. H. Norton, who has been confined at his home with sickness for several days, was able to be in court this morning, and the trial of N. M. Nelson, on the charge of defrauding Rev. F. O. Kling in a deal to locate the latter on a timber claim, was resumed and finished. The arguments to the jury were concluded this afternoon.

Mr. Kling and a number of others, including several ministers, claimed that Nelson took them out, showed them some fine timbered country which he is alleged to have claimed for $100 each. When the fillings were completed and the possessors of the claims came to look up their claims they found that the descriptions sold them by Nelson applied to worthless land about two miles from the timber they had been shown. It is claimed that Nelson is not a timber locator by profession, but that he has cruised around in the woods and that he offered to locate several men on timber claims he knew of at a price less than that usually charged by regular locators. He claimed that he did not misrepresent the land, that Mr. Kling after going through the woods for some distance became tired out and did not care to go any further. The defendant testified that they had some talk relative to what Mr. Kling would have to swear to prove up and then came back to Duluth. Nelson denied that he ever represented that the land on which the minister filed had timber worth at least $2,000, or that he ever told the minister a heavily timbered tract, which the latter was shown near Skibo, was the land purported to be covered by the description that the defendant sold Kling.

The trial was started last week, H. B. Fryberger appearing for the defense.

WANTS CITY TO LOOK ITS BEST

Mayor Haven is determined that Duluth shall be presentable during the summer tourist season. With this object in view he has recommended to the board of public works that sprinklers and street cleaners start work earlier in the morning, and asks the merchants to be careful about sweeping dirt from their stores into the street. There is an ordinance against this, and any one violating it is liable to prosecution.

"Tourists often have only one day, or a part of a day to spend in Duluth," said the mayor today, "and so they try to see as much of the town as they can while they are here. Because of this they get up early in the morning, and often are on the street while the first cleaning operations are in progress, when the streets are in a very untidy condition. Thus they get a bad impression.

"And then it would be better for the local people to get a better part of the cleaning operations were completed before workers in the hotel houses, offices and stores go to work. It is a common sight to see merchants sweeping off their walks in front of their places of business, while at the same time the street sweepers are busy. When this is done about 8 o'clock in the morning, or shortly before, it is at a time when the girls going to work get the full benefit of the dust that is being blown about by the wind. If these operations were carried on earlier in the morning the streets would be clean when the majority of people were on their way to work."

PLAN EXTENSIVE ALTERATIONS

Duluth to Have Finest Jewelry Store in Great Northwest.

Ladies especially will be interested in the spirit of progress displayed by the well and favorably known jewelry firm of F. D. Day & Co. In spite of the so termed "business depression" the patronage of F. D. Day & Co. has increased to such proportions that an enlarged store has become an absolute necessity. While making the store half again as large they will also make it the most beautiful, from an artistic standpoint, of any in the Northwest.

Every device that will in any way add to the comfort of the patrons and assist them in their selections has been provided for.

In the meantime, to have the interior in condition for the remodelers, a series of sales will be inaugurated at which cut glass jewelry, etc., will be offered at but a mere fraction of their former prices. Ladies will do well to follow the papers for future announcements.

HARD DAY FOR FISHERMEN

Between mosquitoes and rain, fishing parties had a beautiful time of it yesterday. The mosquitoes stung them all morning and the rain pelted them all afternoon, and even if the fish did bite, they returned home last night wet, bedraggled and sore enough to take the weather man out to the nearest telephone pole and do the vigilance committee act.

The mosquitoes are said to have taken possession of the Northern Minnesota woods in force, and they are holding them against all comers. While the ointments may keep them away to a certain extent, but one evil is almost as bad as the other. It is the annoyance of enduring the torturing sting of the mosquitoes, and most people fall for the bites.

The rain came down in torrents yesterday afternoon and everybody in the woods was drenched. They started out yesterday morning with every indication for a fine day, endured the mosquitoes all morning, and by the time the sun came out they were thoroughly soaked. People who drove out to the Cloquet river and other nearby streams were especially hard hit, as they encountered the worst of the rain driving home.

CHICAGO PACKERS TO RAISE PRICE OF MEAT.

Chicago, June 8.—It was announced today by the Chicago packers that because of a shortage of cattle and of canned meats, the price of beef and of canned meats will be increased.

An official of Armour & Co. in explaining the situation said today: "There is a shortage of cattle, but we do not expect it to last long. There is also a shortage of canned meats, but it will not be necessary to bring back some of the meats we have already shipped to Europe. The increase will be between 1 and 2 cents a pound."

SUPERIOR NEWS

Exciting Experience.

Harry Collins, a deer mate hailing from St. Louis, was pulled out of a mud hole in the marsh at the lower end of Blueberry, Wis., Saturday evening, in a half-dead condition. He was found by Sergeant Osborne. Collins was intoxicated and is said to have been in the water about an hour. After he was revived, Collins was given a paper and pencil with which he told the police his experience.

Will Investigate Conduct.

John Lee, aged 20 years, of Billings Park, was arrested Saturday as he was about to take a train for Blueberry, Wis., pending an investigation of the complaint made by parents of two small girls, who claim he attempted to get them to go to Blueberry to a dance with him. It was claimed that Lee made an appointment to meet the girls, aged 8 and 9 years, at the depot. The parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Waddell, of 1307 Oakwood avenue, and Mrs. Hannah Egan, of 2001 Leavenworth, claim that Lee took the girls out for a boat ride Friday evening and kept them out so late that they became frightened. Lee seems to take his arrest very much at heart, and declares that he had nothing but the best intentions toward the girls. His hearing is being held this afternoon.

Chickens' Heads a Clue.

A thief broke into the chicken coop of Mrs. J. H. Banks, of Baker avenue, Superior, Saturday night, and killed twenty-eight of the chickens. All that was left of them was their heads scattered around the floor.

Mr. Flaherty, looking for the twenty-one heads to the police station and told the officers they might serve as a clue to the thieves and lead to the identification of the missing chickens, provided the owners could find the heads on the bodies again.

Police Raid Hobo Camp.

The police department raided a hobo camp in the vicinity of Baxter avenue, Saturday night, and arrested twenty-eight men. The camp was located on a vacant lot, and the men were found sleeping in a pile of lumber. The police found a number of stolen goods, including a bicycle, a watch, and a pair of shoes. The men were taken to the police station and held for further investigation.

Too Much Christening.

Four quarts of whiskey and ten cases of beer got in their bad work Sunday night at a christening party which was held on Cedar avenue, Superior. The mother and the child narrowly escaped with their lives in the mix-up that followed. The party was given by a young man, and the child was christened by a priest. The party was a very noisy one, and the police were called to the scene. The priest was arrested and held for further investigation.

Fire in Theater.

Fire broke out in the Parlor theater in Superior Saturday afternoon, starting in one of the moving picture machines. There was a rush for the exits by the sixty people who were in the theater at the time, but fortunately the fire was not serious. The fire was caused by a short circuit in the wiring of the machine. The fire was extinguished by the fire department.

Story is Verified.

The story which appeared in The Herald concerning the explosion of a gasoline light after the circus at Superior Tuesday night has been verified.

It has been learned that the man, who was an employee of the circus, is a very serious condition at Brainerd. His face and body are badly burned, and he has lost the sight of one of his eyes. The story was first told by some boys, who were present at the time of the accident, and saw the injured man taken to a car. The boys were ordered to keep silent regarding it.

BIG DAMAGE FROM RAINS

Duluth is soaked—not figuratively, but literally.

The excessive rainfall of the last two days has flooded the town. Complaints are coming in from all parts of the city, but more particularly from the West end and West Duluth. The water has been pouring down the hillside in torrents, yesterday and today, deep ditches have been worn in some of the streets, the sewers have been filled to overflowing with rain water, and many basements have been flooded.

While the board of public works and city engineering departments have received numerous reports of damage inflicted by water, it does not appear as though any very great money loss will be occasioned in any one spot as a result of the rains. The damage is general, and almost all the property owners are affected to a greater or less degree. The city departments now have men out looking up the damage done, and are not in a position to state just how extensive it is.

The West end is in the worst condition. For two or three blocks along Michigan street, in the vicinity of Garfield avenue, all the basements are under water, and in several spots the street car tracks are under water. Some of the hillside avenues look like rivers, so much water is running down them. The paved streets and avenues are not hurt much, but where there is no paving the water has washed ditches in many instances. The East end, being more level, was not affected so much as the western portion of the city.

Several of the storm sewers have proved entirely inadequate to care for the big rainfall, and the water has rushed along over the ground in consequence. The contractors of the city, engaged in street and sewer work, are suffering considerable damage. Their trenches have been filled with water, and much of the work done this spring has been spoiled entirely. Earth dug from the trenches has been washed back into them, or washed over the street. The contractors can do little but look gloomily on until the weather clears up, giving them an opportunity to repair the damage. Grand avenue, in West Duluth, is a veritable river, and several of the storm sewers are overflowing.

COPPER STOCKS WEAK AT CLOSE

The copper stock market, firm at the opening, sold off during the latter part of the session today, and closed somewhat weaker than Saturday. North Butte opened at $7.25, advanced to $7.30 and closed at $7.35. Superior and Pittsburgh sold at $12.12 1/2, advanced to $12.15 and closed at $12.15. Globe $12.25 bid and $12.15 asked. Calumet and Arizona opened at $10.75, declined to $10.70 and closed at $10.70. Superior and Pittsburgh sold at $12.12 1/2, advanced to $12.15 and closed at $12.15. Globe $12.25 bid and $12.15 asked. Calumet and Arizona opened at $10.75, declined to $10.70 and closed at $10.70.

Walker's Copper Letter in Saturday's Boston Commercial said: "Copper is quiet at about last week's quotations. Lake is 12 1/2c to 13c and electrolytic 12 1/2c to 13c. The demand from domestic consumers is again very light. Between the 10th and 20th of May, American consumers purchased about 25,000,000 pounds of copper. European buyers are now buying about 12 1/2c. Reports of recent sales at 12 1/2c are misleading. "All the producing copper companies whose representatives have been seen this week express confidence that there is to be a steady improvement in the demand for copper for several months to come. There are no surplus accumulations of copper in the hands of producers, and consumers' stocks are very small. "The American representative of a large European metal agency says: 'I cannot be anything but a bull on copper. It is selling at a very low price now, and it will advance when the American consumers enter the market. Business in this country is very quiet at the moment, but I believe there will be a large demand from the American consumers in the near future, and that the prices of copper will surely advance when this buying movement starts. I am surprised at the contented demand from Europe. Europe seems willing to buy all the copper it can get at 12 1/2c. I do not fear the increased production which will soon be felt, as I believe that the consumption will expand rapidly enough to take care of it. It is much easier to borrow money on copper now than it was several months ago, and if it became necessary, producers could arrange to carry their copper until there is an improvement in the demand.' STATE LABOR FEDERATION IN CONVENTION AT WINONA methods of certain predatory trusts, forced thousands of workmen into idleness, and threatened the very commercial history of our nation when there was so little reason for a panic. How could the people have known that the influence manifested itself, and labor, as a result, was to bear the brunt of the conspiracy. Not satisfied with tying up our savings and starving our babies, the trusts were bent on making the country's unfavorable industrial situation, international trade, and the credit and monetary campaign against labor, the means of defense, the trade union.

It is not surprising, therefore, to find wages would divorce from them a man who would not leave the union, realizing that the union shop was labor's bulwark against industrial tyranny. They were not satisfied with this, however, and by insisting upon what they were calling "open shop" they were in fact, the non-union shop in disguise. The union shop rules labor has something to say about, and they will fight under other conditions of labor when "open shop" is the rule. They will not give in these matters. Labor will fight.

Minimum Wage Scale. The trade unions have a rather well established idea; that, if the trust, the capitalist, or organizer, can succeed in establishing a monopoly price in lieu of the old competitive price upon its products; then labor, under union shop conditions, should succeed in fixing a minimum wages scale, based upon the cost of living, below which no man should be asked to work. Without the union shop this can not be done, and the owners will do as do the organized opponents of the trade union idea.

If the fight against labor was wholly on the right, there would be a different story to tell. The right would be satisfied with blacklists and lockouts, or with the more liberally utilized even-levy of publicity and the law. If they have partly succeeded in this, the end result is an enormous gain against trade unionism and trade union philosophy.

But the aid of a powerful lobby, consisting of the ablest lawyers, their money and their purchase they have deluged the seat of the government with a flood of bills, express into a do nothing policy. They loiter in the hotels, work into society circles, and in the halls of Congress, and there at every opportunity they begin their work of mischief.

It is a strangely winning flounce. The shortcomings of the labor unions are magnified, the rights of the employers are mentioned, and then only with cunning under the pretense of being fair.

The Courts Infected. In this manner they have succeeded in some quarters to create an atmosphere wholly prejudicial to the philosophy of the labor movement. This has grown to such an extent that it has even infected the judges of the supreme court of the United States and placed them in a channel of thought which leads them to conclude that the workingman's organization should be amenable to a law which was enacted for the sole purpose of protecting the employer and all the people from the conspiracy of trust. As a result of the judgment of the court it is now crime to boycott. To picket is unlawful and to strike is almost useless, for every lawful weapon used in a strike has been taken away by judicial dict.

On the other hand, the courts, ever true to their allegiance to the sacred rights of property, have declared unconstitutional every recent law enacted to protect or to give relief to labor. Maimed and crippled workmen and helpless widows and orphans have been denied the right to satisfy the greed and avarice of the property class, and all because a judicial tribunal has declared void a model employment contract. By a strange line of reasoning the same courts have legalized the blacklist, the employers' means of boycotting labor. The minor federal courts in several instances have extended freedom of trade in their abuse of the writ of injunction. Congress, while repeatedly threatened by the president of the United States, he employers' associations are still waging their wars against organized labor. The whole year has been fraught with exciting events, in which the trade unions

Details of What Will be Expected at Lake City.

The judgment was expressed that if business conditions generally did not continue to show improvement it would be necessary for the railroads of the country to take steps for the protection of the interests of their stockholders. Only two methods were suggested:

An increase of freight rates and a decrease in wages of employees. It is quite certain that neither will be resorted to before the first of next October, and important officials believe it will be some time before they are resorted to either of the methods.

In some unaccountable way the report became general among shippers, and the Interstate Commerce commission, in the North, that the president and the Interstate commerce commission had agreed to increase the freight rates. Regardless of the impossibility of such approval, the report was so general that, in the given, hundreds of shippers have written to the members of the commission, asking them to prevent the raising of rates. The commission has been asked to insist that the rates be not increased. The members have spent a great deal of time in considering the matter, and have decided to leave the matter to the commission has no power under the law to prevent the railroads from raising rates as the railroads see fit to put into effect, unless, after due hearing, the commission finds that the rates are excessive, unreasonable or unjust. It would be equally impossible and inadvisable for the commission to insist on any proposed increase of rates. The commission crosses such bridges as they come, and reaches them, and not before.

Some rats, in special instances, recently have been increased. That on fresh meats moving from the North to points in the California territory, is a case in point. A little while ago it was proposed to increase the proportional rates on paper 2 cents a hundred pounds from Wisconsin and Michigan points to the Ohio river gateways, when the shipments were destined to Carolina and other Southeastern points. The members of the Western trunk line association reconsidered the matter, however, and the increase will not be made, at least not for the present.

Of course when it ever, the increase of rates is made, it will be very carefully considered by the Interstate commerce commission, perhaps on its own initiative, without waiting for a formal complaint from shippers.

the publicity may be given them among the unionists of the state; that the committee on constitution and law be requested to present to this convention a revised and more modern constitution; that the convention devise ways and means for interesting the churches in the observance of Labor Sunday on the third Sunday in May. He stated that efforts will be made by the American Federation

The move was conceived and well executed because of Duluth's reputation as a strong trade union city. It was believed that if the movement could be developed in Duluth, the "Global Union" of unionism in the Northwest, the rest of the state would be easy.

They chose which to them was the most honorable time in the year. It was a most strenuous contest from the outset. Labor was reluctantly forced into the struggle, and when the full purpose of its opponents manifested itself, it then became a struggle for the very existence of unionism.

For the first time contractors were the least concerned conducting the warfare against union or. All of them, when privately discussing the trouble, would freely admit that they were satisfied with their union ws. In a moment of impatience they

DEMOCRATIC CANDIDATE

W. H. Putnam Urged for Congress in Eleventh Wisconsin District.

River Falls, Wis., June 8.—The Times says that Congressman John J. Jenkins will have a strong competitor of his own faith to reckon with, and also a Democratic candidate, whose claims have already been looked upon with favor by the press. This city is claimed by the latter as his home. His name is W. H. Putnam. Of him the Dunn County News says: "W. H. Putnam of River Falls has been suggested as good timber for the Democratic candidate for congressman from this district. The party could not do better man."

And Samuel Tuttle, a well-known Dunn county man, says in the Knap News: "From our personal acquaintance with and knowledge of the ability and sterling qualities of W. H. Putnam of River Falls, Wis., we believe him to be such a man, and we believe that he is the right man to represent the Eleventh district in congress, and we therefore present his name to the Democratic party of the Eleventh congressional district for the nomination as congressman on the Democratic ticket."

The above is accompanied with the request that Mr. Putnam announce himself as a candidate, and the expression that he would command more than the full strength of the party. Mr. Putnam is well known in this senatorial district, and indeed over much of the congressional district. In 1890 he received the heaviest Democratic vote ever polled for state senator. He was defeated by a majority of only 75, while the usual Republican majority is about 2,500.

OLD HORSE TRAINER, IN DESPONDENCY, KILLS SELF.

St. Paul, Minn., June 8.—James Duncan, 62 years old, at one time the owner of a stable in Louisville, Ky., and the trainer of some of the fastest horses on the track, committed suicide Sunday. His body was found at 3 o'clock in the afternoon hanging in the harness room of a livery stable in which he kept a string of horses he had been training. He had been in the city several years and for the last five years had worked in the barns of Minneapolis and St. Paul.

Financial reverses and domestic trouble are believed to have proved on his mind. His wife secured a divorce several years ago.

CREAM OF THE ALIENS

United States Getting Better Class of Immigrants From Canada.

Border Immigration Increases While Seaport Figures Decline.

John H. Clark, United States commissioner of immigration, who has general supervision over the whole Canadian border district, with headquarters at Montreal, arrived in the city Saturday evening from Seattle, Wash., and other Western points, and left for Montreal Sunday morning.

Commissioner Clark says that while immigration into the United States through Atlantic ocean ports has fallen off to a surprising degree, it is a remarkable fact that immigration into this country through the border stations has increased fully 25 per cent, as compared with a corresponding period last year. The class of immigration is of a higher order than formerly, and the United States seems to be getting the cream of the alien element which the Dominion government has worked so hard to secure.

In regard to the Western difficulties, where there has been so much trouble with the Orientals, Mr. Clark says conditions are greatly improved, and barriers have been put up by both the Canadian and United States governments that excludes thousands of the undesirable from the Far East. The Department and United States governments are working hand in hand, and are accomplishing gratifying results.

During the month of April the immigration into the United States through Atlantic ocean ports was about one-tenth of what it was during the same month one year ago, and in May the decrease was almost equally as large, and Mr. Clark, "Everybody expected there would be a falling off after the money stringency of last fall, and after the flocking home of so many of the foreigners already in this country, but a remarkable fact that no one did anticipate was an increase in immigration from the Canadian border stations. This increase has been fully 25 per cent, as compared with a corresponding period in 1907.

"I cannot understand just why this should be so, in view of the fact that the border is none too good, on account of the money situation during the fall and winter. Of course, money is also pretty tight in Canada, and the situation there is not any better in regard to labor than it is in the United States. Whatever may be the cause, the fact remains that aliens are coming across the border in larger numbers than ever before. Duluth will feel this during the summer the same as other border stations.

"We now have more than 200 employees in the border service. The building of new railroads and the establishment of new immigration stations, the service now being rendered by the border is efficient, and is doing good work. On this trip I find everything running along in good shape here at Duluth.

"The condition on the North Pacific coast is much improved over what it was last year. You will remember that the winter of last year was a very bad one for the Orientals. This was particularly true up in Vancouver. The Canadian government has been steps to bar out undesirable elements of this class, and working hand in hand with the United States is accomplishing excellent results. I found public sentiment everywhere in the West strongly against a big Oriental immigration. The feeling was not by any means confined to a few people. Everybody seemed to have practically the same ideas on the subject.

"When a Jap leaves his own country he is given a passport showing his destination. Until recently the Canadian government paid little attention to these passports, allowing the Orientals to land in Canada, whether they passed through the United States or some other place. This made it very difficult for us, for undesirable elements knew they would be refused admission at a United States port would get off the boat in Canada, where they could stay, and later on would be smuggled across the border.

"Now these conditions are changed. Canada has in force a set of immigration rules just as rigid as our own, and absolutely refuses to admit to all Orientals whose passports read to the United States. This forces them to land in the United States on their first arrival on the American continent, and our inspectors are thus afforded an opportunity to make a careful examination before any of the aliens are allowed to disembark. Those who do not pass muster are not allowed to set foot on shore, but are sent back to the Orient on the same boat which brought them over. With Canada working the same system, you see the mesh of the net is pretty fine, and undesirable elements have no easy time of it getting into either the United States or Canada."

While in Duluth Commissioner Clark was the guest of Inspector in Charge William H. Dean of the local United States immigration office.

MONITOR FLORIDA TO BE PUNCTURED BY TORPEDO.

Washington, June 8.—Sacrificed for the benefit of naval construction, the monitor Florida, shot two weeks ago with the heaviest naval gun, will on Saturday, June 12, be punctured by her line armor by the most powerful American Whitehead torpedo. The torpedo is to be sent into the Florida that it may be definitely known whether a water-tight bulkhead, specially designed to withstand her, designed with the most modern ideas of construction, can be depended upon to save a ship from destruction against this dangerous method of attack.

MINISTER SQUIRES IS CALLED TO WASHINGTON.

New York, June 8.—Summoned to Washington for a conference with President Roosevelt on important matters relating to the United States supervision of the coming election in Panama, arrived yesterday from Colon, Squire declined to discuss his hurried mission to Washington. He will return to Panama next Saturday.

Washington, June 8.—President Amador of Panama has called the Panama legation here, through Arles, his secretary of foreign affairs, to deny for him newspaper reports that Minister Squires is persona non grata.

MARKET IS VERY QUIET

Little Demand for Lumber and Shipments Are Light.

Condition of Trade Has Caused Some Cuts in Prices.

The Duluth district is undergoing the quietest period in its lumber trade that it has had since the panic of 1893. As a result of the quiet market, lumber prices are lower at the present time than they were at a corresponding period last year.

On good authority it is stated that the prices of Norway lumber, on a light demand, range all the way from $16 to $24 per thousand feet, where a year ago the prices were firm at about $24. On the same authority it is claimed the prices of the white pine product are about $3 lower than they were a year ago.

The slack in the lumber trade seems to have caught both Duluth and Cloquet with pretty large mixed stocks of unsold lumber and this is the reason accounted for the shading in prices.

Up to the present time the lumber movement by the cargo or the car trade has been exceedingly light.

A comparison of the shipments by one of the largest shipping concerns for a corresponding period around the first of June for the past three years will give, probably, the best idea of the present slow condition of the local market.

About June 1, 1906, the cargo shipments of the concern in question were approximately 41,500,000 feet, while in 1907 the shipments were about 29,000,000. This year on the same date the shipments ran about 6,300,000 feet.

From reliable sources it is learned the car trade will show a proportionate falling off of business.

Just what the conditions will be a little later on in the season seems problematical. It will depend entirely on the yards and the retail dealers. Building activity is reported in the cities all over the country, but thereby activity has not yet had any marked effect on the demand for lumber.

TORNADO STRIKES CHARLES CITY, IA.

Two Persons Killed, Three Missing and Many Buildings Destroyed.

Charles City, Iowa, June 8.—A tornado struck this town about 5 o'clock yesterday evening, demolishing about 20 residences and barns.

Three children were killed and three children were reported missing. The path of the storm was about ten miles long, and it was reported that telephone wires are down and details as to the damage wrought in the country are meagre.

The tornado started about three miles south of Charles City, tearing down farm houses and barns and killing many people. It then turned north, passing through the northeast side, and spent itself a few miles from the town.

Many had warning of the approaching tornado as it was seen coming over the hills in cyclone colors. No business buildings were destroyed, though the tornado missed the buildings of Charles City.

AN INSANE PENSION EMPLOYEE ENDS LIFE.

Washington, June 8.—After holding the police at bay for six hours, Dr. Joseph Postel, an employee of the pension office, shot himself through the brain yesterday morning while insane. Laboring under a delusion that attempt was being made to murder him he fired at neighbors and when the police came he re-loaded his pistol and fired upon them. Altogether he fired about fifty shots in this way, none of which, however, took effect. Before arming himself he handed his three little children through the second story window to persons in the adjoining house. His wife remained with him, endeavoring to quiet him, but becoming alarmed when he opened fire on the policemen, she joined her children in the neighbor's house.

Dr. Postel came here from Wisconsin about ten years ago. He has relatives in that state.

SIX MINERS DEAD AT SILVERTON, COLO.

Silverton, Colo., June 8.—Six men are dead, eight others in dangerous condition from inhaling foul air, and twenty-five to thirty temporarily confined to their homes from weakness due to contact with poisoned air in the Gold King mine, located at Gladstone.

The dead are: Peter Miller, Roy Colburn, Alex Johnson, A. W. Burns, Victor Erickson, Gus Olson.

KILLS A PHYSICIAN.

New York, June 8.—After lying in wait for nearly nine hours, Sarah Konet, a young Russian trained nurse, shot and killed Dr. William Abovitz, a physician, in the vestibule of an apartment house last night. The woman surprised herself as the police declared that she had shot the physician because he had "wrangled her."

He was a married man and conducted a sanitarium.

NATIONAL BISCUIT COMPANY

IS MENACE TO LIBERTY

German-American Alliance Will Oppose the Prohibition Movement.

Members Claim It Will Infringe on Personal Rights.

from the manufacture of the same his right to earn a livelihood is taken away.

The alliance does not intend to support for the legislature any candidate who does not pledge himself against local option, and an effort will be made to send candidates who will work for the interests that the alliance represents.

Gust Collatz was elected temporary chairman of the meeting yesterday, and Julius Bortcher, secretary. The organization will be started with about eighty members.

The primary object of the alliance is the promotion of the interests of the German people in America, to maintain and preserve the German language and customs, and to further a friendly feeling between the Fatherland and the United States.

The organization stands for individual rights, and liberties and to that end a hard fight is to be made against the prohibition movement.

Julius Moersch of St. Paul, president of the state alliance and former statistician of the state labor bureau, and H. J. Niensdæ, secretary of the state alliance, were present and delivered addresses on the aims of the organization.

Mr. Moersch claimed that it is time to call a halt in the advance being made in Minnesota in the prohibition movement. Mr. Niensdæ characterized county option as nothing more than masked prohibition, and claimed that it promoted blind-pigging and an increase of lawlessness and crime.

Joseph Arto of this city also spoke against prohibition and county option, as did others who pledged themselves to put up a fight against the alleged infringement on their rights as private citizens.

A committee appointed to secure new members is comprised of Fred Hase, Christ Schaf, Otto Wendland, Ernest Kehl and Paul Seligman. The next meeting will be held on the call of the chairman.

NEGRO REPUBLICANS WILL FILE A PROTEST.

Chicago, June 8.—Negro politicians of the Republican party have been busy circulating petitions among the members of their race in this city protesting against the decisions of the national Republican committee, by which negro claimants from several Southern states were denied seats in the national convention. Yesterday meetings were held in every negro church of the city; denunciations speeches were made and the petitions were circulated among the congregations. Leaders in the movement, who include Gurley Brewer of Indiana and Gilchrist Stewart of New York, reported that nearly 5,000 signatures have been secured. The petitions will be presented to the national committee.

FAMILY IS ACID-BURNED.

Father and Child Hurt Trying to Prevent Suicide.

Minneapolis, Minn., June 8.—(Special to The Herald).—An attempt at suicide Saturday night by Mrs. A. B. Freeborn in her home, 1501 Seventh street south, not only resulted in painful injury to herself but also disfigured her 3-year-old son, perhaps permanently, and burned the hands of her husband, who knocked the bottle of carbolic acid from her hand as she was about to drink the contents.

Freeborn returned to his home from work early in the evening and found his wife in a despondent mood. They talked for a few minutes and Mrs. Freeborn went into the livingroom, where she took the acid bottle from a shelf and raised it to her lips. Her little son was in the room, disappointed at not being picked up, he called out "Mamma!"

His cry caused the father to step to the door. Seeing the bottle at his wife's lips, he rushed to her and grasped her hand. The sudden jerk spilled the acid on her face and the man's hands. The stricken woman dropped the bottle, which struck the child on the head. The acid was spilled on the boy's face. Unmindful of his own pain, Freeborn spilled the acid on her face and the woman's lips, and summoned the police ambulance. Dr. John O. Taft attended the three and after an hour said they were out of danger.

DID NOT HEED WHISTLE. BICYCLIST IS KILLED.

Le Sueur, Minn., June 8.—Robert Johnson of Le Sueur was killed near Henderson Saturday night by being struck by Omaha train No. 7. He was standing on the track holding his bicycle, but paid no attention to the warning whistle. He was 25 years of age and unmarried. The body was brought to Le Sueur and taken care of by relatives.

CONVENTION POSTPONED.

Helena, Mont., June 8.—Because of the washouts on the railroads, State chairman Brown of Fort Benton last night telephoned from that place that the Democratic convention called for Bozeman is postponed until July 1.

CORTELYOU SAID TO BE CHOICE OF ROOSEVELT AND TAFT FOR VICE PRESIDENT

GEORGE B. CORTELYOU, Secretary of the Treasury, Who Is Said to Be the Choice of the Roosevelt and Taft Forces as Candidate for the Vice Presidency.

Active Campaign to Begin to Further His Candidacy.

Advance Guard to Leave Washington for Chicago at Once.

General Belief That Fairbanks is Out of the Race.

Washington, June 9.—Indications are multiplying that Secretary Cortelyou will be advanced by the Roosevelt and Taft forces as their candidate for vice president. Secretary Cortelyou himself naturally declined to discuss the matter, but his candidacy, because his native state already has in the field a possible candidate for the presidency in the person of Governor Hughes.

That fact so far operated to prevent any open exchanges between the friends of Secretary Cortelyou and Secretary Taft's managers. But it can now be stated as a fact that in the opinion of friends the time has come when Secretary Cortelyou should be placed in a position to be recognized as New York's candidate for the vice presidency in the event of the election of Hughes from the presidential race.

One reason for their confidence is asserted to be their belief that by the strenuous opposition offered by the Fairbanks contingent to the recognition of Southern Taft delegations in the battle before the national committee new in progress, the coupling of the names of Taft and Fairbanks, or of Roosevelt and Fairbanks on one ticket has become impossible.

Therefore tomorrow Secretary Cortelyou's advance guard starts for Chicago, led by Assistant Secretary Louis Coolidge, a Bostonian of long experience in public affairs and of wide acquaintance with the various leading Republican campaign committees. It is also said to be bound for Chicago in

FROM EVERY STANDPOINT

Brewers Will Discuss Prohibition Question at Their Convention.

Believe That Policy of Universal Enlightenment is Necessary.

Milwaukee, Wis., June 9.—What is regarded as the most important convention in the history of the brewing interests of the country opened this forenoon when the members of the United States Brewers' association met at the Terminal building in this city for the forty-eighth annual meeting. During the convention the prohibition question is expected to be discussed from every standpoint. Mayor David S. Rose of Milwaukee, who has started a war against the dive saloons in Milwaukee, made an address of welcome and in the course of his remarks made reference to the war being made against dive saloons which do not come within the "decent" class. The mayor and chief of police of Milwaukee in a petition to the common council have placed the ban about dive saloons of the class considered as being "low" and recommended that no license be granted to those contained in the list. The step

PROMINENT MEN ARE INDICTED

Seven Men Accused of Defrauding Government of Land.

Portland, Or., June 9.—The special grand jury in the United States district court in this city, which is investigating alleged land fraud cases in eastern Oregon, yesterday returned seven indictments charging conspiracy to defraud the government out of 30,000 acres of public land in the Umatilla reservation.

The persons indicted are: J. P. Riley, a prominent Democratic politician, lawyer and former member of the state legislature from Umatilla; William Stusher, also a former member of the legislature from the same county; Alonzo Knotts, J. W. Crow, H. M. Wynne and William Caldwell, all sheep men and ranch men well known in the western part of the state; C. W. Matthews, a rancher; John Vert, formerly president of the First National bank of Pendleton; and Bailey Rose, Samuel Olmstead and William Rahe.

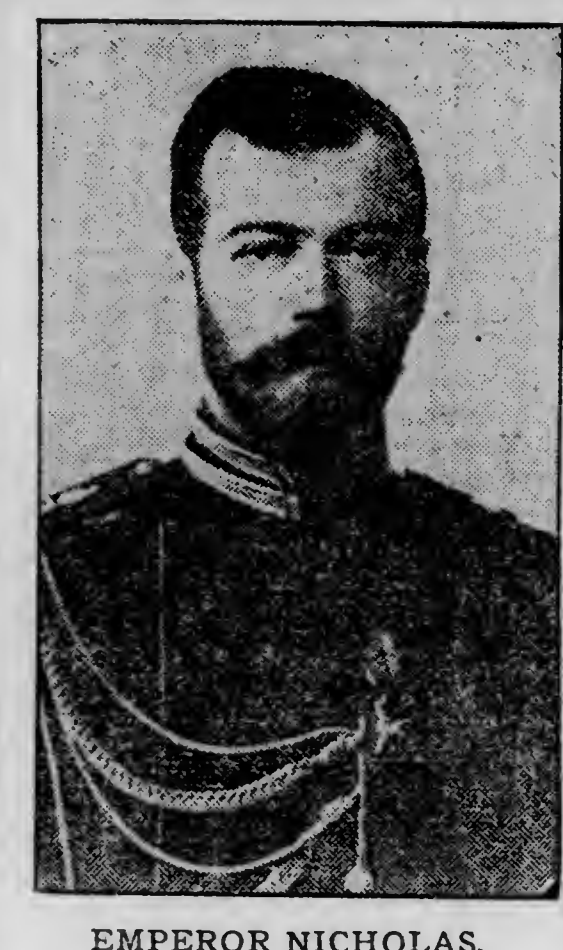

"13" HOODBOO HITS BRIDE.

Flee from Husband and is Now in Hiding.

Chicago, June 9.—Poor, unhappy little bride who braved the "13" hoodoo. Her heart was full of love and her eyes were like stars when she married Louis A. Conrad, manager of the Canadian Finance company, before the members of the XIII club in the Boston oyster house on Friday, March 13. That night when she waited to the altar, she was carefree Maudie Stewart, living with her aunt at 628 Fairfield avenue.

Now the little bride is hiding. She fled from her husband six weeks after the eventful marriage, and he is said to be searching for her out of the city. Relatives of the forlorn young bride said last night that she was still in the city, but that she intended to continue hiding from her husband, and that she would never go back to live with him again. Just what the motive of the young couple was none seems to know.

KING EDWARD VII MAKES A FORMAL CALL ON THE CZAR

EMPEROR NICHOLAS.

The First English Monarch to Officially Visit Russia.

Arrives at Reval on the British Royal Yacht.

Rulers Entertained at Lunch by the Dowager Empress.

Reval, June 9.—The meeting between King Edward and Emperor Nicholas occurred here today with due formality. It was the first time that an English monarch has ever made an official visit in Russian waters.

The British squadron escorting the royal yacht Victoria and Albert, with King Edward on board, entered the bay of Reval shortly after 10 o'clock this morning. The customary salutes were fired, and after an exchange of formal visits the king and the emperor lunched on board the Russian yacht Polar Star as the guests of the dowager empress.

The day was favored by brilliant and beautiful summer weather. The arrival of the British royal yacht, escorted by the wooden shores of the bay and at other points of vantage on the seawall to witness the incoming of the ships of war.

The imperial train bearing the emperor of Russia and suite arrived here at 5 o'clock this morning. When the imperial party alighted they were surprised to find the disembarking platform surrounded by a guard of the school children of Reval instead of by a detachment of troops. The children cheered enthusiastically, and this welcome evidently made a deep impression upon the emperor and the empress.

Accompanied by the infant czar and the little grand duchess, his sisters, the royal party at once boarded a launch and were taken out to the yacht Sinegory, which was anchored in the bay. The dowager empress, the queen of Greece and other notabilities arrived by train one hour later and were taken out on board the yacht Polar star. The emperor, who was dressed in a captain in the dress of the rank which he held before the death of his father, the little czar, who was in high spirits, was clad in a sailor costume.

As Emperor Nicholas boarded the Standard the imperial salute was fired, and the royal standard was hoisted to the masthead of the yacht. The emperor and the rest of the party were taken to the Reval dressed ship and broke out their

KILLED WHILE GETTING AWAY

Negro Shot as He Attempted to Escape From Courthouse.

Long View, Tex., June 9.—Jack Flurry, a negro, was shot to death, and his brother, Ike Flurry, was wounded when the two endeavoring to escape from the courthouse here yesterday during their trial for attempting to kill several stockmen.

The trouble dates back to last Saturday when a yearling, the property of the Flurrys, followed a drove of cattle to the stock pens. Stopping at the Flurrys' home to get a drink of water, the negro accused the stockmen of stealing his yearling and one of the stockmen knocked Flurry down. Flurry and his brother secured a gun and the one with the weapon was only prevented from firing by one of the stockmen riding him down with his horse. The Flurrys were arrested yesterday, when they were in the courthouse arranging for bond, endeavoring to escape. They were pursued and Ike Flurry was wounded. The other negro was finally captured after being wounded. The affair caused considerable racial feeling.

SQUAW BITES OFFICER. Geddes, S. D., June 9.—Marshal Crowley, who maintains the peace at this place, as the result of a struggle with two belligerent Indians a warrior and his wife, who belong on the Yankton reservation, was severely bitten by one of them in the hand, the wound being of so serious a nature that the services of a physician were required.

TAFT FOLLOWERS AGREE TO COMPROMISE FOR THE LOUISIANA DELEGATION

The Opposing Members to Have Half a Vote Each.

The Agreement Made After Consultation With Washington.

Both Sides Claim to be Satisfied With the Outcome.

Chicago, June 9.—Much interest attached to the meeting of the Republican national committee today because of the vote to be taken on the proposition to compromise on the Louisiana contests. The cases in this state involve four delegates-at-large and fourteen district delegates. The Taft managers, although somewhat surprised yesterday by the extent to which the compromise movement had found favor, were today, as on all previous meetings of the committee, determined that the delegates who were entitled to their seats should have them without being compelled to split their votes with men who were not, in their opinion, properly selected.

On the other hand, the advocates of the compromise renewed the arguments they made yesterday and last night, suggesting that the seating of both contesting delegations would be a move highly expedient, in attaching the negro vote to the Republican party. Many messages passed last night between the city and Washington relative to the situation, and the result was partially forecasted by the attitude of the Taft managers, who were firm in their determination not to compromise.

Lodge Loses Seat. Committee member Henry B. McCoy, of the Massachusetts delegation, appeared at the Coliseum today prepared to take his seat. This deprived Senator Lodge of Massachusetts of the proxy which he has held up to the present time. The "allies," who were jubilant over the retirement of Frank H. Hitchcock from the committee, were no less pleased today, in a general sense, over the absence of Senator Lodge, although the senator was one of the Taft representatives who had declared in favor of a division of the Louisiana delegation. Arthur F. Statter and Charles G. Phelps, the two employees of the Taft managers, who maintain the peace on the first day, still hold their proxies, and sat in as members of the committee today.

All the members of the committee were slow in appearing at the Coliseum today, the number of conferences that were scheduled for the early morning occupying much of their time. The general indications before the committee went into session were that the Louisiana compromise proposition would provide a warm fight. The Taft managers were confident that they had enough votes to carry through any proposition which they favor. Because of the length of time after 10 o'clock at which the committee was called to Toronto, Ont., June 9.—The election for the Ontario legislature took place yesterday and the results indicate that Premier Whitney and the Conservative party have again swept the province. The government had a majority of 39 on dissolution.

Complete figures show the result of the polling to be: Conservatives, 55; Liberals, 17; Laborite, 1.

KILL MANY INSURGENTS

Korean Troops Fought Twenty-Six Engagements in Four Days.

Tokyo, June 9.—A dispatch from Seoul, dated today (June 9) received at army headquarters, reports that from June 3 to June 7 the government troops had twenty-six engagements with the insurgents. In these engagements 118 insurgents were killed and 26 taken prisoners. The recent transfers of Korean cabinet ministers were due to the fact that during a conference of provincial governors a number of cases of negligence of the governors to represent the actual facts concerning the attitude of the Korean government toward the insurgents were overlooked, also neglect in failing to correct false and malicious reports concerning Japanese policy, thus tacitly encouraging the insurrection. In consequence the minister of agriculture was transferred to the home department and today the home minister announced the removal of seven provincial governors, showing a determination to effect many sweeping changes in local officials.

THOUSANDS HOMELESS

Inhabitants of North Topeka Driven Out by Flood.

The Major Portion Finds Shelter in City of Topeka Proper.

Topeka, Kan., June 9.—About 7,000 persons have been driven from their homes in North Topeka by the flood in the Kaw river. The major portion found shelter in Topeka proper, where the auditorium, school buildings and private homes have been opened to them. No loss of life is reported, but there has been much property loss. The crest of the flood reached Topeka at 2 o'clock this morning, when the government river gauge showed a register of 25 feet. At 5:30 p.m. there was a registration of 27 feet, indicating a rise of three inches. This is five feet below the highest mark of the disastrous 1906 flood.

PHILLIPS IS ARRAIGNED

Enters Plea of Not Guilty to Charge of Fraud.

St. Paul, June 9.—(Special to The Herald.)—S. A. Phillips, indicted last week by the federal grand jury, charged with using the mails to defraud, in this case was the general manager of the St. Paul Seattle Electric Air line, was arraigned before Judge Morris late Monday afternoon. He entered a plea of not guilty, with the understanding that he could withdraw this plea next Monday, if his attorney, D. J. Sheehan, saw fit, after investigating the indictment.

Mr. Sheehan explained that he had just been engaged as counsel and had only a meager idea of the facts in the case, and desired a little more time in which to determine what action to take. Phillips is now under seven years' sentence for grand larceny in the first degree, having been found guilty in the Ramsey district court in the first degree, is out under bonds in the sum of $30,000, pending an appeal to the state supreme court.

MUCH DYNAMITE EXPLODES.

Seven Hundred and Fifty Pounds Said to Have Gone Off.

Calumet, Mich., June 9.—(Special to The Herald.)—The old powerhouse of the Phoenix Consolidated Mining company in Keweenaw county was blown to smithereens yesterday when a lot of dynamite, said to have been 750 pounds went off. The blast in nearby buildings was shattered and the report of the explosion heard for miles while the earth trembled as though in the grasp of an earthquake. An explosion of powder at the same spot twenty-five years ago killed twelve miners. It was reported yesterday that pieces of clothing and a man's finger were found near the scene of the explosion yesterday, but these reports could not be confirmed. No cause is known for the explosion.

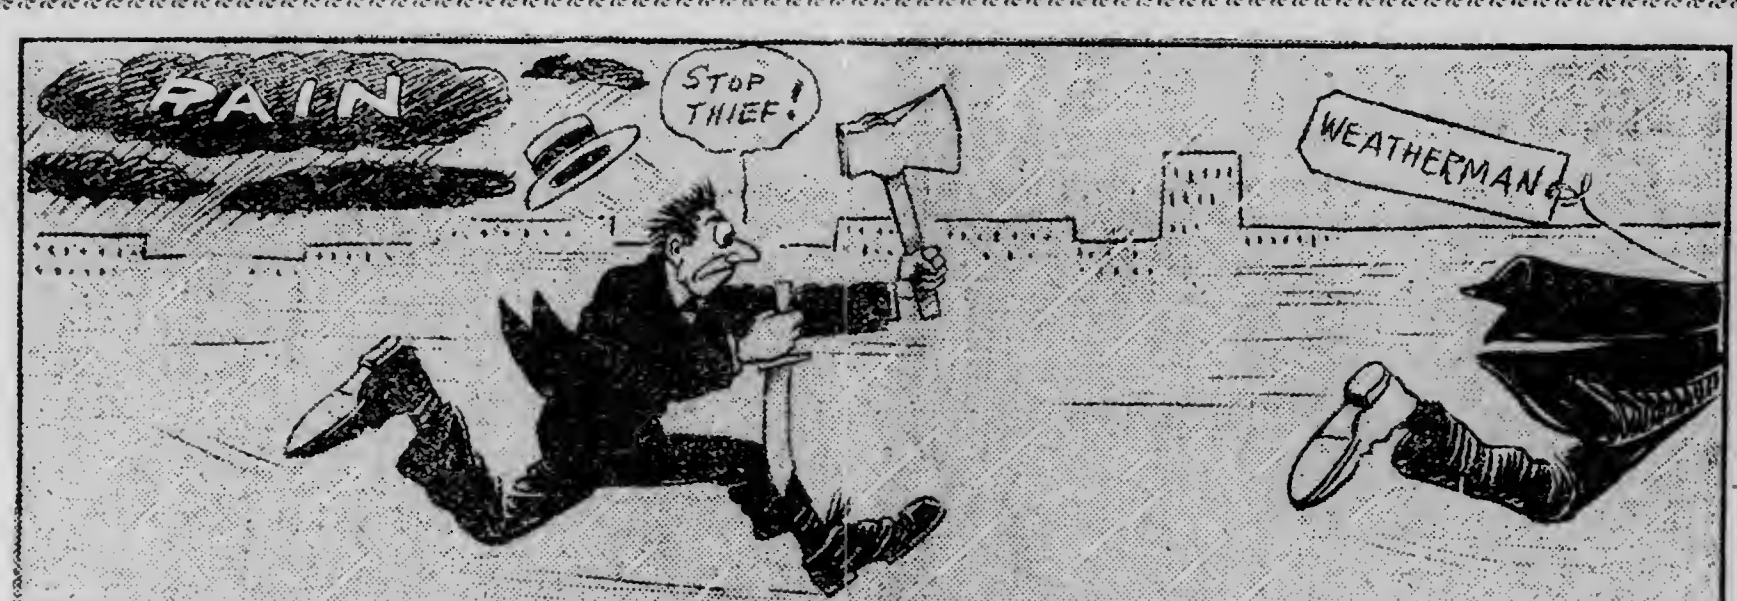

CAUGHT IN CAVE-IN.

Worker in Clay Pit Nearly Loses His Life.

Crookston, Minn., June 9.—(Special to The Herald.)—F. M. Hughes came near losing his life in a clay pit of the Northern Pressed Brick company this morning. He was digging in the clay pit when a cave-in occurred, burying him. He was rescued, but his nose was crushed flat on his face. He was rushed to a hospital, where he will recover unless his nose is fed. The clay was issued by the rains.

HEAVY RAINS DELAY TRAFFIC

Blockades Are Caused by Washouts in Western Territory.

Train schedules in the West have been rendered irregular by the rain of yesterday and today, according to the reports that were received here this morning. According to report, the Northern Pacific North Coast Limited did not leave St. Paul this morning, while the schedules of other trains were completely disorganized.

From 3:45 until 11:30 this morning an embargo was placed on the selling of passenger tickets out of Havre, Mont., over the Great Northern. Between those hours the train service was completely disorganized.

It was stated at the Great Northern office that the damage caused by the delay to that line had been permanently repaired. The trouble on the Northern Pacific, however, has not been repaired and the trains of that road running over the tracks of the Great Northern through the territory where the rain has caused the most trouble.

USE STREET FOR A PLAYGROUND

Part of Third Avenue West Turned Over to Association.

In line with Mayor Haven's policy of establishing public playgrounds and more public parks in Duluth, the city council at its meeting last night voted to turn Third avenue west, between Fifth and Sixth streets, over to the park board to be used as a park and public playground.

The city has taken great interest in the playground movement, and the aldermen are particularly interested. This is the first official step they have had a chance to take to help the movement along. They express themselves as being very willing at all times to do what they can to help the park and playground movement.

The playground association in the goal work planned for the future.

The tract in question is located in a district where it will be of much benefit when fitted up as a park and playground. It is not far from the center of the city, and a thickly-populated portion of Duluth is adjacent to it.

GOOD MILK FOR DULUTH

Rigid Rules for Inspection Provided in New Ordinance.

The amendments to the milk ordinance as proposed by Health Commissioner Patton and introduced at the council meeting last night by Alderman Kennedy, will give Duluth the most thorough milk inspection the city has ever had. Every possible precaution will be taken to insure a perfect supply of milk and milk products, and a severe punishment will be provided for any one caught violating the ordinance, which covers milk shipped into the city by train from outside points, as well as that from dairies of the city and surrounding country.

No milk shall be brought to Duluth or offered for sale in the city that does not bear a label or stamp of some sort on the can or bottle showing who the owner and shipper is and where he is located. It is provided that all shippers and sellers of milk shall keep on file with the health commissioners a certificate of a duly licensed veterinary surgeon, approved by the commissioner, stating that cows producing the milk in question have been tested and found to be entirely free from all signs of contagious diseases. The certificates shall bear numbers corresponding with numbers provided for the cows for identification purposes, so it will be easy to locate the cow named in any certificate.

It is provided, further, that the certificate shall bear the name and date of each examination, and shall give the temperature of the cow every three hours for a period of twelve hours after the tuberculin test has been made.

Plans for New Temple.
Plans are nearly completed for a new Masonic Temple to be erected at Belmont street and Houghton avenue, at a cost of $20,000. The structure will have a ground space 30 by 75 feet and will be three stories high. Brick and stone will be used in the construction. A banquet hall, dining room and kitchen will occupy the ground floor, the second floor will be given over to rooms for social purposes and the lodge rooms will be located on the third floor.

Trout Were too Small.
Because he hooked one trout under the lawful length of six inches, Alderman A. F. Chadwick was fined $10 in the municipal court yesterday. It is said that the alderman's undoing resulted from a fishing expedition that he made to the Brule river lately. He is said to have stepped along the bank to show his catch to a party of fishermen and some one of them complained to the game warden that Chadwick had hooked several trout under six inches. The alderman admitted the charge, but claimed the fish were killed in the hooking process and he thought it would be all right to keep the dead ones instead of throwing them back into the river.

Evidence Was Lacking.
John Lee, the young man arrested the other day pending an investigation into the report that he tried to induce some young girls to go to Blueberry, Wis., with him, was released yesterday, there being insufficient evidence to warrant his detention any longer.

May Extend Dry Dock.
The Superior Shipbuilding company is said to have plans in the course of preparation for a 160 foot extension to the old drydock this summer, the extension to include an increased width of ten feet the entire length of the dock. If the extension is made the company will have a dock 600 feet long. Some time ago there was talk of a new dock, but it is believed that the shipbuilding officials have changed their minds and will extend the old dock instead.

CANNON IS IN THE RACE TO A FINISH.

Chicago, June 8.—Joseph G. Cannon, speaker of the house of representatives, arrived in Chicago today from his home in Danville, Ill., and declared himself a candidate for president of the United States, "until they stop voting or elect some one else." When asked if he was in the race to "stick," he sat upright in his chair and snapped:
"Stick? Why, man, I can't do anything else but stick. The state of Illinois is behind me and that is enough to make a man do almost anything. Stick? Well, I should say so."
Mr. Cannon was cheerful as to the outlook, declaring in conclusion: "The end is not yet by a long shot."

DAMAGE TO THE SEWERS

Heavy Rainfall Caused Lake Avenue Storm Sewer to Burst.

Contract Street and Sewer Work Receives Serious Setback.

The storm sewer on Lake avenue above Birch street burst yesterday afternoon, and a huge stream of water shot fifteen or twenty feet into the air. So great was the force of the water that it washed the earth away from the piping for a distance of fifty feet, and the break in the pipe was extended for the whole distance. As the break enlarged, the height of the stream was lowered, until it ran along level with the ground. Shortly after the accident the rain stopped, or the result might have been more serious.

The sewer at that particular point measures thirty-six inches in diameter. The stream of water did not very great damage, aside from the break in the pipe, for it followed along the trench on top of the earth and the volume decreased sufficiently for the water to continue on its way through the broken trench. There was also a break on Twenty-third avenue west, and another on Grand avenue, although they were not so extensive as the one on Lake avenue.

Members of the board of public works, and men employed by the board, are busy looking over the damage and taking steps to repair it. It may be found necessary to increase the force of men employed by the board to repair the damage, and put the sewers and streets back in their normal condition.

Damage to contractors engaged in street and sewer work was even more extensive than was supposed yesterday, and, aside from the delays that will be occasioned, the damage in this direction alone will mount into thousands of dollars. In street paving jobs was entirely destroyed.

THE JURY IS COMPLETED

State Begins Testimony in David Mattich Murder Trial.

Alleges Defendant Held Donjonovich While Eli Mattich Shot Him.

The jury was completed this morning in the trial of the case of the state against David Mattich, indicted for murder in the first degree, and the state began the introduction of evidence with a view of proving the defendant's alleged complicity in the shooting affray that ended in the death of Rodi Donjonovich in the boarding house row at the Croxton mine some weeks ago.

Eli Mattich, who is said to have fired the shot that resulted in Donjonovich's death, was convicted of manslaughter in the first degree about a week ago, and is in the county jail awaiting sentence.

It is alleged by the state that Donjonovich was attempting to run away after threats by the defendants to kill him, and that David Mattich caught and held Donjonovich while Eli Mattich did the shooting.

Eli Mattich attempted to set up self-defense as his plea for the shooting, and it is presumed that something of the same sort of claim will be made by David Mattich.

Capt. C. C. Teare, who defended Eli Mattich, is defending David Mattich in the present trial.

Eli and David bear no relation to each other, although they have the same name, and are both natives of Montenegro, who were witnesses of the shooting affray, are still being held in custody to testify in the present trial, as they threatened to quit the city and go to Canada to find employment, following the session of the last grand jury.

The state considered them as important witnesses and secured an order of the court to hold them in custody until after the cases have both been disposed of. The state will draw witness fees during the time they have been in jail.

WARRANTS HAVE BEEN ISSUED

Police Claim Travers' Saloon and Lenox Bar Kept Open.

Accused of keeping their saloons open after hours in violation of law, warrants have been issued for the arrest of James W. Travers, who has a saloon at No. 1 East Superior street, and the proprietors of the Lenox hotel, of whom Alderman E. R. Ribbenack is one. Mr. Travers is president of the Retail Liquor Dealers' association.

The warrants and complaints were sworn to by police officers in the city attorney's office last Wednesday and Thursday, but the warrants have not yet been served, although the men in question know they are subject to arrest at any time. Attorney E. J. Kenny, who has charge of the criminal prosecutions of the city under City Attorney C. S. Wilson, says he is responsible for the delay in the arrest of the men, saying he wished to await the decision of the district court regarding the validity of the city ordinance before he took the cases.

"Whenever a conviction has been secured an appeal has been taken on the ground that the city ordinance is invalid," said Mr. Kenny, "which results in hanging up these cases indefinitely. I expect the decision by the middle of the week, and planned on prosecuting the cases under the state law if the district court found that the city ordinance was unconstitutional. I will not hold the warrants any later than Wednesday if the decision is not forthcoming."

It is claimed police officers found men drinking in the Lenox bar room after 12 o'clock last Tuesday night. It is claimed a dozen men were drinking in the Travers saloon at 11:30 o'clock last Wednesday night when a passerby called a policeman's attention to the matter.

CLAIMS ARE CONTESTED

Probate Court Conducts Hearing in Matter of Singer Estate.

Final Argument Wednesday on Higgins' Estate Inheritance Tax.

Probate Judge Middlecott conducted a hearing today on the claims against the estate of late Capt. Walter Singer. The morning session was spent in argument over the claim of David Hood, the contractor who is alleged to have performed some work on a dock for Capt. Singer in 1890, and for which he claims there is $750 still due. Mr. Hood was represented by W. B. Phelps and the executors of the estate, Mrs. Evelyn Singer and E. T. Singer, by Theodore Hollister and C. O. Baldwin.

There are also claims of the executors, among which is one of $5,000 alleged to be due the widow, Evelyn Singer, for money alleged to have been loaned the decedent from the sale of some real estate; $2,000 alleged to be due T. Singer, a brother of the decedent for money alleged to be due Capt. Singer's life time; $200 alleged to be due Peter Grignon for boat repairing and various small claims averaging $50 and less.

The estate within Minnesota is said to be valued at about $50,000 and Mrs. Evelyn Singer and E. T. Singer are the heirs, share and share alike.

Tomorrow the probate court will listen to the final arguments and additional evidence in the matter of the inheritance tax of the Higgins estate. The state has appointed by the court as appraisers of the property belonging to the estate in Minnesota was much undervalued.

When brought to the jail this morning Paatala seemed to be rational.

COMPTROLLER REPLIES.
McCormick Says Assessor Had No Right to Change Wages Set.

City Comptroller McCormick has issued the following statement of his stand in the matter of wages paid two girls hired as deputy city assessors: "The common council, on Jan. 6, 1908, passed a resolution authorizing the employment of special deputy assessors at the rate of $3 per day. The assessor employed two women as special deputy assessors, who, likewise with the male employees, took the oath of office and furnished the necessary bond. The assessor placed them on the pay roll at $1.50 per day. In so doing he exceeded his authority. I advised the assessor that there were two things that could be done in the matter: ask the common council to authorize their employment at $1.50 per day, or pay for their services in accordance with the terms of the resolution of the common council now in force."

GREAT NORTHERN COAST LINE NOT BOTHERED MUCH.

St. Paul, June 8.—(Special to The Herald.)—The Great Northern railway reports that interruption to traffic along its lines in Montana is confined entirely to the Montana Central branch. Through service to the Pacific coast has not been seriously interfered with, as the main line is well to the north of the flooded district. Trans-continental trains to Spokane, Seattle and Pacific coast points are now running on practically schedule time. The Montana Central is the line most affected by the flood, and is a branch line running from Havre on the main line, south to Great Falls, Helena and Butte. It may be several days before this branch can be opened.

CONCERNING WOMAN.

NORMAL SCHOOL GIRLS IN THEIR CLASS PLAYS

The regular June meeting of the board of directors of the Young Women's Christian association was held this morning at the association rooms. It was decided to open a cottage on Park Point for the accommodation of the members during the summer months. If ten members apply at once at the office of the association the cottage will be opened by July 1 and will be maintained until Oct. 1. The object of the cottage is to provide an outing for young business women during their vacations or for those who can so arrange to live at the cottage during a few weeks during the summer while still continuing their work. It was at first planned to secure a cottage at Fond du Lac, but the Park Point location was considered more advisable after consideration. Members of the board volunteered a large part of the furnishings at this morning's meeting and members of the association and their friends will also be asked to contribute.

A series of excursions up the river will be planned a little later in the season. The annual moonlight excursion, at which the Y. W. C. A. and the Y. W. C. A. were joint hosts, will not be held this year. The routine business was transacted.

AUCTION SALE OF WASH FABRICS

Under the Authority of the Court Ordered by the Receiver of the Arnold Print Works.

At 10 a. m., on May 18th, there began in the rooms of Wilmerding Morris & Mitchell, 374-378 Broadway, New York city, an auction sale of vast importance to every wholesale and many of the retail merchants in America. Seven thousand cases of fine wash fabrics were sold at public auction by order of the receivers of the Arnold Print Works, under the authority of the court.

Fully 1,000 buyers and representatives from the principal jobbing houses throughout the United States were present at the sale, and interest in all lines offered was fully maintained during the entire day.

If the prices which the goods were marketed and sold for early in the season were to be used as a comparison, the price which they brought during the sale was very small. The goods sold were nearly all of a very high standard, as can be seen by the following list: 800 cases fancy white goods, 700 cases assorted plain colors in cotton and silk and cotton, 2,500 cases printed, plain and fancy summer goods, 1,000 cases printed silk and cotton plain and fancy Mausseline and 2,000 cases suitings and flat dress goods. Some idea of the enormity and importance of the sale may be gathered by the list of prominent buyers, wholesalers and some of the largest and more up-to-date enterprising retailers who attended.

Fashionable Paris is Enthusiastic Over the Cotton Stuff.

"There is just a touch of midsummer madness, of the flighty, the absurd and the preposterous in the rage for calicoes that is holding Paris in thrall this summer," says Mrs. Osborn in the July Delmondo. "If you followed the imported models this spring you noticed the advanced guard of the fad in waistscoats and bretelles and dress decorations that began to make their appearance as early as March and April. If it even struck you as being a bit extreme even then, let me assure you that it represents the most conservative phase of the situation. The Parisienne, or the American woman who imports her gowns from the other side, does not stop with a mere calico-covered torso or two or a modest bit of trimming. She wears entire gowns and coats and hats of it. She lines her jackets and covers her parasols with it, and fairly pants for some new excuse to use it."

"And when you catch a glimpse of the calico itself, with its stiff little wreaths and roses and stray cuckoos and much-misplaced polka dots you will not wonder at her enthusiasm. You will search through the catalogues and find tonnes of every accessible upholstery department for as close a reproduction of the French calico as possible. You will find many charming things that will answer your purpose, but hardly the calico itself. By another summer these extreme designs will undoubtedly be procurable in this country."

The students are advancing satisfactorily in their work. Formerly they did only plain sewing but now they have become proficient enough to do garment work. Mrs. A. L. Avelin, who has been absent from the city for several weeks, has returned and will have charge of the work.

Trial of the personal injury case of Tonnes Risnes against the Pittsburg Coal company was started yesterday afternoon in Judge Cant's room following the trial of the case of Robert Altavaser against the Duluth Crushed Stone company.

He claims that he was employed to shovel coal into a heap so that the clam-shell shovel could pick it up, that he was not familiar with the danger attending the work and was caught in the hold. Risnes claims that his leg was fractured. He further claims there was no hatch tender employed to warn him of the descent of the shovel.

Olof Nelson of Chicago was made chairman, and Dr. Victor Nilsson of Minneapolis, corresponding secretary of the committee. Edward Molin was elected vice president. Dr. Gustaf Sundberg of Boston recording secretary and Ernest Nordstrom of New York treasurer.

The concert tour will be more extensive than the one made by the same organization in 1897, London, Cologne, Berlin, and eventually Paris to be included in the route. The bookings will be made by Gustave Thibault of Stockholm.

All clubs belonging to the American Union of Swedish Singers will be entitled to have active singers to join the grand chorus.

Prof. John Oertgen of Chicago will be the musical director. We could not get a night's sleep in months and I made gloves for his hands so the nails could not poison him worse. We had to keep them bandaged up.

There will be several hundred excursionists who will join the singers at the close of the Swedish musical festival, to be held in New York the last week of May, 1910. The executive committee will raise a guarantee fund toward the enterprise against the possibility of financial loss.

COMPTROLLER "BUTTED IN."
City Assessor Asks Council to Make Him Be Good.

City Assessor Jackson submitted a communication to the council last evening in which he entered a kick because City Comptroller McCormick had added two girls not to work for such wages as he was being paid by the city assessor. He said they were only getting $1.50 a day, whereas they were entitled to $3 a day under the law.

The city assessor wrote a humorously pathetic letter, and it made a hit with the council. On the information furnished by Mr. McCormick, one of the girls quit her job and the other came around with her father and tried to collect wages at the rate of $3 a day.

The city assessor asked the council to enjoin Mr. McCormick from meddling with the affairs of the other department.

OFFICER PREVENTS SUICIDE.
Fargo, N. D., June 9.—Disgusted with his past, and unwilling to take a chance on the future, Annie Bryan, in a drunken rage in the city jail, attempted to take her life by cutting her throat. The quick and effective action of Capt. Louis Dahlgren she can thank for averting the deadly plan.

The Bryan woman, who also gave her name as Clara Brown, was arrested by Officer Korsmo, being picked up near the north bridge when returning from Moorhead with a good-sized jag.

WIFE OF NEW YORK MIL-LIONAIRE SECURES SEPAR-ATION IN SOUTH DAKOTA.

Sioux Falls, S. D., June 9.—Mrs. Franklin Brewster, whose husband is a millionaire of Rochester, N. Y., has been granted a divorce here and left for the home of her son-in-law, Senator Frelinghuysen of New Jersey.

Mrs. Brewster has said here that she might marry an attaché of the king of Greece. Her daughters, Mrs. Ashton Knight of Paris and Mrs. Frelinghuysen, were present at the Greolan court and at that time Mrs. Brewster met the court official. If she marries him, she will become a lady in waiting to the queen.

SCHOOL TEACHER and Coffee Drinking.
Many good people are loth to give up coffee, even though they admit that it is doing them harm, because they fear that nothing else in the way of a hot beverage will satisfy them. A school teacher says:

"I always enjoyed coffee for breakfast. The day seemed lost without it. But in time I began to experience bad results from its use. I grew very nervous and lost flesh and finally was prostrated by a complete nervous breakdown. Then I was compelled to abandon the use of coffee.

Money Ruining Newport.
"To be rich alone is not enough.
Very often to be rich means to possess brains. There are plenty of people who have both brains and money. We must not let them. But the time should come when brains will count for more than mere money. Mere money is "Nobility is more tired than I of Newport the laughing stock of the country today."

"Personally I am tired of Newport.
It is dead, barren, spoiled. We shall not go back there. What do we have in Newport now? Climbers? Yes, Newport has a few climbers. They are invited to dinner. You know almost to a certainty whom you will meet there: you are sure you will take you

"And New York? Really, actually talking about one another right at the table. They don't wait until they've got home. They do it even in the house of their hosts."

"What is New York society? Really, house of the time. The average dinner is a bore. You may count on meeting certain sets at certain houses. You are invited to dinner. You know al-

SOCIETY IS

New York, June 9.—Mrs. Stuyvesant Fish declares New York society is dendly and Newport has been ruined by money. She announces she will no longer be a ladder for society climbers, and she is going to snub Newport by giving it the cold shoulder.

All this is apropos a statement by Frederick T. Martin that New York society is in a transition state. He says the metropolis is too big to be ruled by mere money, and that brains, etc., must count. She announces she will no longer be a ladder for society climbers,
and she is going to snub Newport by the men and women who preach prohibition have any first-hand knowledge of the saloons. They do not enter them, even for purposes of observation, and they certainly do not know that by far the large majority of saloons are decent and respectable, and do not tolerate drunkenness or disorder.

"It is of the utmost importance that the saloonkeeper should respect the laws, but the constant injustice meted out to him under the guise of laws, is a force which tends to undermine this respect."

"The problem of the saloon is one of regulation, by statutory authority; of administration by the trade. From either standpoint, it is a complex problem which cannot be settled in the of-hand fashion that seems so easy to superficial observers."

"The point which I want to emphasize in considering this question of saloon administration is that saloon reforms cannot be brought about by the brewers individually. But the brewers, as an organization, can accomplish a great deal through their organized power which has not yet been fully tested."

"The regulation of the saloon has been needlessly complicated by experimental legislation, party politics, police corruption and inefficiency. Fixed and arbitrary limitations, imposed upon communities by the state, without regard to local conditions, have only increased the difficulty. To keep the saloon out of politics, it must first be taken out of politics; and the best way to keep it in politics is to provide by local option laws for the constant agitation of the license question, with the element of harassing uncertainty which this involves. On recent years the saloon has been growing to be less and less a political factor. Today it threatens to become the biggest political issue in our history."

Must Not Remain Idle.
"With a situation of this character confronting us, and with our property interests involved, with the millions and millions of dollars invested under the sanction of the law, we can anyone expect to remain idle while this property is being confiscated?"

"It is our duty to hasten universal enlightenment and to spread the conviction that our industry stands for temperance in the best sense of the word, and will neither countenance nor tolerate anything that is not thoroughly in accord with the moral and physical welfare of the people."

The cry may be in some one of many ways, Trembling, Sleepy in the day time ordered nervous system brought on by Coffee.

If you don't heed the cry (Nature's hint), you may be sure the trouble will get worse, and not better, until you either quit the coffee habit which is the cause, or you develop fixed organic disease that may carry you down.

It is the finest trade possible, to quit coffee and get well.

Health is the most exquisite fun on earth.

It is easy to quit coffee when you have choice, well-made Postum, a delicious hot beverage with the deep scal brown of strong coffee that changes to a rich golden brown when cream is added. Then you have the crisp coffee "snap" and a flavour all its own. The nerves are relieved of the old hurt of the poisonous "Caffeine" of coffee and in its place you feed the system on strong food elements in Postum which quickly rebuild the worn out and exhausted nerve and brain cells destroyed by Coffee.

These are facts. Prove them by 10 days' trial.

BACK FROM THE ORIENT

Charlie Sing Lee Hears the Call of the West.

King of Chinatown Received by Countrymen in Duluth.

A wrinkled old man, whose eyes combine the dreamy mysticism of the East and the shrewd wisdom of the West, entertained a number of friends in the rear room of 215 East Superior street, last night. The long pipe of peaceful reminiscence was aglow, and through the hazy, fragrant smoke peeped yellow faces with long, slant eyes, which looked fixedly at the speaker as he told of the things that were left behind; of the mystic things of the East, where the temple bells are ringing, where the spell of the Orient is strong and the wisdom of the centuries is deep and abiding.

Charlie Sing Lee, the king of the local Chinese, has returned.

For six long years he has lived in the land of his fathers, for six long years he has learned anew the customs of his native land. Yet the call of the West made itself heard, and Charlie is with us again—wiser, older, more wrinkled, and last night the elite of local Chinatown paid due respect to the return of the wanderer, and many pipefuls were smoked as the story of the traveler was told.

It is not an easy task to interview Charlie Sing Lee. First of all, his friends will make it difficult for you. They have some unknown objection to Charlie airing his views to the world. They discourage him; they discourage the interviewer. Slightest anger smoldered in the slant eyes as Charlie, despite their objections, told of what he had seen during his six years' sojourn in the Orient. Charlie is not advertised by his loving friends.

The Last of Commerce.

The last of commerce was the magnet that drew Charlie back to the land of the white man. You are made sure of the fact that there is more money to be made here than in the land of the downy emperors, for Charlie begins his interview by telling of the high cost of living in China, and of the money he hopes to make in the domain of Uncle Sam. His quest is for a better life, as he says, yet in the fullness of his material wealth he has returned to a questless land to battle for the round silver dollar.

Boycott Japan.

"China she buy no goods from Japan." With this sententious expression Charlie disclosed the fact that a boycott was maintained by the Chinese against the goods of the land of Nippon. They brought goods to China in ships, but the Chinese refused to buy and the ships returned, laden to their original fullness. There is a smoldering hatred for the cause Japan has pursued, and because the Japanese emperor has attempted to force the goods of his subjects upon the Chinese people.

But the Chinese merchants purchase the goods of the Americans. Of that Charlie, with emphatic statements, assured the interviewer. The old quarrel is forgotten. The days when American goods were refused sale and made thousands of dollars' worth were destroyed, have passed, so Charlie says, and now the goods of the American can be seen in the shop windows.

No More Little Feet.

China is surely undergoing a mighty and sweeping reformation. "No more small feet; big feet. Women with small feet no marry, stay at home all alone; Chinese no want wife with little feet." And so the days of the cramped Trilby have passed. The wee pedal extremity has ceased to be a thing of beauty to the eye of the Celestial. The Chinese beauty with the puny kick is marked down in the matrimonial market, says Charlie, for the Chinese fancy has swung to the substantial foot and liberal education.

Yes, the Chinese are permitting their women to become educated. Education is spreading, says Charlie. Girls are permitted to sup at the fountain of knowledge. The spirit of learning is sweeping the empire, education is wakening China from the lethargy of centuries, and six years' sojourn in the land of his fathers has impressed the returned traveler with the wonderful change that has come over China.

In China the rumble of approaching strife is heard. Charlie says the Chinese are repeating the rumor of a war between Japan and the United States. Charlie shakes his head when you ask him if China and Japan are likely to go to war. He informs you that the United States is the nation that the Japanese will seek a war with, if there is to be a war.

Queer Is Vanishing.

The Chinese, too, are arming themselves. They are training their soldiers under the instruction of foreign drill masters. Under the military rule the Chinaman no longer considers the queue a badge of citizenship or a mark of honor. The Chinaman without a queue is no longer an object of scorn. Modern education has passed judgment on the queue, says Charlie, and it being considered a thing of no practical use, it is being generally discarded. Yet in seeming defiance of this new idea, Charlie wears his queue, long and glossy, curled like a sleeping snake at the top of his brown and shaven head. They are increasing their army and training their soldiers in the art of warfare, says Charlie, yet China is the foe of no one; she is simply becoming educated. It is hard to pump an Oriental.

In broken English Charlie tells enough, just enough, to permit you to grasp the Chinaman's view of the mighty change that is sweeping the Chinese empire; of the spread of education; of the advance of statesmanship; of the awakening of a nation that has been centuries behind the chain of modern thought. You have to listen intently to keep the drift of the story, but it is told better, perhaps, than a Caucasian could tell it. There is a prophesy, a subtle warning of things that will materialize in the future.

Then with an Oriental smile Charlie

THOUGHT HE HAD SMALLPOX

Passenger on Street Car Mistook the Mosquito Bites.

Jens R. Swanson of the local clothing firm of Floon, Leverone & Co. has been the object of a great deal of good natured chaffing by his friends ever since his trout fishing expedition with another member of the firm last Friday. Mr. Swanson does not often take a trip out into the woods and he was, therefore, a juicy morsel for the big mosquitoes that are lying in wait for the unsuspecting townspeople.

When he returned home that evening Mr. Swanson was unable to even estimate the number of mosquito bites he possessed and he took a good deal of time to get them out. He was so itchy that he had an opportunity of getting in his work his face and hands were a sight to behold. It is currently reported that his best friend would not have recognized him.

It is claimed that shortly after Mr. Swanson had taken his seat on an East end car, on his way home to lunch, Saturday noon, another East end car, a friend of the Swanson family, entered and occupied a seat next to the erstwhile fisherman, failing to recognize him on account of the disfiguring spots where the mosquitoes had left their mark.

The car had gone but a few blocks when the friend, glancing uneasily at Mr. Swanson's face, edged away. He finally got up and took a seat at the extreme front end of the car. As he went forward he was heard to remark about the carelessness of the health department in not stopping smallpox patients from riding on the street cars.

BAGLEY CREAMERY POPULAR.

Daily Receipts of Cream Have More Than Doubled.
Bagley, Minn., June 8.—(Special to The Herald.)—It was a sight good for sore eyes to see the number of farm rigs with cream at the creamery Saturday. Over 5,500 pounds of cream was delivered before 10 o'clock. A year ago this date, only 2,400 pounds were delivered.

The creamery manager expects before the end of this month to see at least 10,000 pounds of cream delivered three times a week, and this at the creamery which was supposed to be located in the country where it would be impossible to make a creamery pay.

That the creamery is appreciated by the business men is evidenced by the fact that they refuse to pay within four cents of creamery prices for the best of dairy butter, which quickly reaches the farmer that it is to his best interest to help push along the local creamery, whether so inclined or not.

A traveling man, who has made this territory for the past seven years, remarked that the recent market and publicity day at Bagley was the best he had ever attended. At Blackduck, the weather was so inclement that it was impossible to get a good turnout, but the business men, he said, thoroughly appreciated the fact that meetings of this kind were a great help to the country and gave the speakers in attendance the best of treatment.

WOMEN'S HOME MISSION.

Officers Elected at Meeting Recently Held in Fargo.

Fargo, N. D., June 8.—(Special to The Herald.)—At the seventh annual convention of the Women's Home Mission society of the M. E. church, held here last week, officers were elected as follows: President, Mrs. H. G. Leonard, Fargo; vice president, Mrs. C. L. Wallace, Hope; recording secretary, Mrs. G. L. Hillis, Bathgate; corresponding secretary, Mrs. S. W. Heddell, Valley City; treasurer, Mrs. N. A. Wiff, Grand Forks; young people's secretary, Mrs. C. D. Lewis, Larimore; match box secretary, Miss Anna Chisholm, Fargo; secretary of literature, Mrs. S. Newlove, Hamilton; secretary of supplies, Mrs. N. L. Redman, Fargo.

KAW RIVER BREAKS ITS BANKS AT NORTH TOPEKA.

Topeka, Kan., June 8.—This afternoon there was a break in the Kaw river banks, 500 yards wide at the big bend of the river a mile and a half west of North Topeka. This water appeared to be about four feet in depth and swept down into North Topeka flowing across Gordon street. Soon many houses had been flooded to a depth of four feet.

NUMBER IS DECREASING

Natives of Hawaiian Islands Are Rapidly Dying Off.

Duluth Visitor Says Islands Will Become Naval Base.

R. W. Robinson, R. L. Polk & Co.'s representative in the Hawaiian Islands, is at the Hotel McKay today. Mr. Robinson has just returned from a tour of the islands, where he was engaged in taking census of the natives and whites. The most important piece of news stated by Mr. Robinson is that the natives are rapidly dying off. Mr. Robinson says that there are at the present time only about 15,000 native Hawaiians left, while only a few years ago there were more than 50,000 on the islands.

Mr. Robinson predicts that within five years the population of the islands will have doubled. He says that Americans are rapidly taking up plantations and engaging in business, while English and Germans are also settling in large numbers. The climate is one of the most equal in the world, while the opportunities for business investment are very good.

That the United States has at last awakened to the fact that the naval defenses of the island are practically worthless is attested by the statement of Mr. Robinson, that the United States government is spending $5,000,000 on the defense of Pearl Harbor, one of the greatest natural harbors in the world. Within a few years there will be over $10,000,000 available for further improvements on this harbor. The present appropriation is available for immediate use, and the army engineers are proceeding as rapidly as possible with the work.

There is some war talk among the Japanese who inhabit the islands, according to Mr. Robinson. They greatly outnumber the Americans, and should there be a war between Japan and the United States, would make trouble for the Americans.

Mr. Robinson says that from all appearances the United States government intends making the islands the base of the naval defense of the Pacific ocean. The improvements that are being made at Pearl harbor, coupled with the fact that a great many millions of dollars will be spent on the defense of the islands in the future, leads the observer to believe that the Hawaiian Islands will be the naval base of the Pacific squadron. This is the opinion of Mr. Robinson, who has made numerous trips to the islands and who is familiar with conditions there.

FRENCH CITY'S NARROW ESCAPE

Accepted Offer of a Burglar to Police the Place.

Paris, June 8.—The city of Lille has had a narrow escape from a terrible fire. A world with a sensation quite as laughable as the exploits of the famous French shoe maker, Voigt, of Koepnick. During the last month a series of apaches have made the town almost as unsafe as a Western American mining camp, the police being absolutely unable to cope with the criminals, and when a burglar offered to police the town, the authorities, who had been holding a high position with the famous Pinkerton detective agency in New York, came forward and offered to assist the authorities, he was welcomed with open arms.

Ref offered to organize a service of watchmen who would be guaranteed, prevent the large number of burglaries, from which the town and its suburbs had recently been suffering. The cost of the watchmen was to be considerably less than that of the police.

The municipal council considered the offer and accepted it, and they then made inquiry into the record of M. Ref and his watchmen.

Ref was found to be an Austrian, born in London and brought up in Brussels, and he was wanted by the police of Brussels and of other places. His offer of a cheap night watch was the outcome of an ingenious idea for the wholesale burglar of Lille and its neighborhood.

He had realized that too keen a sense of humor is sometimes a dangerous thing.

TO START WOOLEN MILL.

Duluth Concern Will Begin Operations at Fosston Monday.

Fosston, Minn., June 8.—(Special to The Herald.)—Manager I. O. Brandt returned Tuesday night from Duluth, where he went last Saturday for the purpose of conferring with the lessee of the Fosston Woolen Mill, the large woolen mill of F. A. Patrick & Co., and returned with the good news that the mill will be operating from today, shutting down for a brief period before Nov. 1, and then continuing in full blast for an indefinite length of time, probably the year around.

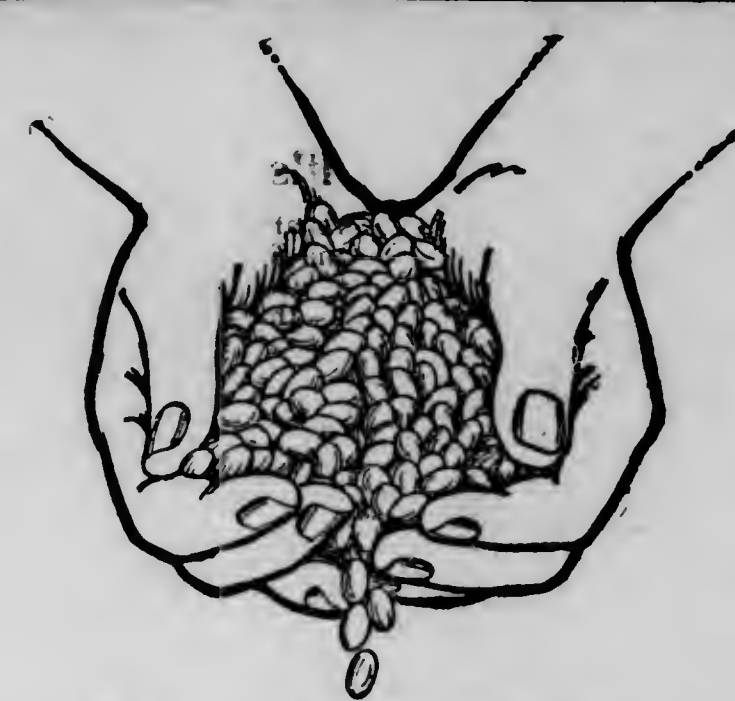

Of late the mill has not bought wool from the farmers, but Mr. Brandt wishes to inform the public that the Fosston Woolen Mill is in the market for large quantities of wool, and will pay the farmers for same the highest market price in cash.

It is a matter of general satisfaction to learn that the mill will be placed in active operation from this time on. It is an industry that distributes many thousands of dollars about the community every year that it is operated, and to have it shut down for any great length of time means considerable loss to the business interests of the place.

MINOT'S COMMERCIAL CLUB HAS ELECTED ITS OFFICERS.

Minot, N. D., June 8.—A. W. Tracy, the land man who has been boosting Minot in season after season, was elected president of the Minot Commercial club at the annual meeting and the sentiment of the members of the club is that the election is a most wise one.

The other officers elected are as follows: First vice president, S. J. LaDue;

We Pay $2.50

We could buy beans as low as 30 cents per bushel, yet we pay $2.50 for ours.

We buy ours in Michigan, for there a certain soil, rich in nitrogen, grows the best beans that we know.

Our buyers select the choicest part of the crop. All the beans that we buy are picked over by hand, so that we get only the whitest, the plumpest, the fullest grown.

That is why we pay $2.50.

You can't get such beans—not at one store in twenty. That is one reason why home beans are never so good as Van Camp's.

We Pay $3.45

We could buy tomato juice for 75c per barrel, yet we pay $3.45 for this ripe tomatoes used in a barrel of ours.

Some tomato sauce is made from tomatoes picked green, and ripened in shipment. But the sauce is flat.

Some is made from scraps of a canning factory—the skins and the cuttings. But the sauce is not rich.

Ours is made from full-ripe tomatoes, grown close to our kitchens, and ripened on the vine. We pick them just at the time when the juice reaches perfection.

We could buy catsup, ready-made, for exactly one-fifth what ours costs to make. But that superior zest which you get in Van Camp's would be lacking.

Don't Try to Bake Beans

It takes too long. Then, after all your trouble, the result is nothing like Van Camp's. Not because you don't know, but you lack the facilities. And you need more heat.

Beans, more than anything else, need to be factory cooked. It is not merely a question of having them palatable. It is the vital need of making them digestible. You can't break down the fibre of beans without a terrific heat.

This is how we do it:

After boiling our beans in two waters we bake them.

We bake the beans, the tomato sauce and the pork all together. Thus we get our delicious blend.

Our ovens are heated to 245 degrees, and the beans are baked 90 minutes. They are baked in live steam—not in dry heat. That is why they don't scorch.

In an oven heated to boiling point—212 degrees—it would take you six hours to do what we do in those 90 minutes.

When we are done, the beans are so mealy that they mash like potatoes. They are thoroughly digestible, for that fierce heat has broken the fibre down. Yet the beans are whole, and you get the nutty flavor which distinguishes Van Camp's. And the beans are sterilized; they require no preservative. They remain till you use them as fresh and as savory as when they come out of our ovens.

Compare that with home cooking.

You bake in dry heat because you haven't the steam. The top beans are baked brown, but the beans in the center are not even half baked.

The heat of your oven is insufficient. That is why you say beans are heavy. You have simply failed to apply enough heat to make them digestible.

The tomato sauce, too, is not baked into the beans.

After all your trouble, you have not a dish that compares with Van Camp's. No such flavor or zest, not nutty, not mealy. Yet it has cost you more than Van Camp's.

Don't Buy the Wrong Beans

There is a vast difference between one brand and another. Try Van Camp's once—on our say-so. Then let the beans themselves decide what brand you buy next.

We know—better than anyone else—how to prepare baked beans. This is our specialty—our one claim to supremacy. We have spent 47 years in learning how to perfect it.

The result is, Van Camp's command, by several times over, the largest sale in the world.

There are brands that cost less—and no wonder. Beans can be bought for one-seventh what we pay. Catsup is sold for one-fifth what ours costs.

Despite their cheapness, your grocer makes more on the cheap beans than he makes on Van Camp's.

But you don't want them. They cost double their value. And think what you save, in the long run, by serving beans that your people like. They will eat them more frequently. And no other food, when measured by nourishment, is nearly so cheap as beans.

Beans are Nature's choicest food, when they are rightly cooked. They are 84% protein, starch, sugar and nitrogen. And those are the foods that we need.

They are even more nutritious than wheat.

You eat them for luncheon, sometimes. But have you ever thought what a breakfast dish they would make? And how nice they are served with ham?

Van Camp's are convenient. If you keep a dozen cans in the house, you have a meal always ready. And what dish is more appetizing—what blend more tempting—than pork and beans and tomato sauce, if they are right?

That is why we say Van Camp's. Once know their nutty flavor, their tang and their zest and you will eat beans more frequently.

Don't judge by other brands. Learn from Van Camp's how really good baked beans can be.

Prices: 10c, 15c and 20c per can. You can get them without the tomato sauce, if you prefer. At your grocers.

GRANT A TEMPERANCE MAN.

Capt. Smallwood Secured His Information From Friends of General

I wish to correct an error made in the Herald of last Saturday evening in which I was reported to have stated that I was at Port Vancouver, when Gen. (then Capt.) Grant resigned. This is a mistake. What I intended to say was that I lived several years in Port Vancouver where Grant had been stationed before the war, and while there I learned the facts given to your reporter as to Capt. Grant's standing in the army and the causes which probably led to his resignation. More than one old soldier who served with him in the regular army was still at Port Vancouver when I went there to live. At least two of these knew Grant well, and one of them served in his regiment. Besides these old soldiers there were other old settlers there who knew him before the war. From all these sources I sought information as to the truth of the report which had been circulated in the presidential campaign of 1880, that he was compelled to resign on account of intemperate habits. I found this report to be without any foundation, in fact; but I learned sufficient to satisfy me that the chief cause of his resignation was very probably due to harsh treatment by his commanding officer, who though an excellent soldier, was a man subject to violent outbursts of temper, and who was the cause of more than one officer leaving the army. The further fact remains that officers assigned to these far away posts at that time were practically exiled, and as Grant had left a wife and child only about a year old in Missouri, and as the pay of captain was then only about $6 a month, it is very probable that these three considerations induced him to leave the army. Harsh treatment by the colonel of the regiment, affection for his family and a meager salary. Those who knew Grant at that time stated that he was a man of temperate habits as compared with most of the officers of the regular army. Very many of these associates rose to high positions in the army during the Civil war, and no charge of drunkenness was ever made against any of them. It must also be remembered that fifty years ago and more, moderate drinking was very common, not only in the army, but among almost all classes of people in civil life, even among church members and sometimes ministers of the gospel.

This is written to correct the statement that I knew Grant before the war. It is true that I crossed the plains and was in Salt Lake and in Eastern Oregon at the time of the so-called "Mormon war," but I did not go as far as Port Vancouver at that time. Respectfully, Duluth, June 9. W. H. SMALLWOOD.

MARINE NEWS

TO REMOVE THE SEVONA

Captain Reid Takes Wrecking Outfit to Sand Island.

Will Probably Bring Spokane Here for Permanent Repairs.

Capt. James Reid of the Reid Wrecking company arrived in Duluth this morning, and this afternoon, he will leave with his wrecking outfit for Sand Island, near Bayfield, where he will remove the wreck of the steamer Sevona. The tug Ottawa and the wrecking outfit arrived here last week, but remained in the local harbor to await Capt. Reid's arrival. The machinery will be taken from the Sevona, which it is a total loss, and the wreck, which is a menace to navigation, destroyed.

Capt. Reid came here from Baraga, Mich., where he has been supervising the work on the Wilson Transit company's steamer Spokane, which went aground in that vicinity last fall and was pulled off by the wrecking company. He says the Spokane isn't in very bad shape, everything considered. The taking of the Sevona from the rocks and towing her into Baraga last fall was a difficult piece of work, accomplished late in November. The wrecked steamer lay at Baraga all winter and a crew was put at work making temporary repairs only a short time ago.

Capt. Reid is undecided just where he will take the Spokane for permanent repairs. He said this morning that he may have her towed here and placed in the Superior shipyards. The Spokane is a steel steamer of about 4,000 tons and is a valuable wreck.

Capt. Reid made the trip last week and he carries the mode of proceeding, with which the lake trade is regarded by all marine men this season. He says boats are tied up in every port and nobody has any hope that the ground already lost by the inactivity of the past two weeks will be made up, even if a rush should come later in the season, which seems very improbable.

SIX PITTSBURG BOATS.

Steel Corporation Fleet is Gradually Getting Into Motion.

There was a little more activity in the local harbor this morning. A few more Steel corporation boats came along for ore cargoes and for coal. The cargoes made the trade in that line look up a little. One cargo of grain went down the lakes yesterday and three other boats are under the spots today.

The Pittsburgh company is putting on a few new boats, and the fleet is now bound up the lakes for Duluth to take cargo at the end of the season.

LITTLE GRAIN MOVING.

Small Carriers and the Line Boats Carry It From Chicago.

Chicago, June 9.—There is little change in the grain situation at present though there seems to be a belief among the grain shippers that the end of the week will see some improvement. No charters were reported yesterday and what little grain there is moving is being sent in small lots on line boats and small carriers.

CHANGE THIS MONTH.

Large Amount of Iron Will be Moved in Next Few Weeks.

Cleveland, June 9.—There is no more sign for an immediate movement of the big fleet of lake carriers than there was early in April, but in the opinion of several of the leading ore and vesselmen the present month will certainly see a change. Since then in view of what has been done in the past few weeks, and the fact that the iron will be shipped within a few weeks.

There are a few who express the hope that in business generally the return to activity will be almost as rapid as was the depression of November and December last. In the natural order of things ore business must wait for active operations in manufacturing lines, but there is some hope of making a real start soon, without having done themselves the injury of three spring months of useless operation.

MANY COAL CARGOES.

Believed That Shipments This Year Will Exceed 1907 Record.

Buffalo, June 9.—The first week in June made an excellent showing in the amount of coal moved. The last week's shipments amounted to 114,000 tons as compared with 65,325 tons for the first week in June, 1907. At this rate vesselmen say shipments of coal this season will exceed last season's shipments by several hundred thousand tons. Charters reported for Chicago at 40 cents; W. H. Wolf to Waukegan, rate not given.

Argo a Total Loss.

The Argo, one of the most important marine cases in years on the Great Lakes, has been decided by the United States court of appeals at Chicago, affirming the lower court and holding the steamer Argo to be a constructive total loss.

The case involved the right of the Graham & Morton Transportation company to recover from the underwriters for a constructive total loss. The vessel went ashore Nov. 24, 1906, and was released Jan. 28, 1907, and taken to Manitowish, where she has since remained unrepaired.

HARBOR OF REFUGE.

Representative Young Will Try to Secure Appropriation for Marquette

Marquette, Mich., June 9.—With the backing of the marine interests in general, a bill to make Marquette a harbor of refuge is to be urged at the next session of congress. The proposed project will cost $350,000 and has been hanging fire several years. It was approved in a report submitted to the house in 1903 by the war department, but it was not until the recent session was a measure carrying the proposed appropriation introduced. Representative H. C. Young of the rivers and harbors committee is the author of the bill, and is hopeful of its favorable consideration.

The plan has the approval of the government engineers and the Lake Carriers' association. At present there is no adequate place for shelter for ships anywhere in this part of Lake Superior, except Marquette, and because of the limited length of the present concrete breakwater in a southerly direction from its present end, instead of straight out, the proposed breakwater plan is 2,000 feet, and it will shelter a large fleet.

Valuable Copper Cargo.

Marquette, June 9.—The steamer Flagg, towing the Thomson, arrived with a $35,000 cargo of copper, loaded at Lake Linden.

Steamer Burns.

Bay City, June 9.—A telephone message from Point Lookout says that an unidentified steam barge burned and sank near three miles off the point, between 2 and 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon. It is not known whether the crew escaped or not.

To Enlarge Harbor.

Waukegan, Ill., June 9.—The Green Construction company's dredge and pile driver arrived yesterday and the company will begin work on enlarging the harbor and rebuilding the piers immediately.

One at Buffalo.

Buffalo, June 9.—The first ore cargo of the season came yesterday, when the steamer Hugh Kennedy arrived with a cargo of 10,000 tons of ore from Escanaba for the Buffalo & Susquehanna steel plant.

Mate is Advanced.

William M. Mills, manager of the Tonawanda Iron & Steel company's fleet, made these changes last week: Capt. Alex Johnson, now of the Fleetwood, was appointed master of the James Corrigan, recently launched at Detroit; Capt. Charles Christie of the steamer Packer goes in the Fleetwood; and E. J. Gallagher, formerly mate on the Fleetwood, takes command.

HUGHES LOSES INSTRUCTED DELEGATES FROM MISSOURI; THE TAFT MEN ARE SEATED

Contests In Eleventh and Twelfth Districts Are Decided.

Motion to Give Both Sides Half Vote Each Lost.

The Committee is Now Consolidating the Numerous Contests.

Chicago, June 10.—The Republican national committee resumed its hearing of contests today taking up first the fight in the Eleventh Missouri district which was decided yesterday. The anti-Taft people announced before the hearing began that they were not overhopeful of success. They said that if the decision was given in favor of the Taft delegates in the Tenth district, which was decided yesterday, in favor of the secretary of war, there was small chance in their opinion of winning out in the remaining contests.

The Missouri contests are between the Hughes and Taft delegates, and if all of them are decided in favor of Taft, Governor Hughes will lose the greater part of his instructed delegates outside of the state of New York. Among the arrivals early today were former Representative J. W. Babcock of Wisconsin, Representative James A. Tamm of Minnesota, and Attorney General Wade H. Ellis of Ohio, who came from Washington where he has been consulting the secretary of war and President Roosevelt regarding the platform which is to be submitted to the convention. Mr. Ellis brought with him a draft of the document as approved by President Roosevelt and Secretary Taft.

It was announced today that the headquarters of Senator Knox will be opened Saturday of Sunday. They will be in charge of Col. William Andrews of Meadville, Pa., chairman of the Pennsylvania delegation.

In favor of Taft, the decision in the contested case of the Eleventh and Twelfth Missouri districts was in favor of the Taft delegates, and they were ordered seated. Contests in West Virginia also offered a motion providing that both delegations from each district should be seated with equal vote. This was defeated on a standing vote, 31 to 21. Committee Aiken of Missouri then offered a motion seating both

QUEBEC RETURNS PREMIER GOUIN

Liberal Ministry Sustained, But Opposition Made Large Gains.

Montreal, June 10.—The provincial election has resulted in an endorsement of the Liberal government. Premier Gouin will have a majority of about fifty in the legislature, a loss of twenty-four from the previous election. The premier himself returns the worst kind of a black eye in that he was defeated in his home riding of St. James by Henri Bourassa, who converted a liberal majority of thousands into a minority for Mr. Gouin of forty-one. The duel between Premier Gouin and Bourassa, who is a specialist in the campaign and a specialist in interest, not merely of the province, but of the whole country, since the Liberal government had deliberately stepped into the defense of the premier, and had sent Hon. Messrs. Boudier and Lemieux for the provincial leader and declared that a vote for Bourassa was a vote for the Conservative party and one against the Liberal. The premier has been returned for Fortin, so that he is not his own man, but as a counterpoise to this, Mr. Bourassa, according to latest reports, has also secured a tie vote in St. Hyacinthe, where he ran against Mr. Morin, a straight Liberal candidate.

MAN KILLS WOMAN AND HIMSELF AT SIOUX CITY.

Sioux City, Iowa, June 10.—Returning to her home late last night, Miss Margaret Sargent was compelled to force an entrance to the house, and on searching for a reason of the locking of the doors, discovered her mother dead on the floor and beside her a man who turned out to be Joe Ford, a well-known gambler in the "open" days. The man and woman both had bullet holes in their heads, and a revolver was in the man's hand. The man had left a note, saying: "I was drove to this. May God forgive me."

Jenlousy is thought to have been the motive for the double crime. The daughter is prostrated and unable to shed any light on the mystery.

MME. GOULD WILL NOT BE MARRIED IN FRANCE.

Paris, June 10.—In order to avoid the possibility of any unpleasant incident it has been definitely decided that the wedding of Madame Anna Gould and Prince Heliou will not take place in France. Although the time and place of the ceremony are still rigidly guarded, it can be stated that the wedding will be held before the end of this month, and probably in England.

Madame Gould is greatly pleased that her brother, George Gould, who left New York yesterday for Paris, is to be present at the ceremony.

SUTTON IS PRESIDENT

Duluth Man Chosen Head of United Commercial Travelers.

Calgary, Alberta, June 10.—(Special to The Herald.)—The 1908 session of the grand council of the Order of United Commercial Travelers of America, jurisdiction of Minnesota, Dakota, Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta, will be held in Duluth next summer. Mooney, Verne Culbertson and F. E. Dwyer.

Charles W. Sutton of Duluth, grand junior counselor of the jurisdiction for the past year, was elected to the office of grand counselor; F. J. C. Cox of Winnipeg, grand conductor, was advanced to grand junior counselor; E. C. Walters of Minneapolis, grand treasurer, was re-elected, as was J. M. Dresser of St. Paul, grand secretary.

FORTUNE GONE; FRIENDS TO KEEP HIM FROM WANT.

Milwaukee, June 10.—C. B. L. Meyer, first president of the Chicago & Northwestern railroad and once a millionaire, will spend the remainder of his life in Milwaukee. He has written friends that Edward P. Sawyer has promised him a monthly allowance of $25. He will rent a modest room and he will buy his meals and attend to his life in this manner he hopes to be able to lead a fairly comfortable life.

Several other friends will come forward with contributions, if he can be persuaded to accept their offers, though it is said his two daughters have promised to provide amply for him, and that he even now has a sum of money in the bank. His friends are in receipt of a communication from the legal representatives of the daughters, declaring that Mr. Meyer need never lack any of the comforts of life.

IOWA CROP OUTLOOK IS BETTER THAN IN 1907.

Des Moines, Iowa, June 10.—Dr. George M. Chappel of the Iowa crop bureau yesterday issued his first definite report on Iowa crops, showing for the most part greatly improved conditions over the crops at the corresponding time last year. He gives the corn acreage as 8,570,000, an increase over last year of 112,000, and at the average yield of thirty-three bushels to the acre, Iowa's corn crop will go 50,000,000 bushels greater than last year.

Grain is shown to be much better in every particular, with potatoes 12 per cent better, pastures 26 per cent and meadows 26 per cent. The livestock condition is given at: Cattle, 89; hogs, 84; horses, 88; sheep, 89; spring pigs, 80; fruit: Apples, 87; plums, 87; peaches, 81; cherries, 71; grapes, 81; strawberries, 87; raspberries, 81; blackberries, 86.

Kansas City, June 10.—With the flood waters from the Kaw reaching within one block of the union railway station, covering one quarter of the lower part of the stockyards, rendering useless some of the railway tracks coming in from the West, and beginning to creep into the basements of the big wholesale houses in the west bottoms, Kansas City, this morning, found itself in the throes of the most serious flood

BELMONT SUCCUMBS

Well-Known New Yorker Passes Away Wednesday Morning.

Prominent Capitalist and Engaged in Politics for Some Time.

New York, June 10.—Oliver H. P. Belmont, aged 50 years, died at his home in Hempstead, L. I., today after a ten days' illness with appendicitis. His death has been anticipated for days, but in the end it came suddenly and so unexpectedly that with the exception of Mrs. Belmont, none of the members of the family had time to reach the sick room after the hurried summons was sent to them. Ever since the condition of Mr. Belmont became critical, more than a week ago, Mrs. Belmont's children, William K. Vanderbilt, Jr., and Harold Vanderbilt, Jr., have been almost constantly within call of the sick room. Worn by the long vigil they retired early this morning when there appeared to be no appreciable change in the sick man's condition and were sleeping soundly when the summons came. Mr. Belmont had

ST. LOUIS RIVER RISING RAPIDLY

Dams on Upper Tributaries Filled to Utmost Capacity.

Cloquet, Minn., June 10.—(Special to The Herald.)—The St. Louis river is unusually high as a result of the late heavy rains. The dams on the upper tributaries are filled to their utmost capacity and the water is menacing the Northern Lumber company's lower mill. At 10 o'clock last night the water had reached the fly wheel belt in the siphon box, and consequently no more water could be drawn out, the water level reaching the top of the box. The water rose steadily all night. The big log jam above the boom house has not been touched during this period of high water, there being a sufficient amount of logs in the mill pockets to keep them running for some time, and no logs will be broken from the jam until the water recedes. Twenty years ago on June 13 high water started the jam, which broke the booms and carried everything in its path, and 50,000,000 feet of Cloquet logs were carried down by the swift current to the St. Louis bay at Duluth. Great care is being taken to avoid a repetition of a similar disaster. The roads and farms adjacent to the river north of here are run over with water, and in several places the Duluth & Northeastern tracks are in a dangerous plight.

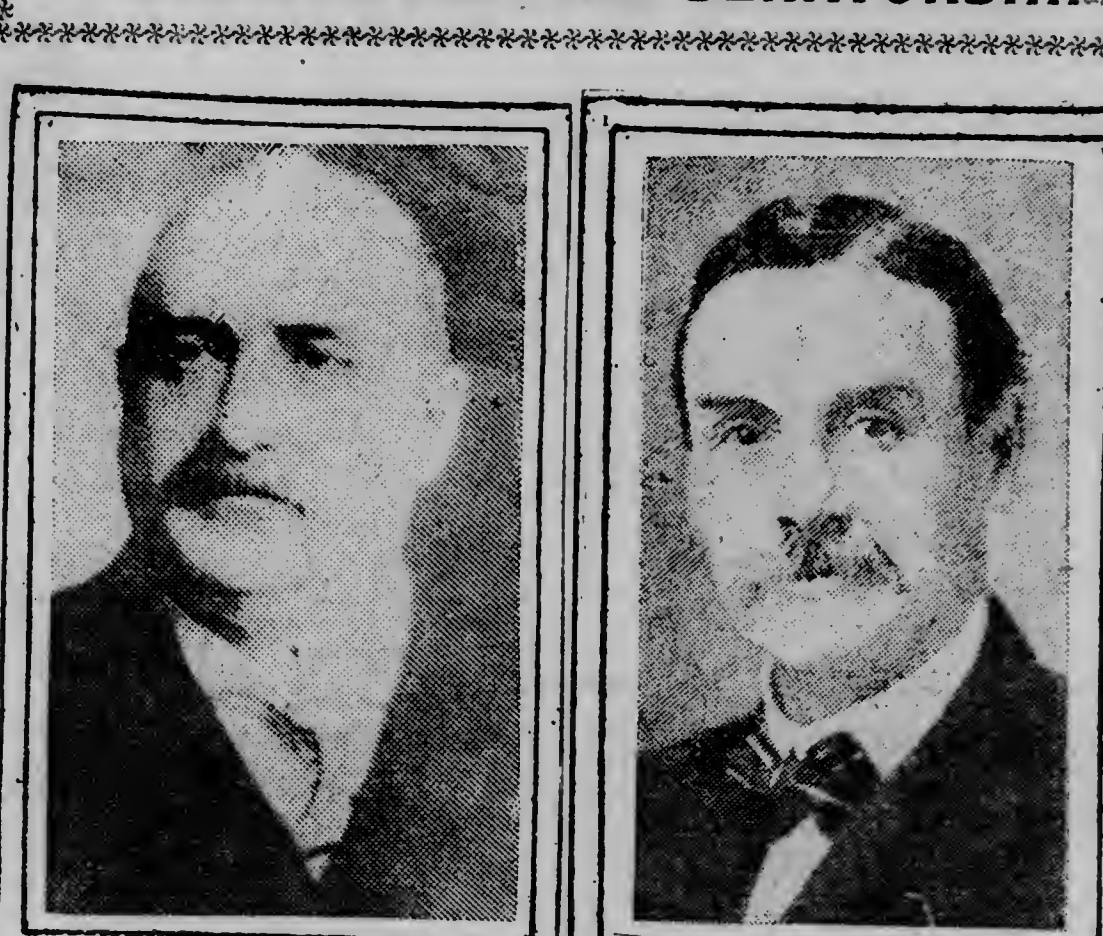

THIRTEEN EXECUTED.

More Death Sentences for Political Offenses in Russia.

St. Petersburg, June 10.—Thirteen persons charged with political offenses were executed yesterday in various cities of Russia, of which five were in Ufa, four in Lodz, and four in Odessa. In addition to these sixteen death sentences have been issued by court martial, of which eight are in Lodz, five in Warsaw, two in Penza and one in Odessa.

BOY WRECKS TRAIN TO SCATTER COAL

St. Joseph, Mo., June 10.—Willie Barkest, aged 11 years, arrested last night, has confessed to the police that he turned a switch which wrecked a Burlington freight train. He said that he wanted to get some coal and planned the wreck in order to upset some of the cars so he could get the fuel easier.

Rumors of Corruption Fund to Save Race Track Gambling.

Baton Rouge, La., June 10.—Investigation was begun today of sensational charges that a fund of $50,000 will be spent in saving race track gambling in Louisiana from adverse legislation by the assembly. These charges, which had been rumored and commented on in the assembly, yesterday, were last night suddenly made the basis of energetic action by Governor Sanders. He ordered that both houses today take steps to appoint a special commission to investigate whether any money has been used, or whether any such plans exist. He also ordered a special session of the grand jury immediately, to investigate the corruption fund charges. Interest in the investigation was heightened by the anti-racing bill, known as the Locke bill, which is posted for final action by the house today. This bill would abolish absolutely all forms of betting on horse racing. It has been generally conceded that the Locke bill would be passed by the house, but a fight has been predicted in the senate.

CRAWFORD WINS IN SOUTH DAKOTA

Governor Evidently Defeats Kittredge for Senate at Primaries.

Sioux Falls, S. D., June 10.—Returns from the Republican primary election, though far from complete, indicate the nomination of Governor Crawford for United States senator over A. B. Kittredge, the incumbent, by at least 800 majority. The nomination of Senator Vasey of Watertown, the Crawford candidate for governor is equally probable, while indications point to the success of Burke and Martin, the Kittredge or "Stalwart" candidates for congress. Returns from the Black Hills counties, which are supposed to be solid for Kittredge have not yet been received, but it is anticipated that their majority will be sufficient to overcome the Crawford lead in the rest of the state. This county the home of Senator Kittredge, gave him a majority of 40. His friends had expected 80 to 100. Governor Crawford's home county, Beadle, gave him a majority of about 700.

ANNUAL SESSION OF THE MILLERS

National Federation Holding Sixth Convention at Detroit, Mich.

Detroit, June 10.—Millers from all over the United States to the number of nearly 400 were present when the sixth annual mass convention of the Millers' National Federation was called to order here today in the convention hall of the Hotel Cadillac. Between 600 and 700 members of the federation are expected by tomorrow. Every incoming train and boat brought a delegation of millers today, 100 from the northwest arriving on the steamer Tonesta from Duluth.

The program for the opening session embraced an address of welcome by Mayor W. B. Thompson, a response by Vice President H. B. Sparks of the federation, the annual address of President William E. Castle of Louisville, Ky., and some "export suggestions" by F. H. Price, the federation's export agent. A general discussion of exports followed Mr. Price's address.

This afternoon the millers will change the location of their convention to the decks of the steamer Tashmoo and will hold their second session while on a trip to Port Huron. A concert and smoker will follow the business sessions on the boat during the ride back to Detroit, which will not be reached until after 11 o'clock. The federation will continue in session until Friday afternoon and a banquet Friday evening will follow the adjournment.

Would Promote the Temperate Use of Fermented Beverages.

Favors Strict Enforcement of Laws for Regulation of Traffic.

Ask Co-Operation of Public to Make Saloon Wholesome Place.

Milwaukee, Wis., June 10.—The United States Brewers' association is holding its closing session behind closed doors this forenoon when what is considered the most important business of the convention is being transacted. The following declaration of principles was adopted: The United States Brewers' association, in convention assembled, presents the following declaration of principles and declares its sympathy with, and offers its co-operation with any movement looking to the promotion of habits of temperance in the use of fermented beverages. By temperance is meant temperance in consumption, neither abuse nor disuse. We believe that the temperate use of beer promotes health and happiness, which are the underlying conditions of morality and social order, and in this belief we are supported by the vast preponderance of educated as well as popular opinion all over the world. Consistently with this belief, we favor the passage and the enforcement of laws for the regulation of the drink traffic and for keeping such traffic to the proper channels, and we earnestly desire such improvement in the drinking habits of the people as will still further advance temperance, together with the spread of enlightenment as to the proper functions of drink, whereby the individual may be able to regulate his habits according to the requirements of wholesome living. We realize that these declarations are contrary to what the public is being

A THOROUGH INVESTIGATION

Will be Made of Telegraph Companies Under Senate Resolution.

Washington, June 10.—Under the provisions of a resolution adopted recently by the senate, Secretary Strauss has arranged for a thorough investigation of the operations of the telegraph companies of the country. The inquiry will extend into the receipts and expenditures of the companies, the wages they pay, the conditions of employees, the hours of labor, and other matters pertaining to the operation of the companies. Secretary Strauss has placed the investigation in the hands of Mr. Charles P. Neill, commissioner of labor, and Herbert Knox Smith, commissioner of corporations. They will co-operate in the making of the inquiry. Commissioner Neill looking after the labor and Commissioner Smith conducting the investigation of the financial affairs of the companies. The report will be ready for submission to the senate when it reconvenes next December.

CONCERNING WOMAN.

"Oh, I love to make love," said Helen Holmes as she "sighed like a furnace" and clasped her hands ecstatically.

"H'm," said her husband from behind a screening newspaper across the room.

"I like to get hold of them," said she, reaching out and clutching a handful of the atmosphere and twisting it tightly around.

"Who?" asked the interviewer.

"On," said the interviewer.

"I like a highly emotional, genuine role," said Miss Holmes. "I like a comedy role too, of course, but an emotional lead in great."

Miss Holmes was interrupted while she was wringing her smooth brow over the lines of "On Parole" yesterday afternoon.

"I have seventy-seven sides in this play," said Miss Holmes. Or maybe it was 17 she said.

"For land's sake!" gasped the interviewer.

"Yes, just think of it," said Miss Holmes.

"Well, how can you?" questioned the curious one.

"Well, I just do," said Miss Holmes.

"And next week I have ten sides," said she.

"Sides?" said the interviewer again.

"Sides," said Miss Holmes, "didn't you know?" and she smiled an illuminating smile. "And I haven't had training in recent years in quick study so I'm just juggling in these days."

The new leading woman of the Mack-Lee company, who joined the company for the summer season, she played two seasons with the late J. M. Stoddard in "Beside the Bonnie Brier Bush," and played Molly Wood with Dustin Farnum in "The Virginian."

She also scored a success with Max Plumb in "The Man on the Box," which will be presented during the summer. Miss Holmes tells of her stage career with vivacious interest. "I was a lady elocutionist in my school days in San Francisco," she said, "and after I graduated from the high school I started off for New York. The day one object and desire in life and that was to succeed on the stage. I didn't have the awful time that many girls have in getting a start. I knew, of course, that if I failed miserably that I had a good home to return to, but that wasn't what I wanted to do. I got a very small thing to do with the Murray Hill stock. Work brings work, you know, and very soon I got the opportunity to go with the Barbara Pritchett company in a small part and from that to the other I went on and I have done. It has meant hard work and plenty of it, but it is great. Every bit of work that you do is counting up for you and providing experience for the masterpiece that will come later on."

Miss Holmes is busily engaged during this summer playing one piece, rehearsing another and learning a third, and is forced to forego her usual pleasures in reading and classical study.

She has been appearing in New York during the last two years, is one of Miss Holmes' very special enthusiasms.

"Her commanding personality is wonderful," said Miss Holmes yesterday in a burst of enthusiasm. "She could lead a burst of enthusiasm in any crowd, and yet there is a wonderful cleverness and ability combined. She is absolutely thrilling. She starts and compels, and it is no wonder that New York almost had fits of delight over her."

Mastermind is another of Miss Holmes' interests, and she adores resorting to the Belgian author for a little relaxation from arduous labor.

UNUSUAL CONDITION. No One Wants Office of President.

An unusual state of affairs confronts the Women's Relief Corps of Minnesota, which is in annual session at Minneapolis. There is no candidate for the office of president. This is almost unheard of, as in the past some corps has always championed the claim of a popular member and formal announcements were sent out weeks before the convention in regard to the candidacy.

This year there have been no announcements and no woman has even whispered that she would like to be chosen. Reaction in office is an unwritten law of the order so that a complete new list must be chosen, even the treasurer who is the only one custom allows to be re-elected. But this year Mary Whelan of St. Paul, the incumbent, has been elected to the office, the limit allowed by precedent, and her successor must be selected.

The convention opened last evening with a large reception at the Nicolet hotel. The Duluth corps is represented at the meeting by seven delegates.

CHILDREN'S DAY.

Services Will Be Held at Various Churches.

One of the events of June that is always among the most delightful of the many exercises in which the children are participants is the children's day services, which are observed throughout the city. Next Sunday has been chosen by many of the churches for the annual service in honor of the children, and special music and special programs are being arranged. At the Duluth Presbyterian church the services will be held at 10:30 o'clock, and the primary and intermediate departments of the Sabbath school will take part in the program. At the First Presbyterian church children's day will be observed, and special attention will be paid this year to the graduation exercises.

IN DEFENSE OF HITCHCOCK

Witnesses Testify That Reputation of Actor is Good.

New York, June 10.—The case of Raymond Hitchcock, the comedian, who has been on trial in the supreme court for several days on indictments growing out of charges preferred by three young girls, was expected to go to the jury today. Every seat in the court room was filled when the trial was resumed.

Justice Adolph P. Rich of Auburn was the first witness called by the defense today. Justice Rich said that aside from the present charge the reputation of the comedian for morality and veracity was good, so far as he knew.

Taking the witness stand yesterday in his own behalf, Hitchcock flatly denied the charges made against him that he had been improper in his conduct with two young girls, Helen Von Hagen and Elsie Voelckers. Hitchcock stated that he first met the Von Hagen girl in 1904 and that long afterward she recognized him at the Garden theater and asked to ride with him in his automobile. The actor said he told the girl to ask her mother and she obtained her consent to do so. He said that he had been in the house in which the girls resided and that he had obtained the required consent. He said that after reaching the house in which the girls resided, he put the girls on a train for New York.

The next time he saw the girls, the actor testified, was late one night standing on the steps of his house and that they said that their mothers knew where they were. The girls remained at his house that night. Later he met Elsie Voelckers and Helen Von Hagen on the street, he testified, took them to the house on West Forty-first street and told them there that he had had a heavy sea was running and it was impossible to pick the body up. It is thought the body may have been washed out of the lake early in the season.

MARINE NEWS

LITTLE FOR WILD BOATS

Some Owners Will Keep Their Vessels in Port All Year.

Pittsburg Fleet Will be Able to Move Nearly All Ore.

The longer the deep lasts, the stronger the impression that independent owners will get little from the Great Lakes trade during the season, which should be in full swing now. In every important port on the lakes there are boats on which no move has yet been made toward fitting out. In the local harbor, but three of the Wolvin fleet have gone into commission. The fitting out of the Corvair boats just began at Cleveland yesterday. Few of the Glitcher, Hutchinson and Wilson boats are moving.

MATAFA IS RELEASED.

Lighter Wayne Had Some Trouble in Freeing Stranded Boat.

Chicago, June 10.—The steamer Matafa, which grounded two miles off Indiana Harbor, early Monday morning, was released yesterday afternoon after being lighted off of 30 tons of iron ore. The Matafa was not damaged and reached the slip of the Illinois Steel company at South Chicago to unload that night. The lighter Wayne worked all of Monday on the stranded boat, and at night had moved more than a few hundred feet before she was on the sand again. The Wayne continued at her work until she was finally freed yesterday.

ENGINEERS FITTING OUT.

The Corvair Boats Will Go Into Commission Next Week.

Cleveland, June 10.—Coal cargoes were offered freely yesterday, but there is little doing in other lines. Some of the local shipper are anxious to get in their coal and say that vessels that have contracts will have to get started by the middle of the month. The engineers of the Corvair boats started at work fitting out yesterday, and engineers of other fleets operated by shipowners will report for duty tomorrow. The Wayne continued at her work until she was finally freed yesterday.

BODY IS SIGHTED.

Maritana Passes Floater Thought to be Body of Watchman.

Detroit, June 10.—Capt. McElroy of last night, reports passing the body of a man floating in Lake Erie near Colchester, late yesterday afternoon. A heavy sea was running and it was impossible to pick the body up. It is thought the body may have been washed out of the lake early in the season.

STATE LABOR CONVENTION

Brings Session to Close
With the Election of Officers.

Bills That Will be Presented to the Next Legislature.

Winona, Minn., June 10.—(Special to The Herald.)—The annual convention of the Minnesota State Federation of Labor was brought to a close this afternoon with the election of officers. There was no opposition to the re-election of President George B. Howley, and William E. McEwen of Duluth was also elected secretary-treasurer.

The members of the convention went on a moonlight excursion on the river last night, arranged by the local entertainment committee, and got down to work again promptly this morning, winding up the unfinished business of the convention.

The Political Committee.
One of the most important matters to come before the convention was the report of the state political committee, which G. W. Deacon of Minneapolis is the chairman. He reviewed the work at different meetings held during the year. The committee decided to formulate plans for the political campaign, keeping in line with the political policy of the American Federation of Labor to the end that any political movement of organized labor in this state shall always be under the direct supervision and control of this federation. Farther plans were to be rigidly carried out, and men and measures be the guides.

Correspondence of the secretary with the senators and members of congress, asking their support for labor measures, was submitted. They were asked to support the measures removing labor organizations from the control of the interstate commerce law, vote for the Parn and injunction law, the eight-hour law and the employers' liability bill. All of them promised to give the matters referred to careful consideration, and some went further than this. Senator Clapp declared the employers' liability law ought to pass without any question whatever. Representative Frank N. Xye said he thought the eight-hour law all right and favored the employers' liability bill.

Representative J. A. Mendenhall gave assurance the measures referred to would be given his favorable consideration, and the general principles involved in most of the measures having his approval. Representative J. Adam Bede said he was giving careful study to the eight-hour law and the employers' liability bill, which he trusted would be enacted into laws in a manner satisfactory to all concerned. Representative H. Steenerson expressed his confidence a sound employers' liability bill would be passed.

New Legislation Wanted.
In regard to the income and referendum bill to be submitted to the legislature, the committee recommended that the time of limitation be extended from ninety to a hundred and twenty days, and that the poll tax be raised from five to ten cents.

Owing to the different conditions existing in the districts, we recommend that it be left entirely to the discretion of what offices they should or should not endorse candidates.

We recommend that the following bills be given preferred attention in the next legislature, and that candidates for legislative positions be put on record concerning them:

A constitutional state employers' liability bill.
That the eight-hour law be so amended as to apply to all state employees, whether working by the day or month.

The immediate installation of a state printing plant, and the extension of the law to include the semi-monthly pay day bill be held in abeyance until it can be ascertained whether or not the various railway organizations throughout the state will support the measure.

A series of resolutions were submitted, and request for endorsement by the convention, calling upon the next legislature to pass a modern and up-to-date employers' liability law and calling on trades unionists to pledge themselves not to support any candidate for the legislature who would not promise to support such a measure.

The Prohibition Question.
An endeavor to have the Minnesota Federation of Labor declare against prohibition was made in a resolution introduced by delegates from the cigar-makers, brewers, wagon drivers and cabinetmakers' unions. The resolution declared the Federation was emphatically opposed to both the spirit and aim of the prohibition movement, and declared for improved social and economic conditions as the only true antidote to drunkenness and debauchery.

This resolution followed one introduced by Henry Persault of Duluth designed to head off any fight on prohibition in the convention, by referring all matters pertaining to prohibition to the affiliated unions for their independent vote.

Reports were presented from affiliated unions. These showed that while in a number of instances some trouble had been experienced this spring, in most cases outside of Minneapolis and Duluth, the differences had been adjusted, and good progress was being made in the union cause in the two cities named. On the whole, the situation showed distinct advance in the past year.

Resolutions passed yesterday declared against basement bakeries, condemned basement and crowded work rooms, advocated placing a woman organizer in the service when necessary and organized women's union label leagues throughout the state; condemned the Master Printers' association of Minneapolis for reducing wages and the Citizens' Alliance, real estate board and Builders' exchange for their interference in this fight.

Greetings were ordered sent to the

Reduces Fat A Pound a Day

The Simplest, Surest and Most Effective Way to Get Rid of Surplus Flesh Without Drugs.

How to Prove It To Yourself Without Any Expense Whatever.
The first thing that you want to do when trying to reduce your weight is to take something that contains no drug of any kind, or try to starve the fat away.

The moment you begin to do that, you give a distinct shock to the nervous and digestive systems, and though you may lose some fat as a result, you will lose your health with it.

Cast the numerous fat people becoming permanent invalids by the use of starvation diets and dangerous reflects.

Ever people as well as others should realize that, as a general rule, there is a remedy for every defect of the human organism. Nature provides a remedy for nearly every disease. It is a law of the universe. This is true of that dangerous and uncomfortable disease—obesity.

Nature provides a remedy, not from the dangerous drugs and bitting acids extracted from minerals, but from extracts of fruits, plants, herbs and other organic materials which are harmonious to the human system.

Among such materials there is known a remedy for obesity which has not yet become universally known, but the use of which has already resulted in enormous benefit, and most probably in the saving of many lives.

This remedy is commonly called Rengo. The rate at which this remedy will reduce fat, and do so harmlessly and surely, is truly remarkable. A pound a day is ordinarily the loss recorded, being done by compelling perfect assimilation of the food, and sending the nutriment where it belongs.

The most remarkable feature of Rengo is that you can take all you want of it without running the slightest risk of harm. It can be chewed like candy and is pleasant to the taste.

Many physicians who before were at a loss to know how to cure obesity, are now prescribing Rengo with remarkable success. It is a great, nerve-strengthening producer, affecting digestion primarily, and inducing a general exhilaration of mind and body. Wrinkles which appear in nearly every case of reduction of fat where injurious drugs and starvation process is tried, do not occur where Rengo is used.

There is nothing "just as good" as Rengo. For sale by all druggists at $10.00 per full sized box, or by mail prepaid, by The Rengo Co., 323 Rengo Bldg., Detroit, Mich. The company will gladly send you a trial package free by mail if you will state the name of the druggist, or free packages at drug stores, for sale and recommended in Duluth by all druggists.

New Legislation Wanted.
In regard to the income and referendum bill to be submitted to the legislature, the committee recommended that the time of limitation be extended from ninety to a hundred and twenty days, and that the poll tax be raised from five to ten cents.

Owing to the different conditions existing in the districts, we recommend that it be left entirely to the discretion of what offices they should or should not endorse candidates.

We recommend that the following bills be given preferred attention in the next legislature, and that candidates for legislative positions be put on record concerning them:

Greetings were ordered sent to the Iowa Federation of Labor convention. Congress censured.

Probably the most interesting resolution of the Federation of Labor was one offered by Secretary McEwen and referred to the committee on political action. It scores the present congress severely, saying:

"We, the members of the Minnesota Federation of Labor, in convention assembled, actuated by a profound sense of our obligations as law-abiding citizens of the most glorious republic on earth, deem it a duty we owe to ourselves and to all the people of this nation, to press to our disapproval and condemnation of the methods and policies pursued by the national congress which has just adjourned and which, by universal consent, will go down into history with the ignominious appellation of the 'do-nothing' congress."

"We solemnly and unreservedly vote it as the most lamentable inefficient body of do-nothings that ever misrepresented our nation. The chaplains of both houses could, with utmost propriety, before God and man, have invited the senators to humply unite in the following litany, sanctifying the good Lord might forgive them what the nation never can: 'Good Lord, we have done those things which we ought not to have done and we have left undone those things which we ought to have done, and there is no health in us, consistency or political honesty in us. Good Lord have mercy upon our infirmities and save us from the fire of a patient and long-suffering people whom we have grievously wronged, and grant that they take no greater vengeance of our political sins than to deprive us of our seats and relegate us into the oblivion we so justly deserve. From any greater disgrace or punishment, Good Lord deliver us. Amen.'"

As a matter of fact, no words can adequately express the degree of condemnation and contempt this 'do-nothing' congress has deserved at the hands of the American people. There can be no palliating of their doings, or, rather, lack of doings. The usual lame excuse of forgetfulness or inadvertence cannot be invoked in their behalf, for a faithful and vigilant chief magistrate again and again reminded them of their duty, and reprimanded with them in no uncertain terms for their negligence and inattention.

"Resolved, That we, as delegates representing 40,000 Minnesota votes, hereby unreservedly and unequivocally go upon record as voting the 'do-nothing' congress, which has recently adjourned, as the most unsatisfactory aggregation of men pretending to be legislators that ever infested the national capitol, and we sincerely hope that our beloved countrymen will witness in the coming session an assembly. Further Resolved, That we will individually and collectively exert our influence to prevent a repetition of such inefficiency as our national congress witnessed in the congress just closed."

Election of All Judges.
A resolution was presented by Charles Fischer of Minneapolis, that federal judges be elected for more than four years.

Resolutions were presented, deploring child labor and urging Senator Nelson for certain alleged remarks in the debate on the child labor bill in congress, favoring the payment out of public funds of per diem and mileage to delegates to political conventions; that none but candidates endorsed by the state political committee be supported by the official council.

Official Title.
The following officers were elected: President, J. H. White, F. X. Graveland and A. H. Overman. The council is well attended and the sessions are harmonious, the visitors being accorded a splendid entertainment.

The provincial government, the city of Calgary, wholesale houses and citizens have united to assist in the entertainment of the thousand or more visitors who are in the city during the two days' session. The order of the Commercial Travelers is still in its infancy in Western Canada, and it is believed that the session held in this city will do much to give an impetus to the building up of a strong organization in this part of the country.

Calgary won the loving cup presented by Col. R. J. Woods of Sioux Falls, S. D., for the largest increase in membership the current year.

BELMONT SUCCEUMS

passed a bad night, but toward morning appeared to be resting easily when, after 6:30, he was seized with terrible pain. Dr. Lanehart hurriedly called Mr. Belmont, and she had just time to reach the room before her husband's death.

Mr. Belmont had not been actively engaged in business for some years. He had always been very popular among a wide circle of friends and held a prominent position in club and social life here and in London and Paris. He was graduated from Annapolis Naval academy in 1876 and served out his two years' cruise following graduation. In 1878 he resigned from the service to engage in business with his father and brothers.

In Politics for a Time.
After retiring from his father's old banking firm, Mr. Belmont devoted his energies for a time to politics. He was a Democrat, and in 1900 was chosen as a delegate from New York to the Democratic national convention. The same year he was elected to congress from the Thirteenth New York district.

Mr. Belmont's first marriage was with Miss Sarah Swan Whitney, now Mrs. George Rivers. His only child, Mrs. William Burden, died several months ago. Mr. Belmont's second marriage was with Mrs. Alva E. Smith Vanderbilt, who, prior to her divorce, was the wife of W. K. Vanderbilt. Mrs. Belmont and her two sons, W. K. Vanderbilt, Jr., and Harold Vanderbilt, were constantly at Mr. Belmont's side from the moment his illness took a critical turn. Mrs. Belmont's daughter, Consuelo, the duchess of Marlborough, was kept constantly advised of Mr. Belmont's condition.

The Belmont country place, Brook-ville, near Hempstead, and in close proximity to the Meadow Brook Hunt club's magnificent grounds, was noted for the hospitality of its host.

Excavations had been begun several weeks ago by Mr. Belmont for a new town house of palatial design and proportions, at Fifty-first street and Madison avenue. His villa at Newport, "Bellocourt," is one of the show places of that exclusive watering place.

Mr. Belmont had been seriously ill less than two weeks. He had not been in the best of health for some time, but his condition was not such as to cause any alarm until appendicitis developed June 1. The previous Saturday, although the day was rainy and the air raw, he went down to Belmont Park to witness the running of the Belmont steeplechase. At the time he appeared to have suffered no ill effects from the exposure, and enjoyed the sport thoroughly.

When the physicians were called on Monday, however, and diagnosed his illness as appendicitis, they found his heart in such a condition that there was much hesitation before a decision to perform an operation was reached.

On Thursday, however, it became apparent that the only hope for his recovery lay in an operation. He rallied nicely after the operation, and it was believed that he would make a good recovery. Late that afternoon, however, there was a severe sinking spell, followed by unconsciousness.

Little peritonitis developed, and from that time until his death there was a fight between life and death. It was little hope that he would survive. Oliver H. P. Belmont was the son of the late August Belmont. The present August Belmont and Perry Belmont are his brothers.

TOUGH FOLLOW CIRCUS.
Hancock, Mich., June 10.—Special to The Herald.—A gang of crooks that left a trail of their operations behind them visited Hancock and Houghton yesterday along with a circus in whose wake they appeared to be traveling. Several robberies are reported. During the parade through Hancock, a crowd of men surrounded the residence of County Clerk L. S. Richardson and money and jewelry taken.

The Aitkin Floods.
The annual government flood of the Mississippi river at Aitkin is now on. When the snow melted and the ice went out in April, the river was at a very low stage. There was little rain and much sunshine through April and a part of May, so that when the rains began the melting snows had run off it kept rather dry and we had much trouble with forest fires. The river began to rise by the last of April and has risen steadily ever since. By the time the rains began and we were through fighting fire, it was creeping over the meadow lands. It has not rained heavily heretofore in this section, but there has been a good deal of drizzle during the last of May and so far in June. Meanwhile, the river has risen to a stage where it is lying side and only a few will lose their labor and the price of the seed down, but a great many timothy and clover meadows will be drowned out. There is no drainage way, as the river is sixteen or eighteen feet above the break-up stage, and the ground covered with rain water, soon

BOY SAVES HIS FATHER.

Parent Drawn From the Mississippi by Youth's Fishpole.

St. Cloud, Minn., June 10.—William H. Hazen, who is employed in a local clothing store, had a narrow escape from drowning and but for the timely assistance of his 12-year-old son would have been borne away by the waters of the Mississippi.

Mr. Hazen was fishing in the river below the dam in company with his son and in order to get into a more advantageous position, got onto a rock while casting his line. He suddenly slipped and fell into the river. The water is quite deep at the place and the current is strong, and Mr. Hazen would undoubtedly have drowned but for the presence of his son. The boy, who is 12 years old, saw his father's predicament, quickly thrust out his fish pole to him, which the latter caught and was pulled to the shore with it.

STEAMER FOR MILLE LACS.

Battle Lake Man to Have His Boat Running There.

Wahkon, Minn., June 10.—Mille Lacs lake is to have a trim little passenger steamer some of these fine days. W. E. Robeson of Battle Lake is the owner. In a letter to a local paper he says: "I have fitted up a fine passenger steamer for Mille Lacs lake. I intended it to be there this spring, but as the boat is too big to haul across the country on wheels, I will be obliged to wait for the railroad. Will probably be there this fall. My idea is to have the finest on the inland waters of the state. Built at Superior, I shipped it to Glenwood, but as there was no business there for it, I shipped it to Battle Lake for this summer. It is altogether too fine a boat for a small lake."

DAVIDSON ON FLAG DAY.

Wisconsin Governor Recommends Its More General Observance.

Madison, Wis., June 10.—Governor Davidson has issued the following Flag day proclamation: "In harmony with established custom and authorized by national legislation, I recommend a general observance of Flag day throughout our commonwealth."

"As the day falls upon Sunday, June 14, this year, I suggest that we celebrate the anniversary of our national emblem on Monday, June 15, and I recommend that there be a general display of the stars and stripes upon our homes and public buildings. During the past year another year has been added to our flag."

Our celebration this year will therefore peculiarly emphasize a part of trial and struggle, make a present of realized hope and a future full of promise."

GERMAN MINISTERS MEET.
Campbellport, Wis., June 10.—The annual session of the Milwaukee district conference of the German Reformed church will open here this evening. About twenty-five ministers and elders of the district are expected. A feature of the Sunday services will be the jubilee sermon in commemoration of the fortieth anniversary of the founding of the New Cassel church.

KILLED BY TRAIN.
Spring Valley, Minn., June 10.—Herman Gates, aged 46, of Dexter, Minn., was killed by a train Monday night, while milking west of this city. His body was found by a train crew yesterday.

NEWS OF THE NORTHWEST

TWO ROADS MAY BUILD

Old Rivalry Between Great Northern and Soo in Evidence.

Both Anxious to Capture Business in Rainy River Country.

Thief River Falls, Minn., June 10.—(Special to The Herald.)—That a race between the Soo and the Great Northern railways for a connection between this city and the international boundary, somewhere in the vicinity of Warroad or Roosevelt, appears imminent is borne out by recent developments. The Great Northern has a branch in operation from this city to Greenbush, a town in the southern part of Roseau county, and also owns a right-of-way from there to the Lake of the Woods. For several years the citizens of this territory have patiently awaited the completion of the road, but in vain. Spring a company, having its headquarters in Thief River Falls, and including engineers from Chicago, headed by Engineer Jarvis C. Mott, who have been on the job for three months, returned yesterday from surveying the road. This line will run from Thief River Falls, at which point is a highly developed water power, through the rich and well-settled Red Lake reservation, through eastern Marshall county and the wooded portions of eastern Roseau, towards the Canadian border. This latter enterprise has the encouragement and countenance of the Soo railway, with which connections will be made in this city. To meet this activity, on the part of its rival, the Great Northern's general manager, accompanied by other officials, made an inspection of the Greenbush line last week, supposedly for the purpose of beginning work thereon. The settlers and citizens of this territory in this district will view these activities with great interest. There is no doubt but the first road through this great stretch of exceedingly rich land and woods will secure to itself a heavy local business.

WEDDING BELLS ARE KEPT BUSY

Marriages Are Quite Numerous These Days Around Crookston.

Crookston, Minn., June 10.—(Special to The Herald.)—Cupid has been having busy times in Crookston of late and weddings are coming thick and fast according to the records of the office of the clerk of the court.

Tuesday morning at 9 o'clock in St. Mary's church, Father Smyers officiating, the prominent young woman of the city, Miss Genevieve McQuillan, one of the bridesmaids at the wedding of Mr. and Mrs. J. J. McQuillan, was married to Mr. J. J. McQuillan, who is a resident of Chicago. The ceremony was attended by his brother, C. C. Flynn. The couple left last evening for St. Paul and will later visit the groom's parents at Broken, Minn. They will be at home to friends at 17 North Main street after July 1.

Rev. Richard Cox officiating, Milton Code, a well known business man of Park River, Minn., was married to Miss Edna Louise Pott, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. F. Pott, being the manager of the Atlas Lumber company of this city. Following a wedding supper the bride and groom left for Minneapolis and after July will be at home at Park River. Tuesday afternoon at 2:30, Edward A. Neal, a trainman on the Northern division of the Great Northern, was married to Miss Nellie Hoge at Emerson. The happy couple will spend their honeymoon in Iowa, visiting relatives and will later return to Grand Forks to make their home for the present.

TRAMP'S BRUTAL ACT.

Throws Acid at Woman Who Had Given Him Food.

Little Falls, Minn., June 10.—A tramp deliberately threw the contents of a bottle containing carbolic acid into Mrs. George Ferrell's face at her home, here. The man asked for something to eat and Mrs. Ferrell, who was alone in the house, left the inner door open and the screen door locked and went to the kitchen to bring back a food containing food. As she was about to unlock the screen door to hand him the food he said: "No decent woman would ask a man to eat in the rain."

As he spoke he made a quick movement with his hand, which was resting on the side of the door, and threw a quantity of carbolic acid through the screen into the woman's face.

The man fled and no trace of him could be found, though within thirty minutes the police and a posse were scouring the city and the woods east of the Ferrell home.

None of the acid entered Mrs. Ferrell's eyes. Her forehead, face and neck were severely burned.

Emma Ekstrom was married to Peter Ekstrom in 1900 at Kenora, Ont. In the spring of 1904 the couple moved to this place, where they resided until the fall of 1906, when Ekstrom deserted his wife and her two children, a son and a daughter, and moved over to Rainy River, Ont., where she supported herself and little son. The Price of Pulpwood.

To the Editor of The Herald:—
In yesterday's Herald I read your editorial, "A Flimsy Excuse." The fact is that for the last two years we have received much more for pulpwood than ever before. This year we received exactly the same price as last year, but the fact is that the wood cost the mills more this year than last, on account of freight rates. Previous to this season the railroads charged freight on an estimated weight of 450 pounds to the cord; this year they changed that to actual weight. The actual weight of a cord of pulpwood is about 400 pounds, consequently they have to pay freight for about 50 pounds more than they did last year, which amounts to an additional 10 cents a cord from this place to the Wisconsin mills. I am not taking the part of the paper mills, but I like to see fair play, and I do not think the newspapers will advance their interests by misstatements of facts. Yours truly, F. A. TROLANDER.

THE LAST TRIBUTE

First Citizen of Upper Peninsula Buried With Fitting Ceremony.

Marquette, Mich., June 10.—(Special to The Herald.)—Probably the Lake Superior region has not in years, if ever, witnessed such a tribute to a man as was paid here yesterday afternoon, when all that was mortal of Peter White, the man who did more than any other to attract attention to the Lake Superior mining region, was consigned to its last resting place. The city, as well as adjoining districts, practically suspended business during the afternoon. Men prominent in the affairs of Michigan and other states joined in the last tribute of the honored dead. The body lay in state at St. Paul's cathedral from noon until 3 o'clock. Prior to the body being escorted to the church, brief private services were held at the home. The public ceremonies at the cathedral began at 3:30 o'clock. Bishop Williams officiating. TO CUT PRICES OF STEEL AND ORE

General Reduction Agreed Upon at Meeting of Steel Interests.

New York, June 10.—Announcement was made last night by Judge Elbert H. Gary, chairman of the United States Steel corporation, that a general reduction in the prices of finished steel products had been agreed upon by representatives of the large steel interests after an all day conference. The reduction affects pig iron, steel bars, plates, structural iron, merchant pipe and wire nails. The conference was attended by the leading steel manufacturers of this country, including the heads of the various subsidiary companies of the United States steel corporation and representatives of large independent manufacturers. After the decision to reduce the present prices on all finished steel products, with the exception of steel rails, it was decided to cut the prices of iron ore. Judge Elbert H. Gary, who acted as chairman of the conference made the announcement of the reduction at the conclusion of the meeting. The representatives of the leading steel manufacturing companies have been in session during the day. It is understood the price on iron has been or will be soon reduced 50 cents per ton base.

Each one of the steel manufacturers expressed the opinion that there should be a readjustment in the prices of their respective commodities as follows: "Billets, from $25 per ton to $23, Pittsburgh; sheet bars, from $29 per ton to $27 per ton, Pittsburgh; plates, from $1.75 per 100 pounds to $1.50 per 100 pounds, Pittsburgh; merchant pipe, a reduction of two points, or $1 per ton, Pittsburgh; wire nails, from $2.10 per 100 pounds to $1.50 per 100 pounds.

"Sheet and tin plates were reduced early in the year, therefore no changes were considered in the prices of these productions.

"It is hoped these changes will not necessitate a general or radical readjustment of wages, which it is desirous to avoid.

Judge Gary stated that the conference had been attended by about fifty of the leading steel manufacturers of the country and that there would be no further meeting on the subject of reduction in prices.

THE ONTARIO ELECTION.

Conservatives Won in Port Arthur, Fort William and Rainy River.

Toronto, Ont., June 10.—The results of Monday's provincial election, when the Whitney government was sustained by an increased majority in the legislature, have created much surprise. No one expected the Conservative government to be defeated, but no one imagined that there would be such a one-sided legislative victory. Every member elected in the city of Toronto is a Conservative. At Fort William, Dr. Smellie, Conservative, was elected over Dr. Hamilton, Liberal, by about 40 majority; Mayor Corrick, Conservative, was elected over Mr. McKeown, Liberal, by about 30 majority over George Mooring, Independent Conservative, and George English, Socialist, in Kenora. Capt. Machler, Conservative, defeated E. Amos, Liberal, in the new constituency of Rainy River, W. A. Reason, Conservative, was elected by 20 over H. W. Kennedy, Liberal.

Twiford, chief of the Ojibwa fire department. Addresses were also made by J. L. Cavetto, of Mankato, Thomas Spillane of Rochester, A. J. Rockne of Little Falls. Henry Hurd of Duluth Falls Into River Near Kelsey.

Henry Hurd, 23 years old, was drowned yesterday morning near Kelsey, Minn. The body was recovered and brought to Duluth. It is now at Flood & Horgan's undertaking rooms. Hurd was an inspector in the employ of the St. Louis River Dam & Inspection company, and at the time of the accident was looking over a raft of logs. No one saw him fall into the water, but it is believed he slipped, and that his head struck a log stunning him, for he was a good swimmer. The body caught in a raft a short distance down the stream and was recovered and brought to Duluth. The young man had been living in Duluth for the past two years, but it is not known whether he had any relatives in the city. The police are making an effort to locate his relatives.

Through H. B. Fryberger, his attorney, N. M. Nelson, the householder who was convicted of swindling Rev. F. O. Kling of this city out of $100 by locating the latter on a worthless claim, has filed notice in the district court of a motion to have the verdict set aside, and for a new trial. The arguments will probably be made at one of the special terms of court. It is understood that the application for a new trial will be based on technical grounds, the defense attacking the indictment. The defense claims that according to the wording of the indictment Nelson could not properly

FOR KILLING MOOSE.

Four Men Being Tried at Cloquet on That Charge.

Cloquet, Minn., June 10.—(Special to The Herald.)—Four men were up before Judge Skemp yesterday, charged with the killing of the cow moose that was strangled in the river Sunday morning. Deputy Game Warden Kaatman made out the warrant in the morning, and in the afternoon they were given a hearing.

Each in turn pleaded not guilty. Several witnesses were brought on the stand, but no evidence was brought forth as to which individual in particular did the killing. A jury was summoned and empaneled, late in the afternoon, and after laying the case before them, the case was continued until this morning. Walter L. Case of this city is attorney for the defense, and County Attorney C. J. Dodge is prosecuting attorney for the state.

CANDIDATES INVITED TO SPEAK IN LOUISIANA.

New Orleans, La., June 10.—Because of the doubt attached to the true attitude of Louisiana's Democracy toward the candidacy of Governor Johnson of Minnesota and William J. Bryan for the Democratic nomination for president, it was decided here yesterday to give both of these gentlemen an opportunity to appear before the people of the state. This decision was made by the New Orleans Progressive union, the membership of which includes probably a majority of the leading men of Louisiana. In behalf of this organization, invitations to come to New Orleans as soon as possible and address the people of the state were wired to both Governor Johnson and Mr. Bryan. The New Orleans Progressive union being a non-political organization, however, and including in its membership the leading Republicans of the state, caused the committee having the matter in charge to decide that it would be the best form to treat Democrats and Republicans alike, and accordingly, similar invitations were extended to Secretary of War Taft, Governor Hughes of New York, Vice President Fairbanks, Speaker Cannon and Senator Knox. Lincoln, Neb., June 10.—William J. Bryan, it is stated, will not go to Louisiana in response to an invitation sent from New Orleans. Mr. Bryan has planned to rest at Fairview, and probably will not leave the state for more than a month.

BROKE THE LAW
AT PIKE LAKE

Duluth Saloonkeeper May Lose License Here
as Result.

To bring the matter before the city fathers for final disposition, Alderman McKnight, within the next week or two, will make a motion at the council to rescind the resolution of May 25 granting a saloon license to John Holten.

Alderman McKnight takes the stand that because Holten was found guilty and fined for selling liquor on Sunday at Pike lake, he should not be allowed a license renewal at Duluth, as his offense was committed within the limits of Minnesota.

Although it was voted to grant Holten a license May 25, the renewal will not be issued until next August, for the present license does not expire until that time. In view of this fact, it is believed Holten comes under the provision which says no license shall be issued to a man who has been convicted of violation of the liquor law within one year of the date of such conviction.

The provision applies if the offense is committed anywhere in the state. Because Holten violated the law at Pike lake, it is contended that he should not be allowed a license renewal for his place in Duluth.

Holten's early application for a license is explained by the fact that he wanted to get in ahead of the brewery which applies his saloon with beer. In previous years the brewery company has secured the license for him, and he has nothing to say about it. The practice did not accord with his ideals on the subject, and last year he determined to get into the field early. He made his application for license a month or two before the date of expiration of the old license, but found the company already had secured the license. This year he made up his mind he would beat them out for a certainty, and so put in his application early in May. He was first on the ground, and the council voted to grant him the renewal. As his present license does not run out until August, there is no need to issue the new slip of paper until then.

BURIAL OF CROWN JEWELS.
Westminster Gazette: The curious story of the search among the tombstones for the stolen jewels revealed in the minutes of the evidence heard by the viceregal commission on the loss of the Dublin castle jewels recalls the interesting fact that the Scottish crown jewels, which mysteriously disappeared at the time of the Cromwellian invasion, were buried for safety. They were located in Danforth castle, which was besieged by Cromwell on the eve of surrender. Lady Ogilvie, wife of the commander of the beleaguered fortress, managed to elude the besiegers and get the jewels out of the castle.

They were buried beneath the pulpit in the parish church, and the place where they were hidden was never revealed until the restoration. Ogilvie was rewarded with a baronetcy, and Keith, who misled the Cromwellians by stating that they were in the possession of the exiled Charles II, was made a knight.

The mysterious disappearance of the Dublin castle jewels has had one curious parallel. Some years ago a casket containing jewels of the value of £1500 disappeared under circumstances of the greatest mystery from the house of the Duchess of Leinster, who lived in general. In spite of the most thorough investigation no trace of the jewels could be discovered, although rumor suggested that more than one person of rank could throw light on the mystery.

The jewels were ultimately returned to their noble owner, but to this day we believe the mystery of their disappearance remains unsolved.

PROPRIETOR ARRESTED

Kalman Light is Held While Police Investigate Fire in Store.

Papers Soaked in Kerosene Were Scattered Around Room.

Kalman Light, in whose clothing store at 307 North Central avenue, burning fragments of oil soaked papers were discovered last night, was arrested this morning at 11 o'clock on the charge of arson and is being held until further investigations can be made.

A faint light was seen issuing from Light's store by Officer Peterson last night at about 10 o'clock. The place was all locked up for the night so the officer broke the glass in the door and let him self in. On the interior he found a pile of postboard boxes brightly burning beneath one of the show cases. In front of the fire so as to keep it from being noticed from outside, was a chair draped with a mackinaw coat and blanket. In each corner of the room was a small arrangement, protecting half burnt candles surrounded by paper and boxes saturated with oil. From each of these candles was a string of papers folded and standing on edge leading to the parts of the room, and all covered with oil. Besides these papers there were three cans of kerosene and the tank at the back of the stove was filled with gasoline. Gasoline had been used on most of the papers and boxes.

Peterson turned in the fire alarm, but by the time the department had arrived the most of the burning stuff in the street.

Shortly before the fire Peterson had met Light, who was just about to get in an uptown car. Light greeted him in a very friendly manner, although he had never been in the habit of addressing the officer at all before. Another person claims that he saw Light enter his store earlier in the evening with a bundle of papers under his arm. Still another states that on closing up that evening he saw the clothing store with the keyhole from the outside.

The buildings for several doors on both sides of Light's place are frame structures, and above his store live J. C. Johnson and his family. If the fire had gained any headway it would have probably have swept through the store, block, and many lives might have been endangered.

Light when questioned this morning at the West Duluth police station, said that he had no idea how the oil saturated papers and boxes got scattered about the place. He tried to explain the presence of the candles and chairs by saying that he had to stand on a chair and that he usually used a candle to do the lighting with. He admitted getting three chairs in the store tank, but claimed that he had never used them for cleaning purposes.

He couldn't remember what time he left the store last night, until he was reminded by his home at 42 East First street. He said that he had been telephoned that he was to go to work at 11 o'clock. He went to the store about half past 8 o'clock for a few minutes this morning and did not return again until 11 o'clock when the police arrested him. He took the matter over to the police.

Lights stock was insured, through the office of L. A. Barnes for $300.

Rich Intaglio, Rock Crystal and Libbey's famous Crystal Conceits Will be closed out at about half price, and in many cases less than half price.

You have read in the papers that we are enlarging and remodeling our store. Cut glass is too delicate an article for us to hazard the risk of carrying it through such operations. Therefore, we will close out every piece and put a price on it to make them go.

We will reserve absolutely nothing. Many of the rarest and finest pieces of Cut Glass ever brought to Duluth will be offered for sale at prices you will admit are ridiculous.

Bowls, in all shapes and sizes, ranging from $2.50 to $25 regularly, will be sold at Half the price, and in some cases less.

Water Pitchers, Tankards, etc., in many novel and exclusive cuttings, that we sell regularly at $6 to $24, will be sold for about Half their price.

Tumblers, Goblets, Champagnes, Cocktail Glasses, Wines, Sherbets and so on, sold regularly and worth every cent of $7 to $16 a dozen, will be sold at about Half price.

Vases—Indisputably the handsomest display in Duluth. Vases for every possible purpose. Former prices $2.50 to $40. These go unreservedly at Half and in some cases less than half price.

While the exhibit includes many articles in crystal, you can imagine we have named only a few. There are hundreds of small pieces for the toilet table, the sideboard, the mantel, the dining table and every piece marked to go in a hurry.

Sale starts Thursday Morning and will continue till the stock is entirely closed out.

few quick digs in the leaves, and then turning around began to slowly switch his tail over his back. He was not at all scratched. At each moment I became more and more interested, and watching them I saw a swarm of yellow jackets emerging from the ground. Hot and furious they darted about the little fellow's tail, which was kept constantly in motion, and doing no damage. I never shall forget his keen black eyes as he looked at me as if to say, "Watch me, I have done it before."

With a tail covered with jackets, like so many burrs, he walked a few feet away and began to pick them off and eat them as a hungry boy would so many berries. This act repeated once more, the little yellow warblers were gone and the man, left defenseless and desolate, was dug out and carried away by the visitor, who left apparently without any fear that I would do him harm. And I, then a boy, now grown to manhood, am glad that I did not shoot.

HIS PRICE.
Chicago News: "I told him that if he'd make it $50 a month and expenses I'd take him up," said the man with the frayed linen and near-diamonds, looking at the man with the thick nose and aggressive chin. "I guess he thought that would be a little too much for him. I suppose he thought I'd grab at the chance to knock out a measly little old $50. I fooled him."

"More than you're making now, isn't it?" asked the thick-nosed man. "It might be more, and it might be less," said the man with the frayed linen. "That doesn't cut any ice. If I took hold of the proposition it would be worth $50 to me. If he got Jimson he'd have to pay him twice that."

"Sure thing," agreed the thick-nosed man. "But then you aren't Jimson. I think it was a pretty good offer, and I'm not joking," said the thick-nosed man. "You don't think I'm joking. I'm in earnest. I'll bet he could go out and get a dozen better men than you are at fifty less. I suppose he was feeling good."

"You don't know what you're talking about," said the man with the frayed linen. "The reason for the thick-nosed man's 'I'm not joking' was that he knew how it came about. When he said $50 it took your breath away at first. Then you thought to yourself, 'If he thinks I'm worth that money I must be a dickens of a fellow.' The more you thought that the bigger you swelled until at last you couldn't keep your head up. You were a fat man. You wanted to get back to earth."

"Then I want any of your advice I'll ask for it," said the man with the frayed linen. "You need kicking worse than you want advice," said the man with the thick nose. "I don't think it sounds like to turn down a $50 job, but it listens to me like foolhood, and it would to anybody else."

"Do you mean to say that I'm a liar?" demanded the frayed individual. "You needn't get hot about it if I do," said his friend with the thick nose. "I was just trying to find some excuse for you. If you aren't lying you are foolish, so I thought I'd give you the benefit of the doubt."

COALING IN A SEA WAY.
T. INTEREST IS LAGGING IN CONTESTS FOR REPUBLICAN CONVENTION DELEGATES

Throngs of Politicians at First Present, Are Now Missing.

Make-up of Convention Committees Now Attracting Attention.

Labor Leaders Arrive to Work for Anti-Injunction Plank.

Chicago, June 11.—The proceedings of the national republican committee have apparently lost interest in large degree to the greater number of politicians. On the early days of the committee's work the halls outside the committee room were jammed. When the committee began work today nobody was present except those who had business connected with the contests which are to be heard during the day. The first case called was that of the First South Carolina district. There are but two contests from this state, and an effort to consolidate them failed, the counsel for the anti-Taft faction declaring that the issues involved were so different that it was out of the question to hear the evidence in both disputes at the same time.

South Carolina contests were closed by the decision of the committee after hearing the evidence submitted by the two factions from the Fifth district. The Taft delegates were ordered seated.

Majority of Contests Settled. Chicago, June 11.—With more than a majority of the contests filed before the national republican committee wiped off the books and with Taft

JOY KILLS A ST. PAUL WOMAN

Excitement Over Daughter's Marriage Causes Death of Mrs. Gonia.

St. Paul, June 11.—(Special to The Herald.)—Joy caused the death of Mrs. Agnes Gonia, 53 years old, 789 Seminary avenue. Following the marriage of her daughter, Katherine, to John Modrynski last Tuesday she had been in a state of uncontrollable excitement. Wednesday evening she was found dead by one of her daughters.

Mrs. Gonia was in apparently good health during the day. When evening came she refused to light a lamp and, seated in a chair, into the room and found the mother dead.

Coroner Arthur W. Miller was called and said that he had examined the body and found it was responsible for her death.

NEW PIPE LINE. Pittsburgh, Pa., June 11.—The Columbia Oil & Gas company of Pittsburgh has ordered 180 miles of pipe for a line from Hunting to Cincinnati from the National Tube company. The order calls for $1,500,000 worth of pipe.

DRAFT OF PLATFORM PREPARING FOR DEATH

For the Republican Convention is Brought to Chicago.

Gen. Ellis Believes It Will Cover Demands of People.

Chicago, June 11.—Attorney General Wade H. Ellis of Ohio arrived in Chicago today bringing with him a rough draft of the tentative platform to be adopted by the national convention.

"I cannot, for obvious reasons, disclose the character of the platform now," said Gen. Ellis. "I believe that it will satisfy the people, as it covers features in popular demand at this time. Its scope is wide, and, I believe, broad enough to satisfy popular wishes, and, in my opinion, it will prove the best platform that any political party has sanctioned in recent years."

Gen. Ellis stated he had consulted with President Roosevelt and Secretary of War Taft concerning the general details of the platform and that it had met with their indorsement.

"The document," he said, "needs rounding out and may admit of some minor changes, but in the main I believe that it will stand as no drawn."

UNUSUAL EFFORTS BY THE CLERGY TO SAVE THE LIFE OF BILLEK END IN FAILURE

Supreme Court Refuses to Stay Execution of Murderer.

Series of Meetings Held in Chicago by Paulist Fathers.

Petition to Governor Asking Clemency Contained 15,000 Signatures.

Springfield, Ill., June 11.—The supreme court refuses to stay the execution of Billek.

Chicago, June 11.—One of the most unusual efforts ever made to save the life of a condemned murderer was arranged today on behalf of Herman Billek, sentenced to be hanged tomorrow for the murder of Mary Vrazal. A series of meetings, beginning with one in the Great Northern theater, were scheduled by Father Peter J. O'Callaghan of the Paulist Fathers. The meetings are termed by Father O'Callaghan a "whirlwind finish of the campaign for justice for an innocent man."

Arrangements for holding five meetings were definitely made and more halls to be added to the list in the event Judge Landis refuses to grant a writ of habeas corpus.

Father O'Callaghan will be the principal speaker at the meetings, which the clergyman expects will serve to arouse public sentiment in favor of the condemned man.

In all of his speeches Father O'Callaghan said he would review the entire case, and conclude with a plea to his audiences to send letters and telegrams to Governor Deneen urging the executive to commute Billek's sentence to life imprisonment.

Father O'Callaghan's petition to Governor Deneen asking commutation of Billek's sentence of death contained more than 15,000 signatures.

FIVE PERSONS KILLED IN WRECK IN BELGIUM. Journal, Belgium, June 11.—Five persons were killed and several others wounded in a railroad wreck near here today. A passenger train from Mons ran off the track and several cars were demolished. The wreckage immediately caught fire and was consumed. It was crushed. A broken rib was located with much difficulty that the wounded were removed from the wreckage before the flames reached them.

LAND FOR SETTLERS. Billings, Mont., June 11.—Three millions of the 20,000,000 acres of land in the Montana grant received by the Northern Pacific from the government are to be thrown open to settlement as soon as the surveys can be made. The land lies between Billings and the two Dakotas.

KANSAS WANTS HARVESTERS. Topeka, Kan., June 11.—Kansas wants 25,000 men and 1,195 teams to reap her wheat harvest. The Central Kansas harvest will be between June 15 and 20, and the Northern harvest will begin about July 1. Farmers will pay $4 or $5 a day for a man and a team.

ANOTHER CASE OF WAITING FOR THE SECOND TABLE. Uncle Sam: "Come on, boys, you can have what's left."

RACE TRACK GAMBLING IN NEW YORK ABOLISHED BY EFFORTS OF GOV. HUGHES

Conditions Are Better

Waters Gradually Receding in Rivers at Kansas City.

Hundreds Homeless, But No Actual Distress is Apparent.

Kansas City, June 11.—Flood conditions here were bettered on the whole this morning. The Kaw river began falling before daylight and the water steadily receded from the inundated district.

All railroads were in operation in and out of the union station this morning, with the exception of the Union Pacific and Missouri Pacific, whose bridges are under water, and the Santa Fe, the last three named lines using the tracks (Continued on page 4, fourth column.)

Big Grain Elevator at Hammond, Ind., Burns.

Chicago, June 11.—In a spectacular fire which destroyed the great grain elevator of the Tri-State Grain company at Hammond, Ind., last night, 250,000 bushels of corn were destroyed and property valued at $200,000, including the elevator, was burned. The fire was caused by a hot box on a small wheel on a grain belt which was being used to hoist grain into the elevator. Before the fire could be controlled telegraph and telephone wires along the Chicago Junction tracks and more than a score of freight cars were destroyed. The elevator was owned by Richard Fitzgerald, president of the Chicago Junction railway.

Aided by the Heroism of Senator Foelker of Brooklyn.

Two Laws Repealing Discrimination for Race Tracks.

Measures Pass the Senate by Vote of 26 to 25.

Albany, N. Y., June 11.—A legislative battle, which for dramatic interest and intensity of feeling on both sides, rarely if ever, has been equalled in this state, came to an end today, when the heroism of Senator Foelker of Brooklyn made it possible to place upon the statute book two bills, repealing the legal discrimination which for thirteen years has protected public gambling within race track enclosures, while it was a felony elsewhere in this state. The vote on each of the bills was 26 to 25.

The line-up was in general the same as that in the regular session, when the bills failed by a tie vote, 25 to 25, but since that Senator Wallace of Niagara Falls has been elected to the seat, then vacant by reason of the death of Senator Franchot, and his vote made the necessary twenty-sixth.

Senator Foelker, who underwent an operation May 10 for appendicitis and whose condition for much of the intervening time was critical, came up from Stateburg last evening, the journey of sixty miles being a severe tax upon his strength. He was somewhat stronger this morning and taken to the senate chamber just as the roll call on a dilatory motion was being taken. He was plainly suffering from weakness, and his response when his name was reached was scarcely audible. He has encountered his fellow senators' sympathy, and on both of the roll calls on the final passage of the bills voted with the majority.

Afterwards his doctor said: "Senator Foelker stood the ordeal as well as could be expected, and extremely nervous. We can not decide now when we shall return to Stateburg."

At 10:45 a. m. Senator Foelker's physician said his patient was "dressed and waiting for his summons to the senate chamber. It was the plan to send him to the senate chamber at that time, but the patient was in fair condition, but exceedingly nervous."

STREET CAR IS BLOWN UP

Seven Passengers Injured While Riding in Cleveland.

Police Making Every Effort to Run Down Miscreants.

Cleveland, Ohio, June 11.—The police of Euclid Heights, the suburb in which a municipal traction car was blown up by dynamite at an early hour this morning, were bending every effort today to run down the miscreants who placed the explosive on the street car track.

Seven passengers were injured, none fatally, as a result of the explosion. A revised list of the injured follows: Fred Singer, motorman, head cut and internally injured; Rev. Michael Gilday, Moline, Ill., severely bruised; John G. Murphy, justice of the peace, Cleveland Heights, hands cut and severely bruised; W. Fishley, Cleveland Heights, severely bruised; Mrs. W. Fishley, suffering from shock; Mrs. Cornelia White, badly bruised; Robert Hirt, conductor, sprained wrist.

The car was running slowly when the front wheels struck the explosive. The explosion that followed was heard a mile away. Windows were shattered and seats twisted. The floor of the car was lifted upward, throwing the passengers in a panic-stricken heap on the floor.

Only the slow speed of the car saved it from going over the steep embankment lining the road. The explosion lifted it clear to within a foot of the curb.

The explosion tore off the flanges of the wheels, and the motor fell between the rails. Two sticks of dynamite were found on the rails where they had been placed with the intention of blowing up cars bound in the opposite direction.

PROHIBITION IN OREGON

Five Hundred Saloons Closed and More to Follow.

Portland, Ore., June 11.—As the result of the local option elections held in Oregon this month, county prohibition will prevail in twenty-one of the thirty-three counties after July. There are from four to sixteen dry precincts in each of the other twelve counties so that there is not a county in the state in which there is not some dry territory. A total of 237 saloons were put out of business by the precinct elections in the other counties. Altogether, nearly 500 saloons have been closed in the state since the local option law was enacted. Prior to the election on this subject in this state carried eight counties and forced approximately 20 saloons to abandon business.

WIDOW INDIGNANT. Denies Rumors of Political Motive in Husband's Death.

Paris, June 11.—Mme. Steinhell, widow of Adolphe Steinhell, the French artist, who, with his mother-in-law, Mme. Japy, was strangled to death in this city on May 31, was interviewed today relative to the rumors which have been in circulation here to the effect that there was a political motive behind the crime. She manifested great indignation when told that she was being asked to deny certain after money, but were seeking certain compromising letters which were confidential to her husband by one of the most prominent men in France.

Mme. Steinhell replied that "that is ridiculous. I swear upon the memory of my husband, that which nothing is more sacred to me, that he never possessed any political documents and as he was not interested in politics he had nothing to conceal."

ALL KINDS OF INSURANCE. Chicago News: It is now possible for artists and authors to insure their work against failure. The manager of a prominent London insurance company recently said that most of the companies were prepared to accept risks which a short time ago would have been considered ridiculous. Under policies now obtainable insurance can be effected by an author that his latest book will sell to a given number of copies; a playwright that his drama will not be taken off the stage through failure before a stipulated number of performances; a painter that his canvas will be accepted by the Academy or the Royal Academy or will be sold within a time agreed on; a composer that his song will be a success; a golfer that he will be relieved of financial responsibility if he hits or injures his child.

"Of course," said the insurance man, "we will not issue a policy if the risk is obviously too great. An author, artist or playwright would have to be of established reputation. Sir A. Conan Doyle and Mr. Kipling could obtain a policy insuring that any book they wrote would have a sale running into hundreds of thousands of copies. Mr. Pinero, as a playwright, would be similarly insured. If we were asked to insure the success of a new painting by a tolerably well-known artist we would submit it to our art critic.

"It is possible to insure against anything, as for instance, wear of furniture, loss of horses, dogs, birds, cuts, sickness, death of tumors, increased tax, bad weather involving financial loss, death of a royal personage, involving financial loss, delays of important documents in transit."

PANTON & WHITE COMPANY

THE BIG GLASS BLOCK STORE WHERE QUALITY IS PARAMOUNT

THE PEOPLE OF AMERICA

Have, during the past week, been treated to the greatest bargains in Wash Goods that the world has ever seen! Probably no sale in the history of the Dry Goods trade in New York was more largely attended, by representatives from leading houses throughout the United States, and no goods ever distributed so thoroughly over the whole American continent.

In every newspaper, from the more important cities, the one chief topic of the leading advertisers has been the Great Bankruptcy Sale of the Arnold Wash Fabrics. In most of these cities will be found merchants asleep; drones in the business, who manage to shake off their somnolence after the opportunities are gone. And when their more lively, progressive competitors come forth with the result of their wide-awake advantageous purchases, giving the people a saving of from 50 to 75 per cent on what the merchandise is really worth, we see illustrated to us in real life—the old, wise fable of THE SOUR GRAPES! As displayed, for instance, by a concern here in this city in this morning's paper, when they had reproduced a copy of PART of a foreign advertisement—the product of the smartest, brainiest advertiser on the American continent, whose work on this particular item was construed by the local concern to answer their own purposes and to act as an advertising hammer on their more progressive competitor and to cover their own lack of foresight and overlooked opportunity.

It is a frequent occurrence for some merchants to produce such advertisements—but the fact that they lack the initiative and originality necessary to produce effective, original advertisements, leaves them more open to pity than to censure.

We wish to state that it takes more than the ad. to draw the crowd (and to keep them)—the ad. itself must be backed by the correct merchandise and with FACTS, and in addition to this the advertiser must EARN the confidence of the people.

To have seen our West Aisle this morning, and every moment thereafter until this goes to press, would be sufficient to convince any one that the people of Duluth not only have confidence in what we say in our advertisements, but that they also appreciate the bargains which we have secured for them.

We state again, that we were the only house from Duluth represented at this Auction Sale! That we pay no middlemen's profit when we hand these goods over to you.

One word more—The Arnold Sale comprised the entire stock of manufactured wash fabrics on hand, and while it included some of last season's patterns, it embraced a far greater proportion of the newest, choicest fabrics shown for this spring's trade.

AND STILL THE SALE GOES ON!

SEATTLE MEN PRAISE DULUTH

J. O. Cooper and Dr. Samuel Johnston Predict Rapid Growth.

A glowing tribute to the prosperity and the bright future of Duluth, as one of the centers of the commerce of the Middle West, has been paid to this city by J. O. Cooper and Dr. Samuel W. Johnston, mining men of Seattle, who have been visitors in Duluth for the past two days. Both gentlemen are enthusiastic in their praise of the city as a center of great industries, and both predict a great growth within the next decade.

Dr. Johnston says that with its great facilities for industrial growth, Duluth is bound to become a great city. He also says that in very few cities has he observed the industrial centers so conveniently located, so near to each other, and so well situated for carrying on of business.

Dr. Johnston was also impressed with the prosperity of Duluth. He could not understand why the price of real estate was so low when the city was going ahead at such a rapid stride. "In Seattle," said the doctor, "real estate that is in the Red Warrior and Mowitza mines, in which they are interested, is selling at $100,000. I believe that real estate is under its true value here, and believe that within a short time it will have advanced to a much higher price."

Mr. Cooper was equally impressed with Duluth. He stated that the city had a bright future before it, and that within the next few years it would experience a more rapid growth than it had obtained in the past. He was enthusiastic over the opportunities for investment, and declared that from what he had seen of Duluth he believed it to be one of the best commercial centers in the West.

Both gentlemen were enthusiastic in their praise of Seattle. Mr. Cooper predicted a population of nearly a million people for the coast city within the next two decades. In the opinion of Mr. Cooper, Seattle will be the New York of the Pacific coast, and within a few years will lead San Francisco as the Queen City of the coast.

Dr. Johnston is on his way to Belfast, Ireland, his former home. While in Duluth Dr. Johnston has been a guest of several members of the Duluth medical profession.

BURIAL OF CROWN JEWELS.

Westminster Gazette: The curious story of the search among tombstones for the stolen regalia revealed in the minutes of the evidence heard by the viceregal commission on the loss of the Dublin Castle jewels recalls the interesting fact that the Scottish crown jewels, which mysteriously disappeared at the time of the Cromwellian invasion, were buried for safety. They were located in Dunottar Castle, which was besieged by Cromwell, and on the eve of surrender Lady Gifford, wife of the commander of the beleaguered force, managed to elude the besiegers and set the jewels out of the castle.

They were buried beneath the pulpit in the parish church, and the place where they were hidden was never revealed until the Restoration. Gifford was rewarded with a baronetcy, and Keith, who misled the Cromwellians by stating that they were in the possession of the exiled Charles II, was made an earl.

The mysterious disappearance of the Dublin state jewels has had one curious parallel. Some years ago a casket containing jewels of the value of 13,000 pounds disappeared under circumstances of the greatest mystery from the house of the Duchess of Leinster in Domicile street, Dublin. The story of the most thorough investigation no trace of the thieves could be discovered, although rumor suggested that more than one person of rank could throw light on the robbery.

The jewels were ultimately returned to their noble owner, but to this day we believe the mystery of their disappearance remains unsolved.

YOU'RE TOO THIN.

Even Slight Catarrhal Derangements of the Stomach Produce Acid Fermentation of the Food.

It's Stomach Catarrh

Some people are thin and always remain thin, from temperamental reasons. Probably in such cases nothing can be done to change this personal peculiarity.

But there are a large number of people who get thin, or remain thin, who naturally would be plump and fleshy but for some digestive derangement.

This people lack in adipose tissue. Adipose tissue is chiefly composed of fat.

Fat is derived from the only constituents of food.

The fat-making foods are called by the physiologists, hydrocarbons. This class of foods are not digested in the stomach at all. They are digested in the duodenum, the division of the alimentary canal just below the stomach.

The digestion of fat is mainly, if not wholly, the work of the pancreatic juice. This juice is of alkaline reaction, and is rendered inert by the addition of acid. A hyperacidity of the digestive fluids of the stomach passing down into the duodenum, destroys the pancreatic fluid for digestive purposes. Therefore, the fats are not digested or emulsified, and the system is deprived of its due proportion of adipose tissue. Hence, the patient grows thin.

The beginning of the trouble is a catarrhal condition of the stomach, which causes hyperacidity of the gastric juices. This hyperacidity is caused by fermentation of food in the stomach. When the food is taken into the stomach, if the process of digestion does not begin immediately, acid fermentation will take place. This creates a hyperacidity of the stomach juices which in their turn prevent the pancreatic digestion of the oils and the emulsification results.

A dose of Pepsogen before each meal hastens the stomach digestion. By hurrying digestion, Pepsogen prevents fermentation of the food in the stomach, and the pancreatic juice is thus preserved in its normal state. It then only remains for the patient to eat a sufficient amount of fat-forming foods, and the thinness disappears and plumpness takes its place.

BOND FIXED AT $1,000

Kalman Light's Friends Expect to Furnish Requisite Bail.

Defendant Has $1,600 Insurance Policy in His Pocket.

The relatives and friends of Kalman Light, the charging merchant at 215 Central avenue who was arrested and bound over to the grand jury on the charge of arson, are endeavoring today to furnish the $1,000 bond fixed by Judge Ensign of the district court this morning.

Light is represented by J. Grettum who stated this noon that there was no doubt but that the money would be forthcoming and that Light, who was remanded to the county jail yesterday afternoon, would be released before this evening.

The family of the accused and several friends visited him in the county jail this morning. They seemed very anxious to get the matter of the bond fixed up as soon as possible.

Light, it is claimed, set fire to his store Tuesday evening. Officer Peterson of the West Duluth police department saw a light in the store and broke in before the blaze did much damage. The police claim to have strong evidence tending to show that the fire was a carefully planned affair.

One of the serious phases of the matter is that a family is living over the store and that there are a number of wooden buildings on either side of the store building.

When examined in the jail office as to the personal effects that he had in his possession, Light's insurance policy for $1,600 on his stock of goods was found in his pocket.

REMITTANCE MAN.
J. H. Challoner of Fond du Lac is arrested for Drunkenness.

It seems to be the regular thing for J. H. Challoner, an aged Fond du Lac gardener of English birth, to come to West Duluth shortly after the first of each month with a $5 draft on an English bank in his jeans and a thrust for strong liquor, only to return after several days with empty pockets and a gentle air of husbandry on the banks of the St. Louis.

Challoner receives his allowance regularly from an old English estate. He stores his draft cashed at the bank and leaves part of it in care of some trusted storekeeper, from whom he can draw the money as needed. It is a happy day for all the old broken-down barflies when the man with the income comes to town.

Last night Challoner met with an accident. At closing time he was so intoxicated that a friendly policeman thought it best to take him to the police station for the night and this morning, with still half of his money unspent, he was sent back to Fond du Lac, giving his promise that he would not again return to the third parties.

Challoner is well educated and is said to be a member of a good English family.

"The season has been very backward in Iowa," said Mr. Andrews. "There has not been so much rain that many fields are under water and have been too wet to do anything with all spring. In some places, the farmers were just plowing last week."

"Business is booming in Mason City just now. A new cement plant has started up there and they are shipping much goods. On many of the big farms, so you can see that the season is growing. The population has increased 2,000 during the last year."

Mr. Andrews is an engineer on the Iowa Central.

SPEAKS TO GRADUATES

Edward A. Ross Says the World is Getting Better.

Forty-Six Diplomas Are Given at the Duluth Normal.

The sixth annual commencement exercises of the Duluth State Normal school took place this morning at the assembly hall of the school, with Prof. E. A. Ross of the Wisconsin university as the speaker for the occasion. "A Citizen of Zion," was the subject of Prof. Ross' address, which was a splendid effort. Prof. Ross is one of the eminent sociologists of the country, and he was heard with great interest.

The speaker chose as his text the words of David, written some 2,500 years ago, in describing his ideal of a citizen of Zion as described in the fifteenth Psalm.

"David's idea of a righteous man will be of great help to us today," said the speaker, "but it will not do for today. In looking for the requirements for the citizen of Zion for the present day we must consider that with a more complex society the needs for righteous citizenship become more numerous. It is in part a characteristic of goodness to be a little behind the times and also a mark of sin that it is up to date. The good man is likely to be an enthusiastic sentimentalist and the sinner is the calculating and shrewd man."

David's idea of the man who back-bites nor, nor who doeth evil to his neighbor nor putteth not out his money to usury nor taketh reward to gain to the innocent pronounces the mere primer of righteousness.

"There is a passing from the world today of the old crimes, we find that the world is getting better. In the way man treats woman, the parent the child, the methods with which society deals with the criminal, in every one of them there is an improvement. We must admit that humanitarianism is going on and going on rapidly. Although there may be an alarming increase of Worry Worse Than Fatigue.

More people worry themselves out than wear out by work and then they begin to grow thin from worrying over other things, they worry because they are growing thin. The best thing for nervousness is to get away from a good malt tonic at meal time. Take a glass of golden grain beer with your meals and at bedtime. It builds up overworked nerve tissues and insures renewed health to body and brain. Order your tonic at once or be supplied by Duluth branch Minneapolis Brewing company.

GOSSIP OF CAPITAL

Senator Frye of Maine is a Very Enthusiastic Fisherman.

Broad Hint of What New Naval Program Will Be.

By Ralph M. Whiteside.
Washington, June 11.—To look at Senator Frye, the venerable statesman from Maine, one would not think he was a disciple of Walton. He is, however, an ardent one at that. When it became evident that congress would not adjourn at as early a date as some members hoped, an uneasy manner settled on Senator Frye. He was impatient to be away from the wranglings of the senate, from the storms of statesmanship, from the maddening crowd of the cities and find rest and contentment in his camp in the Northern Maine woods. As soon as the weather became uncomfortable, Senator Frye insists on getting home. This is one of the reasons it is hard to keep congress in session until straw hats are accepted without comment.

The senator's camp is not like one of those maintained by multi-millionaires. It is a modest little place, near a stream, where he lives an outdoor life, fishes to his heart's content and spends the evening assorting his files for the next day's sport.

When Senator Taylor of Tennessee, in his maiden speech, was expressing his opinion of the evils of Republican rule, he told a little story which certainly will be used when the presidential campaign is sufficiently advanced to keep stumpers occupied all over the country.

"The condition of the country at this time," he said, "reminds me of an old fellow down home. He was sick and his doctor did not seem to do him much good. One day the physician, finding him worse than ever, and in extremis, decided it was best to tell him.

"You are going to die," said the doctor. "It is my duty to tell you that there is no longer any hope. Is there any last wish you would like to make known?"

"Yes," replied the sick man. "There is a damned hearty wish, too."

"The doctor stooped to hear the faint words.

"I wish to thank I had called in a different doctor," said the old man."

Capt. Richmond Pearson Hobson never loses an opportunity to gain support of the movement for more battleships. He is fighting to the last ditch for appropriations to accomplish this end.

"The country wants more battleships," he said, after a visit to President Roosevelt, recently. "We should have four ships at once. I have had an opportunity of learning just what the public sentiment on this matter is, and the people are for plenty of ships. They are the greatest factor for peace."

"We carried the first ditch this session by gaining two ships. Next year we hope to get two more. They will be of a pattern to make the present Dreadnaughts obsolete. Thirty thousand tons—no less than the type the United States should have."

Capt. Hobson spoke of the turbines as applied to battleships.

"They're coming," he said. "As long ago as 1897 I was convinced that the turbine was going to make a departure at Annapolis. I told them to get ready for them, and they are now here."

Capt. Hobson's confidence of success for the movement to have the next congress provide for two more ships is a rather broad hint as to what the new naval program will be.

When the omnibus bill providing for public buildings was passed, there was not a wrangler in Washington than Congressman Burton. The appropriation for his home town, Cleveland, was reduced from $50,000 to $20,000.

The congressman did not like the winking of the ax. He is chairman of the rivers and harbors committee and in a good position to make demands. Next winter there will likely be an interesting tilt between Burton and Senator Scott, the chairman of the senate committee on public buildings and grounds. Senator Burton, it is expected, will retaliate. The reduction in the appropriation for Cleveland, some think, may be the result of the political condition of the state of Ohio.

The sympathy of Senator Scott has been with the Ohio senators in one fight that has been going on between the Republican factions in that state. Senator Burton, as everyone knows, has been prominently identified with the Taft presidential movement and the fight against the senators.

Ever hear Gus Thomas speak? Gus Thomas, the playwright? He's going to make the nominating speech second.

The General Demand of the Well-Informed of the World has always been for a simple, pleasant and efficient liquid laxative remedy of known value; a laxative which physicians could sanction for family use because its component parts are known to them to be wholesome and truly beneficial in effect, acceptable to the system and gentle, yet prompt, in action.

In supplying that demand with its excellent combination of Syrup of Figs and Elixir of Senna, the California Fig Syrup Co. proceeds along ethical lines and relies on the merits of the laxative for its remarkable success.

That is one of many reasons why Syrup of Figs and Elixir of Senna is given the preference by the Well-Informed. To get its beneficial effects always buy the genuine—manufactured by the California Fig Syrup Co., only, and for sale by all leading druggists. Price fifty cents per bottle.

ing the nomination of William J. Bryan, at the Denver convention. The drafts of the speech are now being read by the author's friends and they are sure it will rival the famous speeches of Senator Roscoe Conkling nominating Gen. Grant and Col. Ingersoll nominating James G. Blaine.

Mr. Thomas is still hard at work putting finishing touches on the oration. The keynote will be "Back to the People."

Gus Thomas has a dandy big voice—very good for a national convention.

When Secretary Taft was in Panama recently, his attention was called to the fact that grave election troubles are feared when the vote for president is cast in the Canal Zone. Already a number of voters have been refused registration, although they are entitled to the same. Representations were made that voting may result and that a great amount of trouble will be caused before peace is restored, if frauds are not prevented.

Secretary Taft bore the matter in mind and when he returned to Washington, the cabinet made arrangements for precautions against all trouble. A commission was appointed to go to Panama and look after registration. This commission is to report back to the government. A similar commission has been appointed by the government of Panama and will report back to its government. In event any difficult questions arise, the two governments will provide a solution.

Congress has probably put the United States Marine band, that famous Washington organization, perfected with years of effort, out of business.

For a long time organized labor has been urging the passage of a law which would prohibit government bands, military and naval, from competing with civilian organizations at social functions.

This year, in the naval appropriation bill, a provision was inserted which was intended to prevent government bands competing with others in furnishing music for hire. It went through easily enough. Now it is claimed that the measure prohibits the official bands from playing at any state occasion.

The Marine band makes much of the music enjoyed by official Washington. It is one of the finest organizations of its kind in the world. In summer it gives free concerts. Cheap classical music will soon be a thing of the past in the capital. Indeed, there will be little reason for maintaining the organization any longer. There will be plenty regret.

LOANS BY OKLAHOMA.

Over $1,000,000 Placed on Farm Mortgages and County Bonds.

Guthrie, Okla., June 11.—The state board has loaned over $1,000,000 of the $5,000,000 school fund on farm mortgages and county bonds, about three-fourths being on the former. The demand for loans is so great that the applications are hundreds ahead of the board's ability to investigate. Loans are being made at 5 per cent, 2 per cent below the ruling mortgage rate.

STEAMSHIP NOVELTIES.

All Sorts of Innovations on the Atlantic Liners.

New York, June 11.—The competition among steamship companies for novelties on board new steamships, by which the impressionable passenger may be captured, has led to all sorts of innovations on the trans-Atlantic liners launched in the past few years.

It remained, however, for the Principe Di Udine of the Lloyd Sabauda Fast Italian Mail Line to include a dentist's office among her attractions.

Washington, June 11.—The temperance movement, which is sweeping over the country like a prairie fire, is playing havoc with Uncle Sam's income. It is estimated that the government has lost $15,000,000 in revenues during

MITCHELL FOR GOVERNOR.

Labor Leader Talked of as Democratic Nominee in Illinois.

Springfield, Ill., June 11.—Talk of John Mitchell, former president of the United States Mine Workers, for Democratic nominee for governor of Illinois, has been revived. Mr. Mitchell's attitude is that of a receptive candidate and he has stated that he would decide at the meeting of the Illinois Federation of Labor in Springfield on June 15, whether he would run or not.

WOMAN SPECIAL AGENT

To Gather Evidence to Stop "White" Slave Trade.

Washington, June 11.—The authorities are to make another effort to break up the systematic importation of women into the United States for immoral purposes, and this time will employ a woman special agent to gather evidence necessary to put a stop to the traffic. Commissioner General of Immigration Sargent states that he has selected a well known woman to undertake this work, and that she will sail for Europe during the next few weeks. Mr. Sargent declined to give the name of his special investigator, but said she has long been interested in philanthropic enterprises.

HELP FOR THE FARMERS.

New Plan Devised by Department of Labor and Commerce.

Washington, June 11.—The officials of the postoffice department have given their approval to a plan of the division of information of the department of commerce and labor, which contemplates making use of the services of postmasters and rural carriers as an adjunct to the employment work of the division.

The postmasters will be required to send out through the carriers to farmers and others on the various routes tributary to their offices return postal cards, prepared by the division of information, that will contain instructions how to secure help from among immigrants. The cards will contain blanks, which, when properly filled, will bring to the farmer or other employer of labor just the number and the character of workmen that he desires.

JOHN HAYS HAMMOND

INSISTS HE MEANT IT.

Boston, Mass., June 11.—The Boston News bureau publishes the following, signed "Adams:"

"While the press has been inclined to take frivolously the candidacy for the vice presidency of John Hays Hammond, yet Mr. Hammond is in dead earnest, and people who suppose he announced his position without first having thoroughly gone over the ground make a big mistake. There is good reason for stating that Mr. Taft is very agreeable toward Hammond as a running mate. Mr. Hammond himself is a wealthy man and his friends, who are wealthy, are legion. The Republican party needs the money this year. They cannot get it from the corporations. I have heard that Mr. Hammond's nomination for the vice presidency will bring not less than $1,000,000 to the Republican campaign fund."

FRENCH TRADE REACTION.

Paris, June 11.—A decrease in imports of foodstuffs and unmanufactured materials, accompanied by a loss in exports of manufactured and unmanufactured articles, is the evidence of France's trade reaction this year.

MANY CONTRACTS ON NEW PRICES

Cleveland, Ohio, June 11.—The Iron Trade Review says: The action of the steel manufacturers in reducing prices of billets, sheet bars, plates, structural shapes, merchant pipe and wire nails was made inevitable by the concession on steel bars, and is welcomed by the trade, as the finished material market, with the exception of some increase in contracting for steel bars, has been stagnant during the past week. The action was prompted by the strongest dictates of wisdom, and improvement in demand can be reasonably expected. Although the opinions of consumers may differ as to whether some of the reductions are adequate, the splendid conditions furnish reason for the belief that a large amount of buying can not long be delayed. It is generally conceded that much good has been accomplished by the success of the price maintenance policy up to the time of the reduction of the price on steel bars. Following the announcement of the new price of steel bars, a fair amount of contracting has been done. When, at a meeting of Lake Superior ore interests in Cleveland, last February, it was decided to reaffirm the 1907 prices, the action was taken with extreme reluctance on the part of the ore representatives, who preferred to adhere to the time-honored custom of not fixing prices until it became evident that furnace companies were ready to contract for their season's requirements. Reaffirmation was decided upon solely because it was urged by steel manufacturers, who believe that it was an absolutely necessary part of their plan of preventing general demoralization of prices of all iron and steel products.

It is now very probable that, in harmony with the idea of co-operation, all ore interests will reduce their base quotations 50 cents per ton. It is understood that one interest, which has not usually acted with the others, has already disposed of a large tonnage at a reduction of 50 cents per ton. It may safely be predicted, however, that in no event will a greater reduction than 50 cents be made. It is now estimated that the Lake Superior ore movement for the season will amount to about 22,000,000 tons, about half of the tonnage of last year, of which 14,000,000 tons will be shipped by the United States Steel corporation.

In spite of the dullness in finished lines, the pig iron market has shown increased strength. Although sales have not been so numerous, and inquiry has decreased, the tonnage has been of fair volume. It is not anticipated that the reduction in the price of ore will have any important effect on the pig iron market, as pig iron prices have already sharply declined, and an immense tonnage sold at the old prices is still on hand.

Minneapolis, Minn., June 11.—"Governor John A. Johnson is a great man who is coming. He has not arrived yet, but the influence he had at the conference, and the respect shown him there shows that he is strong. He stood up among to half dozen governors who are worth watching."

In these few words, J. Horace McFarland of Harrisburg, Pa., president of the American Civic association, spoke of the impression made by Minnesota's governor at the recent conference at Washington, where the conservation of the nation's resources was discussed. Mr. McFarland attended at the special invitation of President Roosevelt.

A reception which he will long remember was tendered Mr. McFarland on Tuesday noon, when he was the guest of honor at a luncheon given by the Publicity club in the West hotel. For the past two days he has been visiting in Minneapolis at the invitation of the club, to aid in the campaign for civic conservation. Tuesday's reception was in the nature of a farewell testimonial.

Over 300 members of the club, and several invited guests, crowded the banquet hall to hear what Mr. McFarland had to say of the Washington conference. To state that they enjoyed his talk would do but scant justice to Mr. McFarland.

THE STONE IS SELECTED

New Hampshire Granite Will be Used in New Courthouse.

Hinsdale Quarry Could Not be Equipped in Time.

If the action of the executive committee of the courthouse commission is confirmed at the next meeting of the commissioners, St. Louis county's new courthouse will be constructed of New Hampshire granite. The selection of this stone was made a few days ago, at a meeting between two members of the committee, Mr. White of the firm of D. H. Burnham & Co., architects for the building, and Mr. Lanquist of Chicago, a member of the firm of Lanquist & Illsley, which has the general construction contract.

Mr. Lanquist is said to have agreed to furnish the material and build the courthouse of granite at an additional cost of about $77,000 over the amount his firm bid for the general contract. This price is claimed to be $3,000 under the lowest bid that was submitted to the commission for granite of the grade specified. The commission received several bids for granite, both New Hampshire and Minnesota stone, the lowest bid being approximately $8,000. As compared with the price of granite in former years, the prices quoted by the commission on granite were claimed to be favorable, but Mr. Lanquist, in view of the fact that his firm has the general contract, and will have the equipment to handle the stone with facility at this end, has offered to furnish the stone at an even lower figure.

The sentiment of the courthouse commission is strongly in favor of a granite courthouse, and there is little doubt but that the action of the executive committee will be confirmed. Before selecting the New Hampshire granite, the members of the commission are said to have investigated the practicability of constructing the new building of Minnesota granite. The idea of using granite from the Hinsdale quarry in this county, was discussed with experts in the quarrying business, and the information was given that it could cost the county about $75,000 for the equipment and labor to reopen the quarry and begin taking out stone, and that it would require from three to four months to get the work started. If the quarry should be put in operation, it would be impossible to get out more than 100 to 200 feet per week for the first year, at the rate the stone could be taken out.

These circumstances, the experts claim, it would take from three to four years to get out enough granite to build the courthouse, which, under the contract, is to be finished in a year and a half. These conditions, it is said, preclude any idea of procuring St. Louis county granite for the new courthouse. It will require about 150,000 cubic feet of granite for the construction of the building.

Mr. Lanquist and Mr. White went to St. Cloud, Minn., for the purpose of investigating the quarry there, to see if the Minnesota granite could be furnished as fast as the builders require. It is claimed that the quarry could not, with its present equipment, furnish more than 1,000 feet a week, working at its utmost capacity. The quarry people are said to have agreed to put in another boiler and double their operations if they were awarded the contract, but the nearest estimate that could be placed on the time in which the plant would be in full operation under the new conditions was about three months. The contract for the building in order to furnish the granite fast enough the quarry people would have to treble or quadruple their capacity.

The New Hampshire granite quarries have agreed to furnish the granite that will be needed, and in such quantities per week as the contractors may require. The stone will come already cut and dressed and will simply have to be hauled from the car to the dock to the courthouse site and placed in position.

The New Hampshire granite is a soft stone that the Minnesota granite and is said to be very handsome and substantial.

If the plan is carried out the building will be of solid granite up to the roof and cornice and will be both imposing and beautiful. The courthouse commission is urging the people who bought the buildings on the courthouse site to hurry the contracting process so that the contractors can begin work by June 15, the date set for the commencement of work on the excavation for the foundations. The county is advertising for bids for the changing of water, gas, sewer, and sewer systems in the district to be covered by the new building. All the old mains and sewers will have to be taken up and relaid around the location of the courthouse. This will entail quite a large amount of work, and it is necessary that an early start be made in order that the changing of the water and sewer systems will not interfere with the excavation work.

Lanquist & Illsley, it is understood, will bring their own force of expert workmen to take charge of the work, probably about twenty or twenty-five men. They will superintend the work while the contractors will depend on the local supply of labor to carry out their contract. The firm will probably bring their own teams and vehicles for moving heavy stone as they have some specially designed for the purpose.

Mr. Lanquist has been a member of the board of referees between the contractors and the building unions in Chicago for the past eleven years.

RAILROADS SITUATION IMPROVED

Damage Done by the Floods is Being Repaired.

Trains Will Soon be Running to the Coast Again.

Information that some improvement in the railroad situation in the drenched district of Montana has taken place, and that railroading is fraught with less difficulties, was received at the office of the Northern Pacific and the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul railways this morning.

Trains Nos. 3 and 4 are still out of commission on the former line, but information received at the local office is to the effect that the general situation is somewhat improved, and that within a few days it is expected that much of the damage that has necessitated the holding up of the two trains C. L. Kennedy, commercial agent of the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul railway, this morning received a telegram announcing that the embargo on freight west of Terry, Mont., has been removed. Shipments can now be made to the end of the present extension—Lewistown.

According to the information received here the construction work the West has been seriously delayed by the heavy rains. Work on the Pacific coast extension of the C. M. & St. P. has been held up, because of the rains, while the work on the Northern Pacific has also been greatly delayed for the same reason.

It is stated here by railway men that the worst of the flood is over and that the trains are being run through to the coast. Laborers have been rushed to the districts where the most damage was done to the tracks and work on the repairing of the damage will be rapid.

The Northern Pacific suffered the most, but both the Great Northern and the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul have also been hard hit.

ADVANCE FREIGHT RATES.

Eastern Lines Set Date for the Increases Decided Upon.

Advices received here this morning state that the time for the general increase of freight on the Eastern lines has been set for August 15. Rates class are at the present busy working out the new freight tariffs, which will be considered at the first stage of the Eastern roads in August.

The same advance contains the information that the Western lines have for the time being abandoned the plan of increasing the freight rates. The situation that was encountered from every Western shipping association has had something to do with the temporary abandonment of the plan to increase general freight rates, but if the increase of freight rates on Eastern lines is carried out successfully, it is extremely likely that the Western officials will attempt to raise the tariff on at least some classes of freight.

Philadelphia, June 11.—The directors of the Reading company reorganized yesterday by re-electing the old officers. The directors also declared a semi-annual dividend of 2 per cent on the common stock, payable Aug. 1, to stockholders of record July 15, and a semi-annual dividend of 2 per cent on the first preferred stock, payable March 15, to stockholders of record Feb. 20, 1908, and a second dividend of 2 per cent on the second preferred stock, payable May 15, to stockholders of record April 22, 1908.

New Schedule Sunday.

Norway, Mich., June 11.—Beginning with Sunday next, the passenger trains of the Michigan Central and Michigan Southern railroads will run into Iron Mountain, making that city their western terminus hereafter. On the latter line, the point to Peshigo, Wis., between which and Iron Mountain a car ferry system is operated. A connecting line has been built between Iron Mountain and Quinnesec, and from the latter town to Mesonimie, Iron range metropolis of the Wisconsin & Michigan & St. Paul of the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul company. The new arrangement will be productive of much additional traffic for the Walsh railroad.

SIGNS ORDER ON STIPULATION

Court Directs Receiver to Pay Debts of New York Store.

Following a stipulation of both Harry Luery and the heirs of Jacob Sablosky in the action for an accounting of the partnership affairs of the New York Store company, Judge Dibel has ordered Receiver R. Germain, the special administrator of the estate of Jacob Sablosky.

It is stipulated that Luery owes the partnership a total of $771.60, including the $271.60 which he never paid into the company and $500.00 which he drew out. It is also stipulated that Sablosky owed the partnership $121.87 and that he borrowed $50 from Frank Horgan, for which he gave the store company's note, without the knowledge of Luery.

GOING AFTER BAILLY.

Officers Will Attempt to Bring Back Man Who Stole Steamer.

New York, June 11.—To bring back to this city Francis G. Bailly, who is charged with grand larceny in connection with the seizure of the steamer Goldsboro, Police Lieutenant P. Berry of the district attorney's office left today for Washington on his way to Honduras, where Bailly is held under arrest. Although there is no extradition treaty between this government and Honduras, Lieutenant Berry will receive from the secretary of state a formal order on the government of Honduras asking that Bailly be turned over to him. Bailly arrived in the port of Colba, Honduras, on the steamer Goldsboro, which he is alleged to have loaded with goods worth $20,000 obtained fraudulently.

WHITE BREAD THE BEST.

Harper's Magazine: The United States department of agriculture through its office of experiment stations has carried on at the universities of Minnesota and Maine extensive investigations relating to the digestibility and nutritive value of all types of flour, including ordinary white flour, Graham or wheat meal which is prepared by grinding the entire wheat kernel without removing the bran, shorts or germ—these portions commonly known as the wheat offals—and the so-called entire-wheat flour made by removing a part of the bran and grinding the material finer than for Graham flour.

The conclusions reached from these experiments are given in one of the reports as follows:

"According to chemical analysis of the Graham, entire-wheat and standard patent flours, milled from the same lot of hard Scotch Pile wheat, the Graham flour contained the highest and the patent flour the lowest percentage of total protein glutenous matter. But according to the results of digestion experiments with these flours, the proportion of digestible protein and available energy in the patent flour was larger than in either the entire-wheat or the Graham flour. The lower digestibility of the protein in the Graham flour is due to the coarse particles (bran), and so the resistance to the action of the digestive juices and escapes digestion. Thus, while there actually may be more protein in a given amount of Graham or entire-wheat flour than in the same weight of patent flour from the same wheat, the body obtains less of the protein and energy from the coarse flour than it does from the fine, because, although the including of the bran and germ increases the percentage of protein, it decreases the digestibility."

The merchant whose mind is too often alienated from planning and devising his advertising is falling into business peril!

THE EXECUTION OF BILLEK INDEFINITELY POSTPONED BY GRANTING OF APPEAL

Case Will be Taken to United States Supreme Court.

Will Decide on Application for Writ of Habeas Corpus.

Refused by Judge Landis Who Admitted Right of Appeal.

Chicago, June 12.—Herman Billek, the Bohemian fortune teller, condemned to death for the murder of five members of the Vrazal family, today decided that a stay of execution until he has been afforded an opportunity to appeal his case to the supreme court of the United States.

Judge Landis of the United States district court, who yesterday declined to grant a writ of habeas corpus in favor of Billek, today decided that the prisoner had the right to appeal from his decision denying the writ. The case will now be carried to the highest federal tribunal and Billek will be given a reprieve until that body has passed upon the constitutional question involved.

The hour set for Billek's execution was 1 o'clock, but Judge Landis had directed the sheriff to take no action until after his decision had been rendered. The sheriff agreed to await the judge's decision and Billek, who now has an indefinite lease of life pending the decision of the appeal, would have been hanged instantly had not the judge decided to order the stay of proceedings.

Story of the Crime. Herman Billek, a Bohemian fortune teller was tried and convicted of poisoning to death Mary Vrazal, 22 years old, and one accused of similarly murdering the death of five other members of the Vrazal family. Mrs. Joseph Vrazal, the mother of Mary Vrazal, consulted a fortune teller who was arrested as an accomplice of Billek. The death in the Vrazal family all occurred within a period of two years.

The testimony at the trial which was held before Judge G. B. Barnes, showed that Billek went to the Vrazal residence with his alleged accomplice, who she was arrested as an accomplice of Billek. The amount varying from $100 to $200. As a result of the trial Billek's punishment was death. Since then he has been within the shadow of the gallows, though he has been allowed the first day for the hanging having been fixed as Oct. 11, 1908, and the other dates Nov. 5, 1908 and April 25, 1909. The postponement in each case was to permit further investigation. It has been charged that Billek's conviction was the

WORKING FOR SELFISH ENDS

W. E. Young's View of Some of the State Politicians.

Crookston, Minn., June 12.—(Special to The Herald.)—W. E. Young of the state railroad, and a former commissioner, spent yesterday in Crookston and vicinity, looking over some prospective land purchases in this section. Mr. Young was not at all over the top of the railroad, but stated that the situation presented a very serious situation for the state and in Ramsey and Hennepin counties. He said:

"If the primary had been held two weeks ago there is no question but that Jacobson would have been elected. It is my opinion that some of the politicians who are so solicitous about certain candidates are simply working for selfish ends and really do not care a straw for the men who would like to see a sufficient following for their candidate to hold the balance of power in the state convention, and are using their candidate as a tool to serve their own selfish ends.

"As a matter of fact I believe there are going to be a good many uneducated delegates at the state convention. If Jacobson or E. T. Young are not elected on the first, second or third ballot I look for some man who is not yet an approved candidate to secure the nomination as the leading candidate, especially Jacobson, will be unable to rally any more delegates under their banners than those who will be for them on the Jacobson and Young. A great deal will depend on the attitude of the northern part of the state."

TOWNE WILL SEE BRYAN. Also to Deliver an Address at University of Nebraska.

Chicago, June 12.—Former Senator Charles A. Towne of Minnesota, now of New York, passed through Chicago late yesterday on his way to Lincoln, Neb., where he will deliver an address at the University of Nebraska this week. Incidentally Mr. Towne could see nothing in the Democratic presidential race except William Jennings Bryan. Asked who the candidates for vice president would be, Mr. Towne said: "Frankly, I do not know. Governor Johnson of Minnesota would strengthen the ticket, and there are many others. The best would like to be represented."

Mr. Towne said that as far as he knew no formal conference was scheduled to be held at Lincoln during his visit. He said the arrival of Henry Waterson and himself at Lincoln about the same time was a mere coincidence.

REPUBLICAN COMMITTEE HAS ABOUT FINISHED WITH CONTESTS OF DELEGATES

Concluding Business is Attracting Practically No Attention.

Will Proceed to Make Final Arrangements for Convention.

The Boomers for Governor Hughes Renew Their Activity.

Chicago, June 12.—Today as on yesterday the proceedings of the Republican national committee attracted only a fair amount of general interest. The crowds that hung about the committee room early in the week entirely disappeared and only such people were present as were directly connected with the hearings before the committee.

Chicago, June 12.—Tonight will see the end of the long drawn out series of contests for seats in the Republican national convention which has been (Continued on page 6, fifth column.)

OCEAN RECORD AGAIN LOWERED

The Lusitania Cuts Off 7 Minutes on Western Trip.

New York, June 12.—With three record trips across the Atlantic safely stowed away, the giant Cunard Lusitania dropped her anchors off Sandy Hook a few minutes before 2 o'clock this morning. The official time of her arrival at New York was 108.2 m. The time of her passage from Southampton to New York was 4 days, 20 hours and 8 minutes, which is the fastest trip across the Atlantic by the long course, which was made by her sister ship, the Mauretania. The Lusitania's best previous record for the course was 4 days, 20 hours and 22 minutes. The Lusitania also has the record for the longest day's run, having from noon Sunday to noon Monday made 641 miles, beating the Mauretania's best day's run by six knots. The Lusitania maintained an average speed of 24.8 knots an hour as against the Mauretania's record of 24.6 knots an hour.

IF THEY HAD PUT IN A LITTLE MORE EXECUTION AND LESS PROMISE THAT CORNER POST WOULD BE STRONGER.

BANKS ARE INFORMED

Of the Methods of Applying for Additional Bank Currency.

Secretary Cortelyou Issues Circular Explaining Provisions of Law.

Washington, June 12.—Secretary Cortelyou today made public a treasury department circular carrying into effect the new currency act approved May 30, last. The secretary calls attention to the fact that there are two methods of applying for additional national bank currency under its provisions. Banks occupying contiguous territory may organize currency associations providing there are at least ten banks in each association with minimum aggregate capital and surplus of at least $500,000, while the individual banks must have an unimpaired capital and surplus of not less than 20 per cent. Any member of such an association with outstanding circulating notes of not less than 40 per cent of its capital may obtain additional circulating notes under Section 1 of the act.

National banks of the same standing as to capital and surplus, but not members of an association, may obtain additional circulation under Section 2 of the act. In order that all national banks entitled to take out additional circulation may join currency associations the secretary of the treasury reserves the right to add to, and include in, the territory of an association any contiguous territory containing national banks, which would otherwise be excluded from or incorporated into an association. The names of the associations must be indicative of the territory which they cover and may not be styled "first national bank" or "second national bank."

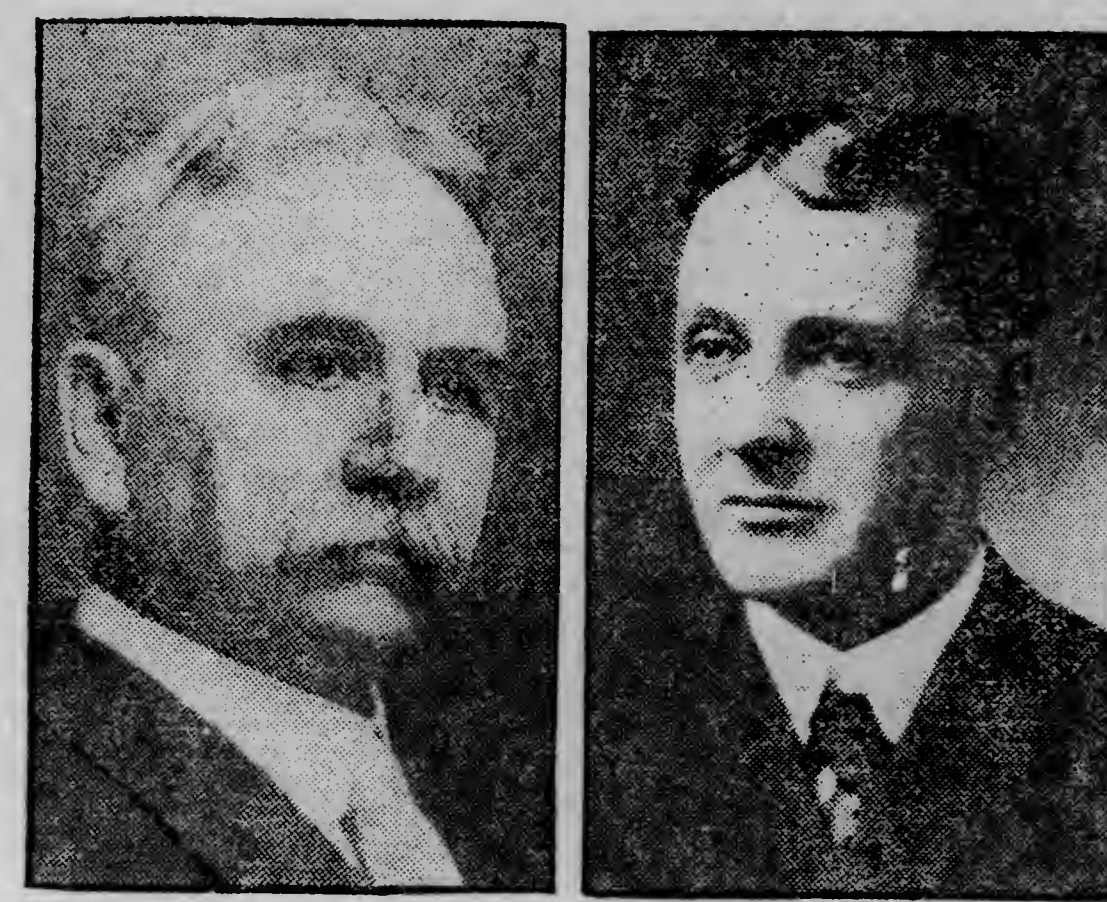

The treasury department will furnish blanks to bank officers upon which they may file applications for joining an association and otherwise take the necessary steps to comply with the law, and prompt approval or disapproval is promised by the treasury department.

MONTANA TRAINS REACH SEATTLE

Four Hundred Belated Passengers Arrive at Washington City.

Seattle, Wash., June 12.—The first trains from the Montana flooded district arrived here last night, bringing about 400 belated passengers, who had been held at Cutbank, Mont., from three to five days. Three trains came in over the Great Northern, bringing both Great Northern and Northern Pacific passengers.

L. C. Gilman, general Western counsel for the Great Northern road, was among the passengers.

More Track Washed Out. Missoula, Mont., June 12.—It was reported last night that several miles of Northern Pacific track had been washed out near Sand Point, and there is little hope of opening up transportation between Missoula and Spokane for some time.

Heavy rains last night deluged work west of here, and much of the work has been destroyed. An effort will be made tomorrow to run a train from Arlee and transfer passengers here, and the distance between the two points is fourteen miles and can probably be covered by wagons.

HISTORIC PAGEANT

Central Feature of Jubilee of Reign of Francis Joseph.

Twenty Thousand People Representing Different Races in Parade.

Vienna, June 12.—The great pageant, the central features of the festivities marking the jubilee of the reign of Emperor Francis Joseph, took place today and proved a splendidly successful and popular festival. More than 20,000 representatives of the different races comprising the population of Austria-Hungary garbed to represent the different historic periods since the foundation of the Hapsburg dynasty either rode or walked in the procession. Four thousand horses besides hundreds of mules, donkeys and buffaloes from the far interior, were in the line of march, intermingled with carriages, chariots and every conceivable vehicle of wheels, ancient and modern.

Starting from the Prater, the procession went clear round the beautiful Ringstrasse, returning to the starting point, a total distance of nearly five miles. The procession itself was but about this length. Nearly the whole route was lined with stands capable of seating 120,000 persons. Opposite the main entrance of the Hofburg, Emperor Joseph and the numerous archdukes and archduchesses occupied the imperial stand. Besides these the members of the royal houses who reside in Austria, the Camberlands, Coburgs, Bourbons, the (Continued on page 6, fourth column.)

OPPOSED TO THIRD TERM

Governor Johnson Would Not Accept a Re-nomination.

St. Paul, June 12.—(Special to The Herald.)—Governor Johnson, in a written statement today, which he gave out for publication, says that he will not be a candidate for re-nomination for governor of Minnesota for a third term. He also says that if nominated he will not accept, as he is opposed to the third term idea.

RECORD-BREAKING DRIVE.

Logs Make Journey From Itasca to Irving Lake.

Bendigo, Minn., June 12.—A drive of 3,000,000 feet of logs has arrived at the inlet of Lake Irving, where the Mississippi river flows into the lake, being in charge of L. Amador, who cut and banded the logs last winter, near the Itasca State park. This drive was brought from Lake Itasca in exactly thirty days, which is a record-breaking feat in driving logs down the Mississippi river. Mr. Amador states that all conditions were favorable, the water being high and there being nothing to impede the progress of the drive.

The logs were cut in the Itasca State park and along the Mississippi river, this side of the lake, being banded last winter on Lake Itasca and the Mississippi river.

Fire Does Enormous Damage at Nelson Morris Establishment.

High Water Caused by the Flood Hampers the Firemen.

Two Laborers Killed and Two Others Seriously Injured.

Kansas City, Mo., June 12.—Two laborers lost their lives, two others were seriously injured and property loss, estimated at between $250,000 and $500,000, was caused by two explosions, followed by a fire in the packing houses of Nelson Morris & Co., at the Riverside in Kansas City, Kan., today. The force of the explosions, which were felt all over both Kansas Cities, ruined the cold storage building, and the fire that followed destroyed the smokehouse, with their contents. The loss on the meat destroyed is not known.

An explosion of sewer gas resulted, when a worker in one of the cold storage departments lighted a match. This was followed by another and more serious explosion, caused by the lighting of a quantity of ammoniac and a stubborn fire soon started.

The Nelson Morris plant is situated near the river side section in a fork of the Kaw river, just north of the stock yards, on a low lying piece of ground. The plant was built three years ago and was one of the most complete in the country. For three days past, or since the worst of the present flood began, there has been no killing at the plant and operations in all its departments were practically at a standstill. Men had been kept at work day and night trying to save the meats on hand and in pumping water from the basement.

When the plant was completed, Jan. 1, 1905, it was valued at $2,250,000, of which the buildings represented $1,245,000, the machinery $465,000, and miscellaneous equipment $540,000. The daily slaughtering capacity of the plant was 1,500 cattle, 2,000 sheep and 3,000 hogs.

On Jan. 25, 1905, fire damaged the plant to the extent of $750,000. The loss of the stock was $400,000, an enormous loss. The coolers were packed to their capacity, as the flood had interfered with railway traffic before the water shut down the plant.

HILL ARRIVES IN GERMANY

Successor to Charlemagne Tower Reaches Berlin to Assume Duties.

Berlin, June 12.—Dr. David Jayne Hill, formerly minister to Luxembourg and the Netherlands, who is to succeed Charlemagne Tower as the American ambassador to Germany, arrived in Berlin today. He has taken the apartments in the Hotel Adlon, which were occupied for nearly a year by Jules Cambon, the French ambassador, pending the reconstruction of the French embassy building.

Chancellor Von Buelow and Foreign Minister Von Schoenherk received Mr. Hill as soon as his arrival is announced to them, which probably will occur this afternoon or tomorrow morning.

Emperor William will not delay his departure to Dr. Hill, which probably will occur on Sunday. Mr. Hill has not yet arrived here.

LITTLE DAMAGE RESULTED. Light Frost of Wednesday Did Small Injury.

Crookston, Minn., June 12.—(Special to The Herald.)—A light frost was in evidence in many parts of Northern Minnesota Wednesday morning, but the reports of the damage done were greatly exaggerated. In a few localities beans and other extremely tender vegetables were killed, but there was no damage done to any of the grain crops, and even the corn was not affected. Frosting in a very few localities. All vegetation is very rugged and tough this year, owing to the cool weather that had prevailed, coupled with high winds, and will therefore stand more cold than ordinarily.

JOHNSON IN 1912, SAYS A LEADING GEORGIAN.

Minneapolis, Minn., June 12.—F. Seely of Atlanta, Georgia, editor of the Atlanta Georgian, and graduate, says, "of the school of hard luck," is in Minneapolis to deliver the commencement oration at the University of Minnesota. Mr. Seely has had early experiences like those of Governor John A. Johnson, and he shows it in his outspoken, sympathetic manner and warm, honest handshaking.

"What do we think about Johnson? Why, down South we're just tickled to death about him. You know that kind of a man takes with the people of the South. His start from small beginnings and his getting to where he is now is just the right kind of thing. That about starting to work when he was a boy, and making his own way, and helping out his folks when they ought to have been helping him, that counts mightily."

You know, Johnson, on his recent trip to Mr. Seely continued. "I got up a party of business men and bankers to meet him, and he hit it right. We sort of think he is only priming himself for 1912, and I believe he'll get there that time. We aren't entirely satisfied with Mr. Bryan, although we are not against him."

SOCIETY IS ORGANIZED

Branch of State Horticultural Society Formed in Duluth.

Prof. Greene Speaks on Possibilities of Fruit Raising.

At a meeting of those interested in the subject of horticulture, held in the rooms of the Commercial club, last evening, the Northwestern Minnesota Horticultural society was formed. The prime object of the society will be the promoting of horticulture in the northern part of the state. The society, which will be a permanent organization, and its future meetings will be held in this city, unless otherwise ordered by the president.

J. Kimball was elected president; C. P. Stratig, vice president; A. C. Jones, treasurer; D. E. Huestetter, secretary. The membership dues will be $1 a year, which admits the member to membership in the state society. Prof. Samuel B. Greene of the Minnesota State College of Agriculture, addressed the meeting. Prof. Greene told those interested in the forming of the society that there were abundant possibilities for horticulture in the northern part of the state, and that that was the reason he was so anxious to see the society formed. He pointed out the fact that there was a good market here for both fruits and vegetables, and the importance of the society in the growing of fruits and vegetables in the northern part of the state.

The formation of the northern branch of the state society was commented by the speaker as being a move in the right direction, and that the society would result in aiding the growing of fruits and vegetables that were adapted to this part of the state. A. J. Jones, C. P. Stratig, J. Kimball, Arthur Crossweller, J. B. McLean, Bishop McGillick, M. C. Holman, G. E. McComber, Edward H. Behn, August Johnson and A. B. Huestetter, all of this city, and E. N. Homestead, Arnold, Dr. H. W. Olson, Dr. L. E. Peterson, Thomas J. Boyer, H. E. Helm, A. J. McGuire, Grand Rapids; Walter Case, Anton E. Larson, Duluth, were made charter members of the society.

GLADYS REFUSES TO BE CAPTIVE

American Wife of Szechenyi Pines for London and Paris.

London, June 12.—Countess Szechenyi has been putting her little foot down very decidedly regarding a matter affecting her future. As she herself expressed it, she "is not going to spend her whole time in a rambling old palace miles from anywhere." When she was here on her honeymoon she expressed herself strongly in favor of a London house. Gladys says that "the count is all right, and she is very much in love with him, but," she adds, "I, if I should, can fly quite as expeditiously out of the window of a palace as out of a cottage."

The count's womanhood are pleasant, slow, dowdy ladies, whose ideas of dress do not go much beyond their national costume. They never read novels or fashionable newspapers, and they do their own housekeeping and cooking. They have shocked absolutely the countess' smart French maid, who has given her mistress notice several times lately. This is the last straw for the new countess. Her sisters-in-law suggest a native maid. Gladys Vanderbilt with a peasant maid!

The countess in the countess' $250,000 treasure have been hanging up in their linen bags, and the countess is the only thing likely to benefit by them at this rate. It stands to reason and common sense that Count Szechenyi must let his wife have a periodical flutter in London or Paris.

This case recalls that of Daisy Cornwallis West, sister of the duchess of Westminster, who married Prince Henry of Prussia. He thought, too, to shut her up in a wonderful palace in Silesia. But she rebelled. The Kaiser came to the rescue of the princess and talked a great deal to the sprightly Irish girl about "being dutiful" and "obeying her husband." To his imperial majesty Daisy replied that she was not going to "rust or vegetate," and that she intended to spend every season and every autumn in England, whether the Kaiser and her husband wished it or not. She had her way. The Kaiser was furious, but Prince Henry of Prussia smiled and handed his wife the cheque—Daisy had not a penny of her own. If she pleased he came with her to England, and if she did not choose he stayed at home. Even now she leads him by a single hair. She has a glorious time.

HALF BILLION CHORUS

At Pittsburgh Will Not Wear Tights or Director Gowns.

Pittsburgh, Pa., June 12.—Pittsburgh society girls who compose the half-billion dollar chorus that will sing "The Pirates of Penzance" for charity here Saturday night, have put down their foot, rather than their feet. They are willing to do most anything for the power for charity, but just won't wear tights. And what is more, the director gown does not appeal to them as stage attire.

When the lights ultimatum was given, Frank D. Nelson, the professional coach who has charge of the production, came forward with a suggestion—why not wear the much-talked-of sheath gowns?

Some of the girls blushed, but after hurried consultation it was decided that it would be just the thing. Unfortunately, they had not been reading much about the director gown, and did not know there were slits up the side of the skirts, thru which may be seen glimpses of pretty ankles.

Nelson, happy over the idea of a chorus gown in sheath, had several sample dresses sent from New York. When the girls discovered the slit and the dainty satin trowsers that accompany the suits, there was almost a panic.

FOOD FOOLISHNESS

The druggist lives on your "food follies." If every one ate the druggist would have to turn grocer. There's no stomach so weak that it cannot digest FORCE. Its thin, crisp flakes are quickly penetrated by the digestive fluids and the barley-malt enables the intestines to digest the starch. FORCE helps Nature. Not a medicine, but a food.

"FORCE" is made of the best white wheat, steam-cooked, rolled into thin flakes, combined with the purest barley-malt and baked. Always "crisp" if before serving it by pouring ing into a pan and warming it in oven. Then serve in large dish with cream, piling the flakes in one side of the dish and pouring the cream in the other side, dipping the flakes as eaten.

Your Grocer sells it. No other Flaked Food is "Just as Good."

Saturday Another Great Bargain in Gloves!

This Time it is 16 Button Length Silk Mousquetaires. LISTEN!

Manufacturers and importers are, at this early date commencing to prepare themselves for the inevitable. They have come to the conclusion that there is to be a revision in the tariff, and as a result many big bargain opportunities are open to the wide-awake, enterprising buyers.

A few days ago our New York representative secured for us 46 dozen ladies' full 16-button length Milanese pure silk Gloves, with double tipped fingers, two silk-covered clasps at the wrist; they come in black, white, all the new shades of tan and leather browns, sky blue, pink and corn color; they are regular $2.25 goods.

It was particularly fortunate that our stocks were in such condition that we were able to take advantage of such weak spots in the market as this. These gloves are honestly worth from $16 to $18 per dozen at wholesale, and we expect at the price we will place upon them to sell every pair of them tomorrow.

We will accept no telephone orders, nor will we fit a single pair—our salesladies will be too busy making out checks to do any fitting. Now for the price. It's per pair

$1.00

And you can have all you want of them while they last. The weather is just right for Silk Gloves—so take advantage of the opportunity and secure a season's supply.

AAD TEMPLE FEATURED

St. Paul Papers Say Local Shriners Will Figure in Celebration.

Special Train Chartered Over Omaha Road July 13.

And Temple of Duluth is being featured by the St. Paul papers in connection with the annual session of the imperial council of the Mystic Shriners which will occur in that city next month.

It is expected that members of And Temple will take a prominent part in the ceremonies and preparations are being forward for some very unique and characteristic displays from this city in the big parade. Sixty members of the temple have already promised to act as a patrol and these will be accompanied by the Third regiment band of this city, one of the best musical organizations in the Northwest.

The local members of the shrine are working on a scheme to take about forty-five or fifty members to St. Paul in the garb of Shriners. These will wear lanterns on their hats and will carry picks as side arms. It is expected that this detachment will prove one of the picturesque features of the parade, on Friday of the celebration.

The pilgrims from And Temple, and their families will leave Duluth on a special train over the Omaha road, Monday, July 13, at 1 p. m. The train will arrive in St. Paul about 9 p. m. The Omaha Temple of St. Paul, a band and the German patrol and will be escorted to the Evans hotel, which will be the official headquarters of And temple for the week.

During their stay in St. Paul, members of the Duluth temple will occupy their private cars which will be "parked" along the Omaha railway company's siding on the West side, above the Washburn street bridge and below the bridge leading to Harriet Island.

Monday evening, the night of the big ceremonial session of the council at the Harriet Island, there will be a joint parade of Duluth and Omaha Temple of St. Paul through the downtown streets of St. Paul.

The procession will start from the Ryan hotel, headed by the Third regiment band and the Minnesota state band.

And Temple will have headquarters one of the largest rooms on the parlor floor of the Ryan. The corridors will be termed the "streets of mecca" during the celebration.

It has been learned that fully thirteen shrines will pass through Duluth on the way to the St. Paul celebration and the local merchants are making preparations to have their stores decorated with the Shriners' colors during the several days that members of the organization will be in the city for a visit.

The Shriners are carrying through the big celebration without solicitation of funds from the citizens or business houses. To use a popular expression, the Shriners are "paying the freight."

GARY DENIES RUMOR.

Says President Corey Did Not Advocate Cut in Steel Prices.

New York, June 12.—Chairman Gary of the United States Steel corporation yesterday denied the report that President Corey had advocated a cut in prices of steel and iron. Judge Gary said:

"Mr. Corey had not favored any reduction in prices at any time. However, if he had been present during the late conferences he would undoubtedly have shared the opinions of his associates."

Regarding the rumor that he intends to resign from the Steel corporation, Judge Gary said that he has no intention of resuming the practice of law, although all law departments of the Steel corporation are in frequent consultation with him. Judge Gary added:

"There are no dissensions in the organization of the corporation. The relations between all the officers of the corporation and subsidiary companies, and between them and all competitors, are friendly and harmonious."

UNCLE SAM WANTS PANAMA TO BE FAIR.

Washington, June 12.—In language that cannot be mistaken, the exact text of which was made public by the war department yesterday, the president and Secretary Taft have notified the Panama government that elections in that republic must be conducted fairly. The circumstances attending this warning were given out for publication as if in preparation for active intervention on the part of the United States by the use of whatever force may be necessary to make it effective.

SOCIAL AFFAIR WAS UNIQUE

Spelling Contest at Unitarian Church Makes a Hit.

The spelling contest at the First Unitarian church last evening proved a very interesting and entertaining affair.

Alfred Jaques led one side and Miss Colby, a teacher in the Jefferson school, headed the other. Mrs. Jaques pronounced the words.

Under the rules of the contest the contestant missing his first word had to pay a penalty of 25 cents in to the church coffers. The penalty for the second misspelled word was 20 cents and so on down to the fifth word, when no fine was imposed.

The amusing part of the affair was that both leaders fell down on the first word, "colloquy." Mr. Jaques spelled it "colloque" and Miss Colby spelled it "colloque." After that the 25 cent fines came in pretty fast.

The last person to stand on Mr. Jaques' side was R. W. Daniels. Opposed to him were eight on Miss Colby's side. The last to stand in the contest were: Miss Elizabeth Morton and Miss Mary Carter.

After the contest there was a fine program of musical and literary selections and refreshments were served by the ladies of the church.

FIRST SHOOT OF THE SEASON

Fiskett and Holmstrom Champions in Police Revolver Practice.

Capt. Tony Fiskett and Patrolman Holmstrom made perfect scores at the revolver practice held yesterday on the lake shore at Third avenue east. This was the first shoot of the season.

Each man fired ten shots at a figure supposed to be the average size of a standing man, and every bullet striking the figure counted five. That there were any perfect scores so early in the season is considered very good. Weekly shoots will be held henceforth. Following are the scores made: Fiskett, 50;

HIGH PRAISE FOR JOHNSON BY HILL

Former United States Senator Says Governor is Right Man.

New York, June 12.—David B. Hill, former United States senator, and for a long time leader of the Democratic party in this state, sailed for Europe yesterday on the steamer Baltic. Discussing his retirement from active politics, Mr. Hill said:

"The Republican party is badly disorganized. The key of this political campaign should be Taft, the candidate of political patronage. Now both sides in the coming political struggle have to go to the masses for their votes. They must draw from the masses and what better man could stand beside the candidate representing the power of patronage than John A. Johnson of Minnesota. From what I have been able to learn, Mr. Johnson is more than a mere near-to-the-people candidate. He is a well-balanced man and an able man. This Democratic party never wanted Mr. Bryan. Mr. Bryan wanted the Democratic party. He resigned himself on the party in 1896 and again on what was left of the party in 1900, and now in 1908 he calls himself the Democratic party and says 'I have kept the faith.'"

Mr. Hill was accompanied on the trip by Carl A. Doerflinger of Washington, who said that after visiting the British parliament and the English court, Premier Secretary Hill was desirous of visiting the Reichstag and other foreign parliaments.

WARD IS COMPETENT.

Pontiac, Mich., June 12.—After being out twenty-eight hours a jury in the circuit court last night brought in a verdict that Henry Clay Ward of this city, a millionaire, whose eccentric actions led to his family's application to have a guardian appointed for him, was competent to manage his own affairs.

Mr. Ward is a son of David Ward, one of the pioneer millionaire lumbermen of Michigan.

HEARST GAINS SLOWLY.

New York, June 12.—The vote of 669 election precincts out of a total of 1,348 in this city had been counted in the fight to decide whether W. R. Hearst or George B. McClellan was elected mayor of New York in 1905, when court adjourned yesterday. Mr. Hearst's net gain thus far is 215, of which 27 were added yesterday when the contents of 112 ballot boxes were recounted.

German Royalties Hear Pittsburgher Lecture on Blackfoot Tribe.

Request That Stereopticon Talk be Repeated for Their Benefit.

Berlin, June 12.—By special request of the crown prince and the crown princess, Walter McClintock of Pittsburgh repeated before their imperial highnesses and a distinguished company at the Marble palace at Potsdam a lecture on the Blackfoot North American Indians which he recently delivered before the Berlin Anthropological society. Mr. McClintock, who addressed his audience in English, gave an interesting account of his ten years' journey among the branch of this tribe which is settled on a reservation in the state of Montana. He explained that the origin of the name Blackfoot was due to the fact that the members of the tribe wore black moccasins, or rather, according to legends which were current among the tribe, to the fact that the Blackfoot had formerly lived in northerly regions of America where the ground was particularly marshy. The numbers of the tribe had divided from $200 to $300, and the children of the tribe, until a few years ago, was one, "Mad Wolf," who adopted Mr. McClintock as his son. The ceremony of initiation as a member of the tribe was extremely elaborate and took place to the accompaniment of dances and of some 30 different chants, several of which the lecturer reproduced. Mr. McClintock also gave an account of the practices of the so-called witch-doctors and of the important part which they play in the tribal life. The lecturer had evidently made in the course of his play-lore and mythology of the Blackfoot, and in view of the rapidity with which the tribe is dying out, the scientific manner in which Mr. McClintock has collected a mass of valuable and interesting information has won for him the appreciative commendation of German anthropologists and ethnologists.

The mystery of the murder of Miss Lake, the English woman who was brutally attacked and killed in the Berlin criminal courts last week during a trial for theft, has been revealed by a crime of a similar nature at the same spot. This time the victim is Princess Elise Mueller, a sister of charity, whose dead body was found a few days ago in the fatal wood. Everything points to the probability that the perpetrator of this second crime was the author of the first. The German side is being searched by the people living in the suburbs of Essen, and if the criminal is caught he will assuredly be lynched.

An instance of malingering which few people will find credible was gravely narrated by a doctor in the Berlin criminal courts last week during a trial for theft. The defense in the case of a woman named Hoffman, who was charged with the murder of a man, was that she was suffering from a severe case of malingering, and in order to persuade the jury of her insanity, the doctor produced a man who had been cured of his malingering, and then hung one of his garments on it.

Herr Schler, the oldest inhabitant of Bad Nauheim, a little old gentleman of 88, has just celebrated his second silver wedding anniversary. Many years ago, while still in the prime of life, Herr Schler commemorated the twenty-fifth anniversary of his marriage with his first wife. After being a widower for some years he married again at the age of 75, and his rare privilege of holding a second silver jubilee. Among the participants at the festivities were two children by his second marriage, a son and a daughter. The old gentleman approaches his centenary in most vigorous health.

LIGHTNING HITS ENGINE.

Shock Is Felt Throughout Train
When Bolt Strikes.

Geneva, June 12.—A strange accident to the Zurich-Schaffhouse express happened the other night. The train had barely come to a standstill at Schaffhouse when a violent thunderstorm burst over the town, and a thunderbolt struck the engine, the shock being felt throughout the entire train.

Most of the passengers received shocks, but were not seriously injured. The engine driver and fireman were, however, found unconscious in the box. The two men shortly afterwards recovered. A terrible disaster would have been inevitable if the accident had happened a few moments earlier.

MARCEL TO VISIT LONDON.

Inventor of Famous "Wave" to Demonstrate How It Is Done.

London, June 12.—That benefactor of the feminine sex, M. Marcel of Paris, the inventor of the famous wave to which he has given his name, is to be the guest of the English hairdressers next July.

Whoever the art of hairdressing flourishes the Marcel wave, with its natural undulations following the outlines of the head, is known. It is a household word not only in the capitals of Europe, but in every village and hamlet.

With feelings akin to reverence the hairdressers, not of London alone, but throughout the United Kingdom, are preparing to welcome the author of the wave, who is coming to England in order to give the art of waving the hair to the British public.

The "grande fête Marcel" will be held at the Holborn restaurant on July 28, and is to be the supreme effort in his honor. The visit of M. Marcel is the most important event in our hairdressing history. The fête will begin at 9 o'clock when M. Marcel will himself explain the "wave" and give some practical advice on the art of waving. The new season's styles will be shown, but no coiffure which does not show the Marcel wave will pass the jury of experts. At 1 o'clock in the morning a banquet will take place, and an illuminated address in a casket will be presented to M. Marcel.

GIVE WINE TO TRAMPS.

Children Carry it to School, and Often Get Drunk.

Geneva, June 12.—Wine is so plentiful on the shore of Lake Maggiore, from the village of Brione to Orselina, that it is given freely to tramps who ask for a drink. The poorest people leave a bowl of wine on the window sill for all comers. It is frequently refilled, and even the birds share the hospitality. The farmers, in order to make room for the coming vintage, are getting rid of their ordinary wine at nominal prices.

Parents freely give the wine to their children, and teachers complain that many of their pupils arrive at school in an inebriated condition. It is not to see a child in this district, without a little gourd of wine slung across his shoulders for personal consumption. The "dens," most of which are in

Only those personally known to the hostess or her close acquaintances are admitted to the innermost recesses of the flat, where not only opium smoking, but chloroform drinking and chloral injections, which are now in fashion with a certain class of wealthy and depraved persons, are carried on.

Owing to the great secrecy in which the opium smokers meet it is exceedingly difficult for the police to act, but in several cases recently, detectives in disguise have obtained admission to opium dens, with the result that it has been possible promptly to close them, or to arrest the woman tenant on some other charge.

THE MARVELS OF THE LYNNOSCOPE

May See Around World Through New Invention.

London, June 12.—The marvels of the lynnoscope, the invention by means of which it is claimed any one can see round the world, were explained to an Express representative by the inventor. All the old difficult problems of making people invisible, seeing through a brick wall and corresponding direct with friends in New York are solved if the lynnoscope fulfills all its promises.

John Wellesley Lynn, the inventor, claims that he has proved by actual experiments that his instrument will allow people in London to see any one in America instantaneously, reflect any written message at once to the most distant places and enable any person to see through any human being or solid substances as if they were not there.

"The lynnoscope consists of three distinct instruments," said the inventor. "They are used in reflecting images like a mirror, and are not connected by wires or by any electricity. These instruments are: The operator, the transmitter and the receiver."

"The operator is like a large square box, with a hole at each end, mounted on the end of a telegraph pole. The transmitter is a similar box. It contains, however, a telescope arrangement, which focuses the image from the operator. At the other end, where the image is to be reflected, is another box-like arrangement. At one end it has a large brass funnel like a telephone, and at the other a screen, on which the image is reflected as in a looking glass. All that is necessary in sending reflections any distance over land is to fix a transmitter on the highest available point—a hill top or a tower—and the image is correctly reflected in the receiver. It will be possible to present an actual reflection of the derby being run to an audience at a matinee at any London theater. I do not mean a living cinematograph picture, but an actual reflection of the event. I have secured perfect reflections at a distance of 16 miles, and have photographed scenes eighty miles away."

"I experimented at Buckingham palace, and the lynnoscope made a woman who was present—a niece of Mr. Frith, the veteran artist—apparently invisible. Sir Thomas Lipton and other gentlemen have interested themselves in the invention, and have written expressing themselves perfectly satisfied with the experiments. I have been at work on this invention for nine years, and was working all the time on a pre-conceived scheme. A curious accident, however, helped me to the solution. I was working in my study with my apparatus, and looking through saw what appeared to be a hole in the place of the floor. I found to my surprise that I could see right through carpet and floor to a transmitter in the cellar. I have been awarded a diploma at the international exhibition for optical discoveries, and am willing to show what I can do before any committee of scientific experts."

CAN HOLD WARSHIPS AT BAY.
Indomitable Capable of Forcing or Declining a Fight.

Paris, June 12.—The immense superiority of the new British armored cruiser, the Indomitable, is dwelt upon in a striking article in the Matin, which maintains that she is the only ship capable of forcing an engagement or refusing a fight. She greatly reduces the value of the armored cruisers of all other navies. Owing to her heavier guns and greater protection, she could keep such a distance from the three best French, Japanese and American vessels of the same type that while her own fire would be perfectly effective, she would be invulnerable to theirs. Indeed, the Indomitable could match herself against most of the French and German battleships in commission, and is superior to some of the British.

The Matin adds that the commissioning of the Indomitable is the condemnation of all the French armored cruisers, including even those still on the stocks. None of them would have several days ago and, after a long conference with her attorneys and various friends, it was decided that the final action for a separation between Gould and herself could be announced.

"Mr. Gould, we understand, is not anxious to talk, nor is Mrs. Gould anxious to discuss her affairs in the public prints," came the word from a friend of Mrs. Gould at the St. Regis.

BIG ESTATE GOES TO CROWN.

London, June 12.—Mr. Justice Swinfen Eady, in the chancery division, has decided that the estate of the late Mrs. Helen Constance Taylor, which is valued at $250,000 should go to the crown. Mrs. Taylor died intestate three months after her husband, and she left no relatives. J. C. Stewart of Manchester, who claimed the estate, failed to prove his relationship.

GOULDS SEPARATED.

Mrs. Frank Gould Will Bring a Suit For Divorce.

New York, June 12.—Mrs. Frank Jay Gould arrived at the St. Regis hotel several days ago and, after a long conference with her attorneys and various friends, it was decided that the final action for a separation between Gould and herself could be announced.

"Mr. Gould, we understand, is not anxious to talk, nor is Mrs. Gould anxious to discuss her affairs in the public prints," came the word from a friend of Mrs. Gould at the St. Regis.

"If it is any satisfaction to the public, it can be published without fear of contradiction that Mr. and Mrs. Gould have agreed on a legal separation. The suit for no scandal be made of this affair. None exists beyond the fact that Mr. and Mrs. Gould are not living together, and will not. The suit for separation will be pressed by Mrs. Gould, and that is all that can be said on the subject."

Where Mrs. Gould will go to receive her decree of divorce is a question that is causing much speculation in society circles. Under the laws of New York she can secure an absolute divorce only on one ground. She refuses to make an application, based on statutory grounds, and probably will have to bring the suit in one of the Western states.

AFTER BIRD BUTCHERS

England Joins Despoiled America in a World-Wide War.

Audubon Workers Plan Campaign to Repel Millinery Marauders.

New York, June 12.—That whole regions of the Florida overglades have within the last three years been robbed of every vestige of bird life to supply the world's millinery market with the plumage of the heron that formerly bred there in countless numbers, was reported here today. From several ornithologists, who have just completed a survey of this section, reports have been sent to the headquarters of the National Association of Audubon societies declaring that where America was most rich in tropical races of birds it is totally barren today. At this rate of devastation, it is asserted, the plumage hunters will leave this country entirely stripped of all its birds of plumage within five years.

Detailed reports of the discovery of "wonderful rookeries of the small blue herons and of the white birds with brilliant red legs and beaks, probably ibis" in the regions where the Harney river enters the overglades were sent to the Audubon officials on March 27, 1905. At the time an exploring party described the tropical birds in these unknown parts as "countless" and expressed apprehension that their discovery might lead to some marauding by the world's army of professional bird butchers. Since the first word of this had come to the ears of the millinery marauders, all live feathered creatures have been exterminated throughout the entire region.

British Empire Ravaged.
To balk the world-wide activities of the professional plumage hunters, whose forces have reached and despoiled America's rarest resorts, England is already taking firm steps. From end to end the British empire has been ravaged as Florida has by the market feather seekers. A bill similar to the "model law" which the Audubon workers have succeeded in leading almost every state in this country to adopt, is today being pressed by Lord Archibald in the house of lords for the prohibition of the importation of the plumage, skin or body of all wild birds except ostriches, other ducks and geese used as articles of diet. Acting upon the startling reports from Florida, the Audubon officials declared today that laws against the sale of the trophies of this butchery, irrespective of where they were taken, would be urged throughout this country. Although the English bill is even more sweeping than the Audubon "model law" here, it is believed that with proper enforcement the latter may serve to stay the encouragement of the international commercial bird slaughter. Eventually it is the purpose of the association to perfect an international organization to check the scouring of the globe for the adornment of the nations at the expense of their bird life.

Base of Nation's Health.
"The esthetic reasons for checking this universal butchery of all birds who bear the fatal charm of beauty are secondary," said William Dutcher, president of the National Association of Audubon societies at its headquarters, 141 Broadway, today. "The primary reasons are strictly economic. These birds, entirely aside from their wonderful delights as objects of beauty, form the basis of our nation's health as well as prosperity. What the street cleaning department is to this metropolis the sea birds are to the whole country. As their activities as scavengers are checked by unnatural destruction, pestilence and death will surely follow. The birds stand at the foundation of all our natural resources and our very existence as well. To take up this hard fight against the monied interests that are killing our country's birds we need the individual support—moral and financial—of every man, woman and child in the country. It is reported that we have been endowed with a million dollars; but this is untrue, as we depend solely upon the interest of less than a third of this sum, and the annual $5 bills of our sustain-

PUBLISHERS ENGAGE NORRIS

To Continue the Work Against the News Print Paper Trust.

New York, June 12.—The directors of the American Newspaper Publishers' association at a meeting held in this city yesterday adopted the following resolutions:

"Whereas, the recent congressional investigation of the manufacture and distribution of paper surprised and startled publishers and paper-makers by reason of the extraordinary revelations in the marketing of paper, and

"Whereas, the postponement by congress of action upon the proposition to place pulp and printing paper upon the free list, and the decision of the select committee to continue the investigation until December next, thrust upon the American Newspaper Publishers' association, and upon publishers generally, the necessity for continuing their efforts to safeguard and promote their interests, and

"Whereas, Chairman Mann of the select committee has introduced into congress a bill which indicates an inclination to ascertain the possibility of reciprocity arrangements with Canada, and

"Whereas, the paper-makers are united and organized to protect their interests, and

"Whereas, the information in the interest of paper-makers which is being disseminated to justify the maintenance and increase of prices presents only one side of the question, and

"Whereas, through the vigilance of this association the pools controlling the output of paper and millinery paper boards is now under close judicial scrutiny and it appears that other paper pools are likely to be subjected to the same scrutiny, and

"Whereas, the efforts of this association to invoke federal aid have already caused a revaluation of the proposed advance to $20 per ton, and an amendment of the $20 per ton price, and

"Whereas, the paper-makers have reported that the large advance in price for all kinds of paper had been forced upon them by reason of reduction in the hours of labor, due to changes from twelve hours per shift to eight-hour shifts, and

"Whereas, a recent canvass shows that only 25 out of 253 paper mills had made such change, and

"Whereas, the work thus far done in behalf of this association has been carried on by volunteers, and

"Whereas, the situation with respect to the expenditure by publishers of more than $5,000,000 per annum for news print paper, has rendered it imperative to organize effort and concentrated energy on the part of the publishers soon essential to an earnest and aggressive campaign, looking to a broader market, a dissolution of paper-makers' combinations and the procuring of proper representation of this association in before congress and elsewhere, and

"Whereas, the board of directors is of the opinion that Mr. John Norris is equipped to undertake the services for the association; now, therefore, be resolved, that the president be authorized to engage the services of Mr. John Norris for a period of two years, upon the terms to be agreed upon by them, for the promotion of the aims of the American Newspaper Publishers' association in the matter of news print paper."

FAKE MEDIUMS.

Three "Schools" For Training Them Conducted at Pittsburgh.

Pittsburgh, Pa., June 12.—Three "schools" for training fake mediums here are turning out a hundred spiritist fakery a month. Equipped with some clumsy sleight-of-hand and a half dozen séance tricks, the fakers are spreading all over Ohio, Pennsylvania and West Virginia.

This was the statement made to Chief of Police McQuade by Mrs. Lettie Gray, formerly a spiritualistic medium, who renounced her business two weeks ago, joining the Salvation Army and was introduced to the chief by the local army officials, to whom she first spoke of the fraud.

"Degrees" in medium work can be obtained, Mrs. Gray says, at one of two of the local schools, for from $5 to $50. The "schools" do not hesitate to advertise and are doing a splendid business. Numbers of amusement park vaudeville performers are glad to add the "work" to their repertoire. Chief McQuade promised police action.

GETS DAMAGES FOR INJURY

Tonnes Risnes Awarded $500 Damages Against Coal Company.

Tonnes Risnes, who was injured in the hold of a boat while unloading coal at the Pittsburgh Coal company's dock in Superior, was awarded damages in the sum of $500 by a verdict returned late yesterday afternoon. He sued for $1,500. Risnes was shoveling coal in a pile under the hatchway, to be taken up by the clam-shell shovel. It is alleged that without any warning, the shovel was dropped on him, fracturing his leg. It is alleged that the company was negligent in that it had no hatch-lender to warn the employees in the hold of the boat whenever the shovel was about to be lowered. Risnes was represented by Andrew Nelson.

BAR ALL COLORED PERSONS.

May Not Use Footpaths or Trams in Johannesburg.

Johannesburg, June 12.—The new local government bill restores town regulations which were in vogue under the Kruger regime, forbidding any colored person, irrespective of race, to use the footpaths. Natives and Asiatics are excluded from the tramcars, but respectably dressed and behaved Cape colored people are not debarred from using them. The municipalities are empowered to prohibit butchers and bakers employing native, Asiatic or other colored labor in the preparation of foodstuffs. The definition of a colored person is not attempted, and is left to the decision of the courts.

"COMING-OF-AGE" DUEL.

French Swordsman Postpones Encounter Until Adversary Is 21.

Paris, June 12.—A strange "coming-of-age" duel was fought in Paris recently which differed from the ordinary French duel in that one of the principals was badly wounded. The combatants were M. Ravinez and M. De Villette, both expert swordsmen, who quarreled several months ago, and sent their seconds to each other.

M. Ravinez was under age, however, and M. De Villette refused to fight him until he attained his majority. Accordingly the duel was postponed until after M. Ravinez's twenty-first birthday and was fixed for a certain date. Meanwhile M. Ravinez practiced fencing on every possible occasion, and, although a left-handed swordsman, attained remarkable proficiency under M. Hirschoff, the famous fencing master.

When the combatants met near the Grand Wheel, it was noticed that M. Ravinez, although appearing for the first time as a principal, was much cooler than his opponent, who had already fought fourteen duels. From the beginning it was evident that the combat was much more serious than the usual French duel. After they had been fighting for several minutes, M. Ravinez wounded his opponent by a clever thrust, his sword cutting through the upper part of the sword arm and piercing the right lung for a distance of three inches. M. De Villette vomited much blood and was scarcely able to stand. Although the fight was immediately stopped, it was with difficulty that the seconds could induce M. De Villette to withdraw from the field. Despite his protests, a doctor examined the wound, which was found to be serious, and M. De Villette was removed to a hospital.

May is the most popular month in the year for duels in Paris, and there have been at least twenty more or less porfuntory encounters during the past few weeks, chiefly between engaged dramatists, critics and theatrical managers. Most of these have been bloodless.

De La Motte, a local attorney, has been cited by Judge Dabell to appear at 5:30 o'clock this evening to show cause why he should not be punished for contempt of court. Mr. De La Motte will also have to show cause why a receiver should not be appointed in the supplementary proceedings.

To Restore Life.

It is said that a prominent scientist has discovered a method to restore life to animals and people, apparently dead, by alternately pumping the gas out of the lungs and pumping oxygen in, to produce artificial respiration. The best time to put new life into an ordinary tired, worn-out individual is a glass of golden grain beer. It is a wholesome nerve food, and restores the energy to weary body and brain. Duluth Automobilist Followed Huge Animal Half a Mile.

The Race Was a Dead Heat for That Distance.

Of the several moose stories that have been going the rounds during the last week or two, concerning the actions of these denizens of the forest in and around Duluth, one given out by Dr. W. H. Mangle is about the most up-to-date. It has to do with a race one of the animals had yesterday with his automobile on the Jean Duluth road. Two or three witnesses vouch for the truthfulness of the tale.

Dr. Mangle owns a farm out beyond the Jean Duluth road, and goes out to it in his automobile every day. Last evening he was chasing merrily along, a mile or two this side of the Jean Duluth place, when a big moose stepped into the road in front of the machine and stopped to take a look at the thing. The animal was only two or three hundred feet distant, and the doctor was wondering if he hadn't better stop before there was a collision. The moose settled the matter by starting off at a trot in the other direction, stopping at the middle of the road.

The occupant of the automobile could not resist the temptation of a race, and put on full speed ahead. The machine leaped forward with a bound, and galloped slightly on the swiftly-moving creature in front, but the moose seemed to get wise that a race was in the air and increased his speed until he apparently was going his limit. He maintained the same pace a distance in front for nearly half a mile, when an approaching team caused him to swing off the road into the woods, and that was the last seen of him by the doctor.

Invitations are being issued by Secretary H. V. Eva of the Commercial club to the dinner to be given in honor of Hon. James Bryce, British ambassador to the United States, at the Commercial club rooms on the evening of Monday, June 22. Acceptances will be received immediately and it is expected many Duluthians will gather to greet the diplomat. Mr. Bryce will be the principal speaker at the dinner.

Mr. Bryce, who is to be at Madison, Wis., next week for the commencement exercises of the University of Wisconsin, will arrive in Duluth Sunday, June 21, and will leave Monday night, June 22, for Washington, via the lakes. He comes to Duluth on invitation of the Commercial club and the arrangements for his entertainment are in the hands of a committee of that body.

SCARED BY MOOSE.

Horse Is Frightened Near Bridge on the Proctor Road.

The sudden appearance of a large bull moose on the road to Proctor yesterday nearly proved disastrous to Walter Pinkerton and his son Arthur, who were driving along the road at the time. Mr. Pinkerton is employed at Proctor by the railroad company, and he and his son were on their way there. They had just passed the bridge over Keene's creek, when a large moose came out of the woods just ahead of them and stood looking at them. The sight of the big animal was too much for the horse and in a vain effort to wheel about and run in the opposite direction, the rig was upset and its occupants thrown to the side of the road. The horse landed on the grass and was not hurt, but Mr. Pinkerton struck on the sidewalk, instead of continuing down the road, stood still, trembling. The moose, at the first jump of the horse, made off into the woods. After righting the rig the two continued to Proctor.

LUCKY WINNING.

Chicago News: "Don't you think I look like money in the bank?" asked the gorgeously attired young man of the keeper of the all-night lunch counter, with a comprehensive glance at his own garments. "Not by a five-gallon jug full," replied the lunch-counter man. "You'll never look like money in the bank, I tell you, with those." "What's the matter with them?" asked the young man. "I thought they were good clothes. Maybe you ain't a judge of 'em." "Maybe I ain't," admitted the lunch-counter man. "I ain't got no better sense than to think yours look as if you'd robbed somebody and didn't know what to do with the money." "You ain't so far off there," said the gorgeously attired young man, with a grin. "I sure was like robbery. I come from the college. But then I figured that if I wanted to get rid of it as bad as that, somebody else'd get it, so I might as well." "As bad as to offer forty to one against 'em?" asked the young man. "Say, I done 'em bad. I just went the limit, 'um um' when I went out of Jerry's. I was stuffed like a exchequer mattress with the long green, Jerry was sure." "No wonder," said the lunch-counter man. "I must have some close to breaking him up in business. You couldn't look away much less than $3 or $5." "Not much less," grinned the young man.

"And the first thing you done after you got all your debts paid was to go and buy yourself some clothes? Well, you certainly needed 'em." "I sure was on my uppers," admitted the young man. "It's been a long time since I made a killing." "Some folks have all the luck," sighed the lunch-counter man. "Here I am, forty-two hours a day, an' only able to dress up Sundays, while you're sportin' around in clothes like them an' never do a lick except finger on the dope sheets or make a touch for half a dollar from some guy that don't know you. Got enough to pay for that suit, too. I wouldn't wonder."

"If you don't think I had I see myself gettin' it," said the gorgeously attired young man. "You've got me sized up about right," said the lunch-counter man. "I'll just kind of a cheap John. I know that you've got money left because you know that if you hadn't the way I'd jump on you would spoil your digestion. I take chances on you that far."

"My credit's good, then?" "Just till you get down off that stool," said the lunch-counter man. "I'll trust you with as much as 40 cents' worth of food till then. But it ain't on the strength of them clothes." "You don't seem to like these clothes," said the young man. "Know what that suit cost?"

"Well cost, you enough before you get it wore out," said the lunch-counter man. "It spoils your chances of gettin' a job— that it ever amounted to a row of pins—and it makes you think that you're going to be able to go into Jerry's."

SMUGGLER'S BRAVE DAUGHTER.

London Chronicle: An Italian smuggler, named Predoni, accompanied by his daughter Rose, aged 18, after having completed purchases in Switzerland of contraband goods, set out to cross the Fraele pass (250 feet high) into Italy.

The two were approaching the summit of the pass when they were overtaken by a thick mist, in which they lost their way. They roped themselves together. Suddenly Predoni, who was leading, fell over a precipice, jerking his daughter off her feet.

By means of her ice axe Rose stopped herself from being dragged over the precipice where her father was dangling, suspended in midair.

Predoni could not reach the precipitous side of the slope to lessen the strain on the rope, and as their cries for help remained unanswered for an hour he begged his daughter to cut the rope and save herself, but this she refused to do.

Another half hour passed, and as the mist cleared Rose saw three other smugglers climbing the mountain. Her cries were heard and the smugglers rescued Predoni and his brave daughter, who lost her sense on being untied, and was carried down the mountain.

CHICKENS PECK CHIMES.

Detroit Correspondent Boston Herald: A chime of bells operated by 5,000 chickens is the original plan of James Prickett of Saginaw. On the floor of the chicken house he will place a metallic table, which will be connected with the chimera far above in the tower by an insulated wire. The pecking of the 5,000 roosters and hens, Prickett declares, will set up a vibratory motion.

IMPORTANT NOTICE

To the Users of Blackburn's Castor-Oil-Pills.

Changes Name, But Not Ingredients.

I have adopted a distinctive, coined name for my sweet, little pills. The name will be "Blackburn's Castor-Oil-Pills"; a Civilized Physic is what it means.

The ingredients are the same, and as the public have always known the names of the ingredients, they will not hesitate to ask for Blackburn's Castor-Oil-Pills. All druggists supply and recommend them.

In the table which will start a powerful electric motor in operation. This controlling the chimera, which will then begin to ring. Thus, all the chickens on the farm will know that dinner is on, and while they are dining will have music to whet their appetites.

WHEN GREEK MEETS GREEK. William H. Langdon, the San Francisco lawyer, talked at a recent dinner at the Hotel Astor, in New York, about municipal corruption.

"Yes," he said, smiling—his conclusion was a humorous one—"to defeat municipal corruption we must be very, very astute; the light is then Greek against Greek; it is the jockey against the horse doctor."

"Perhaps you have heard the story?" "No?" "Well, then, give ear." "A gentleman at a country fair saw a jockey and a horse doctor haggling dreadfully over the sale of a mare. It interested him to see two such tricky and shrewd characters opposed, and at the end of the sale the jockey approached the jockey and asked him how he made out."

"I sold her," said the man, and he held up a $5 note. "But is that all you got for her?" asked the gentleman.

"It's enough," was the reply. "She's dead lame." "Chuckling to himself, the gentleman sought out the horse doctor, and said: "See here, friend," said he, "do you know you have given $5 for a hopelessly lame mare?"

"The horse doctor wagged his thin gray beard. "Lane she is, I grant you," he said. "But hopelessly lame, no. In fact, she is as sound as I am. She's badly shod, that's all that is the matter with her. I saw it at a glance."

"The gentleman whistled at this news. He went back to the jockey and told him what the horse doctor had said. "But the jockey, with a wink of the eye, explained. "That mare is as lame as a one-legged veteran. I had her shod badly on purpose to take some sucker in."

"At that the gentleman laughed loud and long. Hurrying back to the horse doctor again, he said: "My dear sir, with all your cunning that jockey has proved too much for you. The mare is incurably lame. He had her shod badly on purpose to take you in."

"On receipt of this news the horse doctor shook his head gravely. "Well, anyway," he said, "it was a counterfeit $5 note."

"That excellent actress, Clara Bloodgood, sat beside me one night at a dinner," said a Philadelphia playwright, "and with the fish some one began to talk about wifely extravagance."

"Mrs. Bloodgood listened to tale after tale of the ruinous extravagance of wives, and finally she said: "Wives' extravagance—oh, yes! You men are all alike. You are all like the broker who, at midnight, in his club, hiccupped, wiped his eyes, and said brokenly: "This is the sixth bottle of champagne I've drunk today, all through my wife making me lose my temper. It is terrible what a lot of money that woman costs me!"

CONCERNING WOMEN.

The opening reception of the season of the Duluth Boat Club, which will be held tomorrow evening, at the main house, promises to be one of the most thoroughly delightful events of the month. The officers of the club and the committee members have been busily engaged in plans for the affair, and every detail has been looked to make the reception one of the most important social events in the history of the organization.

The alterations which have been made in the house during the spring weeks have converted the ballroom and the adjoining reception room into a most attractive dance room. An orchestra of seven pieces will be stationed here to provide a program of dance music during the evening. La Brousse orchestra will play, and some special features that will be new to Duluth parties have been arranged. A large number of dinner parties have been planned for tomorrow evening preceding the reception and dance, and the cafe will present a gay scene during the dinner hour.

The opening reception is but one of a series of delightful social events which will be planned during the summer, but tomorrow's reception will also be the last of the season for this year. The reception committee will consist of Dr. G. H. Jones, W. L. Prince, H. H. Peyton, E. R. Neff, E. M. Peyton, Fred Lewis, C. W. Elston and E. P. Towne.

Laurels will be run during the evening from the clubhouse to the north pier for the accommodation of the members and their guests.

ELECT PRESIDENT.

State W. R. C. Honors Mrs. Thelen of Stillwater.

A majority of thirteen votes made Mrs. Thelen of Stillwater the next president of the Woman's Relief corps at the election held Wednesday, in the First Unitarian church of Minneapolis.

There were half a dozen candidates for the chief office, but when the final vote was taken, the number dwindled to three, Mrs. Thelen, Mrs. Miranda Wheelock of Owatonna and Mrs. Josephine Plank of Minneapolis. Mrs. Plank withdrew after the first ballot, and the second vote gave the honor to Mrs. Thelen.

Visits from delegations from other patriotic organizations, now holding conventions in Minneapolis, and the reading of reports, and each delegation was escorted to the platform with fluttering flags to the sound of martial music.

ST. PAUL WEDDING.

Miss De Coster Becomes Bride of W. O. Stout.

A very pretty social wedding of Wednesday, at which Miss Lillian De Coster and Wilfred Oakley Stout, which took place Wednesday evening at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. C. De Coster, Duluth society was much interested in the event.

Rev. John D. Reid of the Unitarian church performed the ceremony at 5 o'clock.

The bride was attired in a princess gown of white satin, trimmed with duchesse lace, and wore a pearl heart brooch, the gift of the groom. She carried pink orchids and lilies of the valley.

Miss Ruth De Coster, who was her sister's maid of honor, wore a lace frock over pink and carried sweet peas. The ceremony was read under a bower of flowering shrubs in the bay window of the drawing room, which the bride entered to the music of the Lohengrin wedding march, played by an orchestra, and was given away by her father, Mrs. De Coster, the bride's mother, wore pale blue silk and white lace.

A large reception for Mr. and Mrs. Stout followed the ceremony, at which Mr. and Mrs. C. C. De Coster, Mr. and Mrs. L. S. Searle, and a number of friends were present. The bride and groom, who were married six months ago in Maine, were introduced to the friends of the family.

Mr. Stout and his bride left last night for a wedding journey of a month, which will include a visit to New York and a cruise trip in Maine. They will be at home on Portland avenue after July 15.

Among the guests at the reception last evening were: Mr. and Mrs. H. F. Williamson of Duluth; Mr. and Mrs. Mendenhall, and Miss Mendenhall of Duluth.

SEARLE - GILCHRIST.

Minneapolis Wedding of Much Interest in Duluth.

Rev. Walter Henry Nugent read the service at the marriage of Miss Florence May Searle and James Miller Gilchrist of Indianapolis, Wednesday evening, which took place at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. L. Searle, of Indianapolis, Wednesday evening. The bride was attired in a white gown, and the groom wore a tuxedo. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Mr. Nugent, and the bride was given away by her father, Mr. Searle. The wedding was a very quiet affair, and the guests were limited to family and friends.

Behind a screen of palms in the living room a string orchestra played a program of nuptial music while the guests arrived and broke into the familiar strains of the "Lohengrin" bridal chorus at the approach of the wedding party. Little Helen Zeever and Steven Searle, dressed in white, stretched wide satin ribbons from the stairway to the altar. The bride's sister, Mrs. Norman L. Leach of Sudbury, Ont., was the matron of honor. She wore a soft suit of pale blue trimmed in real lace and carried an armful of golden gate roses. Albert Krauss of Indianapolis was best man.

The bride wore a handsome gown of ivory white satin made in a princess-empire effect and richly trimmed in real lace. Her flowers were a shower of lilies of the valley. Her only ornament was a cameo pendant surrounded by pearls, a gift of the bridegroom.

At the reception which followed, Mr. and Mrs. Gilchrist were assisted in receiving by Mr. and Mrs. L. Searle, the bride's parents, and Mr. and Mrs. Searle.

The library was in red and white combined to produce a beautiful effect.

GO TO BED.

Rest Cure That Will Keep One Beautiful.

A woman, whose name is well-known in Washington society circles, left town one day last week and going to her country house, retired to bed and announced that she meant to stay there for a week, says an exchange.

It was not a mere exclamation, but a statement of fact, for she means to recuperate for the summer season in this "rest cure," taken by her and other society women, that enables them to look fresh year after year during nervous strain and loss of sleep that would otherwise be fatal to good looks.

This particular woman has reduced her "cure" to a science, and three times during the year she takes it. Not only does she literally stay in bed for a week, but during that time she eats only such food as will nourish and can be easily digested. She reads little, because she will not strain her eyes for the room which she "rests" in, without being dark. Bright light fatigues the eyes, even though the person be unconscious of it.

The only person admitted to her apartment is her maid, and after some days of this retired life, the woman comes looking as though years of age had fallen away, leaving her young and fresh.

She is not the only one who takes such a course of treatment. Many of the so-called "retreats" in convents during Lent are filled by Protestants, as well as Catholics, who, conforming to the hours of the place, find rest and nervous relaxation in this retirement.

Such an absolute giving up as this can only be done, of course, by women of leisure, but so much can be accomplished by working women, if they will arrange it, that they, too, instead of looking haggard at 35, may still maintain freshness.

There is no other such beauty preserver or creator, even as rest, which includes relaxing body, mind and nerves. If a woman who works downtown would be willing to go to bed very early—say at 7:30—once a week, and spend one Sunday out of four in bed, she will be hoarding youthfulness that in a few years, will make her the envy of her friends.

There must be no half way about this "rest." There should be no light summer, and fruits that are produced at the same season, are piled up in tempting array, and prices are such that most people will pick and choose somewhat and not just order recklessly, but the Sunday meals should be varied and attractive.

A fruit salad of grape fruit and pineapple, or almost any other combination, is possible. And by the way, aren't you almost tired of going to Sunday morning luncheon, and being confronted with fruit salad?

put it on too thick. When the sandwiches are made, wrap them in paraffin paper, or in a napkin wrung out of hot water.

CREPE DE CHINE COATS

With Lingerie Dresses Are a Summer Fad.

The real business of summer clothes nowadays deals heavily in the unfitted lingerie frock, says Mrs. Osborn, in the July Delicieux. The most elegant lingerie means lace and elaborateness. Literally it means anything that is light, but everyday parlance applies the term to any kind of a thin frock that is not silk and which can visit the laundry. It may be as simple as a like, especially this summer when good lines count for so much, and the merest suspicion of trimming, if it is the best of its kind, satisfies the feminine ex-quisite.

The crepe de chine coat is the inseparable accompaniment of the lingerie frock. What a sensible idea it is! The weather is sultry the woman is cool in her thin frock. If a treacherous little breeze springs up, bringing a sudden drop in the temperature, one's outer wrap affords her a welcome protection. In either case her ensemble is fresher and smarter than the heavy skirt and separate blouse and coat.

The crepe de chine coat, now that its excellences are appreciated, is becoming more popular every year. It is surely the ideal coat for warm weather. It is so light that its weight is negligible, and yet is warm enough to give it real purpose, in contradistinction to the lace-wraps—masses of braid and embroidery and lace, cluny, Irish crochet, reticella and Italian cut-work—beautiful but utterly useless except for their decorative effect.

But the crepe de chine coat is quite practical for everyday occasions, unless it is for real country wear. It does not catch and hold the dirt and heat like a serge, nor does it soil and rumple like a linen for train wear. The average American woman does not understand in the least the trick of dressing well for traveling. In the day coaches you will find her in her oldest and most disreputable garments, and she flutters into the parlor car gowned as for a reception. There is no excuse for one extreme or the other. Her traveling clothes should be the perfection of chic neatness and simplicity. That is why a smart frock with a cool, dust-shedding crepe de chine wrap makes the most sensible traveling costume imaginable.

Summer Sandwiches.

The bread for making the sandwiches should be twenty-four hours old, or it will not slice smoothly. Trim the crusts off if you wish an especially appetizing appearance, but don't forget to save the crusts to use for making bread-crumbs later, advises the Delicieux. Cream the butter with a spoon before spreading the sandwiches, and don't

F. D. Day & Co.'s Sale of Crystal Ware Well Attended.

Such crowds of eager buyers as flocked to the jewelry establishment of F. D. Day & Co., 315 West Superior street, to secure the choice bargains at their crystalware sale were never seen at a similar event in Duluth.

Every article of glass in their beautiful assortment has been placed on sale with about one-half of the original price removed. As the entire stock is composed of the famous Libbey ware, ladies can be assured that they are receiving a genuine bargain.

There is rich intaglio cut, the artistic rock crystal and fanciful cut glass from which to make a selection. F. D. Day & Co. are enlarging and remodeling their entire store, which, when completed, will be without a rival in the Northwest in point of beauty.

The contractors are now at work, and as crystalware is too delicate to hazard the risk of remodeling operations, F. D. Day & Co. prefer to take a loss now and give their patrons the benefit of low prices. The sale continues unabated until every article is sold. Any one desiring unequaled bargains in crystalware had better attend at the earliest possible moment.

SNUBBED BY A SONG BIRD.

Tetrazzini Turns Up Nose at Mrs. Bradley Martin's Offer.

London, June 12.—Mrs. Bradley Martin wants Tetrazzini to sing for her at the concert she is arranging at the end of June. In the first instance, Mrs. Martin offered the prima donna $2,500 for a single song. Tetrazzini turned up her nose at the offer. She declared that William Waldorf Astor arranged last winter with her for two songs for his forthcoming concert, agreeing to pay her $5,000. She offered to sing once for Mrs. Bradley Martin for $3,000. At the moment Mrs. Bradley Martin is pondering the matter, but Tetrazzini is perfectly indifferent whether she accepts her terms or not.

The Italian prima donna is a newcomer and therefore a novelty, but in spite of this fact, she, her great rival, holds her own socially. Lady de Grey, her bosom friend, one of the most powerful society matrons in the opera syndicate, stands by the Australian song bird, and she is a favorite with the press and the public. It is for Tetrazzini, however, that the American millionaires are fighting. She is an extraordinary mixture of generosity and avarice. If people please her she would sing for them for nothing. She has taken a fancy to Mrs. Potter Palmer, and has been killing people she would "just love to sing to her for the sheer joy of it."

In no other disease is a thorough cleansing of the blood more necessary than in Contagious Blood Poison. The least particle of this insidious virus will multiply in the circulation and so thoroughly contaminate the blood that no part of the body will be exempt from the ravages of this powerful disease. Usually the first symptom is a little sore or ulcer, insignificant in itself, but soon the blood becomes so contaminated that the mouth and throat ulcerate, glands in the groin swell, the skin breaks out in eruptions, and frequently sores and ulcers break out on the flesh to humiliate the sufferer. S. S. S. cures Contagious Blood Poison by purifying the circulation. It attacks the disease in the right way by going down into the circulation, neutralizing and forcing out every particle of the poison, and making this fluid pure, fresh and health-sustaining. The improvement commences as soon as the patient gets under the influence of S. S. S., and continues until every trace of the disease is removed from the blood. After the sufferer commences to feel better, the blood is purified. Blood poison is left, or future out-breaks after S. S. S. has purged and purified the blood. SAYS BRYAN OPPOSES.

Prohibition Officials of Illinois Attack Record of Nebraska.

Millwaukee, Wis., June 12.—Claiming to expect great gains in the South with a possible victory in all Southern Prohibition states, State Chairman Alonzo Wilson of Illinois declared as the foundation of this expectation alleged opposition on the part of William Jennings Bryan to prohibition. This declaration was made before the Wisconsin state Prohibition convention which convened at Lincoln hall yesterday.

"In 1890," said Mr. Wilson, "Mr. Bryan stumped Nebraska against a Prohibition amendment to the Nebraska constitution, and I have in my possession a copy of a letter from Mr. Bryan to Southern men who desired a plank for Prohibition in the Democratic national platform in which Mr. Bryan declares if his wishes are followed there will be no such plank in the platform. As Mr. Bryan is in control of the Democratic party his platform desires will undoubtedly control in the Democratic national convention and therefore no Prohibition plank can be expected from that convention.

Mr. Wilson said this was the expectation of the Southern delegates who had been looking into the subject. He said he was to leave for the South this evening to confer with some leading Prohibition Democrats there about their support for the Prohibition party if no Prohibition plank were inserted in the Denver platform.

GUN MADE NO NOISE.

Inventor Maxim Gives Demonstration of New Noiseless Weapon.

New York, June 12.—Demonstration of the powers of the new noiseless gun which Hiram Percy Maxim is perfecting was given by the inventor here yesterday. Two large books, which served as a target, were penetrated for a distance of six inches by a discharge of the weapon, without the slightest being made that the bullet had left the rifle. There was a slight click as the trigger was pulled, and the ensuing silence left the impression that the gun had not been discharged.

IS KILLING THE HORSE

Automobile Fast Driving the Horse Out of Common Use.

Valuable Animals Sold in Paris for a Mere Pittance.

Paris, June 12.—"Slowly, but surely, the automobile, which is responsible for the death of many a human being, is also killing the horse." Such has been in substance the dictum recently of many a horse dealer in Paris. An observer might imagine that, as far as cab horses are concerned, other things, such as overwork, want of care, cruelty and starvation are the immediate causes of the poor animal's rapid decline and death. However, Paris horse dealers, for some years past, have looked upon the motor car as the chief danger of all. It was while obtaining facts and figures concerning the prices of automobiles and the status of the horse industry that the observer heard the lamentations of the owners of horses. The very latest garage, one of the newest, and the latest thrown open to the public, where I was obtaining information, had been built on the site of a demolished livery stable. "Do you see?" said a French automobile dealer, "the very latest automobile goes up and the horse goes down."

It was alongside the well-known and long established horse mart of Chert, now overshadowed by a huge garage, and the dealer told me to go and see for myself, as a sale was just going on. The horses of the Paris hunt were passing under the hammer, and they were as fine a lot of hunters as one would wish to see. The first lot sold off was Black Knight, who went for $100. This was not so bad, though I was told that a horse like Black Knight could not be had for less than $1,000 a few years ago. It was, however, one of the highest figures reached. I soon saw a pretty horse called Bory O'More go for only $20, and the price still came down to $10 for a fine brown horse for $15, a fine carriage horse for $15 and another for $8.

"Heaven!" someone exclaimed, "horses of the Paris hunt, which were once sold to ride or drive, given away for $8, $10 and $12!"

"There is the effect of the automobile on our trade," remarked one dealer in despair.

But I was doomed to see still lower records, when a second batch of fine looking cobs and hunters used for riding and hunting, many of them still young and apparently in good condition, was brought under the hammer. Five of them went for less than $100 each. At that rate one could have purchased in Paris a pair of carriage horses with a pedigree for less than $50, and for another $50 or $100 get the carriage into the bargain. If blood stock is sold at such low prices, it would be paid for a common hack or cab horse. Perhaps $25 would be a sufficient price for these out-of-date creatures.

An astonishing scene occurred recently in the Paris trial of a case of commerce. About 150 persons were in court awaiting for the proceedings to begin, when suddenly an eccentric-looking individual, wearing a gown and a hat, took the stand. He was dressed in a loud voice that the court was open. Then, without further ado, he proceeded to abuse people present. Get out your parcel of scoundrels and rascals! Hold your confounded row and so forth. Upon this he began to pitch books, pens, ink-pots and papers at the people in the court. One of the attendants managed to remove the would-be judge from the scene. He was then taken unceremoniously out of the court. While the public and the court room were discussing excitedly the scene, the man reappeared and again sat on the bench. This time it took four policemen to drag him out. At the central police depot, where he was taken, his name was found to be Natall Reinmann, a German subject, aged 40, who was known to be a trouble maker.

Another case of vandalism is reported here, of stupid, idiotic vandalism, the perpetrator of which must either be a fool or a fanatic. It has just been discovered that the fine pictures by M. Albert Besnard, which were the walls of a public building have been deliberately and with some chemical fluid, when and how the pictures were thus illustrated it appears impossible to know. At any rate, it is a consolation to hear that the copies of the pictures were the Ecole de Pharmacie, where the outrage was committed. It need hardly be said the Fine Arts authorities have ordered a strict inquiry to be made into the whole affair, which, following on the previous injury done pictures at the Louvre and at the Luxembourg galleries, has created considerable sensation in the world of art.

Paris detectives are puzzled by a curious case of forged coupons, which were presented to various banks some time ago, to the amount of several thousand dollars and paid. The coupons, all at large, though the engraver who made them for him was known, were, and was able to prove his good faith. A man called for a coupon, gave him a sample of one of the coupons, and asked him to copy it, which he did. The man called for a coupon some time afterwards, and had many shares as he needed printed, from which he detached the coupons. These he then presented at different branch banking establishments in the provinces, where they were accepted as genuine and paid. The forgery, it is said, was not detected until the coupons were presented in London, when an order for the man's arrest was immediately issued. But after taking in all the cash, he took good care to disappear, and no trace of him has been found.

ENGINEER DESERVES MEDAL.

Sidetracks Runaway Train, Thereby Preventing Loss of Life.

Larimore, N. D., June 12.—A disastrous wreck, with probably many fatalities, was averted here through the presence of mind of an engineer of the Great Northern. A car loaded with steel rails broke away at Niagara and went crashing down a steep grade in the direction of the city. As it went along it gained a terrific rate of speed. An engineer here saw the car approaching and hurried to a switch. He turned it and the car thundered into a siding, demolishing boxcars in its path and causing some equipment loss, but there was no loss of life or injury to anyone. A Great Northern passenger train stood on the main line, and had not the engineer acted promptly there might have been great loss of life.

ODD FELLOWS GROWING.

Net Increase in Membership in Minnesota Over 500.

Minneapolis, Minn., June 12.—(Special to The Herald.)—The grand lodge session of the Odd Fellows of Minnesota concluded its session here yesterday.

All the reports indicate growth in membership and prosperity. The net increase in membership is 515, giving the order a total active membership in the state of 13,324.

An amendment to the constitution to reduce the minimum initiation and degree fees was defeated, and they will remain at $20. Several amendments to the constitution of the Daughters of Rebekah were approved at their request.

The salary of A. L. Bolton, who has been grand secretary for twenty-one years, was increased from $1,500 to $1,550 a year. The committee on mileage and per diem reported the aggregate at $3,227.33, which was appropriated.

The election of a grand warden was also on the program, the subordinate lodges failing to elect. The election is limited to the three candidates receiving the highest number of votes. M. H. McDowell, Minneapolis; Herman W. Phillips, St. Paul; and H. E. Garrison, Albert Lea.

The following officers chosen last December were installed at the closing event: Grand master, Charles H. Budd, Montevideo; deputy grand master, George McDermott, Rochester; grand secretary, A. L. Bolton, St. Paul; grand treasurer, C. M. Sprague, Sauk Centre; grand representatives, Winn Powers, St. Paul; George W. Scherer, Mankato.

Election of officers occupied the greater part of the session of the Daughters of Rebekah lodge, the auxiliary in the O. F. W. hall, with the following results: President, Evelyn H. Just, Crookston; vice president, Myrtle Cummings, Minneapolis; warden, Louise Toem, Duluth; secretary, Eunice Melville, Minneapolis; treasurer, Lulu Baker, Kasson. Mrs. Minnie Whittemore, Detroit, Mich., was elected as a member of the executive committee.

FINEST BURIED.

Funeral of Former President of Irish League Occurs at Chicago.

Chicago, June 12.—The funeral of Col. John P. Finerty, former president of the United Irish League of America, took place today at the Church of the Holy Angels. Requiem mass was celebrated by Father Maurice J. Dorney. The funeral sermon was delivered by the Rev. Frank Reynolds of Aurora, Ill. The active pall bearers included Judge Eldridge Hancey, William Dillon, Alexander Sullivan, Dr. John Guerin and P. T. Barry.

Among the honorary pall bearers were Mayor Buss, former Mayor Dunne, Bishop Fallows, Rabbi Hirsch, Gen. W. H. Carter, U. S. A., members of the bench and many prominent business men. Preceding the mass, there were services at the home by the Grand Army of the Republic. The body was escorted to the church by representatives of Irish-American military and civic societies. Interment was at Calvary cemetery.

VITAL QUESTIONS BEFORE SUPREME LODGE, A. O. U. W.

Des Moines, Iowa, June 12.—The first real debate of the Ancient Order of United Workmen occurred yesterday. The question before the supreme lodge is the disposition of the guaranty benefit fund, which the order has accumulated since its inception. The fund, it was pointed out, is used to aid the state grand lodges which are weak because of the small membership. It was over this point that the question arose and was at issue. The debate was brought up in the discussion of the report of the Supreme Master Workman W. M. Norris. The degree of honor superior lodge is awaiting the action of the supreme lodge on the question of relation between the two orders if they proceed further in the work of the convention. The delegates have a new constitution which is to be adopted at this time, but the recommendations that the supreme lodge of the A. O. U. W. has no authority over the other body in its insurance features may in substance change the lodge statutes. A spirited race is on in the Degree of Honor for superior lodge of honor. Frances M. Olson of Minnesota and Mrs. Kasey of Montana are the candidates, and good-natured rivalry is now in evidence.

MAY REALIZE AMBITION.

Francis Joseph Hopes to Unite the Warring Factions.

Vienna, June 12.—The diamond jubilee of Emperor Francis Joseph appears to be unlikely to pass without bringing the aged monarch unusual success in the sphere of Hungarian domestic policy. From a trustworthy source, it is declared that his majesty has personally assisted in bringing about a permanent union and complete fusion between the Hungarian Independent party of M. Kossuth and the so-called 1867 party of Count Andrássy. This action of the monarch is, of course, confined within strictly constitutional limits, and also occurred without direct intervention. It consists in signifying to those politicians, in the first place to the premier, M. Tisza, and the ministers, Kossuth, Andrássy and Zichy, who had undertaken the matter, his desire that they should report progress, emphasizing at the same time that the realization of the project would be cordially welcomed by him.

In reality, the accomplishment of this scheme, even among the various changes of Hungarian policy in the last few days, would be a memorable victory for his majesty and a signal triumph of his ideas, crowning in an effective manner the efforts of his long reign. When the irreconcilable Kossuth party, the Democratic or Constitutional party, the Dunitz or Constitutional party, the Dunitz party then clung to its own program. As the new party is to bear the name of the "1867 Constitutional party," it is clear that the Kossuthites have obliterated those points of their program which insisted upon the entire separation of Austria and Hungary. This also implies that calm will prevail for the next few years upon the army question, the bank question and the common customs. A decision concerning this new compromise will shortly be made, and the Hungarian reichstag must soon debate the question of universal suffrage.

WAITER CHARGED WITH STEALING SILK DRESSES.

Crookston, Minn., June 12.—(Special to The Herald.)—Yesterday a warrant was issued for the arrest of John Olson, formerly waiter, charged with the theft of several silk dresses, waists, skirts, etc., from Mrs. John R. McKinnon. It is alleged that he took them from a closet opening from the hallway into the second floor of the McKinnon block, which is occupied by officers mostly. He has left the city and the police have not located him.

WEST END TO HELP IN CAMPAIGN

Svea Republican Club Will Take Active Part in Politics.

Plans for Banquet Are Made at the Annual Meeting.

Officers to serve during the ensuing year were elected and plans made for a banquet to be held in the near future, at the first annual meeting of the Svea Republican club, which was held last evening in Sloan's hall, Twentieth avenue west and Superior street.

The officers named are the same who have been serving the club since it was organized about three months ago, and the official roster is as follows: Otto Gustafson, president; K. O. Jorgensen, first vice president; John Sundin, second vice president; Andrew Jorgensen, fourth vice president; H. B. Haroldson, fifth vice president; W. A. Anderson, secretary; Charles E. Johnson, assistant secretary; John Carlson, financial secretary; August Loreken, treasurer.

A committee comprising K. A. Osterberg, Alderman Peter Olson and C. E. Johnson was appointed to make arrangements for a banquet. This body will report at a special meeting of the club, to be called soon by the president.

A large number of members were present at the meeting last evening and they all evinced a great interest in the affairs of the club. The membership has been steadily growing since the organization was perfected and the members are going to keep building for now and for all time.

The club plans to take an active part, on the side of Republicanism, during the campaign next fall.

WILL TALK OF SCHOOL.

West End Hillside Improvement Club Wants a New Building.

When the members of the West end Hillside improvement club meet this evening in Alderman Peter Olson's shop, at Twenty-third avenue west and Tenth street, they will burn midnight oil in discussions of the new schoolhouse proposition.

Members of the club and other residents of the hillside want a new building to replace the Horace Mann school, which is a frame structure and considered by them to be no longer safe or fit to house children's classes.

Some time ago the board of education prepared plans for a new schoolhouse, but the board has not yet decided to build the new school until next year, and the old structure will have to be used for two more terms. They are now trying to oppose any further delays.

At the last meeting of the school board, no final action was taken on the proposition, but it is definitely planned to build the new schoolhouse.

ENTERTAINS OLD FRIEND.

Rev. H. K. Madsen Has as Guest Rev. Torgensen of Norway.

Rev. H. K. Madsen, pastor of the First Norwegian-Danish Methodist Episcopal church, is entertaining Rev. Torgensen of Norway. Rev. Torgensen is now making a tour of the country.

Mr. Madsen and Mr. Torgensen are old friends, having known each other years ago in the old country. Mr. Torgensen will remain in Duluth several days, and will probably preach Sunday in the Norwegian-Danish Methodist Episcopal church.

West End Shortfalls.

Barl D. Swenson, who came confined to his bed with pleurisy for the past six weeks, is still in poor health.

1877 imported and liver oil, A. B. Swedberg, 3 E. Sup. St. and 315 W. Sup. St. Mr. and Mrs. John Simons entertained a number of friends at dinner last evening, at their home on Piedmont avenue.

Covers were laid for seven. Emil Ingstrom has returned from La Crosse, Wis., which city he has been making his home for the past year. He expects to go back there after a week's visit with relatives in the West end and a short stay at Minneapolis.

Wednesday at the home of his daughter, 2383 Railroad street, will be held Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock at Grace M. church. Twenty-second avenue west and Third street. Rev. J. R. Davies, the pastor, will conduct the service and the interment will take place at Forest Hill cemetery.

SAVED HARNESS
FROM FLAMESDriver Claims Wise Mule Kept Her Head During Fire.

In the animal hall of fame, along with Black Beauty, Beautiful Joe and Dan Rice's Educated pig, belongs the mule named Jennie, which was the only beast to escape from death in the fire which destroyed the Duluth Brewing & Malting company's stables.

The first accounts of the conflagration chronicled Jennie's escape from the flames, but they failed to include an important part of her act, and it has been left to Charles R. Beatty, who owned and drove Jennie, to tell of her deed.

At the risk of being called a mature faker, or worse, Mr. Beatty, this morning, stoutly maintained that not only had the mule saved herself, but that she had, either by accident or design, saved her harness from the burning stables.

The harness was hanging on a peg just behind the mule's stall. The animal broke the strap which it was tethered in, whirling around it in some way got its head through the harness, and dragged it from the stable. Everything was saved but the collar, according to Mr. Beatty. He does not claim that the mule deliberately planned to save the harness, but at the same time he says that this was possible.

TRAMPS ENTER HOUSE.

Sneak Thieves Steal Provisions and a Gold Watch.
Some time between 11 o'clock last night and 2 o'clock this morning, the home of Herman Falk, Fortieth avenue west and Eighth street, was entered and robbed of a quantity of provisions and a gold watch. At about the same time a sack of potatoes was taken from the rear porch of the house next door.

At Falk's the only things taken were from a cupboard off the kitchen. Aside from the watch, nothing of much value was lost. At the house next door they had been planting potatoes and had left a sack of them out over night. The West Duluth police believe that it was the work of tramps.

FULL RESULTS NOT KNOWN.

"Stalwarts" in South Dakota Claim Congressman and Treasurer.
Sioux Falls, S. D., June 12.—The result of Tuesday's primaries in South Dakota are not definitely known, particularly so far as state treasurer and congressman are concerned. "Stalwart" Republicans today vigorously claim they have nominated one of their candidates for congress and that George J. Johnson "Stalwart" candidate for state treasurer has won over State Treasurer Cassill, his "insurgent" opponent.

"Insurgents" admit Cassill has fallen behind his ticket, and probably is beaten in his candidacy for re-nomination, but declare both their candidates for congress have pulled through. Late returns give Governor Crawford, "insurgent" candidate for United States senator a majority of 2,719 over United States Senator Kittredge.

MANY CASES
CONTINUEDCourt Finds It Difficult to Get a Case For Trial.

Attempts to secure a case for trial by the jury in Judge Cant's room this morning proved unsuccessful, although quite a hole was made in the calendar through continuances. The civil action of the Butte & Superior Copper company against John McAlpine was continued until this afternoon with the prospect of a further continuance. Case No. 215 was continued over the term and stays of twenty and forty days were granted in cases No. 221 and 121. The case of John Armstrong against the county board was called for this morning, but as County Attorney Norton is engaged in a criminal trial this, too, had to be continued. Armstrong, the county's former road commissioner, is suing the county for $567 for the care of the county jail for three years, 1894 to 1896. The county demurred to the complaint, but the district court overruled the same and the supreme court sustained the order. The case was started in 1895.

Case Is Dismissed.

The suit instituted by Mrs. Lucy De Bow against the estate of her mother, Mrs. Elizabeth Stevens, for $149 for services rendered during the latter's illness, was dismissed from the district court yesterday on stipulations of the parties interested. Hazen Stevens had a counter claim to offset Mrs. De Bow's claim in the way of rental for the house occupied by the latter. The matter first came up in the probate court and was taken to the district court on an appeal. A settlement has been reached among the heirs to the estate.

Business Picking Up.

According to G. A. Sherwood, general agent of the Wisconsin Central railway, who has just returned from Chicago, the Windy City is doubtful over industrial and financial matters, and appears to be waiting for either the West or the East to take a decisive step toward a definite restoration of the business affairs of the country. He says railroad earnings are picking up rapidly.

Arthur Wurtzler and will be the principal speaker at the third anniversary service of the pro-cathedral parish, to be held Sunday morning at 10 o'clock at the pro-cathedral. Archdeacon Lord is one of the most prominent Episcopalians in the Northwest, and is quite well known in Duluth and elsewhere in the Northwest.

Window Displays.

Arthur Dean of Chicago is in Superior this week, putting in window displays for the windows of many of the local grocery stores which handle the goods.

He Likes Duluth.

Axel Wilhelmson, an attaché of the Norwegian embassy at Washington, D. C., was in the city yesterday and was a guest of County Auditor Halden. Wilhelmson is making a tour of the United States before returning to Norway where he has been summoned for military service. After serving the time required by the laws of his country he will again take up diplomatic service. Mr. Wilhelmson was taken for a ride about the harbor and up the St. Louis river. He expressed himself as very much pleased with the city.

The Duluth local of the Public Ownership party will hold its regular meeting Sunday evening at 7:30 p. m. at the Socialist hall, 104 West Second street. After the business session there will be a discussion on the question of prohibition. All visitors may take part in the debate which is open to the public.

Look for Tills Myers.

The police are trying to locate the Empire Bureau of Records of Chicago to locate Tills Myers, formerly of Duluth, who is supposed to be living in Duluth. The bureau claims to have information of advantage to give him.

Charge Theft of Oats.

Elmer Moe and Frank Kostner were arrested this morning on the charge of selling several sacks of oats from a grocery store on East Fourth street, and from Heinberg's barn on lower Lake avenue. Their hearing was set for this afternoon.

Directors Meet.

The weekly meeting of the board of directors of the Commercial club business came before the board.

Mr. Tripp was 59 years of age and was well known in Minneapolis, where he was in the contracting business for several years. He is survived by a widow and one son. The funeral will be held in Minneapolis this afternoon.

Near Its End.

The murder trial of the state against David Matich may reach the jury late this afternoon. If the state and the defense are unable to present their arguments today the case will probably be called by Monday morning. It is understood that the next criminal case to be called for trial will be that of the state against Louis Roth of Chicago, who is charged with the murder of a woman for fraudulently selling several foreign cars at the last village election.

Will Play Coppers.

Final arrangements are being made today for a ball game next Saturday afternoon between the courthouse team and the policemen. The game will be played on the city team's grounds in the West end, and Arundson and Oppel will be the battery for the courthouse team.

NEW BRIDGESteamer Wilpin Grazes
End of the Interstate Draw Span.Cribwork Knocked Down and Draw is Slightly Bent.

The work of years, watched anxiously by the suffering people of Duluth and Superior, was almost undone this afternoon, when the steamer Wilpin took a crack at the new draw of the interstate bridge and nearly knocked it over once again.

The draw, which was tipped into the stream by the steamer two years ago, is being reconstructed in an open position, the end being supported by crib work until the bridge can be swung for the construction of the permanent piers.

The Wilpin was being towed from Superior by the tug, Inman, and was bound for the upper harbor.

The Inman went through the channel, but the Wilpin missed fire in making the turn and her nose went into the end of the bridge, just grazing it. The force of the impact was only slight, but the crib work went down to the bottom of the bay and the end of the bridge was bent.

Just how serious the accident was isn't known yet, but it is not believed it will retard the construction of the bridge very much.

FARMER'S DESIRE TO DIE HAS BEEN GRATIFIED.

Thief River Falls, Minn., June 12.—(Special to The Herald.)—Lars Elstrom, the Plummer farmer who attempted suicide last week and was brought to the city hospital in Thief River Falls, succumbed to the self-inflicted wounds yesterday. He was a single man and claimed he had nothing to live for.

TRAITOR DEGRADED.

Toulon, June 12.—A pitiable spectacle, the degradation of the traitor, Charles E. Ulino, formerly a naval officer, occurred at St. Roch Square here today, in the presence of an enormous crowd. Ensign Ulino was arrested at Toulon last October, charged with being a spy.

SEALS ON ANCIENT RINGS.

Quiver: Among the rings found in ancient Egyptian tombs are many which erudite archaeologists ascribe to a period slightly anterior to the Deluge. This, however, is debatable ground—the receptive morass of conjecture rather than the solid earth of fact. But we feel the latter beneath our feet when viewing the massive cold Egyptian signet rings with revolving cylindrical bezels of indolent metal bearing a host of fads or of certain rings bearing in full relief, the form of the Pharaohs in full relief.

The former represent the primitive seal, as when the Israelites were banded into the desert, the Pharaohs were built; the latter the prototypes of the modern fellaheen when Solomon was in his glory. In neither case is the workmanship marvellous, the "green hand" being plain, very visible; skill in design and execution

NO NOMINATION ON FIRST BALLOT

Prediction Made By the "Allies" After a Long Conference.

Chicago, June 12.—The following "stand pat" statement was given out today at the headquarters of the "allies":
"A conference was held this morning between representatives of all the candidates for the presidency, except Taft. It was unanimously decided to continue the fight all along the line until the convention shall have made nomination."
"From reports received from delegates who are one the ground, as well as from those who are on their way from all parts of the country, we are convinced that no nomination will be made on the first ballot."

THOSE WHO HAVE PASSED BEYOND

Utica, N. Y., June 12.—Rev. Dr. George E. Merrill, president of Colgate university, died at his home in Hamilton last night. Dr. Merrill was born in Charleston, Mass., Dec. 19, 1844. He had been the president of Colgate since 1899.
Mount Vernon, N. Y., June 12.—Col. William Lee Stone of Yale university, died here yesterday, aged 75 years.
Providence, R. I., June 12.—William Davis Ely, the oldest alumnus of Yale university and a member of the class of 1880, died at his home here yesterday.

Death resulted from heart failure, Mr. Ely was 93 years old.
Boston, June 12.—Quincy A. Shaw, well known in mining and financial circles, and who was prominently identified with Chalmet & Hecla, died at his home in Jamaica Plain today. He was 56 years old.

NINE WORKMEN KILLED BY DYNAMITE EXPLOSION.

Winnipeg, Man., June 12.—A premature explosion of dynamite, which occurred late yesterday afternoon, at Chambers Bros' camp east of here on the Grand Trunk Pacific railroad, killed nine members of the station gang and injured several others.
SEILLS PROMISING COLT. Crookston, Minn., June 12.—(Special to The Herald.)—W. S. Lyman of this city has sold his fast 3-year-old trotter, Harry Shaw, to S. Birch, the Fargo contractor. Harry Shaw took the 2:45 trot at the Fargo race meet Tuesday in straight heats. The sale price was $3,100. Shaw is the most promising colt in the valley stables.

RAILROADS WILL HELP BOTH CITIES

New Service to Winnipeg
Will Boom Tourist Business.

The First Through Train
Will be Run
Sunday.

The inauguration of the new service to Winnipeg promises to greatly increase passenger traffic to this city. The opening of the through route from the Manitoba capital to Duluth will result in a great number of Canadian and Eastern tourists passing through this city. Winnipeg is the gateway for the tourist traffic from Eastern Canada, and with a direct route from Winnipeg to the Head of the Lakes, it is safe to predict that Duluth will receive much of the passenger business that has formerly been routed over other lines.

C. W. Kiewit, traffic manager of the Duluth, Missabe & Northern, has returned from Winnipeg and reports that the business men of Winnipeg are greatly pleased over the opening of the new line. They realize, says Mr. Kiewit, that the link between the Head of the Lakes and Winnipeg means an increase in business for both cities. Many of the tourists reaching here from a trip of the lakes will go to Winnipeg over the new line, while many of the tourists bound for Winnipeg from the East will come to Duluth. Increased tourist business seems assured for both cities, according to passenger officials.

The new train will leave Duluth daily at 3:50 each afternoon. It will reach Winnipeg at 9:15 the next morning. It will leave Winnipeg at 4:15 each afternoon, arriving at Duluth at 10:30 a. m. Leaving Duluth in the afternoon, dinner will be served before Winnipeg is reached the following morning. On the round trip, dinner will be served shortly after the train leaves Winnipeg, while breakfast will be served before the train arrives at Duluth.

A through sleeper will make the trip each day, so that passengers who leave Duluth can retire to awake near the capital of Manitoba. Every convenience will be installed on the new train and every effort will be made for the comfort of the passengers. The fare will be $9 for one trip and $17 for the round trip. The distance is 374 miles, which is less than the mileage over any other line from this city to Winnipeg. The new line is the shortest line to Winnipeg, the most direct, and the time of leaving Duluth and arriving at Winnipeg has been arranged with a view of giving the man who has business to conduct in Winnipeg time to finish his business and take the afternoon train for Duluth.

Quite a few reservations have already been made for the initial trip of the new train, Sunday.

RATE IS LEGAL.

Interstate Commerce Commission
Sustains Charge on Pulp Wood.

Washington, June 12.—That the reduced 65-cent rate on pulpwood from Duluth, Minn., to Rhinelander, Wis., is not excessive and that the rate is justified on papers from Rhinelander to points east of the Mississippi river, whereby Rhinelander is charged with the cost of the trip to the river, was the decision of the Interstate Commerce commission today. The decision was in the case of the Rhinelander Paper Co. v. the Duluth, Missabe & Northern Pacific and Chicago, Northwestern railways. The pulpwood was reduced from 80 cents while the proceeding was pending.

Many Excursionists.

More than 600 people will leave over the Duluth, South Shore & Atlantic coast line tomorrow for the excursion down the lake. The train connects at St. Ignace with the steamers of the Detroit & Cleveland Navigation company, and the tickets for the trip to the coast are transportation both on the lake boats and the trains.

Cheap Rates.

From the inquiry received at local ticket offices, it is certain that a great many people are going to take advantage of the low rates to the Republican national convention, which will be held in Chicago, June 17.

The tickets are good for a stop-over until June 30, and as the rate is on the basis of a fare-and-a-half for the round trip, many Duluth people have planned to go to the Windy City when the low rates are placed in effect. The ticket sale will open June 12.

Conditions Improved.

Word received here today states that the worst of the washouts in the Montana district are over. It is believed that the Northern Pacific will be able to reestablish its regular train service next week, while the work of repairing the damage done to the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul line has been nearly completed. It is believed that all connections with the Pacific coast will be re-established within a few days.

Wabash Agent Here.

George Lovell, Northwestern passenger agent of the Wabash, was in Duluth today on passenger business in connection with his road.

GOT OFF EASY.

Prisoner's Confession Saved Him
Twenty Days on Sentence.

Joe Pelt's confession of guilt saved him $15 or twenty days in the county jail this afternoon.

Pelt and Malcolm Stewart were arrested on the charge of stealing several sacks of oats from Heimback's barn. Pelt pleaded guilty and was fined $10 and costs. Stewart denied all knowledge of the affair, but was tried and found guilty. Judge Cutting sentenced him to pay a fine of $25 and costs or spend thirty days in jail.

CANNOT BE CANDIDATE

Governor Johnson Says
He Could Not Accept Renomination.

Would Not Accept Even If Unanimously Tendered Him.

St. Paul, Minn., June 12.—(Special to The Herald.)—The following statement was given out by Governor Johnson today:

"The statement made by Mr. Day, to the effect that I would not again be a candidate for the office of governor, is correct in every particular. Under no circumstances will I be a candidate for renomination. Not only will I not be a candidate, but I would not accept a nomination if it were unanimously tendered me. I appreciate the signal distinction which has been conferred upon me by the Democratic party and the people of Minnesota in two nominations and two elections to this office, and I am not unmindful of the obligation which I owe to the people of this commonwealth, but I do not believe in the third term principle as applied to the office of governor, and I am influenced in this decision by considerations generally which would make it impossible for me to arrive at any other conclusion.

My reason for making this statement at this time is that there may be no political embarrassments because of any indecision as to my position. The party which has honored me in the past is entitled to know my position, in order that it may devote itself to the nomination of a ticket, unhampered by a feeling that possibly I might at a later day become a candidate. The party is rich in material and has a number of men who would make strong and available candidates for this and every other state office, and who would not only command the support and confidence of the people in a campaign, but would, I am sure,

QUIETEST DAYS BEFORE A CONVENTION EVER KNOWN TO THE PEOPLE OF CHICAGO

Party Leaders and Sight-seers Eagerly Await Marching Clubs.

Many of the Hotels of City Still Have Vacant Rooms.

J. B. Cotton to Nominate Kellogg for Vice Presidency.

Chicago, June 13.—The quietest ante-convention days Chicago has ever known in its long history of political gatherings have marked the week which closes tonight, and party leaders and sight-seers alike are looking forward eagerly and anxiously for the advent of the marching clubs, which in the past have added picturesque interest to the assembling of party camps from all sections of the country. The arrival of important state delegations has quickened to an appreciable degree the extraordinary slack pace at which events in the convention city have been moving. Fewer of the party-uniformed marching clubs are expected this year than at any recent convention of the Republican party.

AN IMPORTANT PATENT DECISION

Combination of Metals to Produce an Alloy Not Patentable.

New York, June 13.—A decision of far-reaching importance, involving the question as to whether or not combination of metals in the production of alloys lies within the scope of patent laws, has just been entered in the United States district court for New Jersey after five years of litigation. The validity of a patent on a process of making an alloy capable of holding up within itself a given quantity of lead previously impossible without the use of nickel, was the subject of contention. This alloy is used principally for the journal bearings and engine castings. The owners of the patent began suit in 1903, alleging an infringement of the patent right. The contention of the plaintiff was upheld by the United States district court of New Jersey, but this decision later was reversed on appeal by the Brady Brass company and the claim of the plaintiff declared to be invalid by the United States circuit court of appeals on the ground that "the claims for novelty of invention were all known and well understood by the trade long before the application for patent."

WARSHIPS WILL RACE

British Battleships to Race Across the Atlantic Ocean.

Prize of Honor for Ship Making the Best Time.

(Special Cable by Henry Abernethy.) London, June 13.—For the first time in history three modern battleships will run a race across the Atlantic ocean when the prince of Wales goes to Canada next month.

The battleships picked to accompany the prince on his trip will start from here several days ahead of the cruise, indomitable, which will convey his royal highness across the Atlantic, and will endeavor to break all trans-Atlantic records for heavily armed vessels, a prize of honor to be awarded to the ship which makes the best time.

DEMOCRATIC PARTY HAS SEVERAL MEN WHO COULD WIN THE GOVERNORSHIP

Leaders Not Downcast Because Johnson Will Not Run Again.

Party Very Rich in Orators for the Next Campaign.

Jacobson People Sanguine of Getting Republican Nomination.

St. Paul, Minn., June 13.—(Special to The Herald.)—The political discussion has turned to the announcement that Governor Johnson will under no circumstances be a candidate for another term as governor. The Republicans hailed the announcement with glee for they have known well that Johnson is more popular and as hard to defeat as he was two years ago, and for this reason the Republican candidates for governor have not made a strenuous fight for the nomination. The nomination would be an honor to any man, but as long as it did not mean an election they did not consider it worth fighting for, and that has to a great extent been the cause of the apathy among the candidates.

The Democratic leaders, and others who know the situation well, have not taken this view of the situation. For, if it is not known everywhere, it is known to the leaders that the Democratic party has four or possibly five men who would make a marvelous run and defeat a man of Jacobson's stamp. Therefore the Democrats at the capital are feeling as chipper as they ever did.

Nationality issues may enter into this campaign before it is over. If Jacobson is nominated the Norwegians will have their full share of the good things, for if it is not known everywhere, it is known to the leaders that the Democratic party has four or possibly five men who would make a marvelous run and defeat a man of Jacobson's stamp.

"TAG DAY" AT WASHINGTON

School Children Getting Funds for the Playground Society.

Washington, June 13.—(Special to The Herald.)—It is certainly an unlucky day for the Washington man or woman who does not happen to have a bit of small change about the house. It is what is known here as "tag day."

All the children of the schools and parents, are engaged in gathering funds for the playground association. Although Washington probably has more open spaces in the form of parks, so called "government reservations," than any other city in the country these breathing spaces do not seem adequate because there are certain police restrictions thrown about them in the nature of shop worn signs: "Keep Off the Grass."

PUBLICLY DEGRADED

French Officer Who Was Stripped of Insignia of Rank.

Two Tragedies in Toulon as Result of Corsican Vendetta.

(Special Cable by Raoul de Saint Rene.)

Paris, June 13.—Yesterday, France once more witnessed the sad spectacle of seeing a French officer, this time a lieutenant of the navy, publicly degraded and stripped of all the insignia of his rank for having attempted to sell to foreign power plans of French fortifications.

No similar act has taken place in France since the day when the sword of Capt. Dreyfus, an innocent man, was broken in two and the famous martyr sent to his solitary prison on Devil's Island. This time there is no doubt about the guilt of the disgraced officer, Lieut. Ulmo, for he himself confessed his guilt and begged to be shot rather than go through the terrible ordeal which awaited him, as a result of his falling

MAY DEPORT THE HINDUS

One Thousand in British Columbia May be Sent to India.

Seattle, Wash., June 13.—One thousand and Hindu residents of British Columbia will be deported to India if the plan of W. L. MacKenzie King, deputy minister of labor for the province, is approved by the dominion government. He claims that there are 1,000 East Indians in Vancouver, New Westminster and vicinity out of work and who are living by begging.

Of this number 300 are willing to be deported. Under the law the minister of labor has the necessary authority to order the deportation of the other 700. If the deportation plan is carried out the Canadian Pacific railway, whose steamers landed the immigrants in Canada, will be required to carry them back to Hongkong. Mr. King's plan is to have the dominion government pay the cost of transportation from Hongkong to India.

Members of the church met last Wednesday night at Summit hall, decided to purchase this site, which will cost $20,000. CALEB POWERS AND JAMES HOWARD SET FREE BY ACT OF KENTUCKY'S GOVERNOR CALEB POWERS, Twice Sentenced to Death, Released by Order of Governor.

GOVERNOR WILLSON of Kentucky, Who Has Pardoned Caleb Powers and James Howard.

Pardoned by Executive and Released From Penitentiary.

Were Held as Accessories to Murder of Governor Goebel.

Powers Had Twice Been Sentenced to Death for the Crime.

Frankfort, Ky., June 13.—By announcing the pardon today of Caleb Powers and James Howard, Governor Willson closed the last chapter in one of the most noted criminal cases in the history of this state, in which one of the people of all sections of the United States have formally expressed their interest by signing the petitions for pardon.

In the closing days of January, eight years ago, while the contest of William Goebel for the gubernatorial seat, occupied by William S. Taylor was being heard, Goebel was shot, dying later from his wound. The shot was believed to have come from a half open window of the secretary of state's office, and as Caleb Powers was then filling that position, suspicion was at once directed toward him, and his arrest followed.

Four times Powers has been put on trial for his life on the charge of complicity in the murder, the first three trials resulting in conviction and sentence, death being the penalty in two trials.

On the fourth trial, which came after the case had been carried to the United States court, being finally appealed to the supreme court, which turned it back to the state courts, the jury disagreed and thereupon the efforts for a pardon for Powers, as well as for James Howard, who had been convicted some years ago on the charge of complicity, were renewed.

Many hundreds of thousands of signatures of people of all parties and all sections were appended to the petition.

Seattle, Wash., June 13.—Guy C. Stratton, prominent clubman and lumberman, whom a jury convicted on May 16 of manslaughter on the charge of having run over and killed 7-year-old Henrietta Johnson while speeding his automobile on Sunday, Jan. 25, has been sentenced by Judge Frater of the superior court to an indeterminate term of from one to twenty years in the state penitentiary and to pay a fine of $500. This is the first conviction for manslaughter under the provision of the state automobile law. The defense gave notice of an appeal.

PROSPECT IS GLOOMY

Kaw River is Again Rising Rapidly at Kansas City.

The Mississippi Has Risen Six Inches at St. Louis.

Kansas City, June 13.—Kansas City this morning is confronted with the gloomy prospect of a flood situation tomorrow, worse than that which prevailed Thursday, when it was thought that the crest of the overflow of the waters of the Kaw water shed had reached here and that normal conditions would follow in a few days. An other extremely heavy rain fell last night in Eastern Kansas and Western Missouri, and the Kaw river, which had been receding until midnight, began rapidly to rise again at this point. The movement of people back to their homes has stopped.

St. Louis, June 13.—The flood of the Mississippi river measured 31.2 feet this morning, a rise of half a foot since yesterday morning.

The high water has not entered East St. Louis, although seepage water has filled several small low areas in the city.

BRAKEMAN SAVES CHILD

Employee on Puget Sound Railroad Makes a Daring Rescue.

Seattle, Wash., June 13.—Frank Manfold, a brakeman on the coast Puget Sound railroad, yesterday made a thrilling rescue near Benton and saved a girl baby from being crushed under the wheels of a construction train. The engineer saw an object on the track, but did not realize that it was a baby until too late to stop. Brakeman Manfold crawled out upon the pilot and managed with great effort to swing himself far enough in advance of the engine to pick up the little one by her skirt. In another second the train passed over the spot where the little one had been toddling about the track.

CALUMET VALUATION LESS.

Slump of About $15,000,000 Reported This Year.

Calumet, Mich., June 13.—(Special to The Herald.)—It is estimated that the assessed valuation of property in Calumet this year will be $42,000,000. This is a slump of $15,000,000 over last year's valuation. The decrease, it is stated, is due to the depreciation in the values of mining stocks. Of the $42,000,000 valuation, $3,000,000 is on personal property and $34,000,000 is on real estate, which includes the Calumet & Hecla, Wolverine, North and South Kearsarge, Centennial and other mining properties.

LABOR REPORTS OF DELEGATES

Union Men Return From State Convention at Winona.

Officers of Ladies' Label League Elected for Coming Year.

As many of the delegates to the convention of the State Federation of Labor had not returned from Winona, where the convention was held during the first four days of this week, last night's regular meeting of the assembly was a quiet one and little business was taken up. In the absence of President Henry Perrault, M. J. Harney was elected temporary chairman.

Several new delegates to the assembly presented their credentials and were admitted after taking the oath. The new delegates are Edgar T. Hughes, E. A. Smith, George Webster, Antonio Zyramanski, William Mahoney, M. B. Nelson, John Noble and Gust Johnson.

E. P. Peters, secretary of the assembly, and who was one of the five delegates to the state convention, announced that at the next meeting he would have a complete report of the convention prepared. In speaking of the convention, Mr. Peters said that it was the most harmonious and enthusiastic one he had ever attended, and that where lights "between different factions were feared, everything was carried through smoothly. He said that the Duluth delegation was among the largest there, there being over thirty delegates from this city.

"Mr. McEwen's report was most complete and who was one of the five delegates to the state convention, announced that at the next meeting he would have a complete report of the convention prepared. In speaking of the convention, Mr. Peters said that it was the most harmonious and enthusiastic one he had ever attended, and that where lights "between different factions were feared, everything was carried through smoothly. He said that the Duluth delegation was among the largest there, there being over thirty delegates from this city.

Both Mr. Howley and Mr. McEwen were re-elected without any difficulty, and through the women delegates Mr. Howley was presented with a watch, showing their appreciation of his services.

All of the delegates from the trades assembly attended the convention, except Joseph Miller, who was unable to go, his place was taken by Alternate Joseph Shartel. Next year the twenty-seventh annual convention will be held at Red Wing.

P. G. Phillips, who was delegate to the convention from his local said: "Duluth was the only city where the women delegates except the St. Paul garment workers, who sent one towards the end of the convention. The convention was a most orderly affair, there was no drunkenness, which proves we are not a bunch of drunkards as our enemies would have it believed."

"All the orators are not in the East, we have some up in this country, and many addresses that were made from the floor at the convention were brilliant."

Thomas L. Edwards of Superior reported that the conditions there are not what they should be.

"The fight for the open shop is being waged hard, and the conditions are none too good for us, though we are strong and I am sure will eventually win out."

The co-operative store planned by the Ladies' Independent Union league, is fast taking definite shape. Last night at a meeting of the league, the first steps towards the organization of a stock company were taken.

Shares of stock in the store, which will be a general one, will be sold at $5, until $5,000 is raised. The league is not alone in this movement, as it has several of the unions with them, who are anxious to see such a store established.

The following officers were re-elected for the coming year last night: President, Mrs. W. A. Warnecke; vice president, Mrs. William O'Brady; treasurer, Mrs. R. E. Barrows; financial secretary, Mrs. R. H. Schmale; recording secretary, Miss Ida Stephens; inside guard, Mrs. Thompson; trustees, Mrs. Willard McCullum and Mrs. George LaLone.

SUMMER SCHOOL FOR DULUTH BOYS

Manual Training Classes Conducted by the Women's Council.

The opening session of the summer school of manual training will be held at the manual training rooms of the Central high school at 9 o'clock next Monday morning. The school has been opened under the auspices of the Women's Council, and George Gregory, assistant in manual training on the high school faculty, has been engaged as instructor.

Boys of 12 years and older will be admitted to the school, which is planned primarily for those boys who would otherwise spend the summer without profitable employment of any kind. Children from any part of the city are eligible to attend, and arrangements have been made for four classes daily.

This will make it possible to provide for eighty pupils, and as so many boys have signified their desire to attend, it is probable that the first eighty to apply will be enrolled.

The boys are requested to go to the First avenue entrance east entrance of the school, and to go into the basement entrance. Owing to the limited number of boys who can be accommodated, the committee members desire that those boys who have Boat club memberships, or who are actively engaged in Y. M. C. A. work, will not spot in their street clothes who have no entertainment or employment for the summer may be the ones benefited.

Parents who desire their sons to attend the school are requested to send them Monday morning, at 9 o'clock.

HILLSIDE PEOPLE ARE WROUGHT UP

Improvement Club Says Harsh Things About School Board.

Nearly every member of the board of education, except the two hailing from the West end, was criticized, and some of them harshly, at the meeting of the West End Hillside Improvement club, held in Peter Peterson's shop, Twenty-third avenue west and Tenth street, last evening.

The wrath of the hillside residents results from the failure of the board of education to take any action to replace the school board, which has been in existence for a number of years.

A number of the club members, including the president, Alderman Peter Olson, attended the last meeting of the school board and argued for a new building for their district. The fact that all of the directors did not seem favorably disposed toward the new school house stirred up the West enders and when it was decided to postpone action until a special meeting of the board which has not yet been called, they were quite angry.

Displeasure made itself evident at the meeting of the Hillside club last evening. President Olson told his fellow members that everything was moving along nicely and that there was every indication that the new Horace Mann school would be built, until J. L. Washburn returned to the city and then everything was changed.

The Horace Mann school has been condemned by the building inspector and the fire chief, but I will not send my children there any more and I know a number of others who won't," said Mr. Olson.

There were a number of other speakers. W. Nordquist was in favor of engaging an attorney and bringing the district of a new school into the courts, if the board was disposed to delay their structure.

Others held about the same views on the entire situation. The West enders will find out when the special meeting of the school board will be held and will have a large delegation on hand to represent them.

HARD FIGHT ON LICENSE

Seventh Ward Prohibitionists Try to Close Oneota Saloon.

Other Important Matters Will Come Before the Council.

Petitions both for and against the renewal of the Carpenter Bros' saloon license in Oneota will be before the council meeting next Monday night. The prohibitionists, led by Bert N. Wheeler, are preparing to put up a big fight on the proposition, and the Carpenters are determined to put up an equally strong fight. Everybody in the district has been approached by the petitioners.

A substitute garbage ordinance, in place of the one presented by Mayor Haven, will come up for consideration at the meeting. Probably a general sidewalk resolution will be adopted. The board of public works has recommended that $20,000 to $30,000 worth of sidewalks be built in Duluth this summer, and their recommendations will be read Monday.

It is considered likely that the full amount will not be allowed, but the appropriation will be a large one, nevertheless.

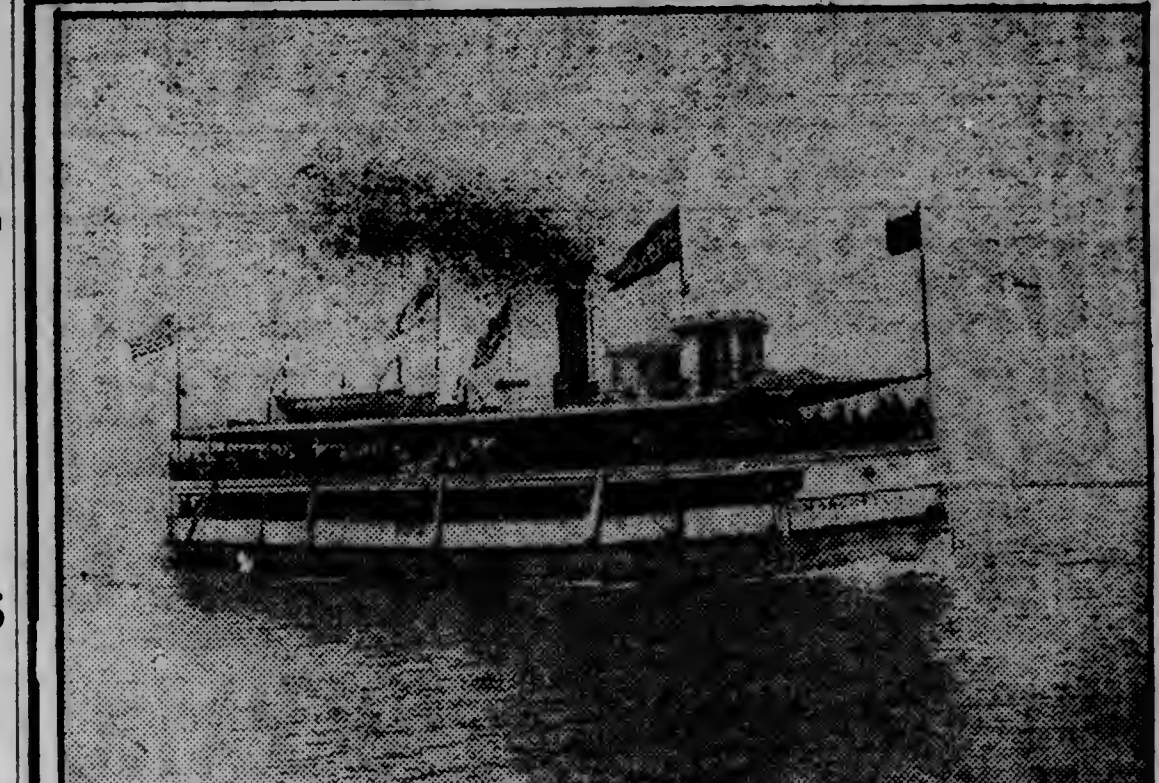

Several saloon licenses will be up for renewal. It is expected the police and license committee will report on the Hollen license. The bartender in the Christopher saloon on Lake avenue has been cited to appear and explain why he sold beer on Sunday in a room over the saloon.

There may be a committee report on changing the boundaries of election precincts in Duluth. All precincts in the city outside the Third, Fourth and Fifth wards will be affected.

lice and the vigilance of the officers of the law in causing arrests. During the last few weeks many prominent auto enthusiasts have been haled into court and fined for going faster in their machines than the law allows, and some of them have been obliged to face judges more than once to answer charges of fast driving.

Some of the automobile owners aver they are getting the worst of it, that the local ordinances are unjust and should be amended, while others—mostly those who have not been arrested—declare that conditions are all right, and that their brethren of the autos who have been arrested and fined, got their just deserts.

"Ninety-five per cent of the prejudice of the people toward automobilists is born of jealousy," said one motorist today.

It seems to me that the automobilists should take these arrests home to themselves and ponder on them," said another autoist, who does not think the auto owners are being abused in Duluth. "I have never been arrested, and I have as much fun as anybody with my car. If I evade the law I want to be arrested."

SAULT STE. MARIE MAN MAY SUCCEED MR. WHITE.

Sault Ste. Marie, Mich., June 13.—Friends of Chase S. Osborn in the upper peninsula are confident he will be appointed regent of the state university by Governor Warner to succeed the late Peter White of Marquette. Yesterday over 1,000 letters urging his appointment were sent to the capital from Chippewa county alone, together with petitions from graduates and undergraduates of the university. A movement will be organized all over the peninsula to the same end.

Governor Warner was accompanied by Mr. Osborn on his trip through the county in the primary campaign for re-election as governor, his fourth meeting being held here last night.

CALEB POWERS AND HOWARD SET FREE

tions that poured in on Governor Wilson, and for several weeks that official has been considering the case. His decision was made known today in the shape of a formal statement of the fact, and his reasons therefor.

Governor's Statement.

Governor Wilson gave out the reason for pardoning Caleb Powers and James B. Howard as follows:

"Application has been made to the governor for the pardon of Caleb Powers, who stands charged by indictment found in the Franklin circuit court and afterwards transferred on change of venue, to the Scott circuit court, with the crime of being accessory before the fact to the willful murder of William Goebel. The application is supported by petitions recommending the pardon of the accused, signed by nearly 50,000 persons, some 34,000 Kentuckians, and a large proportion are Democrats.

Expected to Be Criticized.

"It is not likely that at any time during my term of office I shall be called ed up on to decide matters of greater importance than those presented by the applications for pardon of Caleb Powers and James B. Howard. I have given to their consideration the most careful, conscientious and thorough investigation and thought in my power. I realize that whatever my decision may be it will be harshly criticized. For more than eight years this group of cases has held the attention of the whole state and, indeed, of the whole country, as no cases in this state ever did before.

"The murder of Senator Goebel destroyed a remarkable life, brought the deepest grief to his family and thousands of friends who loved him, overthrew a whole state election, destroyed the peace and good feeling of the state for eight years, set neighbor against neighbor, made politics almost war, stained the good name of Kentucky and shocked the civilized world. There was and is no shadow of excuse or palliation for this base crime. There can be no mercy for anyone guilty of the murder or of aiding or abetting it, but the more grave the crime, the more serious in the responsibility of deciding the question of guilt and the more imperative the duty of guarding against injustice and wrong imposed upon the pressure of public excitement, passion or prejudice.

No Secrecy Allowed.

"I have not heard nor considered, but have refused to consider any private or secret request or appeal in either of these cases, and have without exception, required that all of the proceedings should be heard publicly in the presence of representatives of both sides so that all should know everything to which any weight was given for or against the applications, and that all the world should have a chance to judge that the reasons for the decision were just and righteous.

"The conditions which existed when the murder was committed baffled description and have never since, years, seem incredible. The bitter struggle in the election of the Republican state officers and the issue of the certificates of election to them by the members of the state election board, all three being Democrats."

QUET WEEK IN POLITICS

Miller-Bede Contest Most Interesting Feature at Present Time.

County Shows Lukewarm Sentiment in Favor of Jacobson.

Little of political interest has developed during the past week. Two candidates filed—R. E. Stevens for sheriff and N. F. Hugo for the legislature—but it was generally known that both Mr. Hugo and Mr. Stevens would file sooner or later.

The Miller-Bede contest for congress is exciting the most talk in political circles. That the Eighth district is going to have the pleasure of witnessing one of the most exciting contests in its history seems probable. Mr. Bede is expected in Duluth Tuesday, having left Washington. He will make a brief stop in Chicago and from there will hurry to the field of his political labors.

It is said that Congressman Bede would have been in Duluth long ago, but important work that came after the adjournment of the house, necessitated his presence in Washington. It is stated that the congressman communicated the information to a friend in Duluth that he was well aware of the fight that he had on his hands, and that he was anxious to get into the district and begin the work of getting into close touch with the voters.

In connection with the Bede campaign, it was rumored today that Bryon G. Segoy would be the man at the helm of the Bede forces. Mr. Segoy is known as a man of tremendous energy, and he has a host of friends in the county.

A prominent politician, and a man well versed in the affairs of the Eighth district, yesterday stated that in his opinion the candidate area captured by St. Louis county by a good majority would be returned a winner. He pointed out that St. Louis county has half of the votes of the district, and that the battle would be fought out here.

At the present stage of the contest, it looks as if there will be a "reign of terror" in the coming contest. It is known that a large number of officeholders and men who have formerly held office, are disposed to knock Mr. Bede. These are the men who have formerly worked in the interest of the congressman, but it is rumored that he has incurred their enmity—their enmity by his refusal to support them in the election of 1904, and that they will leave no stone unturned to defeat him for re-election.

On the other hand, it is stated by well informed residents of the political sentiment of the district, that many voters who opposed the last election of Mr. Bede, will lend their support to his campaign this fall. The reason for this, it is stated, is that these voters are in favor of retaining a congressman who has become acquainted with the ropes of the ship of state, and that they are also of the opinion that Mr. Bede has received some unjust criticism at the hands of a clique of disappointed voters.

One thing all politicians agree upon. They are unanimous in the opinion that the Republican ticket, headed by a fine tooth comb by both candidates; that neither will overlook any opportunity to attack the other, and that the district will be treated to a fine line of oratory.

No material change has occurred in the local sentiment regarding the head of the Republican ticket. Jacobson leads the active candidates, but as stated in The Herald some time ago, it is a pronounced sentiment by many means.

The Young press bureau has begun work in the behalf of the attorney general, Mr. J. P. Young. Twenty-five were received by many prominent men in Duluth during the week. The picture is a handsome one, engraved on heavy paper, and shows the attorney general in a most studious and profound manner. It is a picture of a man of high character and high ability, and as well as Joel Heatwole has organized a bureau for keeping in touch with the voters.

Little interest seems to be manifested in the Republican primary, to be held June 23. There is no fight on here, and with no candidates on the state ticket from St. Louis county, the only chance of election of delegates to the county convention has excited little interest.

With the coming of Mr. Bede, however, things promise to look up, and politicians and business men alike are eagerly awaiting the active campaign that will begin when he sets foot within the precincts of the district which he hopes will return him to congress.

QUIETEST DAYS BEFORE A CONVENTION EVER KNOWN

and there is generally a marked aspect of quietude prevailing.

The Pennsylvania delegations arriving from Pittsburgh today brought along a band, and this evening it is said that several of the visiting musical organizations will give a concert at the hotels where most of the state delegations are stopping to help arouse enthusiasm.

The state representatives are unusually slow in gathering this year, and to this fact are the lack of action and interest that is apparent to the convention visitors and residents of the city.

Very few of the city's buildings show any decorations. Flags and bits of bunting mark here and there a state headquarters, but other than this there has been no attempt thus far to carry out any decorative scheme.

Cotton to Name Kellogg.

Chicago, June 12.—It has been decided that Hon. Joseph B. Cotton of Duluth, Minn., shall place Hon. Frank B. Kellogg in nomination for the vice presidency, and Mr. Kellogg's friends were actively engaged early in the day in doing all things possible to promote Mr. Kellogg's candidacy.

One of the arguments which they are most vigorously pressing is that Governor Johnson may be given the second place on the Democratic ticket, and that if it is not done the result in Minnesota would be uncertain. They claim also that Mr. Kellogg's records and still have the best anti-trust and railroad cases would render him peculiarly acceptable to the administration and those who endorse the course of the administration in those matters.

C. J. Harrishead of the North Carolina delegation is among the late arrivals. He was a college mate of Secretary Wilson, and is his enthusiastic supporter. He expresses a preference for Mr. Hammond for second place.

Delegates Arriving.

Chicago, June 13.—Republican delegations arriving today from several of the most important states, accompanied by bands and bearing flags and "favorite son" banners, are giving to Chicago the picturesque touches of color and noisy enthusiasm that are so essential a part of a national political gathering. The delegations in today are from New York, Pennsylvania and Ohio. The confident enthusiasm of the Ohio delegation was no greater than the demonstrative loyalty of the Pennsylvanians. Most of the Pennsylvanians arriving today are from the Pittsburgh district and are members of clubs organized in the interest of Senator Knox, whose headquarters today were crowded with his supporters from home. The Philadelphia contingent of delegates and marchers, 329 in all, arrived in the city today, and will add their voices to the Knox acclamation. The Ohio visitors are naturally late today, as they will have to be taken with their expressed belief that nothing new now prevent the nomination of Secretary Taft on the first ballot.

Arrival of New Yorkers.

The arrival of the New York delegation in a special train, was awaited with special interest. The declarations by Governor Hughes yesterday that under no circumstances would he accept a nomination for the vice presidency, and that his position with regard to the presidency remained the same—in that the delegates were heard to the vice presidency and not to him—have had the effect of focusing particular attention upon the New York delegation, especially with reference to the attitude to be taken with regard to the vice presidency. Representative James S. Sherman of New York, one of the men generally mentioned in connection with the second place on the ticket, is among today's arrivals and his presence is expected to lend impetus to the movement in his behalf. The New York delegation probably will have the day of Monday to discuss the situation. There are leaders of the party here who believe that the vice presidency should go to some Eastern state and as New York is regarded a debatable ground, it is believed the delegation will make a state can wield considerable influence in the choice of a second place candidate. So far, however, the delegation is instructed only to present the name of Governor Hughes for the presidency and to vote for him when the balloting begins.

The Pennsylvania delegations have been provided with quite sumptuous headquarters at their hotel and in the Fine Arts building, the seats in the auditorium of the latter having been reserved for them. The delegates of Senator Knox who are prepared to carry on a vigorous campaign.

Interest in "Allies."

The determination of "the allies" to carry on their "big six" alliance is sustaining interest in the plans of the various state delegations that are bound by instructions to support one of the candidates other than Mr. Taft.

Nearly all the state delegations are expected to hold caucuses on Monday. Tomorrow will be heavy with arrivals and Monday is expected to see the greatest influx of delegates and visitors. The convention will be called to order by National chairman Harry S. Taft.

The vice presidential situation had early today given no hint of clearing up and in occupying the attention of all the convention delegates and followers who are here. The new arrivals looked their first inquiries as to the one place situation, but are confronted with non-committal replies to the effect that they here on the subject, but little better posted than the more distant of the incoming delegates. They are expected to try to get into the arena of the convention, to be fought for and won by the strongest bidders, by giving enthusiastic support to the interest in the proceedings of the convention and by giving individual delegates an appreciated part in making the selection. There are so many candidates mentioned in connection with the office that a popular, open vote seems to offer a most satisfactory solution of the problem.

Twenty-five members of the diplomatic corps are expected to come from Washington next week to witness the proceedings of the convention. In a sense they will be the personal guests of President Roosevelt, inasmuch as when it was found that the national committee had no seats available for the members of the diplomatic corps, the president gave up twenty-five seats allotted to him. Ambassadors Bryce of Great Britain, and Pussard of France are among the most distinguished of the foreign guests expected.

and that no one nationally can have all the important offices in the state at the expense of others.

Although Governor Johnson has repeatedly made his declaration that he would not be a candidate, there were Republicans who would read into Frank Day's declaration early in the week that it was not sincere. But with the governor's declaration yesterday there can be no doubt of the sincerity of the assertion. The governor has before asserted that he did not want the nomination. He has everything to lose and nothing to gain. An election even by a majority almost as large as that of two years ago would not add much to his fame. On the other hand the possibility of a place on the national ticket, and if not that then the opportunity which a lecture tour would give him to make himself known to the people and form acquaintances, would give greater opportunities for a man already with a national reputation to widen his fame.

Had Johnson been the only one available as a candidate for governor, it is possible that the party leaders would have tried to persuade him to run, even at some personal sacrifice to himself. But now that they have other material, together with a good organization, fully able to cope with the disrupted opposition, they feel confident that they can win anyway, and they have not used any great means to get Johnson to run. Any high grade American, of whom there are many in the Democratic party, can make the pace and win.

In addition, the party has the finest bunch of orators that any party can boast of. The Republicans are planning to ship into the state a number of speakers from the outside, in order to save the state for Taft. But the Democrats can rely entirely on home products and still have the best of it. First, there are Lind and Johnson, Lind one of the ablest speakers

Mrs. Arcand wrote recently: "Last December I fell a victim of La Grippe and tried two of the best physicians of this city without receiving any benefit, so my husband insisted that I should try Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey. I did, and I must say that today I am on my feet, thanks to Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey. Now we always have one or two bottles in the house. No family should be without it, as it always comes in handy for family ills; it will save many a doctor's bill. I regard it as a godsend to suffering humanity." Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey is an absolutely pure distillation of malted grain; great care being used to have every kernel thoroughly malted, thus destroying the germ and producing a predigested liquid food in the form of a malt essence, which is the most effective tonic stimulant and invigorator known to science; softened by warmth and moisture its palatability and freedom from that has been seen in congress and one of the best campaigners in the state, and Johnson, whom none can match as a campaign speaker. As a campaign orator he probably has no superior in the nation. Then there is Dan Lawler, mayor of St. Paul; the O'Briens, T. D. of St. Paul and Martin of Crookston; then Tom Kane, Stan Donnelly and Judge Willis of St. Paul, and removed to make way for the adherents of Minneapolis, L. I. Brown of Winona, and last, but not least, Congressman W. S. Hammond, to say nothing of a great array of speakers who have not been conspicuous in party politics, yet are great orators and are at the party's call. With this array the party can make up a campaign never equaled in any state.

When it comes to speakers the principal one the Republicans have to rely on is Dar Reese, head of the notorious "big six," which is ruling Ramsey Republican politics and also closely identified with the liquor interest in public campaign.

The contest in Hennepin between S. P. Snider and M. W. Savage is amusing to many. Here are two candidates fighting for their home county, and the people of their own county believe that neither of them has a show. The campaign is a fight between Jacobson, Young and Heatwole throughout the state, and the fact that they here on the subject, but little better posted than the more distant of the incoming delegates. They are expected to try to get into the arena of the convention, to be fought for and won by the strongest bidders, by giving enthusiastic support to the interest in the proceedings of the convention and by giving individual delegates an appreciated part in making the selection. There are so many candidates mentioned in connection with the office that a popular, open vote seems to offer a most satisfactory solution of the problem.

Ambassadors Bryce of Great Britain, and Pussard of France are among the most distinguished of the foreign guests expected.

The Republican politicians, including the delegation, several congressmen, and many others prominent in state politics, have gone down to the convention at Chicago. Here they will talk over state politics, and one politician said that the nomination for governor would be "fixed" down there. If the leaders get together down there and find that the sentiment is all for Jake, or that they can control enough delegates to nominate him, Jake will be the man.

BRIGHT NEW PENNIES ARE USED IN RANK SWINDLE.

Fargo, N. D., June 13.—News has just reached this city of a clever dealer who worked by a couple of swindlers on a demoralized Oliver county homesteader. Carl Stewart was hoodwinked into disposing of the relinquishment to his claim, eighty acres of which is under cultivation, for twenty bright, new 1908 cent pieces. He was told that they were 50 gold pieces and still believes it. The case has come to the attention of the authorities and a guardian will be appointed for him. Suit will then be brought against the swindlers and Stewart will undoubtedly get back his claim, which is a very valuable one.

LEAVE FOR LAKE CITY

Advance Guard of Twenty-Eight Men Go to Camp.

The Main Body of 325 Men Will Leave Sunday.

An advance guard of twenty-eight men selected from the different companies left last night over the Great Northern for Lake City, where the annual encampment of the Third Regiment of the Minnesota National Guard will be held next week. The main body, consisting of about 325 men, including the three Duluth companies, officers, band and Eweeth and Hibbing companies, will leave tomorrow night.

For the accommodation of the soldiers, the Great Northern train late tomorrow night will be run in two sections. The first section will be the regular train and the militia will leave in the second section a few minutes later.

At St. Paul, the Duluth and range companies will meet the remainder of the regiment and all, about 800 strong, will go to Lake City to pitch their camps for the ten days' encampment. The program for this year's camp is a strenuous one. There will be continued hikes, drills and field maneuvers and the new members, who think the annual encampment is a period of play will be disillusioned.

The encampment this year is the first for Company E of Duluth and the two range companies, which were just organized this year. The boys have been ardently prepared by their officers for camp life and they are expected to make a good showing despite their unfamiliarity with the work.

AGED WOMAN IS STRUCK AND KILLED BY TRAIN.

Crookston, Minn., June 12.—(Special to The Herald.)—Mrs. Sarah Johnson Lonsgraff, a widow aged 85, was struck by a Northern Pacific freight train at Fertile last night and died half an hour later. The funeral will be held Monday. She was the mother of Mrs. O. L. Hamery of Crookston.

GIRLS ARE ROMANTIC

Many Missouri Misses Inscribe Messages on Berry Boxes.

Duluth Man Writes and His Wife Gets the Reply.

Strawberry boxes bearing romantic notes from sentimental girls are numerous in Duluth. Since the report was published that a young man in the city had struck up a correspondence with a Missouri girl as the result of a message penciled on a box, half a dozen other people in Duluth have come forward with stories of similar finds. It seems to be quite the fashion for Missouri misses to put their names on the boxes this year, for all of them so far reported come from the same state.

Women discovered the writing in some instances, and three of them were cruel enough to burn up the boxes of wood bearing them, without first showing them to masculine eyes, but in the other cases the men got into the hands of the girls, either directly or indirectly, and it is understood that at least three besides the woman in the city engineer's office could not resist the temptation to write. Replies have been received in every case, and no one can tell where the correspondence will lead to.

One Duluth man got into serious domestic difficulties trying to gratify his curiosity. His wife was away from home and he was keeping himself entertained when the offending box came into his possession. He hesitated about writing, but desire got the better of him, and a letter was dispatched to the Missouri town. The matter ran along for nearly two weeks without a reply, and the man had forgotten the incident, when, upon coming home to lunch one day, a surprising photograph of a dazzling Southern beauty before his eyes. The morning mail brought a photograph addressed to the husband in a feminine hand, and the woman could not resist the temptation to open it. "To Henry with love, Laura," was written across the back. The man's case is still trying to explain how it happened.

MAHONEY IS

Vice President of Western Federation of Miners Visits City.

Says Labor Conditions on Ranges Are Comparatively Good.

C. E. Mahoney, vice president of the Western Federation of Miners, is in Duluth today on his way to the Iron ranges, where he goes to look over the affairs of the federation. From the Minnesota ranges Mr. Mahoney will go to the Michigan mining country, probably returning from there to Duluth on his way back to the headquarters of the federation at Denver.

Mr. Mahoney came direct from Denver. He says that no special business necessitates his presence in the Iron country at this time, his mission here simply being to look into conditions. He says that labor conditions are fairly satisfactory, considering the industrial conditions of the country. During the past nine months, according to Mr. Mahoney, not more than 35 per cent of the laborers of the Western Federation have had steady employment. He states, however, that this is no worse than the conditions existing in the ranks of other labor organizations.

When asked regarding the conditions of labor on the Iron ranges, Mr. Mahoney replied that they were more favorable than the situation in the mining centers of the Rocky mountains. He stated that many of the mines had shut down and that many of the workers were unemployed. He commented upon the famous Pettibone mine, and stated that the mine had been shut down and that many of the workers were unemployed.

ABDUCTOR GIVEN TERM IN PRISON

Three Years for Man Who Lured Girl Into Vice.

St. Paul, Minn., June 12.—(Special to The Herald.)—Ed Feltner, who pleaded guilty to the indictment charging abduction in that he took 13-year-old Rose Sherrard to Winton, on the Vermilion iron range, to become an inmate of a disorderly house, was given a sentence of three years in the state penitentiary yesterday by Judge Hallen.

The crime is a serious infraction against public morals and deserves severe punishment. The court said that the girl had led a wayward and undisciplined life. A girl of her age was not to be lured into vice, and it must have been a very bad case.

The efforts of the police and of the charitable and philanthropic people are directed to the reformation of such girls, and when any member of the community shows these efforts, the courts should show leniency.

Judge Hallen then pronounced sentence of three years in the state penitentiary. Feltner will have been sent up as much as five years.

ANNEXATION IS TO BE DROPPED

Virginia Commercial Club to Abandon Idea for the Present.

Virginia, Minn., June 12.—(Special to The Herald.)—At a well-attended meeting of the Commercial club last evening, several matters of importance were discussed and acted upon. First among these was a motion, carried by unanimous vote, that the city council be requested to fix a date for a special election to vote upon the question of issuing city bonds to the amount of $100,000 for the improvement of streets, alleys and bridges, and that a committee be appointed to circulate petitions among the voters, asking for such action. The committee appointed were A. N. Thompson, N. A. Halmer and John C. Olin, Jr., as such committee.

Also by unanimous vote, the club passed a motion that the proposed new federal building be located in block No. 4, opposite the Roosevelt hotel, and that the city council be requested to obtain opinion on the matter, with the exception of the lots upon which the houses of Messrs. Costin and Olin are located. The purpose is to have the city acquire the property, and then offer the federal government such property as it may need, reserving the remainder as a public park until such time as it may be needed for county buildings.

A letter, received by Secretary Hughes from C. T. Fairbairn, manager for the Republic Iron & Steel company, relative to the proposition of annexing more mining properties to the city, was read. Mr. Fairbairn stated that his company preferred to have their property remain with Missa Mountain township. In view of the evident reluctance of the mining companies to join hands with the city it was decided by common consent to drop the annexation project for the present, until such time as the mining companies might conclude that their interests would be better subserved by an annexation.

E. W. Freeman, chairman of the committee appointed to confer with a like committee of the Eveleth Business Men's association regarding a proposed new road of easier grade between the two towns, reported that the members of the two committees had gone over the proposed route east of the big hill and all were enthusiastically in favor of it. Fifty dollars was appropriated for a survey of a proposed route, the Eveleth club having appropriated an equal amount for the same purpose of providing funds to build the city's portion of the new road and also a direct road to the village of Gilbert that brought about the question of issuing bonds for street and alley improvement.

MONITOR FLORIDA IS TORPEDOED

Whitehead torpedo. The object sought was to determine whether this form of bulkhead, with which, if formidable, all the modern American ships of war probably will be provided, can successfully withstand the force of the explosive contained in the torpedo, or in default of that, whether the effect of the charge will be to scatter destruction far and wide and possibly sink the ship.

In some respects today's tests were similar to that conducted in 1903 by the British admiralty with the target vessel Belle Isle, but today's test with the Florida was the first experiment of this kind in the American navy. In the case of the Belle Isle the bottom of the ship was approximately six feet in the force of the explosion and it was found impossible to tow the battered bulkhead back again into the harbor in time to prevent her sinking. She was finally pushed aground by tugs and beached.

The torpedo was fired at the Florida waterlight bulkhead compartment from a distance approximately 100 feet in an almost horizontal line, it being started from a float specially prepared for the occasion and fitted with a bomb proof to protect the officers witnessing the test, from any flying pieces of wood or steel. The torpedo was fired at the section of the line of flight of the torpedo, which some times happens owing to a disarrangement of the automatic mechanism by which it operates, it was sent along a trolley wire, which connected the float with the monitor. By the successful working of this device the torpedo hit the exact spot which it was intended to strike and thus averted failure of the experiment. Today's test was made at Pine Beach, off the Jamestown exposition grounds, in about fifteen feet of water, the Florida being towed by the tug "Albatross" and being about thirteen and a half feet.

Charged With Gun Cotton.

Two hundred and twenty pounds of gun cotton composed the explosive carried by the torpedo. Gun cotton is a powerful explosive, but the hope of the officials was that the damage it might do may be absorbed locally, thus insuring the practical stability of the remainder of the vessel's watertight compartments. Should the harm done by the explosive prove more extensive than expected, the hope of the officials was that the damage it might do may be absorbed locally, thus insuring the practical stability of the remainder of the vessel's watertight compartments. Should the harm done by the explosive prove more extensive than expected, the hope of the officials was that the damage it might do may be absorbed locally, thus insuring the practical stability of the remainder of the vessel's watertight compartments.

Will Be Guided by Results.

Results obtained from today's experiment will be a guide for the construction of vessels in the building of the water-tight compartment bulkheads of the new Dreadnaughts, North Dakota and Delaware, now partially completed, and of the Florida and the Utah, authorized at the last session of congress. The compartment pierced by the torpedo is nearly amishish of the monitor and is of considerable size.

In addition to ascertaining the effect of the torpedo exploding beneath the ship, in the experiment with the Belle Isle in 1903 there was a desire to test the value of cellulose as a means of preventing the inrush of water into the ship after the penetration of the hull, the contention being that cellulose, tightly rammed, offers resistance to insuring water and yet will not expand to a sufficient extent to burst open the inside of the vessel. In the compartment fired at a quantity of cellulose was tightly rammed, rendering it practically solid. Unofficial reports of the explosion, however, were to the effect that portions of the cellulose were hurled into the air, and it was apparent that a portion of the specially constructed compartment had been blown away.

Eveleth, Minn., June 12.—(Special to The Herald.)—Something may come out of the case of the two men who were charged with the murder of Donjonovich, if they may be taken to Stillwater to begin serving their terms.

PROCTOR LIKES IT.

New Train Service on the Missa Sunday, Pleases.

Proctor, Minn., June 12.—(Special to The Herald.)—There is no little satisfaction here over the new train service on the Missa road, which will go into effect tomorrow, which means the train from Duluth will run the same as on week days.

This change is brought about from the fact that a daily train will run from Duluth to Winnipeg, making connections at Virginia with the Duluth, Rainy Lake & Winnipeg, and at Fort Frances with the Canadian Northern.

Mrs. Mary Studley was pleasantly surprised Wednesday afternoon by a number of her friends in honor of her birthday. Mrs. Studley was presented with three beautiful pieces of Haviland china. Those present were Mrs. William Terry, Mrs. Knollkon, Miss Knollkon, Miss Hughes and Miss Cole of Duluth, and Mrs. M. M. Lewis.

IS REMOVED FROM OFFICE

District Attorney Ruick Let Out by Order of President.

Boise, Idaho, June 13.—Assistant Attorney General Cooke arrived here yesterday from Spokane and removed United States District Attorney Ruick from office by order of President Roosevelt and Attorney General Bonaparte. The reasons given are that Ruick's attitude with regard to important departmental affairs has been inconsistent with the idea of loyalty to the government, and because of complaints that he would not pay debts for the reason that claims were barred by statute of limitations.

Some of the old oarsmen are threatening to get a crew together for the purpose of giving the eight a good workout, and as soon as the new boat arrives, there will probably be some exciting races, with two and possibly one, eight oared crews, instead

News of the Theater

AT THE LYCEUM

The Mack-Leone Players Will Present the Popular Comedy "The Man on the Box" All of Next Week.

The Mack-Leone players, in producing "The Man on the Box" at the Lyceum next week at popular prices, have accomplished what no other stock company in this or any other part of the United States has done. The royalty is extremely high, but Messrs. Marshall and Mack feel that the people of Duluth will respond in numbers large enough to make the undertaking a success.

Mr. Mack will be seen as "Bob Warburton," the part originally played by Henry E. Dixey in the East and Max Figman in the West. Those who admiere Mr. Mack's personality in comedy will see him at his best.

Considerable importance will be attached to the reappearance of Miss Helen Holmes as "Betty," the part she played with Mr. Figman. Miss Holmes is making many friends by her exceptionally clever performance of "Constance Pickney" in "On Parole," this week, and the part of "Betty" fits her personality. Mr. Quigley, Mr. Chapman, Mr. Tobin and all the other members of the organization will have good parts.

"The Man on the Box" should be one of the best things the company has done.

AT THE BIJOU

Manuel Romain, the Well Known Minstrel, and His Clever Co., Will be the Feature of the Strong Vaudeville Bill Next Week.

The new bill which will open at the Bijou Monday afternoon and continue for the balance of the week, will be one of the strongest and most varied Manager Maitland has played this season. The program is comprised of feature attractions and is headed by the most popular minstrel of the times, Manuel Romain, whose sweet singing has been enjoyed by countless thousands. Mr. Romain will introduce a musical offering entitled "Down Music Row," a musical skit in three scenes, showing Twenty-eighth street, New York city. An up-to-date music publishing house, and the third scene, "The Grand Minstrel Review." A clever company supports Mr. Romain in his musical success including such talented and well known artists as the Palmer Sisters, musical comedy stars; John Foley of the famous Foley Brothers, and Robert Beverley, another famous minstrel dancer and singer. The act "Down Music Row" promises to be one of the most notable presented at the Bijou this season.

A wire act that surpasses any single act ever seen at the Bijou will be given by Cadieux, who is presenting the most sensational bounding wire feats, which it is claimed have never been attempted by any other wire walker.

A very interesting act will be Eleanor Blanchard's monologue and imitations of stage celebrities. Miss Blanchard has a charming personality and her character work upon the stage is said to be in a class by itself.

A comedy acrobatic act that is considered one of the best, will be Lindstrom and Anderson in fifteen minutes of knockabout acrobatic comedy and pantomimes.

As an extra feature attraction Hal Davis will present his biggest success entitled "The Fall of '64." A military drama in one act, presented by a capable company of actors. The playlet is claimed to be ahead of anything in the line of dramatic offerings seen in vaudeville. It is typically patriotic, and is staged and costumed in a manner that would attract attention on any stage.

Isadore Silver will sing one of his best and newest illustrated song successes. The moving pictures for the week will be "Trials of a Woman Voter," and "Tit for Tat," a new comedy film.

Matinees are given daily at 2:45, and evening performances at 8 and 9:30. Seats may be reserved in advance. Performances are given Sunday afternoon and night. Each lady attending the matinees commencing Tuesday until Saturday will receive a rose bouquet as a souvenir.

There will be a special program for school children on Saturday afternoon.

GOSSIP OF THE RIALTO

Russian Dancer One of Hits of Summer Season—Blanche Bates Back in Belasco Fold—Future Plans of Col. Savage.

New York, June 12.—After Genoa it is going to be no easy task for any dancer to create a sensation in New York, and the widely heralded Mlle. Alexia, the Franco-Russian danseuse, who made her American debut at Hammerstein's roof garden last week, found the wind sail for fast sailing because of her rival had covered the course before her. But Mlle. Alexia, if she did not create a positive future, nevertheless gave a good account of herself and will probably be accepted as a summer favorite. She is a litho, dark-skinned girl of a distinct Southern type, and rather more acrobatic than poise in her wild evolutions, who swirled and promoted with mad abandon through a weird pantomimic dance in a costume in which mingled the coppers and greens and purples of a hundred tropical suns. Her act bears the significant title of "The She Devil and the Demon," a rousing pas de deux for herself and M. Orpheo, a clever male dancer, whose resemblance to Meghista was striking, and whose operation lent substantial interest to her pantomimic work, in which her remarkable agility, strength of movement and grace almost bewildered the senses. The act was received with loud applause, and is counted one of the hits of the summer season.

One of the interesting developments of the week is the news that Belasco and MANUEL ROMAIN, At the Bijou Next Week.

CADIEUX, Bounding Wire Artist, at the Bijou Next Week.

Blanche Bates have made up their differences, and the actress will continue under her former management, appearing in a new play at the Stuyvesant in the fall, probably September. After Miss Bates repeated announcements that she would not appear again as a Belasco star it was generally accepted she would pass under the control of the syndicate, although Belasco threatened to sue her for enforcing his option for a renewal of her services. The desisting influence was the sudden death of Mrs. F. M. Bates, her mother, last week, who has been Miss Bates's guiding genius in all her dramatic ventures, and who was known to be strenuously opposed to Belasco's confinement to one role for a period of years.

It is understood that her death was the means of bringing about a meeting between Mr. Belasco and his recalcitrant star, and that the adjustment of their differences took little more than a few minutes. The personal equation entered largely into the restoration of cordial relations, for this was the first meeting between them since Miss Bates made her announcement in New Orleans last winter, when she was engaged to appear in a season at the New York theater, before she is furnished with a new vehicle.

Mildred Holland tried out a new play by Matthew Barry, entitled "A Paradox of Lies," at the Yorkville theater, Monday night, and scored.

In my last letter I mentioned that Madame Polovant, the South American diva, who was discovered by Francesco S. Kronberg and engaged for his Knickerbocker Grand Opera company, had been the heroine of a splendid success in consequence of which her manager disbanded the company after giving only one performance. Kronberg blamed the critics, declaring that Polovant was all he had claimed for her, a legitimate rival of Tetrazzini. Impresario Abramson engaged the prima donna for a new season, and is giving grand opera at popular prices at the Metropolitan. Whatever got into the critics—whether the musical writers really want to hear the performance at the Metropolitan or delegated their task to the "reviewers" at the New York theater—cannot find out. At all events, Polovant was cast for the soprano role in "The Girl of the Golden West," and the "reviewers" at the New York theater, Monday night, and scored.

Aud Mr. Kronberg was in the audience, his face beaming with triumph, just as he watched her figuratively moving down all opposition and sweeping on to a glorious ovation. It did not afford him any financial satisfaction, but Polovant vindicated his prediction, and incidentally demonstrated that Boston does have some judgment in matters musical, for it was on the strength of what the Hub had said about her that he was enabled to make an arrangement with the Shuberts to install his opera company at the Metropolitan.

A few nights after that the diva repeated her success in another opera, and again carried away a harvest of enthusiastic praise, which will look well in her career. The impresario of the Metropolitan, of course, that is Isadore Silver, has been with the indiscreet given her it is hard to see how she can escape the dragnet of one or the other.

overcome. Miss Hammerstein says the marriage will take place; her father declares it will not—just yet. Miss Stella vows she will not only marry her Englishman, but stay on the stage in her professional capacity. What will come of it will probably develop during the summer.

Now that Col. Savage has returned from Europe and given some indication of his future plans, it looks as if the "Merry Widow" will probably take precedence. Mr. Savage at the same time announces that he will abandon his English Grand Opera company, partly because he has been unable to obtain suitable successors to "Madam Butterfly," and partly because of the announced plan of the big opera houses, that they will take a plunge into English opera. Mr. Savage has made up his mind to leave the opera business, and he has scheduled three plays by American authors, season beginning with "Portia Perkins," by Edith Ellis, to be followed by "A Man of His Word" and "A Happy Family."

An interesting story told by Mr. Savage concerning the complete failure of "The College Widow" in London. One of the reasons pointed out by Mr. Savage of a happening on the opening night will serve to explain the failure. Just as the American college play failed to catch on over there.

Mr. Savage says that he was sitting near a party of London playgoers during the performance, and could not help but hear their remarks. When the college girl appeared, the audience of the college play failed to catch on over there.

Walter Gale, who may not be so well known personally as some actors of great popularity, but who, through his long playing of Happy Jack Hazard, the tramp in Denham Thompson's "The Old Homestead," has professionally endeared himself to a multitude, was hurt last week in New York. So saturated with the atmosphere of the pastoral drama was the player that he forgot to dodge the swift, low fields is jointly interested with the Shuberts in "The Little World," and has been devoting close attention to the preliminary arrangements for its production at the Cusino.

has picked her out for stellar honors next season.

Two comedians seen here the latter part of the season are now members of the Joe Weber company in the burlesque of "The Merry Widow" in Chicago. Walter Jones is the first, having been boosted into the part of Jolliffe, played by the late Feta Dalley up to the time of his fatal illness. The other part is entrusted to Paul Nicholson, who was here with the musical comedy, "The Girl Question." Nicholson is playing the prince, the part originated by Charley Ross, the traveling actor, who is recuperating in New York from a badly sprained knee. The Weber show, after its run of misfortune in Chicago, is in shape again, and the merry burlesque has caught on well in the Windy City.

James K. Hackett was so impressed with the success of his stock starring season, that he has decided to make a new merry widow for the title role of that play in Washington that last week he announced his intention of building a theater there in time for opening early next April. It will be called the Hackett theater, and will be conducted in connection with the other theatrical properties this play and manager is interested in.

SCENES ALONG THE PICTURESQUE ST. LOUIS

Duluth people are beginning to realize as they never did before that they have one of the finest natural playgrounds that can be found near any large city, along the picturesque St. Louis.

The dells and banks of the St. Louis are ideal spots for picnic parties, and that Duluthians are coming more and more to realize this fact is shown by the number of pleasure craft to be found on the river any fine Sunday afternoon.

All the way from West Duluth to the rapids above Fond du Lac, the surface of the river is dotted with all kinds of craft, from the fleet motor boat to the tiny canoe. There are literally hundreds of launches to be found on the river almost any fine afternoon or evening, and it would be impossible to estimate the number of people who are to be found along the banks of the pretty stream on a bright Sunday afternoon.

So far the bright Sunday afternoons have been few and far between, but they give some hint of the popularity the river promises to have this summer.

The branch clubhouse of the Duluth Boat club one done much to increase the popularity of the river. It gives an objective point for picnics, and parties can obtain any accommodations they desire in the way of shelter, foods and beds. The branch has been well filled every Sunday this spring, and week-end parties are becoming quite a popular fad among the members of the club.

Fond du Lac is as popular a resort as ever, with two excursion steamers making trips every few hours, and a train service also in effect.

But the people who patronize the excursion steamers and the Boat club-branch, form but a small percentage of those who enjoy outings along the river. The stream of launches and rowboats that passes up through the "short cut," behind Zenith Island, carries the majority of the pleasure-seekers, and a person who attempted to count the passing craft would probably be amazed at the number.

Many camps are located along the river, and in addition to these there are many summer homes being erected along the banks of the stream.

Those who have watched the wonderful growth in the popularity of the river this year predict that within a few years both banks of the river will be dotted with summer homes, and even some houses which are the permanent residences of their owners. This cannot be brought about until there is a better train service on the

HIS IDEAL.

Chicago News: "I might be tempted if I could find exactly the kind of person I want," said the bachelor with the bald spot.

"Well, I must look around for somebody to suit you, then," said the woman who took an interest in him.

"Couldn't you give me some idea of your ideal?"

"I might," replied the bachelor. "To begin with, she must be young."

"Why young?"

"Because there is a certain quality in youth that attracts me," said the bachelor.

with the bald spot. "There are several qualities, on the other hand, that repel me and disgust me. Youthful silliness is something that I hate."

"Dislike giggling girls and girls that are too fond of gaiety. Consequently, I expect you would have some difficulty in finding a young girl who would suit me. I'm afraid you will think me exacting."

"Not at all," replied the woman who took an interest in him. "She must be young, we will say, but not foolish. Does that express it?"

"Exactly. And she must be well informed, but not a bluestocking."

"Because there is a certain quality in youth that attracts me," said the bachelor.

"She must have the knowledge on the heart of the city in fifteen or twenty minutes, while the water trip furnishes a delightful ride. Few cities of the size of Duluth are so fortunate in this respect, and the river attractions of Duluth should be made known to the summer tourists.

tap, but not let it run until you want to tap it."

"That's it. And I want her to be feminine above all things. I wouldn't want a budding suffragette. I'd want her to have spirit, though."

"You wouldn't want her to assert herself against your wishes, for instance, but you'd want her to be able to take her own part with anybody else?"

"Now you're getting at it. But women of that description are rather scarce, aren't they?"

"Good gracious, no! I'm afraid you haven't been keeping your eyes open all these years. Go on."

"Well, perhaps, I haven't been as observing as I might. You think, then, that you might be able to find somebody who would answer the few requirements that I have mentioned? Good! Of course, she would have to be accomplished. Musical and all that. You know I like that sort of thing. A woman should be accomplished, so she can hold her own in any society."

"A woman should be accomplished and attractive—I don't believe I said anything about her looks. I shouldn't want a raving beauty—the kind of girl who would attract disagreeable attention wherever she went, but I should like to have her beautiful, just the same, and graceful. I should want her to dress with taste. Not extravagantly, but with taste and elegance."

"One with the knack of creating dainty and stylish little gowns out of simple and inexpensive materials would meet your views, I presume? And you would want her to be a good housekeeper, too, of course?"

"Are you sneering?" asked the bachelor with the bald spot. "It seems to me that a capability for managing a home and making it a place of comfort and happiness is not to be sneered at. If I couldn't have a home I shouldn't want to get married."

"Then you do want to get married?"

"I told you I might consider it if I could find the right kind of person."

"Then get off the mountain peak and slide for the valley," said the woman who took an interest in him. "My dear friend, you just don't know where to look for your ideal, that's all. Go forth and wander in meditation among the tombstones and read the epitaphs."

"Are they all dead?" asked the bachelor.

"They may not be," replied the woman who took an interest in him. "But if there was such a one what do you suppose she'd want of you? Honestly now! You wanted a girl with some sense, didn't you?"

"I didn't suppose sense counted in matters of that sort," said the bachelor.

"OLD USES FOR A COAL RANGE.

New York Sun: A Brooklyn woman who moved into an old-fashioned and therefore comfortable apartment found the kitchen most desirable except for the fact that it had a coal range as well as a gas stove. Like many New Yorkers she had come to believe that the gas stove was all sufficient to cook with. The coal range had been put out of use and the lot it sat on. Soon she began to feel it a useful article of furniture in its unadorned state.

"The oven was too commodious to let lie idle," she explained, "and as there never is enough closet room in any kitchen I used these ovens to store pots and pans and stove backing and brushes and all sorts of odds and ends of kitchen utensils."

"Then there was all that lovely expense of stove top going to waste. I covered it tastefully with paper. At the back the stove sets into the chimney and in the nook thus formed I keep my bread box and pepper and salt tins and other truck."

"The front part of the top of the stove makes a lovely serving table. It is right next to the gas stove, and my servant has a place to assemble the dinner courses before serving them."

"I have heard of girls dividing up an apartment into bedrooms and how one of them found the kitchen a pleasant sleeping place because she could keep her hats and shoes on the refrigerator, but I have found a use for what looked to be a perfectly useless thing—for me."

"Some one suggested that the stove would make a good refrigerator—just put the ice where the coal usually goes and keep the butter and eggs and—lik and other perishable things in the ovens. But I am afraid the ice wouldn't last long. Not because the memory of past times would linger and melt it, of course not. But there's a draught up the chimney and a draft melts ice. Anyway, I have a refrigerator, and the stove serves the double purpose of a closet and a table."

"THE BEST KLEPTOMANIA CURE.

"When Justice Brewer," said a Kansas lawyer, "was on the Lovejoyworth circuit as a criminal judge, he had no patience with the pleas of hypochondria and such like new-fangled notions that then were coming to the fore. Once, I remember, a man was being tried before him for shoplifting. A witness said he thought the prisoner had kleptomania."

"I presume, Judge," he added, "you know what kleptomania is, don't you?"

"Yes," said the judge. "I do. It is a disease that I am sent here to cure."

Hotel Results Fatally to Chambermaid.Mrs. Helen Barber is Caught Between Platform and Door.Mrs. Helen Barber, 40 years of age, a chambermaid, was caught in the freight elevator at the St. Louis hotel last evening and killed. She died shortly before 7 o'clock, as the result of injuries received a few minutes previously.No one saw the accident, but it is presumed the woman tried to get on the elevator after it had started moving upward. She had been down on the Michigan street floor for supper, and after eating started to go to her room on the fifth floor. A few minutes later her screams brought men and women running to the elevator, and she was discovered wedged between the platform of the elevator and the top sill of the door which opens into the elevator. She was on her face on the elevator platform with her back jammed against the top of the door. So slightly was she wedged in that the elevator and the sill of the door were rescued from her position as quickly as possible, and Dr. Horace S.
Davis, who lives at the hotel, was called.
She was past all human assistance, however, and died shortly after being taken from the elevator. Mrs. Barber had beenWhen Blood is AS DELEGATERepublican National Committee Decided Unanimously in His Favor.Chicago, June 12.—The Republican national committee, late yesterday afternoon, completed the hearing of all contests submitted. The Arizona contest was decided in favor of Louis W.

Powell of Elsie, formerly of Duluth, whose election was contested by Hoval
A. Smith, also of Elsie. Powell was the choice of the regular territorial convention, from which a faction, headed by Governor Kibbey, bolted.
Judge R. E. Sloan was elected delegate by both the regular and bolting conventions. The Kibbey crowd chose Smith. Instead of Powell, as the second delegate. Powell's case was argued before the national committee by Joseph B. Cotton of Duluth, while Attorney General Clark of Arizona represented Smith. The committee decided unanimously in favor of Sloan and Powell.The national committee was in session for seven days of actual work and decided contests over 219 seats on the temporary roll call. These contests have been decided as follows:
For Taft—Alabama, 22; Arkansas, 2;
Florida, 8; Georgia, 16; Kentucky, 5;
Louisiana, 18; Mississippi, 16; Missouri,
6; North Carolina, 15; Ohio, 7; Oklahoma, 10; Pennsylvania, 1; South Carolina, 8; Tennessee, 18; Texas, 36; Virginia, 18; Alaska, 2; Arizona, 2; total, 216.
For Foraker—Virginia, 2; Ohio, 1; total, 3.
Atty. Gen. Taft had 387 instructed delegates before the national committee began the hearing of contests, he will now have a total of 402 delegates on the temporary roll call, without taking into consideration any that have either indorsed him, or declared for him in any other manner.
Frank H. Hitchcock, who had chargedof Secretary Taft's interests before the national committee, has issued a statement claiming 704 votes for Mr. Taft on the first ballot.

STATEMENT BY MRS. EDDY.

Explains Omission of Annual Meeting of Executive Members of China.Boston, June 12.—Mrs. Mary Baker G.
Eddy, head of the Christian Science church has issued a statement in explanation of the omission this year of the annual meeting of the executive members of the First Church of Christ Scientists, in Boston, usually held on the Thursday before the June communion service, and which was to have been held today. The statement is inscribed: "A word to the wise," and reads: "My beloved brethren: When I asked you to dispense with the executive members meeting, the purpose of my request was sacred. It was to turn your sense of worship from the material to the spiritual, the personal to the impersonal, the denominational to the doctrinal, yes from the human to the divine.
Already you have advanced from the audible to the inaudible prayers; from the material to the spiritual communion; from drugs to duty; and you have been richly recompensed. Refuse and be exceedingly sad, for so doth the divine love ing from sensuality; your soul from sense, your life from death. Of this abounding abiding spiritual understanding, the prophet said, 'I will make darkness light before them, and crooked things straight.' These things will I do unto them and not forsake them."CARDINAL LOGUE WARMLY WELCOMED.Queenstown, June 13.—Cardinal Logue, primate of all Ireland, was given a great welcome upon his arrival here yesterday from New York on the Campania. The lord mayor, members of the clergy and of many societies, chartered a special steamer and went out to meet the liner. The cardinal was enthusiastic over his reception in America. He said he was deeply impressed by the flourishing condition of the states and by the close union of the priests and the people.

ROMANCE STARTED.

Missouri Girl Sends Duluth Man Message With Strawberries.The fashion prevalent a year ago, which impelled romantic young country girls to inscribe their names and addresses on eggs sent to market, is now out of date.
The latest is to use their pencil on strawberry boxes. This type of message seems more appropriate to the occasion.
A young man employed in the city engineer's office purchased a box of berries recently, and on the box found the address of Miss Margaret Lux, Neesho, Mo. The man was young enough to be interested, and he responded with a letter. The reply came yesterday. Inclosed with it was a photograph of a ravishing Southern beauty. And now the young man is haunting railroad offices, asking concerning the rates to Missouri points.HULL-PROUTY CONTEST IS AS YET UNSETTLED.Des Moines, Iowa, June 12.—It is likely to be many days before the Hull-Prouty contest for the Republican congressional nomination in the Seventh district is settled. After nearly a week of canvassing the primary returns in this and other counties, there is still a matter of only five votes betweenthem, and those in favor of Hull. The Prouty men made a demand for a recount of all of the votes in Dallas county, which will take some days.
The canvassers in Polk county, in which Des Moines is situated, also contemplate extensive recounts.

capacity of a first-class British man-value. It is an open secret that one in time of war would be to maintain the food supply of England by serving as escort to the swift subsidized Children's Party by Queen.

Queen Alexandra, who has always been a great lover of children, was so delighted with the success of her children's party last year that she has decided to follow it up with one on a still larger scale this year, and as she hates to let others do anything that she can do herself she is a very busy woman indeed and every weekend she gives audience and holds conferences with circus owners and variety artists who are to entertain the little ones who are to be invited to the party.The party, which will be given during the first week of July, is being looked forward to with great expectations by Princess Victoria—her oyal shyness—who on that day is recklessly happy and enters with great zest into all the games of the little ones.
About 400 children are to be invited and each will receive a gift from the hand of the queen as a souvenir of the occasion.

on which it acts without any debilitating tion and who, now is in Switzerland very much to see his father.Little Lord Ivor has always been a delicate child, but it came as an entirely unexpected shock when the physicians some weeks ago informed his parents that his lungs were seriously affected and that he must not be allowed to spend another winter in England for several years to come.He was then in Switzerland and the duchess, who planned a series of entertainments during the London season, immediately canceled them all and declared that she would stay abroad with her boy, greatly to the disappointment of the many Americans who had counted upon invitations to Sunderland house.Damage to the Cables.

As a result of a complaint made by Clarence Mackay, president of the Commercial Cable company, that steam fishing trawlers are doing serious damage to the American cables along the Irish coast, the British government may send out an increased number of naval vessels to watch the evildoers.The government controls and regulates fishing within three miles of the coast, and governments action is gently necessary to prevent cable communication between this country and the United States and Canada from being cut off.Mr. Mackay says that the Commercial Cable company has already spent more than $100,000 this year in repairing damage done by trawlers, and that the trawling companies declare that it is a matter of no concern to them whether the cables are in working order, but that they are a very valuable asset to them and they are not willing to let them be damaged by fishing boats.

Curious Old Character.

For twenty years, an old soldier has made his home under a large carriage umbrella in a wood near London and has never had a day's illness. All his belongings are packed in a baby carriage. During the violent snowstorm which struck England during the beginning of May he slept sound and awake to find himself covered with several inches of snow, but not a bit the worse for his experience. He has no worry of any kind no rent or taxes, no family responsibilities and declares that he is as happy as the day is long. He claims to be the original inventor of the simple life and says that he would not live in a castle if it were offered to him. He mends his own clothes, his bathroom is a sheltered pool and the village people supply him with the few things he eats. He has come to be considered one of the sights of the country and says he sees a good many Americans, who are always very kind to him.

Pictures That Talk.

Manager C. A. Marshall has made a contract with the Cameraphone company of New York for a number of their machines to be installed on the copper and iron circuit. These machines are now being installed, and the Duluth machine will be seen for the first time at the Lycceum at 2 o'clock, June 21.
Everybody has heard the phonograph reproduce the human voice and other sounds, and many pictures are also familiar to everybody. The cameraphone is an invention which synchronizes the music and the pictures of the two instruments and gives the effect of pictures that talk. The cameraphone is one of the greatest inventions of the day.
The cameraphone entertainment is historical, religious, educational, and does more than simply amuse. For a time it will be seen at the Lycceum on Sundays, but as soon as bookings can bearranged, it will be shown for a longer period. The scenes and subjects will change each week and the performance will be repeated many times on Sunday.
Prices will be 10 and 20 cents, and patrons will be permitted to remain as long in the theater as they desire. Pictures that talk are one of the most interesting things in the amusement world and undoubtedly they will create the same interest in Duluth that they have in New York, Chicago, Cincinnati and elsewhere.

THE June brides will divide interest during the latter part of the month with the state art exhibit, which will be shown in this city the latter part of this month and for seven days of July. A series of receptions is being planned for the two weeks that the exhibit will be here and the Duluth Art association and the women of the city who are interested in making this event one of widespread interest are even now busily engaged on the plans for the affair. A number of the prominent society women will receive on the various days. The exhibit will open next Saturday morning at the new Y. M. C. A. building. Receiving informally will be Mrs. H. C. RABBIT'S FOOT MADE GOOD.

New York Sun: "A good, clever rabbit's foot, the hind," said the fat engineer, "one that is always on the job, is a great help. I believe it was true that I always carry in my inside jumper pocket. I ran over a rabbit one day, 'in the chopin' process its left hind leg was tossed through the cab window and it hit me. Of course, it would be too much like temptin' fate to let a good thing like that get by. I've carried it with me on my runs ever since."

"The other day I stopped at the Junction for water with the Daylight Express. I was in a hurry to get on, so I didn't mind much as to what my rabbit's foot protected me from. I believe it was true that I put so much faith into it."

Dean learned that she was on her way to church to marry a young fellow who was with her.

"The party were walking, as was then the custom in country districts, but owing to the storm, it seemed very much as if the ceremony would not take place that day."

"Never mind," said the Dean, "I'll marry you."

He took up his prayer book, and there and then performed the ceremony. At the finish he tore a leaf out of his pocketbook and with a pencil wrote and signed a certificate, which he handed to the bride. Besides the names and the date, there was the following:

"Under a tree in stormy weather. I married this man and woman to gether."

Let none but him who rules the thunder Sever this man and woman asunder."

OUR YOUNG FOLKS' PAGE

Her Punishment

A wee little maid in the corner sat,
She had naught but her book to read,
And mamma had had to punish her
By keeping her in from play.

So there she sat a picture of woe,
And to herself she said, "How slow
"I wish I hadn't naughty been,
But had stayed a good little maid."

Her mamma heard the wailing plaint,
And said: "Why, dearest May,
If you are sorry for being bad,
That makes you good, so run and play."

Summer Don'ts for Boys and Girls.

Don't play strenuous games too long at a time without resting at intervals.
Don't drink cold water—or any cold drinks—while overheated, for it is very dangerous to do so.
Don't be rude or ill-tempered with your playfellows. Learn to give as well as take, to accommodate as well as to be accommodated.
Don't forget your little sick friends.
They are obliged to be shut in during the beautiful summer days, but go to see them frequently, carrying with you flowers, fruit, a comforting smile and words of good cheer.
Don't try climbing trees that are dangerously near to deep water; and it is well to use caution in climbing trees at all.
Don't become boisterous in a rowboat, in a moment of excitement you are liable to cause the boat to capsize.
Don't catch fish, or kill birds just "for the sport of it," for such conduct is heartless and cruel.
Don't forget to be generous, helpful and kind to all, and remember that you are little gentlemen and ladies.

BOASTFUL JOHN'S WATERLOO.

BY WILLIAM WALLACE, JR.

John Grey was the greatest boaster of all the boys in his grade at school. Although he possessed this very bad characteristic, the boys tolerated him, and some of them went so far as to excuse him, saying: "Oh, John does boast like all forty, but he'll get over it some day. He'll go too far, and like old Nag the Great, will meet his Waterloo."

And this prediction regarding John the boaster came to pass. It happened in this way: After school was out for the summer the boys and girls of John Grey's grade arranged to have a little picnic in a fine grove about a mile from town. Through this grove flowed a beautiful stream, very deep in places. On the sloping, mossy bank of this stream the picnic was held.

Soon after the little folks had assembled to enjoy the outing in the woods John, being a loud talker, could be heard boasting to his comrades about his own ability in various heroic lines and disparaging the courage of a certain little chap, Sammy Travers by name. Now Sammy Travers was known to be the most unassuming and modest boy in the whole town, having none of the airs of the first in his classes, never making a lesson nor suffering the disgraceful tardy mark to be placed against his name. In these respects John Grey could not compare "report cards" with Sammy. And for this reason he probably held a grudge against the boy, who was little over half his own size and two years his junior. At all events, he seldom let an opportunity pass to voice little insinuations against Sammy Travers especially in the presence of other children.

time ever comes when I have an opportunity to show you that I can act as well as talk I'll be mighty proud to do it. I don't boast of things I couldn't do."

"Oh, boys!" cried May Sterns and Mabel Graves, running to the group of boys who were chatting with John. "Who of you will go to that farmhouse over yonder—through the pasture—and beg, borrow or take some fresh-laid eggs? We're going to tell our fortunes with eggs. It's lots of fun, and really very scientific, you know. A fortune told by means of a fresh-laid egg broken into a tumbler of spring water always comes true. Who'll volunteer to go? Don't all start at once." And the jolly little girls laughed at the slowness of the boys to offer to comply with their request. The truth of the matter was the boys were waiting for John to volunteer to go in quest of the fresh-laid eggs. But John stood reluctant, arguing against such a method of fortune-telling.

"There's nothing in it," he declared boldly. "I'd go for the eggs, only I know my trip through the hole in the wall would be of no consequence."

"I'll go," spoke up Fred White. "And we'll go with you," cried several boys' voices. And in another minute all the boys save John were starting off toward the farmhouse, half a mile distant from the picnic grounds. "Here, Sammy, you stay to help fetch water from the spring," called one of the girls, as Sammy ran along behind the other boys. "Here, come back, Sammy," John Grey can't fetch enough water for both dinner and fortunes." So Sammy reluctantly returned to the picnic grounds, being the only boy save John remaining there.

And then began John's little tyranny over Sammy. When they started to go to the spring John handed the larger pail to Sammy to carry. Sammy took it without a word, but one of the girls, seeing the act, cried out after John: "Oh, little Johnny, why do you carry the big pail and allow big Sam to tote the little one?" And then a chorus of girls' voices joined in laughter: "You are a stupid little thing," declared John in a low voice to Sammy, exchanging pails with him. "You just try to catch all the frighten you out of another year's growth."

"Help, help, help! May's drowning!" came a chorus of wild shrieks from the picnic grounds. John and Sammy threw down their pails and ran back as swiftly as they could to the spot where the cries issued from. Of course, John reached there first, being the longer of leg, and therefore the faster runner of the two. And a terrible scene met his eyes. There on the bank were the girls of the party—all save May Sterns—rushing about madly and wringing their hands in despair, crying out: "Help! May's drowning!" And struggling in the water was May Sterns, now above the surface and now beneath it, her eyes wild with fear and her voice choked off by water. She don't you get some big sticks and throw in to her. Get some big limbs—with bark on so's she can hold on—"

"Fool!" And Mabel Graves thrust John aside, allowing a little figure to rush through. It was Sammy, who had just come up, and who, upon seeing what the trouble was, had thrown off his hat and coat, and was now kicking off his shoes as he made ready to plunge into the water, which at this point was five feet over his head. "When I call for a stick to be tossed to me don't waste a minute!" And then he had made the plunge, and with two or three strokes had reached the struggling girl who was sinking for the third time. He caught her by the arm and held her above water, calling, "Go to those on the bank to throw in some strong limbs of trees. These were easily procured, for the ground all about was littered with fallen trees and bits of strong limbs.

And within a few minutes—though it seemed hours—Sammy, panting from the exertion, dragged May upon the bank. And there her comrades looked after her tenderly. "Oh, don't mind me," said Sammy. "Just get something dry for May to put on."

At this very minute Mrs. Sterns, who had been chosen as chaperon for the party, but who had been obliged to attend to some business before going to the picnic grounds, and had, therefore, been a bit delayed in joining the band of young folks came upon the scene. She had driven to the grove in her phaeton, and just at the very minute when Sammy dragged her little daughter upon the bank—half strangled—she was alighting from the vehicle a few paces away. When she learned the exciting news she was, of course, very much overcome. And as soon as she made sure that May was all right save for a severe fright and shock she turned to Sammy with words of earnest gratitude and praise.

But we must not linger over this part of the scene, for it was quite too touching to be witnessed by anyone without a gulp in the throat and tears in the eyes. As soon as May had recovered from the shock she got into the phaeton with her mother and started homeward, not to remain there, but to change her clothing and to rest a little while. Then she and the dear mother would return to the picnic and all would go on as merrily as a picnic of children should.

But John had disappeared from the scene. And it was good for him that he had done so, for when the boys who had gone to the farmhouse had returned to the grounds and had heard from all the indignant girls about his cowardice they felt like giving him a good piece of their

"I always said that boastful fellow would some day meet his Waterloo," said one of the boys. "But it never occurred to me that it would fall to the lot of heroic little Sammy to be that Waterloo. Hurrah for Sammy, I say, the hero of today's picnic!"

And all the boys, and girls, too, joined heartily in the chorus for Sammy, the hero of the day, and of the year, for that matter.

Old Mother Fin Swimmer and Her Son and Daughter.

BY HELENA DAVIS.

Old Mother Fin Swimmer was out in the middle of the stream looking for something in the way of food for her little son, Swift Swimmer, and her little daughter, Grace Swimmer. She was a fine old fish, and none in that special part of the creek had more friends than she.

On this morning of which I write old Mother Fin Swimmer had come from her home beneath a great ledge of rock which projected far over into the water, and where she had left her little son and daughter asleep. The two little ones were fond of napping, and often their mother would take a long swim down the stream in quest of a nice swarm of gnats or flies, and upon finding them would rush back to call to her little fishes to follow her and have a feast.

Well, old Mother Fin Swimmer had not long to wait—or to hunt, rather, for right in front of her came a fine cloud of gnats, fat and toothsome, from a fish's point of view. "Ah," thought old Mother Fin Swimmer, "here's as fine a feast as I have ever seen. I shall swim back as fast as my fins and strength of wind power will take me and call those sleeping youngsters to come and eat. Before the sun gets 10 minutes' higher there'll be a bonified fish there to breakfast." And so thinking, the good fish-mother went swimming back to the ledge of rock, where her son, Swift, and her daughter, Grace, were still dozing, this time asleep.

"Here, you two lazy ones," cried out old Mother Fin Swimmer. "Come, stir your tails and wiggle your fins and follow me! There's a fine feast awaiting you down stream a bit."

And you may better believe that Swift and Grace waked in a hurry, for they loved a good meal as well as do little boys and girls who live on dry land. So away they swam, keeping close behind their mother, who could fight any necessary battles for them. Often fighting was necessary, too, for there were plenty of hungry big fish swimming about in that stream that would swallow whole a little girl or boy fish without the least compunction in the matter. So old Mother Fin Swimmer was always on the alert to watch for these cannibals.

But all went well on this morning, for none of these greedy, heartless fish changed to come along in the water, and the mother and children enjoyed their rush through the warm, brilliant stream. But just as they were nearing the place where the gnats had come to hover about a great pink worm dropped himself into the water right in front of old Mother Fin Swimmer's nose. For a moment she was so startled at seeing an appetizing morsel drop right into her fins, so to speak, that she stopped right off and just looked at it. Then she noted that the thing seemed to be held into place by a long string. Now, old Mother Fin Swimmer was quite wise enough to be on the safe side always, and when, as in this case, Swift and Grace came close beside her, and seeing the worm, made a dash for it, she cautiously headed them off. "Beware of anything that comes dropping right into your very mouth," she whispered. "There is something wrong with that worm—he doesn't seem to be alive. And see how stiff and bent his body is. He doesn't wiggle and twist as he naturally would do were he to drop accidentally into the water, for as I have told you, worms and flies and bugs do not live under water."

"But what difference can that make?" asked Swift, his mouth watering for the taste of that juicy worm which hung so temptingly near. "I'm in for trying him, why he had just nibble a bit at one of his ends."

"Don't you dare to approach that worm," cried old Mother Fin Swimmer. "Some danger was hidden there to ensnare the unwary fish who might be bold enough to taste it. I shall just nibble a bit at one of his ends."

And you may better believe that Swift and Grace waked in a hurry, for they loved a good meal as well as do little boys and girls who live on dry land. So away they swam, keeping close behind their mother, who could fight any necessary battles for them. Often fighting was necessary, too, for there were plenty of hungry big fish swimming about in that stream that would swallow whole a little girl or boy fish without the least compunction in the matter. will scold me, too, for my disobedience, which will serve me just right. And how my poor mother does hurt me, too, I don't believe I can ever get with her again. Ah, what's that red stuff that's dawning from my lips? It colors the water. I wonder if I'm going to die! Oh, if only I had obeyed my mother! If I live I'll obey her explicitly after this. And now I can't eat any of the flies or gnats which are swarming on the surface of the water."

"Swift! Swift!" came a voice well known and well beloved by Swift, for it was his dear mother's voice calling to him. She was coming back upstream to look for him. And when she saw the little fish so badly that he could scarcely talk, she poured her mother's love into his heart. "But I'll never disobey you again, mother mine," he panted in a piteous voice. "I disobeyed a little bit today by taking only a nibble, and almost lost my life. If I had disobeyed a big bit and had taken the whole worm into my mouth I would have been done for now."

"Well, I'm glad you have learned what it means to suffer the consequences of disobedience," said old Mother Fin Swimmer. "And now, come with me downstream, where your sister is having a fine breakfast on gnats. And such frolic, too, you never saw as the young fishes are having, jumping and leaping out of the water after the gnats. If you had obeyed your mother and kept with her and your sister you would be having the jolliest time of your life."

And Swift Swimmer, his poor torn mouth giving him such pain that all appetite for food was banished and all disposition to frolic and play gone, followed his kind mother downstream, where he had to content himself by watching the enjoyment of others. And for a whole week he suffered the consequences of his disobedience, and kept pretty close in his little home beneath the great rock ledge. And that day, sitting on the bank just a little way from the Swimmers' house, were two boys talking. "I don't like addressing the other," said one, "and I supposed he'd got a drum about the book. But just as I was about to tell him on the grass behind me he fell from the book. Gee, but he was a fine little fellow, as fat and pretty as any I ever saw. He had a very nice head, and since that nibble I haven't had another one. Guess I'll leave this part of the business to the grown-ups. They're here seem to be educated to the dangers of the book and apple worm. Come, let's move away."

Some Quaint Irish Superstitions.

In Ireland there has been for many, many ages curious superstitions regarding fairies. In the old time these imagined little elms were thought to be half human and half spirit nature, and had strange powers over human kind. The good folk of Erin used to propitiate the fairies in many ways, a few of them being as follows:

If a child spilled milk on the floor the mother would say: "That's the fairies' milk," thinking that some fairy had caused the accident. Thus the careless child went unpunished. If a cow was throwing slops out of the window or door she must cry out to the fairies: "Take care of the water!" otherwise some fairy passing might get drenched, and retaliate in some unpleasant manner. If a horse shoe was nailed to a door it would prevent the fairies from entering to do mischief to the inmates. If a human's garments the fairies would never molest if by causing it to suffer cold pains. If a large vessel filled with pure drinking water was placed in the kitchen at night the fairies on entering would not touch the food there, but content themselves with drinking the water.

Bessie went into the garden to play. It was the big flower garden, and many of the blossoms were just coming into beautiful bloom. Bessie loved to look at the blossoms, but she did not consider their rights, so she began pulling them off and throwing them on the ground. After she had destroyed a great number of the most beautiful blossoms that had been smiling so sweetly at her she heard a voice saying just at her elbow: "Now, little girl, since you have killed so many of my beautiful and innocent comrades, how do you feel? Are you glad to look at those dying blossoms lying about on the ground? They are not much more pleasing to your eyes when they were living and nodding in the breeze and smiling towards blue heaven? And how sweet was their fragrance, too, for it floated about in the air making it delicious to the human nostrils. Ah, little girl, do you know how wicked it is to wantonly destroy these dear flowers?"

"But now can they be dead when they never breathe?" asked ignorant Bessie. "Flowers don't live—they can't walk."

"Yes, we do live, little girl," explained the voice which came from a faint light. "We all live and grow. We eat from the soil and drink of rain and dew. We come from tiny seeds and grow into flowering plants to make the world more beautiful. Did not your mamma plant us here? If she had not loved us she would not have had the gardener plant us and tend us so industriously. When we are old and weary we have destroyed the lives of flowers that have been growing all through the spring, putting forth their fresh soft leaves and blossoms to help make this garden a place of beauty and purity. See how those little blossoms on the ground are withering under the sun's rays? Ah, within another half-hour they will be entirely dead. But had you not killed them from their parent stem they would have lived many, many days, to add beauty and love to this world."

Bessie stood quite still for a minute, then she replied: "Yes, I've been a naughty girl this morning; but I shall never, never kill another flower just for the fun of pulling it off the stem. Of course, if mamma says to gather some flowers for the dinner table, or to carry to a sick friend, that will be different. Then, with your permission, good Mr. Tiger Lily, I'll gather a few of the full-blown blossoms, for they wouldn't live much longer, anyway."

"Flowers love to be gathered to adorn the dining table and to make the room of a sick person cheerful," said the voice. "They are then put into ice water, and they do not die for ever so long a time, and their being in the water prevents them from suffering. In fact, they enjoy themselves very much when doing good. It's only when being ruthlessly destroyed—as you destroyed so many of them this morning—that they suffer."

"Well, never again will a dear little blossom suffer at my hands," declared Bessie. "And if I could put these little heads back on their necks again I'd do so. And so saying she picked up the withering blossoms from the ground and held them tenderly in her hands. "I know what I can do, though," she added. "I can put them in a bowl of fresh water and set them in a cool, shady place in my room, where they may feel happy in their parent stem. I'll be sure to refresh them with water, and I'll be sure to refresh them with water, and I'll be sure to refresh them with water."

"But now can they be dead when they

I pack me of my countryman's glory and fame;
I daily am old, I daily am new;
I am praised, I am blamed, I am false, I am true;
I'm the talk of the nation, while I'm in my prime;
But forgotten when once I've outlasted my time;
In the morning no miss is more courted than I;
In the evening you see me thrown carelessly by.
Take warning, ye fair, I, like you, have my day;
But alas! you like me must grow old and decay.

Men Who Make The Nation Laugh

GALLETT BURGESS,
GUYTON THE ATLANTIC COAST, TRAINED ON THE PACIFIC.

By JOHN S. HARWOOD

(Copyright, 1908, by the Associated Literary Press.)

VERY few of the men who make the nation laugh with the written joke began life as humorists. The truth is, a majority of them took exceedingly roundabout ways to become full-fledged members of the laugh-provoking corps.

The dean of our present day Joe Millers—none other than the white-robed Mark Twain—was first a printer's apprentice, then a Mississippi river pilot, then a private secretary to his brother, who was territorial secretary in Nevada, before he began building up a humorist's reputation while a newspaper reporter and editor in Virginia City. And quite a while before he had attracted more than local fame as a "funny man" he had tried his hand at mining.

C. B. Lewis ("M. Quad"), at 66 our second oldest humorist and still in active harness, began life as a printer's "devil," "stuck" type and otherwise thoroughly learned the trade of a journeyman printer before he developed into a year-in-and-year-out producer of fun with the same characters. He also was a Civil war boy soldier, rising from private to brevet captain in a Michigan cavalry regiment and having his blood spilled in defense of the country.

O. Henry, one of the latest men to make the nation laugh, got a lot of the knowledge that he has put into his stories at first hand as cowboy, sheep herder, merchant, miner, druggist, and extensive traveler in ordinary and extraordinary places. Gallett Burgess, graduating at the Massachusetts Institute of Technology in 1887, was for three years a draughtsman for a railroad, then an instructor of topographical drawing and finally a designer, before he broke into the literary field. Charles Loomis, who also received his education in a polytechnic institute, held down a clerk's stool for an even dozen years.

Jerome K. Jerome, an English humorist who enjoys the rather unusual distinction among his country's Joe Millers of having made the Yankee laugh heartily, was a railway clerk, a theater attaché and actor, a school teacher, newspaper advertising solicitor, a solicitor's clerk and a reporter. Tom Masson, literary editor of one of the country's leading humorous weeklies since 1893, was an office boy, later bookkeeper for the same firm, and not until he became telegraph editor for a newspaper press association did he have his first joke accepted and published.

When Champ Clark went to congress from Missouri in 1893 and soon thereafter began making the country laugh with his maiden speeches and written jokes, he had behind him a record as hired hand on a farm, clerk in a country store, school teacher and college president, country newspaper editor, lawyer and office holder.

George Ade, like Mark Twain, M. Quad, Jerome, Masson and Clark, experienced the joys and tribulations of a newspaper worker's life before he began to coin a fortune by making his fellow-beings hold their sides over his slang words and phrases. He began as a reporter on a country daily. Mr. Dooley, too—or, to call him by the name his parents gave him, Finley Peter Dunne—is a former newspaper man, and Ellis Parker Butler, when he had his first bit of humorous work accepted by a New York editor, was on a newspaper. As for Edwin A. Oliver of the Yonkers, N. Y., Statesman, and famous among humorists of all degrees and distinctions as the father of the now common conversational joke, his whole business life has been spent in the office of the Statesman, where he "worked at the case," when a youth.

DRUGGIST, TRAVELER, ETC.

Thus, it is plain that a goodly proportion of the noted humorists of the day received their literary training in newspaper offices. It is equally true that not a few of them became saturated with the Western spirit and way of looking at things before they began to attract attention as coiners of laughs.

Though born down East, in Boston, and educated there, it was on the Pacific coast that Gallett Burgess spent his first working years as railroad draughtsman, university instructor and designer. There, too, he began to attract attention in the literary world as editor of the Lark, and by his unconventional way of writing humor. A native Texan, O. Henry—in real life Sydney Porter—knows the strenuous life of the frontier and pseudo-frontier from A to Z.

Tom Masson, a Yankee by birth, received his business training in the Middle West, where Ellis Parker Butler was born, reared and toiled until he struck out for New York, hunted up his old friend Masson and asked him how to go about getting along in the metropolis. The two had met years before in Iowa, when Masson was keeping books and Parker was a country newspaper worker. Champ Clark, born in Kentucky, has worked out the greater part of his truly picturesque career in Mississippi river states. Once he drifted as far West as Kansas, where "atmosphere" was about the only thing he succeeded in taking away with him when he shook the dust of the Sunflower state from his feet.

George Ade has been truthfully accused of being a representative product of the Hoosier literary belt. Born therein and therein a humble newspaper worker for a number of years, he at last became a newspaper reporter in Chicago, where, in the course of time, he garnered the first fruits of humorists' cultivation. Mr. Dooley was Chicago trained as reporter and editor, as well as Chicago born and raised. Not until after he had won international fame as a humorous philosopher did he leave the Illinois metropolis for the national one. The Middle West boasts of the birth-town of Mark Twain, and the sage-brush country of the fact that while he was one of its pioneer settlers he developed the humorous streak with which he has convinced the nations for so many years. M. Quad's characters were created while he lived in Michigan; he was born and raised in Ohio and Michigan.

New York Humorists.

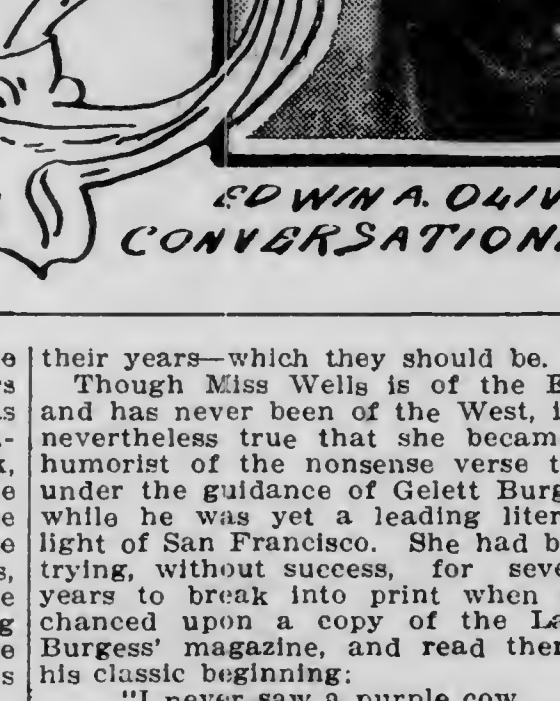

After the West—near, middle and far—New York city and its environs seem to hold the distinction of having produced the largest number of humorists now prominent in the public eye. Oliver of dialogue joke fame has lived and labored continually just north of the city's boundaries. John Kendrick Bangs is also a product of Yorkers, where he has lived the greater part of his life. Charles Battell Loomis, born in Brooklyn, is now the first citizen of Hackensack, the mere mention of which town arouses the risibilities of the average New Yorker. Then there is Carolyn Wells, that rare avia of the literary world—a truly capable petticoat humorist. Rahway, N. J., was her birthplace, and in that metropolitan suburb she makes her home.

Perhaps all this is mere coincidence, and perhaps, too, it is mere coincidence that most of the better known humorists of the pen are rather young in years. With the exception of M. Quad and Mark Twain, who carries his 72 years with the sprightliness of a load a third less light, practically all the men are in Time's "children's" class. Mr. Dunne will not be 42 till next month; Ade, Burgess and Masson are each a year older. Ellis Parker Butler can qualify as the "baby" of the masculine Joe Millers, since he has to his credit only 38 years. In this connection, it is rather interesting to note that, like Mr. Butler, the majority of the "funny men" made their reputation as such in the '30s at that. Among the women humorists, Miss Wells, Mrs. Woodrow Wilson, a late comer in the field and a former Middle West newspaper worker, and Miss Beatrice Hartford (sister of the quaintly humorous Oliver), whose written and spoken monologues have given her fame both here and in England, are all young, of course, though the reference books are non-committal as to their years—which they should be. Though Miss Wells is of the East and has never been of the West it is nevertheless true that she became a humorist of the nonsense verse type under the guidance of Gallett Burgess while he was yet a leading literary light of San Francisco. She had been trying, without success, for several years to break into print when she chanced upon a copy of the Lark, Burgess' magazine, and read therein his classic beginning:

"I never saw a purple cow. I never hope to see one." Straightway, Miss Wells fired some of her verse at the Lark. Back came a scathing letter of criticism from the young lady to submit no more manuscript to him. Far from taking the hint, Miss Wells forwarded another batch of her work. It came back. So did many other batches, and with them came letters as sharply critical as the first. For over a year Miss Wells kept doggedly at her work, trying to please by these criticisms. Finally, she had one verse accepted, and a year or two later her work was in demand. She herself gives the credit to Mr. Burgess for her training and success as a writer of nonsense stuff.

Butler's Start.

Ellis Parker Butler also was really starting on his career as a humorist by the time the decade was pretty well spent he had managed to acquire a local reputation as a writer of light short stories. Then, one day, after reading an old fable, he conceived the idea of fishing up slang in the form of a story. This happy thought speedily brought him fame and fortune, and the public has kept Ade writing his unique fables long after he has longed to close this literary chapter of his career.

Ade's Home is on Farm.

Though most humorists, when they make a national reputation, take up their headquarters in New York city, Mr. Ade has studiously refrained from doing so. He comes to New York frequently, at the dictates of business, but his home is on a farm in Northern Indiana, his acres being one result of his creation of the slang fable. By thus returning to his native state he has contrived his own clever slur on Indiana, made when a woman, who wanted to be real nice to him, said:

"Have you ever thought, Mr. Ade, how many bright people come from Indiana?"

"Yes," replied the author, "and the brighter they are the quicker they come."

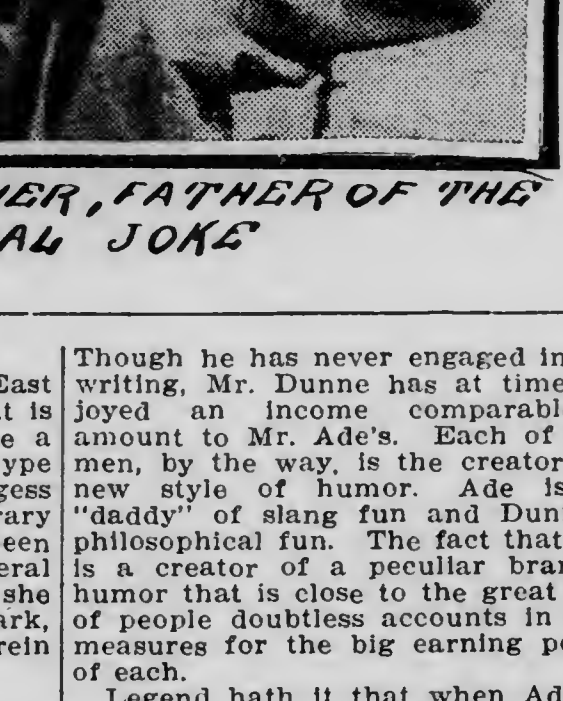

Another bright man who has come from Indiana is George Barr McCutcheon, the novelist. When George was still working on a small Indiana newspaper he wrote his first novel. He sent the manuscript on to Chicago for his brother John and Ade, a college friend, to look over. The two found a publisher for it. Then Ade devoted a lot of time to getting up all sorts of freak schemes to advertise the book. The publisher made use of them with avidity, and in a surprisingly short time Ade's chum, George Barr McCutcheon, had a national reputation. Ade and McCutcheon, when they were boys together in Lafayette, Ind., collaborated in writing patent medicine advertisements, out of which they made their first good slice of money.

Ade is a most likable chap, and as modest as he is likable. In appearance he is a strikingly boyish, and what men would call good looking and woman handsome. He has an entertaining conversational talent when occasion demands, but he prefers to listen to the other fellow talk. Though he is now on what some pessimistic folk call the wrong side of forty, he has not got out of touch with youth. Only lately he wrote a play for production by the dramatic club of his alma mater, and he takes delight in gathering with college boys and other youthful spirits, devotees of the art of spontaneous fun.

Another prominent humorist, who, like Ade, is just now devoting most of his attention to the stage, is Jerome K. Jerome, who recently said in an interview, when he was in this country, that he couldn't write another book like "Three Men in a Boat" if he tried. The reason he gave was that a the time he produced that laughmaker humor was spontaneous with him. In other words, Jerome K. thinks he's getting serious, whatever else the world may think about it. John Kendrick Bangs is another humorous writer, who, after he had a reputation as such, turned towards the stage, but to put it mildly, with nothing like the success of Ade. Jerome, as a dramatist, has been fairly successful.

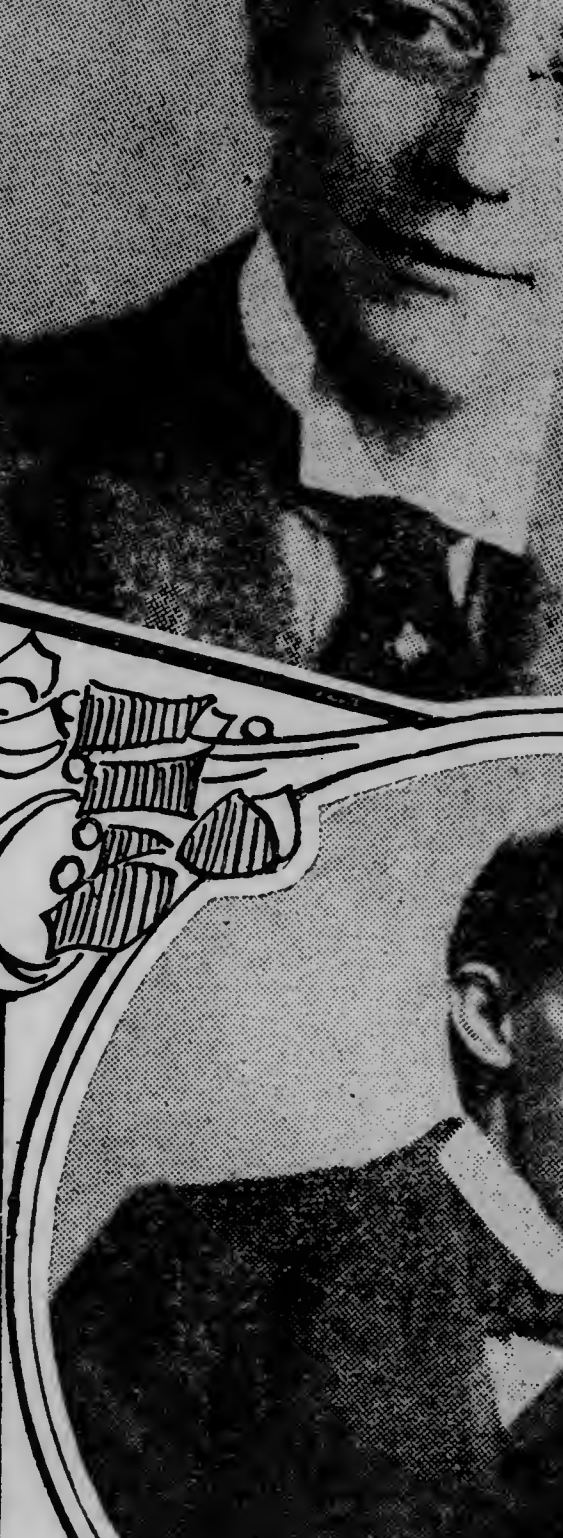

Jerome's Ambition.

Jerome first got interested in the stage when he was struggling to exist in London. As already stated, he was a theater attaché and at one time an actor. One of his duties in those days was to let himself be killed twice in the same performance. After he had taken to newspaper work and got tired of free lanceing, he applied for and received the post of dramatist critic on a paper, his salary being $7.50 a week. He was 30 when his first popular humorous book came out; that was in 1888. The previous sixteen years had been a struggle to support himself from the time he was 14, when his parents died. But since "Three Men in a Boat" appeared, he has had easy sailing financially. Today it is his ambition to do something serious that will give him fame, and it is through the stage that he hopes to accomplish this dream, which his unique fables long ago have let him know is not a pipe dream.

Tom Masson is another specific example of a humorist who longs to accomplish something serious. His dream is to give the world a moral, mental and definite work on the history of humor. He has been dreaming this dream ever since he began trying to get his jokes into print. To this end he has collected a large reference library, and when he is not engaged in his bread-and-butter work he is pretty sure to be found working on his history, which he expects will fill ten volumes of encyclopedic dimensions.

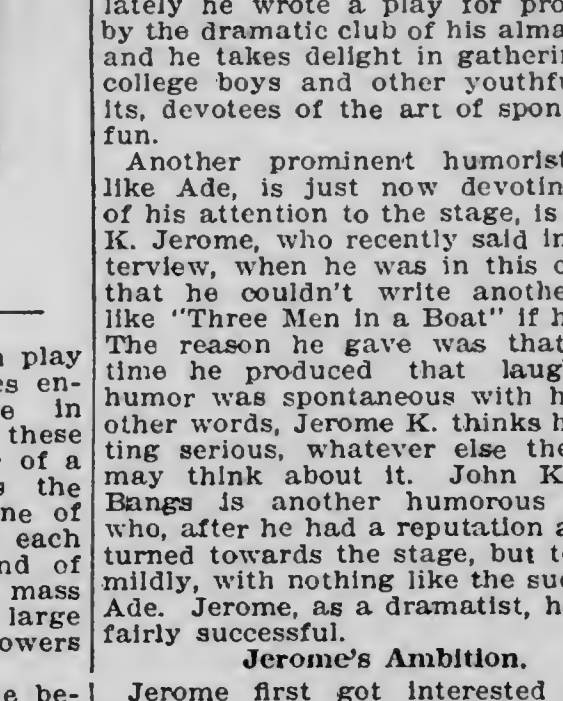

Of course, Mr. Masson is proud of some of his jokes, but the bit of work of which he is proudest is his organization of the Dutch Treat club. The name betrays the character of the club, which has for members practically all the big magazine editors of the metropolis and numerous authors whose works are widely read in the periodicals and book form. Masson is president of the club, which is now about a year old.

It is to Masson that the world is indebted for the term "summer girl." And 'twas in February, when a blizzard was making things decidedly uncomfortable for humanity, that he evolved the phrase, that has gone round the world. It first appeared at the head of some verses; since then it has been worked to death with perennial regularity. Perhaps even Masson is now sorry that he fathered the phrase.

John Kendrick Bangs, like Masson, Jerome, Mr. Dooley, Mark Twain, Tom Masson, Ellis Parker Butler, Gallett Burgess and others, has sat in an editorial chair. In short, he had occupied so many editorial chairs that he easily holds the honors in this particular among the Joe Millers of the English tongue. He also has the distinction of being the only humorist who ever took politics seriously enough to be a candidate for office.

Bangs as Politician.

Mr. Bangs, back in '84, aspired to be mayor of Yonkers. To that end he induced the Democracy of that New York suburb to make him its candidate. The three weeks that followed were doubtless the most serious in Mr. Bangs' existence, as he went about trying to catch the elusive vote. He caught some, but his opponent caught 207 more, and the joke was on Bangs. The Bangsian campaign furnished a lot of amusement for New Yorkers, who were kept posted by the daily papers of the progress of a humorist as a politician.

After he gave up all designs on the mayoralty Mr. Bangs turned his attention to education, and in 1897 he became vice president of the Yonkers school board, with the avowed intention, his opponents declared, of substituting his humorous works for the standard text books. However, that may be, Mr. Bangs remained a prominent director of the Yonkers young idea till 1904. Since then he has eschewed public life.

Bangs has the distinction of being the most productive of our fun-makers. He thinks nothing of turning out two or three books a year, with scores of short stories and innumerable paragraphs taken on the side.

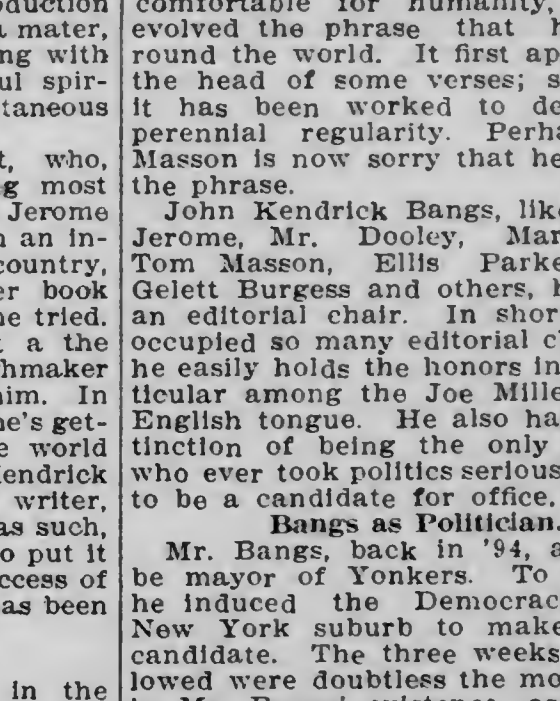

Edwin A. Oliver, Bangs' old fellow townsman, when he began writing on the Statesman, his father's paper, turned out short stories. From this work he drifted into the dialogue joke—this is his modest explanation of his creation of this form of laugh-producing writing. Oliver did this drifting some thirty odd years ago, and since that time he has turned out jokes at the rate of six to ten a day. All told he has sprung about 80,000 jokes in print. It is safe to say that most of Mr. Oliver's jokes have been copied the world over. That publication which aims to print any humor whatever rarely neglects to exercise the clipping scissors on Oliver's column, signed with the pen name of Ed. I. Tortille.

Among the present day American humorists he divides with Mark Twain the distinction of having cracked jokes with the present king and queen of England. He was entertained by them in 1896, when they were prince and princess of Wales. The prince, it seems, had been smiling for years Sinking is still going on at the new Tramway shaft, which is down 1,500 feet. The vein of the Minnie Healy has been crossed to the Minnie Healy has been crossed. It is now in about 100 feet. The Minnie Healy vein at that point is now being drifted on. Where crossing the vein of the Minnie Healy at the upper levels, but the drifting has not proceeded far enough to ascertain the position of the vein. The vein is at the next level above that is the 1,100, but no work is being done there, principally because of the fire and gas conditions on the levels above. The vein will not penetrate to the levels now being opened.

The Tramway shaft will be sunk to a depth of 2,000 feet and the mines opened to that depth. It is anticipated that the production of the mine will be the production by the first of the next year. The Tramway is equipped with a 100-horsepower engine, which is the North Butte, being of 2,500-horsepower and capable of working to a depth of 3,500 feet, and being 10 feet in size. The engine, although ready for use, will not be put in commission until production is started on a large scale.

work and it is being hauled to the mine as rapidly as possible and a force of men under the supervision of John A. Smith, general manager of the company, is shipping three cars of ore to Denver recently for the purpose of ascertaining the quality of the same. The returns will warrant the erection of a mill at their properties.

The Copper River Lumber Company is also developing its properties as rapidly as possible. It has recently shipped several loads of ore to the Denver smelter.

Within the past week they have received a large quantity of water which is being installed as rapidly as possible. The shipment included seventy tons of pipe and a large quantity of machinery. A tramway will be constructed across the mountain and the water will be distributed. It will enable the mine to operate during the several months of high water which will be the season of greatest production.

This company is contemplating the early construction of a mill at their properties and at present everything is being done in preparation for the plant. It is being done so rapidly that it will be constructed as it becomes possible to add to it any time it becomes necessary.

tely stopped and a crew set to work lining a shaft. This is down ten or twelve feet, and over 600 pounds of ore was taken out. A specimen assayed by S. J. Varney of this city ran as follows: 10.5 per cent of gold, 1.25, .240; 133 ounces of silver, $7.28; total value, $137.50.

The groupings, from which the specimens have been taken, and in which the shaft is being sunk, is about 100 feet wide and extends to the southeast toward the Coschise claim. It is, of course, impossible to tell what lies beneath the ground, until the vein is reached, which it is probable will be at the bottom of the shaft.

Men who have been inripple Creek and Goldfield say that there is a good possibility of the discovery of a gold mine in either of those camps.

It has been maintained by prospectors in this district for years that there is gold in this section, because of the numerous gulches and washes down the gulches. Mexicans have for many years made a living from this

The strike has been made in the Mountain Lake property at the head of Cottonwood canon. A fissure was cut down the hillside to a distance of fifty feet above the tunnel level, in an upraise on this flat, and the ore was found to be 100 feet and 150 in gold to the top, has been estimated to be worth at least four times of this grade which, it is said, will average 25 per cent copper, and 100 to 150 ounces in silver. Assays of samples from a new strike in the Gold Mountain Champion, in south-western Colorado, show rich values in gold and 7.5 ounces in silver. The strike was made in the tunnel at the bottom of the hill, and in twenty-two feet wide has been cut.

Mountain Lake mine, who constitute the largest body of shipping ore, is operating in Bellehelen district, believe they have a mine. A tunnel was started in the hillside, and it is expected that a shaft had been sunk and from

LARGE PROFITS IN DULUTH REAL ESTATE

Outside Investment Corporation Takes a Profit of $65,000 on Large Tract of Land in Eastern Part of the City in the Course of Two Years—Sale of Crosley Park Addition Shows One of the Possibilities for Local Real Estate Investment That Have Not Been Realized by Local People.

Assertions have been made by local real estate men to investors that there is an opportunity of making money in trading Duluth real estate. Proof that the assertions of the brokers were true has been shown in the sale of Crosley Park addition by the Davis Real Estate company to Robert J. Gordon of Minneapolis for $65,000. The consideration mentioned represents practically the profit that the Davis Real Estate company takes off the property named after holding it a little over two years. Local people had an opportunity of securing the park long before the Davis Real Estate company did, but they failed to see the prospect of turning a good thing. Something over two years ago the Davis Real Estate company, which owns a large amount of Duluth business property, bought practically all the Crosley Park addition for $21,000. The property was listed with C. P. Craig & Co., local agents for the real estate company, and about 350 to 400 lots were sold for an aggregate sum of about $23,000. The real estate company has now disposed of the remaining 225 or 230 acres for $65,000. Allowing about $2,000 for the expense entailed for fees, commissions, advertising the lots, etc., the Davis Real Estate company makes a clear profit of about $45,000, all inside of three years on a tract of land well out toward the eastern end of the city. Even at the figure purchased, Crosley Park addition is considered a good investment for Mr. Gordon, or whoever he may represent. It has been rumored about in real estate circles this week that the land purchased by Mr. Gordon is likely to be placed on the market soon, to be sold by allotments and on the easy payment plan. The local real estate market has not been quite as active this week as last, the bad weather conditions probably tending to check local inquiry. Numerous small sales have been closed during the week and earnest money has been paid on several good sized deals by prospective out of town purchasers. Some of these trades will be ready for announcement next week.

"Find out if your property is right," is the advice offered in an editorial in the last issue of the Real Estate News, published by N. J. Upham & Co., "and if not, what is wrong with it. See if it cannot be made right, and if not, get rid of it without waiting for further loss. Consult the best real estate experts you can find, men who have made a success at the business and know from experience. Give their opinions careful consideration, even if you don't like the opinions. Put it up to them that it is the results you are after, and upon the good results depends the volume of business you will give them."

The real estate firm of C. P. Craig, one of the oldest and best known in the city, has removed its offices from the old Herald building, in the rear of the Duluth Savings bank, to the fifth floor of the new Sellwood building. The new offices comprise rooms No. 501 to 504 inclusive, and occupy the whole front of the fifth floor on Superior street. Mr. Craig has had

ANTHONY PUCK ARCHITECT.

This illustration shows an artistically designed home of convenient and compact arrangement. The outside walls are of stucco with wood finish of dark stained Southern pine, giving the exterior its attractive appearance. In the first story plan the arrangement of the rooms is very convenient, and the effect cosy and homelike. One chimney serves all purposes. The living room is large and sunny and the kitchen complete in every detail. The side kitchen entrance communicates with the kitchen, basement and front part of the home. This feature has many conveniences. The stairway from the reception hall and second story is attractively arranged and easy to ascend. A rear stairway is also provided, connecting with the landing of the front stairway. This landing opens out to the deck over the kitchen porch. Floor space is well utilized in the second story. The rooms are all of good, relative size, well lighted and airy. The rooms all open to the square hall at the end of the short corridor leading from the stairway, giving privacy to the bedrooms and easy access to the bathroom. Ample closet space is provided. Stairs to the attic go up from the sewing room. The attic is left unfinished. The finish of the hall, living room, and dining room is oak; kitchen, porch and entire second story, pine enameled. The floors are of maple in both stories. The ceiling heights are 7 feet, 9 feet and 8 1/2 feet. The dimensions are 26 feet by 28 feet. With hot water heat and plumbing, a home as above described can be built in Duluth or vicinity for $5,600. Anthony Puck, Architect, Duluth, Minn.
